Text in red is unsubstantiated at this printing, or claimed but not supported by proof, or is a question I am asking for possible future answer, or is in some other way to be considered temporary. An advantage of electronic publishing is that I can continue to improve and update the text while the mass of valid information is made available now. It is important therefore that citations mention the version number, that red items not be cited, and that the color be preserved.

LINEAGE LIST NOTATION

This document is written in “Register format,” a format popular with scholarly genealogists named for the New England Historic Genealogical Society (NEHGS) and its learned journal the NEGHS Register. To facilitate stepping “backward” through the genealogy, I utilize one small addition to standard (actually “modified”) Register format. A leading subscript to a person in a lineage list is the person number for that individual in this work. For example, Caleb Smith⁶ Riggs (₇₀Joseph⁵, Joseph⁴, Edward³, Edward², Edward¹) was son of person 70, Joseph⁵ Riggs (₃₇Joseph⁴, Edward³, Edward², Edward¹), who in turn was son of person 37, Joseph⁴ Riggs, and so forth. This technique may be applied to any person in a lineage list. However, to reduce visual clutter, I will use it here for at most one person per lineage list, usually the first.

A superscript asterisk () indicates the first person in a lineage list who is not genetically related to the next older person in the list. For example, Skylor Nathan^{13} Knoll (Martha Jane¹², Edward Clark¹¹, Theodore Dalzel A.¹⁰, Edward⁹, Elias⁸, Elias⁷, Preserve⁶, Zebulon⁵, ?Joseph⁴, Edward³, Edward², Edward¹) was an adopted son of Martha Jane¹² Riggs. Note also the question mark (?) in this lineage list, indicating that the father-son relationship of Joseph⁴ and Zebulon⁵ has not been proved.

It is traditional in American genealogy to label the immigrant’s generation as no. 1. The generation preceding his is A, preceding A is B, and so forth.

METHODOLOGY AND STYLE NOTES

Unsourced material. Some claims without accompanying sources are important to preserve, as hints to future researchers or simply to indicate that I am aware of commonly claimed dates, names, or places, but am not certain of them. I enter these in footnotes and not in the main text. I do not always explicitly flag these claims as unsourced, but they should be understood as such by their presence in the footnotes only. This type of information often comes from compiled, but unfortunately unsourced, genealogies that have the appearance, to me at least, of being well researched and based on solid evidence. The footnote hint might inspire a future researcher to find the elusive evidence, whereas I had not done so by the time this book went to press.

Census litany. Rather than trying to be creative on each of dozens of census readings, I have chosen to state them with a common “litany.” To make census litanies easy to spot, I usually introduce each one with the year. For example, a reading from the U.S. census for 1900 will begin “In 1900”

Online sources. I have made much use of online sources, usually secondary, such as the listing of gravestones in a particular cemetery. The problem with this practice is the supposed ephemeral nature of the web. Many online sources may simply disappear from the web over time, or change addresses at least. I have therefore made a copy of every webpage used in this work and archived it for future reference. Very notable exceptions are the many databases available from major servers, such as <Ancestry.com>, which I assume, with some trepidation, will be permanently available by some means. The URL for a website is identified by enclosing < > brackets. When a URL needs to wrap at the end of a line for good visual appearance, I have inserted a hyphen in an appropriate location. This line-breaking hyphen should be omitted, of course, when the URL is used as an internet address.

Abbreviations. I use abbreviations. With one exception, I always abbreviate state names and month names. The exception: I do not abbreviate state names in the main text that stand alone. However, state names in footnotes are always abbreviated, even in the titles of books.

I do not abbreviate anything in a quotation. An abbreviation in a quotation is present in the original.

I use succinct forms for the sources in footnotes. The bibliography should be consulted for full expansion of a source reference. See the abbreviations section of the front matter for the full list of abbreviations used in the census references. In all cases, the census was read from <Ancestry.com>, and the roll numbers correspond to the microfilm series used by that organization.

Verb tenses. Past tense is normally used, but a record is described in the present—e.g., Joe Gopnik was born in 1836, but a death certificate for Joe Gopnik states that he was born in 1836.

PREFACE

My personal odyssey with genealogy began when I was just a boy in New Mexico, with an old composition book full of the crabbed handwriting of my Great Aunt Arlien Sifleet who lived in a far off country called New Jersey. My mother let me look at her aunt's book for a while. I soon deciphered the words Parrot and Parrott and Parritt in it, and—could it be?—a reference to the Revolutionary War.

To put this in perspective, we people of the West had little or no knowledge of happenings “Back East,” nor were we particularly interested. We were taught “American history” in school—the Pilgrims, the Revolution, Cornwallis and Yorktown, etc.—but true history, the kind that mattered to us was about Cabeza de Vaca, Coronado, the Pueblo Rebellion, and so forth. “Our” history was generally older than that of Back East. Ours was Spanish and theirs was English. We weren't clear about why we had to learn the English version of American history. It was as foreign as autumn leaves, maple syrup, cellars, and attics. But Aunt Arlien's notebook hinted that there might be a connection between us and Back East—with classic America, as taught in school.

I began to decipher the book and did so over several years. I slowly put together a genealogy, of sorts, of the Parrot family. It was a genealogy of a marked amateur variety. If my great aunt said it was true, then it was. But in the process I learned that my family, both maternal and paternal, came from Back East. We were Them! My extended family had lost all memory of this past. As far as we were concerned, history began when the family arrived in the West. Aunt Arlien, I now see, was the last lone beacon guiding us back to our Eastern past.

When Aunt Arlien died, my mother gave me her composition book, knowing how much I treasured it. The internet was just becoming useful, so I entered the Parrots into a website, listing the “sources” I had found—such as Aunt Arlien's notebook.

Over the years I gained several mentors in scholarly genealogy, published two print books and a dozen or so online books of carefully researched genealogy. I became a Trustee of the New England Historic Genealogical Society, the oldest in America, and was elected one of the fifty Fellows of the American Society of Genealogists. I've decided it is high time to put that original, shaky genealogy of the Parrots on as firm a footing as I now know how to do.

I can add, after a couple of decades doing scholarly genealogies of various parts of my family, that a great many contributors to it came through New England and New Jersey in Colonial and Revolutionary times. The New Jersey families include the Parrot, Rutan, Durand, Ogden, Whitehead, and Riggs families. Of these, I least understand the roots of the Parrot family. I know the immigrants and where they immigrated from in all cases—except for the Parrots. This book is an attempt to put into order what I do know about them.

The book is also a final tribute to my parents, both of whom I lost in the months before I wrote the book.

THE DNA EVIDENCE

DNA tests on the Y chromosomes of three living Parrott males have yielded a complete match on all 12 of the first 12 markers. This means that the three probably share a common male Parrot ancestor. Indeed, the first two listed below are proved descendants of William⁴ Parrot (₅₆₄Thomas³, William², Samuel¹), and the third is a proved descendant of Adoniram⁴ Parrot. The two descendants of William⁴ Parrott match at 12 of 12 markers, which is considered a match in genetic genealogy but not a convincing one. 12 markers is just too few to lend much confidence. Without any additional knowledge, we can deduce from this match that they share with fairly high probability a common ancestor within genealogical time. But we do have additional knowledge. We know for a fact that their MRCA (Most Recent Common Ancestor) was William⁴, just 4 or 5 generations back. So, in fact, scholarly genealogy absolutely proves what genetic genealogy suggests is probably true, and names the MRCA.^[1]

1. For conciseness I use letters for DNA signatures. The code is a = 1, b = 2, . . . , z = 26, A = 27, B = 28, . . . , Z = 52. So, for example, the genetic signatures given here in letters represent 13 24 15 10 10 14 12 12 12 13 13 29 in numbers on the first 12 markers (as received from the testing company FamilyTreeDNA.com). Arnold's signature and Dale's are on 67 markers, as shown. I have been unable to contact William, for the purpose of extending his test to 67 markers.

Since Dale and Arnold match on 66 markers of 67 markers, genetic genealogy says that there is a high probability that they share an MRCA within a few generations. A strong match on 66 markers gives much more confidence than a 12-marker match. In fact, from scholarly genealogy in this book, we know that the MRCA had to occur at least six generations back. Since we are fairly certain that we know Thomas³'s children completely, the scholarly genealogy suggests that the MRCA had to occur at least seven generations back. The question marks in Arnold's descent suggest that William² might have been the MRCA, but the ? doesn't let us claim that.

Since we believe we know all the descendants of William² and that Joseph³ (or whatever his name was) was not one of them, the MRCA would have to be in Samuel¹'s generation or before. It might be Samuel¹ but we have no strong argument that supports that claim. We do have substantial circumstantial evidence that Samuel¹ was a shared ancestor and possibly even the MRCA. That argument is presented in this book. It is not strong, however.

This all fits the claim (details in the Adoniram section of the following book) that Joseph³ was William²'s son—but does not prove it, nor that Joseph was Adoniram's father, nor that Joseph was in fact his name).

A boon to this genetic genealogy would be a living male descendant from Samuel² Parritt. Alas, Samuel² "daughtered out" eventually, meaning that there are no such living male descendants of him to test, so far as I've been able to determine. There is a very remote possibility that descendants of Adoniram are, in fact, descendants from Samuel², but the argument is not strong, and goes against the claimed (but unproved) genealogy of Adoniram.

SAMUEL PARROT OF ELIZABETHTOWN AND HIS FAMILY OF MORRIS COUNTY

First Generation

We begin with Samuel Parrot who is said to be the first known of the family in New Jersey. This is based on a family record claimed in two places, in slightly different words. We have to admit reluctantly that the record's existence is only hearsay at this time. To emphasize that we don't really know him, consider two relatively early histories of the area.

Historical Sources

The first is Littell's First Settlers of Passaic Valley, published in 1852.^[2] The other is Hatfield's History of Elizabeth, published in 1868.^[3] The earliest Parrot mentioned in both cases is William Parrot, not his putative father, Samuel.

Hatfield sets the stage with his description of New Providence, N.J., where I have boldfaced those settlers who are particularly important to the Parrot story (although many of the others also matter). The New Providence location figures greatly in the story:

Though not organized as a distinct township until the year 1809, New Providence, from the time of its annexation to the township of Springfield, February 4, 1794, ceased to have any connection with the old town of Elizabeth. The settlement of this attractive portion of the town dates back, as previously stated, mainly to the period of the second general allotment of lands to the original Associates, or their legal representatives, 1736–8. Some few farms had been located there previously, but, at and after this period, families from below the mountains began to move up and locate themselves on their several allotments.

The earliest settlers were,—Jonathan and Joseph Allen, John and James Badgley, Thomas Baker, Jr., John Bedell, Nathaniel Bonnell, William Broadwell, John Camp, Jonathan and Jacob Carll, James Cauldwell, Elias Clark, Henry Connet, Daniel Day, Joseph Doty, Joseph Frazee, Jeremiah Hart, Urah Hodges, Samuel, Andrew, and Anthony Littell, Jeremiah Ludlow, Jonathan Mulford, John Osborn, William Peirsons [Parsons], Benjamin Pettit, John Pierson, Daniel Potter, Samuel Ross, Peter Rutan, Isaac and Ephraim Sayre, Richard Scudder, John Simpson, Aaron Thompson, Richard Valentine, and Peter Willcox.

These were followed soon after by Abner Bailey, Andrew Blanchard, Jacob Brittin, James Corey, Joseph and Isaac Crane, William Crawford, Timothy Day, Philemon Dickinson, Benjamin Force, Melancthon Freeman, Abraham Hendricks, Micah Howell, Uzal Johnson, David Lacy, Peter Lyon, Daniel Marsh, William Maxfield, Moses Miller, “Deacon Morehouse,” “Lawyer Ogden,” William Parrott, Andrew Prior, William Robertson, John Roll, Nathaniel Smith, John Totton, Kennedy Vance, and Daniel Wood. All these came within the first forty years. Many more came up during the Revolutionary War for a short season.^[4]

So it is William Parrot who makes the earliest appearance of the family in Hatfield’s history, arriving in the New Providence area of (what was then) Essex Co., N.J., “within the first forty years” of 1736–1738, therefore before the Revolutionary War as worded. In particular, Samuel Parrot is not mentioned, nor is any other Parrot mentioned anywhere in this 700-page history. Yet, as we will see, there was a Samuel Parrot in early Elizabethtown at the right time.

4. Hatfield, History of Elizabeth, 577–578. “Lawyer Ogden” probably refers to Daniel⁵ Ogden (Daniel⁴, Joseph³, Joseph², John¹ Ogden) as derived from Wheeler, Ogden Genealogy, 147, “from his [Daniel’s] Bible, now in the possession of James C. Ogden, of Elizabeth, N.J., it would seem he lived in New Providence, N.J. The record begins: ‘Remarkable frosts new providence in the year 1783 the second and third nights of September . . .’” Since Daniel⁵ was born 14 Apr. 1737, perhaps “Lawyer Ogden” was his father Daniel⁴ to fit the timeline of Hatfield. (N.B., I descend from Daniel⁴’s brother Nathaniel⁴.)

SAMUEL PARROT AND HIS FAMILY

Similarly, Littell's First Settlers lists William Parrot as the earliest of that family:

William Parrot lived where Ezra Wilcox now does, and owned 200 acres of land, including that now owned by Ezra Wilcox, Abraham Valentine and David A. French, extending from the River to the Stony Hill Road. It was divided between his sons William and Thomas. He married the widow of Daniel Clark, and had children: [etc. for three pages].^[5]

Although Parrots are mentioned in several places in Littell, none was earlier than William (Sr.). The only hint of another older Parrot is the mention of Sarah Darling, "half-sister of William Parrot Sen."^[6] So William's father, whoever he was, married a woman known elsewhere as the "widow Darling," mother of Sarah. This father is taken to be Samuel¹ Parrot, based on the evidence amassed below.

Although there are occasional errors in Littell's First Settlers, we tend to follow it when there is no better evidence (but carefully point out its errors when found). It was compiled in 1852 probably from the memories of the families still residing then in the Passaic River valley, often within two or three generations of the persons recorded. Whenever possible, I find evidence in other records to support Littell. In particular, since he wrote the book just after the 1850 census, that census often serves as a check on his accuracy. We wish that he had mentioned Samuel Parrot by name, not by "half-sister" implication.

The Waddell-Smith Family

An influential source here for the Parrots is the genealogy of the intertwined Waddell and Smith families originally published in 1911, and referred to here as the Waddell-Smith Family (see the bibliography for full details). It is apparently due to Phillip H. Waddell Smith because noted New Jersey historian Charles C. Gardner frequently cites "Life [perhaps Letters] of PHW Smith” in his notes. (Gardner might have had access to a manuscript version of the published genealogy.) Philip H. Waddell Smith is the terminus of the published genealogy, the result of the Waddells marrying the Smiths.

The Smith family was early in Troy (now Troy Hills), Hanover Twp., Morris Co., N.J. Richard Smith, progenitor of the family, owned property there as early as 1738. Of particular interest here is the note on the first page of Waddell-Smith Family of the “allied and hereinafter mentioned families of Dod, Alling, Parritt, Osborn, Howell and Cobb in particular.”^[7] I have boldfaced the surnames also boldfaced above in the quotation from Hatfield.

Philip H. Waddell⁷ Smith was born 5 Jan. 1869, Hanover Twp., Morris Co., N.J., son of George Washington and Susan Alice (Waddell) Smith. S. Alice⁶ Waddell, born 26 Sept. 1834, Parsippany, N.J., was named for her maternal grandmother Susan[a]⁴ Farrand, wife of Lemuel Cobb, and daughter of Ebenezer and Rebecca³ (Parritt) Farrand. Rebecca is Rebecca³ Parritt (*Samuel*², *Samuel*¹).

That Samuel¹ was Samuel²’s father is based on records mentioned in Waddell-Smith Family. This unfortunately is as close as I have been able to get to what are important documents. They are referred to in Waddell-Smith Family as “Smith papers, Troy Hills, N.J.,” “Smith Family Bible, Troy Hills,” “Smith MSS,” “Smith Family Bible Record, Troy Hills,” “Record in Richard (b. 1765) Smith’s Bible, now in possession of Mrs. John Mitchell, Troy Hills, N.J.,” and so forth.^[8]

A most important, but also apparently unavailable source is the one mentioned in the following excerpt from Waddell-Smith Family, “in the possession of Mary L. Smith, Troy Hills, New Jersey” (in boldface below):

Eleanor Parritt, first wife of Colonel Hiram Smith, was born June 1, 1760, died December 22, 9 p.m., 1810 (see obituary notice in Palladium of Liberty, Morristown, New Jersey, November 27, 1810, which states her characteristics as “meekness, benevolence and humility;” see also Parsippany gravestone records), and was the daughter of Samuel Parritt, of Troy (son of Samuel, of Elizabethtown, New Jersey, as early as 1704, his autographic record of births and deaths in his family, now in possession of Miss Mary L. Smith, Troy Hills, New Jersey, stating that his eldest child was then born there), born Elizabethtown, New Jersey, October 8, 1716, died Troy, November 29, 1788, and Eleanor, daughter and only child of Joseph Allin, Alling or Allen (the first spelling is used in the mortgage cited below, but the second in many later records and particularly in the original partition deed of Parritt lands) of Troy, as early as 1737 (Hunterdon Mortgages 1737, Secretary of States office, Trenton), but traditionally earlier of Elizabethtown, New Jersey. The Smith homestead at Troy (on the road between Troy and Whippany), came from the Allings through the Parritt’s, and, as the inheritance of Hiram Smith’s wife, Eleanor Parritt, the partition deed (recorded Morristown), by which Samuel Parritt’s lands were, on the death of Dr. Joseph Parritt, divided among the latter’s heirs at law, mentioning this fact and spelling the name “Alling.” The early Alling house stood on the high ground near the “Washington Spring” (so named from the tradition that Washington frequently drank from it while enroute between Morristown and “Beverwyck”). The Samuel Parritt house stood on the site of what is in recent years known as the Nelson Mitchell place, about one-quarter mile near Whippany.^[9]

This excerpt is illustrative of the quality of the work in Waddell-Smith Family, but also its reliance on family papers apparently not available to the rest of us.

The Allen (Allin, Alling) Family

Another source, related to the one above, is an article on the Allen family from Genealogies of New Jersey Families A–Z, reprinted from The Genealogical Magazine of New Jersey, a respected journal abbreviated GMNJ here:

9. Waddell-Smith Family, 789.

718. Joseph Allen (Allin), b. presumably in 169- or 170-, traditionally at Elizabethtown, but no confirmation of this is found; d. 1753-60 in present Troy Hills, Morris Co. He is first mentioned in a deed of July 2, 1725, to Gershom Mott as owning land next that conveyed, on Parsippany (now called Troy) Brook in Hanover tp. (HuCt 1, rev.:74). He was perhaps the earliest of the pioneer residents of the Parsippany-Troy Hills area to acquire land there after the West Jersey Proprietors, in 1715, took up their apportionments in that part of the Colony. His home, of which the foundation site was identifiable within living memory, was on the present Beverwyck Road, South, closely adjacent to the residence, still standing, built by his grandson, Dr. Joseph Parritt, and inherited by the latter's sister Eleanor, wife of Col. Hiram Smith, whose descendants have since, as late as 1942, owned and occupied it as a Smith homestead. A small brook nearby is referred to in a road survey of 1762 as "Joseph Allen's Brook." (MsPO). In March, 1726/7, Joseph Allen was chosen constable for Hanover tp. In 1737, spelling his name "Allin", he mortgaged 110 acres of his farm next Parsippany (Troy) meadows, and paid off the mortgage in yearly instalments for the next ten years. (HuCt 2:165; HuMT C:15). In 1747/8 and 1749 he was Overseer of the Poor in Hanover tp., and is last mentioned on Aug. 31, 1753, in the diary of Rev. Jacob Green of Hanover, as furnishing a load of hay. (MrCt 1:121,243; Princeton Univ. Lib. Mss.). He left no will, his property descending to his only daughter. In a Court order in 1801, referring to the above land, his name is given as "Joseph Alling", but the only specimen of his signature found to date omits the final "g". (MrD A:228; L:1).

Child of Joseph Allen:

719 Eleanor, b. abt. 1726: md., as 2nd wife, Samuel Parritt; d. Aug. 27, 1787. Of their large family of children, the only ones to leave issue were four daughters, the wives of Henry Howell, Silas Parritt, John Cobb, Esq., and Col. Hiram Smith, who had numerous progeny, so that most of the prominent families of the Troy Hills area are descended from this Joseph Allen. (MsPO).^[10]

SAMUEL PARROT AND HIS FAMILY

Family Sources

The next item is from notes obtained from my great-aunt Arlien Sifleet, as mentioned in the preface. She resided until her death in Chatham, Morris Co., N.J. I completed transcription of them in 1998 and refer to the transcription as Arlie Sifleet's Notebook here. Mrs. Sifleet recorded the inscription below. We do not know where the transcription is (or was) located nor who the great-grandson was who erected it, nor how he knew the information he recorded there:

In memory of W^m Parrot and Abigail his wife, son of Sam. Parrot of Elizabethtown, he was born there 9/19/1714, & was one of the 1st settlers in this locality, lived near (now) Union Village where he d. 11/1784. It is believed he & his wife were buried in neighboring Pres. Church yard, with which church he was actively identified - erected 1911 by a greatgrandson.^[11]

We can summarize this as: William² Parrot (*Samuel*¹) was born 19 Sept. 1714, Elizabethtown, died Nov. 1784, near (now) Union Village, and married Abigail —, who was Daniel Clark's widow, according to Littell's First Settlers. This would make him the eldest son of Samuel¹ mentioned in the Waddell-Smith Family excerpt above, born in Elizabethtown.

Another item of Arlie Sifleet's Notebook is the following. It is a rough transcription of the Waddell-Smith Family excerpt above, so provides no new information:

Eleanor Parrot . . . was d. Sam Parrott of Troy (s. Sam Parrot of Elizabethtown N.J. who was of Eliz - as early as 1704 & who has the record abbreviations for sources are of this nature: HuCt stands for a Hunterdon County volume, MrD stands for a Morris County Deeds volume, etc. The source should be checked for exact meanings.

11. Arlie Sifleet's Notebook, 5. I searched the New Providence area unsuccessfully for this inscription because William Parrot was actively associated with the New Providence church, as subsequently shown. I hypothesize that the great-grandson mentioned was George Townley Parrot, known to have been active in genealogy and history in the area at the time (1911). N.B. There are two George Townley Parrots in this genealogy. One of them is a great-grandson of William² Parrot, and the other is a great-great-grandson.

of births & deaths in his family now being in possession of Mrs. Mary Smith, Troy Hills N.J. stating his oldest child was born there) born in Eliz 10/8/1716 d. in Troy 11/29/1788 & Eleanor Alling d. & only child of Joseph Alling but traditionally earlier of Eliz.^[12]

Another Parrot (or Parritt) family source, Parritt Homestead, mentions the Samuel Parritt book and Mary Smith, but gives further evidence of what that invaluable source must contain:

In 1745 Eleanor married Samuel Parrit, born October 8 1716 second son of Samuel Parrit by his second wife, of Elizabethtown. There is a book still in existence, now owned by Miss Mary Smith, a descendant, which belonged to Samuel Parrit Sr. in 1704, and in which he recorded the births and deaths of his two children by his first wife, her death, his second marriage, and the births of his seven children, two girls and five boys.^[13]

For several years Evalyn Parrott Scott edited a multi-volume journal of collected Parrott family tidbits and memorabilia called Parrot Talk. Bits and pieces of it have been forwarded to me over the years. The following is particularly interesting because it contains slightly different information about Samuel¹ Parrot than above, and was the first mention of “the widow Darling” that I encountered when I started researching the family:

Samuel Parrot, md (1) —, (2) Dec 17, 1713, the widow Darling. He died July 17, 1713 (?) [sic, clearly this death date does not make sense given the second marriage date].

Issue (by first wife):

John, born presumably not in Elizabethtown May 12 1703.

Martha, born March 10, 1704 in Elizabethtown. Lived — months 4 days.

12. Arlie Sifleet Notebook, 5. This comes almost verbatim from Waddell-Smith Family, 789. In fact, I’ve found nothing over the years in her notebook that wasn’t copied by her from some other better source.

13. Parritt Homestead. A typescript in the Morristown Library, N.J., prepared by Margaret H. Mitchell, Oct 1914, filed under the Allen family, in a manila envelope.

SAMUEL PARROT AND HIS FAMILY

(The dates of birth of the above are from a copy of the record of the births made by Samuel Parrot, in possession of Raymond T. Parrott of Summit, New Jersey.)^[14]

Here the source is slightly different, a copy of the record of Samuel¹ Parrot's family, the copy in possession of Raymond T. Parrott of Summit, N.J. This suggests that at least one other person saw the putative record, presumably the one owned by Mrs./Miss Mary Smith. Notice that this version, however, gives the first wife three children, and the second wife six children, two girls and four boys. The total child count is the same however. The other children are named and dated in this case.

The sources above are not much more than hearsay, but they are the best "sources" we have so far. I use the dates provided, but with cautionary note that the provenance is shaky. From them we get the story—a consistent story—that Samuel Parrot early of Elizabethtown had at least two sons, William and Samuel, of a second wife. Also consistent is the story that William Parrot had a half-sister Sarah Darling, which implies that Samuel must have married a Mrs. Darling, “the widow Darling” in the source just above. The other siblings are from supposed family records. The most we can say is that the dates for them are largely consistent with one another and with the occasional public record that has been discovered. And the patriarch Samuel is always named Samuel.

This item seems to have been repeated several times: Parrott Talk Trilogy, 108, photocopied loose leaf sheets sent by Dale Parrott to me, Nov. 2000. I believe this source to be yet another Evalyn Parrott Scott collection, probably forwarded to me by Dale Parrott many years ago; correspondent Wayne Parrott emailed me 15 Jan. 2016 digital photocopies of Parrott Talk, 10:170–173, p. 171 of which contains exactly what I had seen 15 years ago or so. The page number actually on the document reproduced in Parrott Talk is 160B. In fact the four pages appear to be documents forwarded to Parrott Talk by my early correspondent Dale Parrott, from whom I probably received the original copy so long ago. Dale's Parrot tree and a letter from him are included in the four pages.

Public Records

The following two records do prove the existence of a Samuel Parrot in or near Elizabethtown in 1709 and prior to 1715:

On 7 Dec. 1709 an accounting of the estate of Samuel Shepherd, of Woodbridge, was made. It listed debts paid by the estate to many people, including “Sam’l Parrat.” Woodbridge Twp. lies in Middlesex Co., N.J., south of Elizabethtown, adjacent the south end of Staten Island.^[15] This places Samuel near Elizabethtown in 1709.

On 14 Nov. 1715 Samuel Clark, of Elizabethtown, Essex Co., N.J., signed his will, and it was proved 11 Apr. 1716. Its abstract mentions a “Lot of 18 acres, bought of Samuel Parrett, between Richard Brodwell, Charles Allen, Samuel Sayre dec’d, and John Clark of Elizabeth Town dec’d.”^[16] This places Samuel as a landowner in Elizabethtown prior to 1715 (but it could have been a long time before). It also puts him in conjunction with a Broadwell, a family that figures highly here.

Following is an argument that the widow Darling might have been Mary (–) Darling. We point out that noted genealogist Charles C. Gardner must have thought this a valid theory because on a sheet of notes titled “Samuel Parrot (Parrat, Parrett)” he lists the same records we have here for Samuel in Elizabethtown, or near to it, in 1709, and 1715. And he has the following record for Mary Parratt also listed on that page.

15. NJ. Calendar of Wills, Vol. 1, 1670–1730, 415–416.

16. NJ. Calendar of Wills, Vol. 1, 1670–1730, 95. William¹ Broadwell and wife Mary had three sons, John², William², and Richard² Broadwell [The Broadwell Family].

SAMUEL PARROT AND HIS FAMILY

On 17 Aug. 1722 Joseph Marsh, of Elizabethtown, Essex Co., N.J., signed his will, and it was proved 21 Dec. 1723. It was witnessed by Mary “Parratt.”^[17] So Mary is a candidate for the widow Darling.

Gardner also has the following record on the same page with Samuel, again suggesting that Mary Darling was the widow Darling. Note that a bondsman was William Parrot, perhaps her son by Samuel. Another bondsman was Thomas Baker who was part of the 1757 Elmer Committee with William² Parrot and with the Broadwell brothers. We’ll hear a lot about that committee. I have replaced Gardner’s item with the actual abstract from the N.J. Calendar of Wills:

1741, Oct. 29. Morris, William, of Elizabeth Town, Essex Co.. Petition of Mary Parrot, of Elizabeth Town. “That whereas William Morris married the petitioner’s daughter and died intestate near twelvemonth ago, and his wife died soon after, the petitioner being a poor woman and having had the expenses of the funerals;” and that Mr. William Anderson, who married the mother of said deceased, did take the moveable estate, for which no return has been made, she now asks that letters of administration be granted to her instead of said William Anderson.

1742, June 2. Daniel Potter, of full age, deposed he delivered within petition to William Anderson.

1742, June 2. Adm’x, Mary Parrot, mother-in-law. Thomas Baker and William Parrot, fellow bondsmen. Witnesses—Robert Hude, Robert King. | Lib. C, p. 511.^[18]

The estate of Thomas Darling of Elizabethtown^[19] was reported 28 Dec. 1697 and administration of the estate was granted 8 Jan. 1697/8 to 17. N.J. Calendar of Wills, Vol. 1, 1670–1730, 305. The other two witnesses were Samuel Whitehead and Mary Whitehead. N.B., Isaac Whitehead, their father, was another ancestor of my mother. An aside: Another child of his, Sarah Whitehead, married Joseph Ogden, son of Joseph Ogden and grandson of John Ogden.

18. N.J. Calendar of Wills, Vol. 2, 1730–1750, 349. N.B. 2:450 mentions a debt due from “Nich’s Paratt” in an Elizabethtown inventory taken 24 Jan. 1731/2.

19. History of Elizabeth, 255, “Thomas Darling was admitted one of the [Elizabethtown] Associates in 1699–1700, and drew No. 150 of the 100-acre lots, near the Rahway river and N.E. of it, between Joseph Woodruff and Hurr Thompson.”

“his widow Mary.”^[20] But this widow Mary (—) Darling was too early to have been the widow Darling who married Samuel in about 1713—about 15 years later. However, the widow Darling’s daughter, Sarah Darling married Peter Bebout and had a child Martha Bebout who married Luther Jones. Martha and Luther tended to memorialize ancestors in their children’s names—in particular, Peter Bebout Jones and Thomas Darling Jones.

An abstract that mentions a Mary (Broadwell) Darling shows her to be too late to be the widow Darling who married Mr. Parrot in 1713:

1745, May 9. Broadwell, William, of Elizabeth Town, Essex Co.; will of. Wife, Jane, plantation at Connecticut Farms. Sons—Josiah, William and Henry, all under age. Daughters—Mary Darling, Susannah Day, Jane, Ann, and Hester Broadwell, last three under age. Saw mill on and near Pissaick River in Essex and Morris Counties; land in Morris Co.; land in Elizabeth Town, joining lands of Benjamin Trotter, Nath’l Bonnell, Peter Willcock, John Magee, Jonathan Allen and John Chandler. Executors—sons Josiah and William. Witnesses—Jeremiah Ludlam, William Jones, John Pierson. Proved March 29, 1745[/6]. | Lib. D. p. 372

1745, March 14. Inventory of personal estate £149.00.09; made by Daniel Day and John Potter.^[21]

I include this abstract because of the intriguing mention of the saw mill located at about the same place that the later Parrot Mill would be located, and because the Broadwells interacted with the Parrots. In particular, Littell states that “William Broadwell and Josiah Broadwell, Esq., were of the Committee, in 1757, to confer with the Rev. Jonathan Elmer, respecting his settlement as a minister of the Presbyterian church, in New Providence.”^[22] We shall see that William² Parrot was also a member of that committee.

Littell lists a Mary Darling as daughter of Josiah Broadwell, not William:

Polly, (or Hannah,) Broadwell, (daughter of Josiah, Esq.) and William Darling, had children:

Thomas Darling, who married Betsey McComb, of Newark, had children:

1. Herbert Darling.
2. Lewis Darling.
3. Thomas Darling, Jun.
4. Mary Darling, married Silas Lindsley, Jun., son of Silas, Esq. of Spring Valley.
5. Edgar Darling.
6. James Good Darling, married Martha Wilson, daughter of Charles Wilson, and Meriam High, daughter of Jacob.
7. Angelus Darling.
8. Isaac Darling, married Laura Seigler, of Bloomfield, and lived in Newark.^[23]

There is, however, a gravestone in the same cemetery as Josiah Broadwell that attributes another son, Jonathan, to William and Mary Darling: Jonathan Darling, born about 1765, died 20 July 1777, age 12, and was buried in Hillside Cem., Madison, Morris Co., N.J.^[24]

22. Littell, First Settlers, 59; Find a Grave, no. 16205153, gravestone photograph, by Mark Maxwell, Hillside Cem., Madison, Morris Co., N.J., “In Memory of Josiah | Broadwell Esq^r who | died Janu^y y^e 24th AD | 1774 Anno Aetat 56 | [verse or poem].” So Josiah Broadwell, Esq., was born about 1719 (calculated assuming he died in his 56th year [age 55]), died 24 Jan. 1774.

23. Littell, First Settlers, 60.

24. Find a Grave, no. 9682627, gravestone photograph, Hillside Cem., Madison, Morris Co., N.J., “Jonathan Son of | William & Mary | Darling died | July the 20th AD | 1777 In y^e 13th Year | of his Age.” Also in this cemetery is the gravestone photograph for “Here lies the Body of | Samuel Darling, who | deceas’d Sept^r y^e 28th | AD. 1758, In the 22^d | Year of his Age |” So Samuel Darling was born about 1737, died 28 Sept. 1758, age 21.

Will abstracts do give a daughter Mary to Josiah Broadwell but do not mention a surname for her. Josiah signed his will on 4 Jan. 1774, and it was proved 2 Feb. 1774. It mentions his wife, Sarah, daughters, Chloe and Esther, not yet 18, sons, Hezekiah, Samuel, and Simeon, sons under 21, Moses and Jacob, and daughter, Mary, and “my brother, Simeon Briant.” Sarah died shortly thereafter, leaving a noncupative will. She mentions “my three daughters.” No Hannah is mentioned.^[25]

The Broadwell Family (see appendix A) broadens the interrelationships of the Broadwell, Darling, and Parrot families. I believe the following to be an accurate summary:

William¹ Broadwell in 1677 was included in the Elizabethtown list of “Associates who later took the oath.” He died 1689.^[26]

William¹ Broadwell had a son William² Broadwell and (probably) a daughter Hannah² Broadwell (circumstantially established), William² by a second wife, Hannah² by a first wife. William¹ married (2) 1677 Mary Morse [Mosse] (died 1701), daughter of Robert Morse, one of the original Elizabethtown Associates. William¹ Broadwell also had a son Richard² Broadwell.

An early Darling had (perhaps) both daughter Jane² Darling and son William² Darling. They were contemporaries anyway.

William² Broadwell (born 1682, died 1746) married Jane² Darling. William² Darling married Hannah² Broadwell (who was born before her putative father’s second marriage in 1677).

William² and Jane² (Darling) Broadwell had children William³ Broadwell and Mary³ Broadwell. (His 1745 will mentions daughter Mary³ Darling.) They also had son Josiah³ Broadwell.

25. N.J. Calendar of Wills, Vol. 5, 1771–1780, 66.

SAMUEL PARROT AND HIS FAMILY

William² and Hannah² (Broadwell) Darling had son Thomas³ Darling (according to The Broadwell Family).

Samuel² Parrot (born say 1680, died 1733 perhaps) was of the William² Broadwell generation. He held property in Elizabethtown before 1715 next door to a Richard Broadwell, so Richard² Broadwell perhaps. [That's why I've given him the 2 superscript, but just for this summary.] Samuel² Parrot married (2) say 1713 Widow² Darling. For what it's worth, that makes Hannah² (Broadwell) Darling a possibility for the widow. William² Darling would have died before say 1713 to make this possible.

Widow² Darling had, before her marriage to Samuel² Parrot, a daughter Sarah³ Darling (married c1749 to Bebout, died 1793).

Samuel² and Widow² (?) (Darling) Parrot had sons, William³ Parrot, Thomas³ Parrot, and Samuel³ Parrot. William³ Parrot is described in Littell's First Settlers as half-brother of Sarah³ Darling. William³ Parrot (born 1714, died 1784) mentions in his will land bought of Thomas Darling, presumably Thomas³ Darling. Thomas³ Darling was potentially then a brother of Sarah³ Darling.

Samuel² and Widow² (Broadwell?) (Darling) Parrot had son say X³ Parrot, born say 1714-1724. Said to be Joseph³ Parrot, but proof is missing. X³ is argued because of a DNA match, but other possibilities also fit.

Thomas³ Darling, William³ Broadwell, Josiah³ Broadwell (and others) became in 1763 grantees of the famous New Hampshire Grants of Benning Wentworth which eventually became the state of Vermont.

Thomas³ Darling married (perhaps) Mary³ Broadwell (hence the Mary Darling of William² Broadwell's will).

William³ Parrot, Josiah³ Broadwell, and William³ Broadwell (and others) formed a committee in New Providence, N.J., in 1757 to obtain the services of Rev. Jonathan Elmer.

William³ Broadwell married (1) Mary – (born 1725, died 1757). They had son David⁴ Broadwell (born 1748, died 1816).

X³ (Joseph³?) Parrot had son Adoniram⁴ Parrot, born about 1757, so about nine years younger than David⁴ Broadwell.

David⁴ Broadwell (born 1748, died 1816) married three times, the third time to Elizabeth Carrol (born 1765, died 1839).

Adoniram⁴ Parrot married Sarah Carrol, sister of Elizabeth (Carrol) Broadwell, wife of David⁴ Broadwell.

David⁴ and Elizabeth (Carrol) Broadwell had son David Benton⁵ Broadwell (born 1795), the youngest of many children of three marriages.

Adoniram⁴ and Sarah (Carrol) Parrot, and David⁴ and Elizabeth (Carrol) Broadwell and their 9-year-old son David Benton⁵ Broadwell all went to Clinton Co., N.Y., from Morris Co., N.J., together in 1803–1804.

Adoniram⁴ and Sarah (Carrol) Parrot had a daughter Susan⁵ Parrot.

Susan⁵ Parrot (born 1800) married David Benton⁵ Broadwell (born 1795).

A male descendant of Adoniram⁵ Parrot and a male descendant of William⁴ Parrot (separate path than Adoniram⁵) match 12/12 in Y-chromosome DNA tests. Thus they shared a common male ancestor with high probability. Samuel³ Parrot would fit nicely.

Further notes:

William Broadwell, Sen., drew lot No. 13, of the Elizabethtown Survey, and probably built the house upon it by the brook where the Parsons family afterwards lived. He also drew lot No. 18, South of No. 13, where Isaiah Meeker subsequently lived. . . . William Broadwell and Josiah Broadwell, Esq., were of the Committee, in 1757, to confer with the Rev. Jonathan Elmer, respecting his settlement as a minister of the Presbyterian church, in New Providence. . . .

Josiah Broadwell, Esq., lived on lot No. 18, and had children: | . . . | Daughters. — Polly, or Hannah, married William Darling, and lived where Isaac Meeker does.^[27]

This means that William³ Broadwell and Josiah³ Broadwell resided on lot No. 18 “where Isaiah Meeker subsequently lived.” Polly/Hannah⁴

27. Littell, First Settlers, 59.

SAMUEL PARROT AND HIS FAMILY

Broadwell, Josiah³ Broadwell's daughter, married William⁴ Darling and "lived where Isaac Meeker does." [Same place? Note Isaiah vs. Isaac. I think not.]

A Word Regarding Littell's First Settlers

There are many references to Littell in this work. This does mean that I accept Littell as an authority. Rather, I do so only with great caution. I have used Littell for years and have found errors in it. I am always trying to find public records that verify his statements. Often he checks out. But just as often, I simply don't know if he recorded the genealogies correctly. Since he wrote in 1851 or 1852, just after the 1850 census, it is often possible to see if he at least "comes down right." That is, there might be several generations in Littell for which we don't have other records, or have only sporadic spot checks, but I believe that Littell is vindicated whenever a family appears in the 1850 census with just the structure he claims. I try to make a practice of taking Littell to a point where I can check him against formal records, especially the 1850 census.

I can say similar things about other family genealogies that I use, such as Wheeler's Ogden family, and Broadwell's Broadwell family. Sometimes these are all we have but sooner or later they have to agree with the public record. So please don't take anything other than a bona fide record as a proof in the following despite the "look of truth" from the various books. All that being said, I've built up quite a lot of respect for Littell—except for the occasional lapses, all carefully pointed out to the reader. Luckily, it appears that Littell was appealing to many of the same records, particularly church records, that we use for proof.

Genealogical Summary

1. SAMUEL¹ PARROT,^[28] said to be of Elizabethtown, Essex Co.,^[29] N.J., by 1704, and said to have died 17 July 1733.^[30] He married (1) an un-

28. There are several variations of the surname, including Parot, Parrat, Parrot, Parrott, Parret, Parritt, and Perit. The forms Parrot or Parrott or Parritt will be used here most often, depending on the known woman, and had two or three children. He married (2) 17 Dec. 1713 the “widow Darling,” MARY (–) DARLING, and had six or seven children. N.B., the name Mary comes from Gardner’s circumstantial argument, and the dates and children come from the report of Samuel¹ Parrot’s family records in the possession of Raymond T. Parrott. See also the argument below for an unnamed daughter.

The title of this book states that Samuel Parrot was of Elizabethtown and his family was of Morris County. Morris County was created in 1739 from Hunterdon County, after Samuel’s supposed decease in 1733. We do not know that Samuel ever resided outside the Essex Co. of his time. But the title is a way of making it clear that Morris County quickly became the center for the family that descended from that putative progenitor.

One of the few things known (from Littell’s First Settlers) about the widow Darling is that she had a daughter, Sarah Darling, described as a half-sister of William² Parrot. Sarah and her descendants are listed below for convenience.^[31] They form a Parrot “half family” that interacts with the mainline Parrot family in complex ways.

Children of the first marriage (per the Raymond T. Parrott evidence):

usage pattern of each family. I now begin calling our earliest known Parrot as Samuel¹ Parrot. In the preceding summary he was Samuel² Parrot to show generational associations with the Broadwells and Darlings.

29. Most of the towns listed in this genealogy in Essex Co. became part of Union Co. when it formed in 1857. I will silently change the county name to Union after 1857 for these towns.

30. This date was actually presented as 17 July 1713 in the Raymond T. Parrott evidence. The 1713 year doesn’t make sense since Samuel was said to have been married that year and had several children afterwards. The proposed date of 17 July 1733 seems to be nothing more than a guess of a one-digit error. I give evidence, under the unnamed daughter, that he died before 1741 at the latest. But the argument becomes circular then, because I use the fact that Mary, not Samuel, made the petition in 1741 to prove that he had died before then. Use the 1733 date with caution. But, of course, every date in this first sketch taken only on the strength of the Raymond T. Parrott evidence must be so used.

31. Littell, First Settlers, 37, “Peter Bebout, married, 2d, Sarah Darling, half-sister of William Parrot, Sen., and had other children.” Peter Sr. was married previously and had one son by that marriage, Ebenezer.

SAMUEL PARROT AND HIS FAMILY

- 2 i JOHN² PARROT, born 12 May 1703, perhaps not in Elizabethtown.
- 3 ii MARTHA² PARROT, born 10 Mar. 1704, Elizabethtown. Lived – months 4 days.
- 4 iii SAMUEL² PARROT, born Dec. 1706, died 1 May 1715.

Known stepchild from the second wife's first marriage:

- + 5 SARAH^{2*} DARLING,^[32] married PETER BEBOUT, and had nine children.

Children of the second marriage (principally according to the Raymond T. Parrott evidence):

- + 6 iv WILLIAM² PARROT, born 19 Sept. 1714, married ABIGAIL (SHIPMAN) CLARK, and had three children. This is my line and Dale Parrott's line and Walter Garstang Parrott's line.^[33]
- + 7 v SAMUEL² PARROT [PARRITT], born 8 Oct. 1716, Elizabethtown, married (1) PHEBE STILES, and had one child, married (2) ELEANOR/HELEN ALLEN [ALLING], and had at least eight children.
- + 8 vi THOMAS² PARROT, born 18 July 1719, married MARY KENNEY, and had at least one child.
- + 9 vii RICHARD² PARROT [PARRITT], born 3 Mar. 1720/1, married ABIGAIL –.
- 10 viii MARY² PARROT, born 31 Oct. 1723, died shortly after Oct. 1740, married WILLIAM MORRIS, who also died about Oct. 1740. An unnamed daughter is known from the petition of Mary Parrot re William Morris, dated 29 Oct. 1741 (q.v.). Mary Parrot was Morris's mother-in-law, and William Parrot was a bondsman for her administration of the estate. William² Parrot fits nicely. So I have identified Mary from the Raymond T. Parrott evidence with this unnamed daughter. If so, then this is another argument that Samuel¹'s wife was named Mary. That it was Mary who complained in 1741 is consistent with Samuel¹'s supposed death in 1733.

32. The asterisk (*) next to the generation superscript means that the connection is not genetic.

33. Dale Parrott has been a longtime genealogical correspondent with me on this family. I acknowledge my gratitude to him here.

+ 11 ix MARTHA² PARROT, born 12 Sept. 1726, married DAVID LACY, and had eight children.

SAMUEL PARROT AND HIS FAMILY

Second Generation

5. SARAH^{2*} DARLING (₁Samuel¹'s 2d wife)^[34] died 2 Feb. 1793, New Providence, Essex Co., N.J.^[35] She married^[36] about 1749,^[37] as his second wife, PETER BEBOUT, who was born after 1721, Piscataway, N.J.,^[38] signed his will 25 Jan. 1782, Morris Co., N.J., and it was proved 29 Oct. 1782. He first married Sarah Jewell, and had one child.

Sarah Bebout witnessed the will of Daniel Clark, which was proved on 21 Apr. 1756. One of the executors was William Parrot. Another was Daniel's wife, Abigail, who subsequently married William Parrot. Another was Thomas Baker of the 1757 Rev. Jonathan Elmer committee of New Providence, with the Broadwell brothers. See William's sketch for details of this will.^[39]

Abstract of the will of Peter Bebout (Sr.):

1782, Jan. 25. Bebout, Peter, of Morris Co., will of. Wife, Sarah, use of 1/3 of my estate. Lands to be sold when youngest son, Stephen, is 21, and money divided between sons, Ebenezer, William, Peter, Lewis and Stephen. Daughters, Abigail, Mary, Martha and Nancy, the moveable estate, when they are 18. Executors—wife, Sarah, son, Ebenezer, and friend,

34. The asterisk (*) next to the generation superscript means that the connection to the Samuel¹ Parrot line is not genetic.

35. Elmer's Records, "[1793] Bebout, the Widow, d. Feb. 2."

36. Littell, First Settlers, 37, "Peter Bebout married, December 1st, 1767, Sarah Jewel, and had a son, Ebenzer [sic] . . . | Peter Bebout, married, 2d, Sarah Darling, half-sister of William Parrot, Sen., and had other children."

37. Flick, The Bebout Family, 241, "6. Peter³ Bebout, born after 1721 at Piscataway, N.J., married (1) Sarah Jewell. Littell gives the date as Dec. 1, 1767, which cannot be correct. He probably meant Dec. 1, 1747. He mar. (2), about 1749, Sarah Darling, 'a half sister of William Parrot, Sr.,' who lived on or near Stony Hill Road not far from Long Hill (Lit. [Littell, First Settlers]:37, 312). This fact indicates that his second marriage was after his removal to Long Hill." An interesting theory is that this next item has incorrectly substituted Ebenezer for Peter, in which case the first marriage was on 23 Dec. 1747, which fits approximately: New Providence Presbyterian Records, Marriages, 1747 [or is it 1767?]: "Bebout, Ebenezer, & Sarah Jewell, Dec. 23."

39. NJ. Calendar of Wills, Vol. 3, 1751–1760, 59.

William Sayre. Witnesses—Peter Layton, Daniel Cory, Joseph Staughten.
Proved Oct. 29, 1782.^[40]

Child of Peter's first marriage, listed for convenience:

12 EBENEZER³ BEBOUT, born about 1747.

Peter and Sarah (Darling, his second wife) had nine children^[41] [N.B. These are "half" relatives of the Parrots^[42]]:

+ 13 i WILLIAM³ BEBOUT, born 1750, married (1) MARTHA TINGLEY, and had no children, married (2) HANNAH OGDEN, and had one child.

14 ii PETER³ BEBOUT, born 1752 (gravestone), died 23 Aug. 1784, New Providence,^[43] and was buried in the New Providence Presbyterian Churchyard, New Providence.^[44]

Abstract of the estate of Peter "Beebout" who died intestate, so Peter Jr., since Peter Sr. died before 29 Oct. 1782 (proof of his will):

1784, Dec. 27. Beebout, Peter, of Morris Co., yeoman. Int. Adm'rs—Sarah Beebout, of Morris Co. and Capt. David Smalley, of Somerset Co., farmer. Fellowbondsmen—William Parrott, Jr., of Essex Co., farmer.^[45]

15 iii CHRISTIAN³ BEBOUT, probably born about 1754, "died at about 18 years of age," about 1772. Not mentioned in his father's will.

16 iv ABIGAIL³ BEBOUT, born about 1761–1762. But her father's will implies that all daughters were not yet 18 at the signing of his will in 25 Jan. 1782. If so, she was born after 25 Jan. 1764, say 1764.

41. Flick, The Bebout Family, 242–243; Littell, First Settlers, 37.

SAMUEL PARROT AND HIS FAMILY

She died 6 Feb. 1804.^[46] She married^[47] ISAAC POTTER, born about 1759 (calculated), died 20 Apr. 1832, aged 73 years,^[48] and had seven children.^[49] Isaac was brother of Caleb Potter who married Phebe³ Parrot (₇*Samuel*², *Samuel*¹). Isaac married, second, Abigail Swain, and had five more children.^[50]

- 17 v MARY³ BEBOUT, born after 25 Jan. 1764 (see Abigail for argument), say 1765 or 1766, married 28 Dec. 1785 (according to Littell's First Settlers)^[51] JOHN OSBORN JR., son of John and Puah (Howell) Osborn, and had five children.^[52]
- + 18 vi MARTHA³ BEBOUT, born about 1767, married (1) JOHN BEDELL, and had one child, married (2) LUTHER JONES, and had five children, one of whom married a Parrot.
- 19 vii LEWIS³ BEBOUT, born about 1768, not mentioned in his father's will.
- + 20 viii STEPHEN³ BEBOUT, born about 1770, baptized 9 Apr. 178[3?], New Providence, married SARAH/SALLY CORY, and had at least six children.
- 21 ix NANCY³ BEBOUT, born after 25 Jan. 1764 (see sister Abigail for argument), say 1772, baptized 9 Apr. 178[3?], with her brother Stephen, New Providence.^[53]

52. Littell, First Settlers, 309-310.

53. Elmer's Records, "[1783 [sic]] Bebout, 'Widow Sarah Bebout, two of her children Stephen & Nancy', April 9." The year 1783 might be a transcription error since Sarah was not a widow until 23 Aug. 1784.

iel Clark's will was proved on 21 Apr. 1756 (so at William's age 42 or more), ABIGAIL (SHIPMAN) CLARK. She had first married Daniel Clark, son of John Clark, and had five children, listed for convenience. William Parrot served as an executor, with Abigail, on Daniel's will. Abigail was pregnant at the signing of Daniel's will. This is my line and also Dale Parrott's.

From Littell's First Settlers:

William Parrot lived where Ezra Wilcox now does, and owned 200 acres of land, including that now owned by Ezra Wilcox, Abraham Valentine and David A. French, extending from the River to the Stony Hill Road. It was divided between his sons William and Thomas. He married the widow of Daniel Clark, and had children . . . [listed are William Jr., Thomas, and Samuel]^[55]

Daniel Clark, by his 1st wife, had children . . . [three are listed: John, Daniel, Sarah] . . . Daniel Clark's 1st wife then died, and he married, 2d, Miss Shipman, and had other children: . . . [listed are Stephanus, Jabez, Keturah, Deborah, and Abigail]^[56]

Daniel Clark's will abstract:

—, — —. Clark, Daniel, of the "Burrough" of Elizabeth, Somerset (?) Co.; will of, "signed with the consent of Abigail Clark, his wife." Children—John, Daniel, Stephanus, Jabesh, Sarah, Deborah and Keturah, all under age; and expected child. Home farm; saltmeadow, given by father, John Clark, to testator and brother Jotham; town rights; personal estate. Executors—the wife, brother Jotham Clark and William Parrot. Witnesses—Nathaniel Rogers, Sarah Bebout, Timothy Allen. Proved April 21, 1756. Lib F. p. 443. | 1756, Apr. 12. Inventory, £74.7.10, by Josiah Broadwell and Thomas Baker.

Combining this will with Littell's evidence shows that daughter Abigail Clark was the unborn child in Daniel's will.

SAMUEL PARROT AND HIS FAMILY

friends, David Smalley and Enoch Beech. Witnesses – Moses DeCamp, Nathan Shaw, William Thomas. Proved Dec. 7, 1784.^[65]

Stepchildren from his wife Abigail's first marriage (all underage, or unborn, at the signing of their father Daniel's will, proved in 1756):^[66]

- 22 STEPHANUS^{3*} CLARK, married 28 May 1776, New Providence,^[67] KAZIA/KEZIAH DOTY, daughter of George and Sibbe (Howell) Doty, and had six children^[68]
- 23 JABEZ/JABESH^{3*} CLARK, married^[69] CATY VAN SICKLE, daughter of Samuel Van Sickle, and had at least two children: (1) [child] Clark, died 4 Jan. 1785, New Providence;^[70] (2) Daniel Clark, died 23 June 1788, New Providence.^[71]
- 24 KETURAH/KETURA^{3*} CLARK, married 22 Apr. 1771, New Providence,^[72] AARON DECAMP [CAMP], son of Aaron DeCamp and his first wife. Aaron the younger was perhaps he who died 15 Apr. 1850, aged 85 years 2 months 22 days, Newark.^[73]

Abstract of the will of Aaron's grandfather, John DeCamp (called Johannes Vancampen in Littell's First Settlers):

66. William probably also took three other children into his home, the three from Daniel Clark's first family, since they too were underage at the signing of his will. They were John, Daniel, and Sarah Clark.

There appears to be another Aaron Camp about this same time, son of Nathaniel Camp, who might be the Aaron who died in 1850.

I include these children not only to check Littell's First Settlers, but because of this Parrot connection:

Sarah⁴ Scudder married 10 Sept. 1793, Nathaniel Jennings, son of Jacob and Phebe (Ball) Jennings, who "lived where William Parrot lately lived and died."^[88]

Putative child of either a first (unknown) marriage or (unlikely) out of wedlock (see various arguments in Joseph's sketch):

+ 27 x JOSEPH³ PARROT, born say 1736, and had at least one child. This is a questionable relationship. See Appendix A.

Children (according to Littell's First Settlers except for Adoniram), of his marriage to Abigail in 1756 or so:

83. N.J. Births and Christenings Index, 1660–1931, Abigail Scudder, female, baptized 28 Oct. 1785, New Providence (formerly Turkey) Presbyterian Church, New Providence, Essex (now Union) Co., N.J., father "Ths" Scudder, FHL 982040.

SAMUEL PARROT AND HIS FAMILY

- + 28 i ?ADONIRAM³ PARROT, born about 1757 or 1758, presumably New Jersey, married SARAH CARROL, and had six children. This is an alternative theory, and a (less) questionable one, to that proffered for Joseph above. See Appendix A for arguments.
- + 29 ii WILLIAM³ PARROT, 2 Sept. 1760, presumably New Jersey, married CATHERINE WILLIAMS, and had at least eight children.
- + 30 iii SAMUEL³ PARROT, baptized 6 Nov. 1763, New Providence, married MARY/POLLY THOMPSON, and had seven or eight children.
- + 31 iv THOMAS³ PARROT, born 11 Jan. 1767 or 11 Jan. 1768, presumably New Jersey, married (1) ROSANNAH RUTAN, and had five children. This is my line and also Dale Parrott's. Thomas married (2) ABIGAIL MEEKER, and had no children.

7. SAMUEL² PARROT [PARRITT] (¹Samuel¹) was born 8 Oct. 1716, Elizabethtown, died 29 Nov. 1788, Troy. Samuel Parritt of Hanover, Morris Co., N.J., signed his will on 26 May 1788.^[89] He married (1) say 1737 PHEBE STILES,^[90] who was born 1716 (calculated), daughter of Jonathan Stiles, and died 25 Oct. 1743, aged 27 years, and was buried in Whippany Burial Yard, Whippany, Morris Co., N.J.^[91] He married (2) say 1745 EL-EANOR/HELEN ALLEN [ALLING], (only) daughter of Joseph Allen. She is not mentioned in Samuel's will of 26 May 1788 so died before then. She was deceased at the 31 May 1788 quitclaim abstracted below.

pany (now called Troy) Brook in Hanover tp. (HuCt 1, rev.:74). He was perhaps the earliest of the pioneer residents of the Parsippany-Troy Hills area to acquire land there after the West Jersey Proprietors, in 1715, took up their apportionments in that part of the Colony. His home, of which the foundation site was identifiable within living memory, was on the present Beverwyck Road, South, closely adjacent to the residence, still standing, built by his grandson, Dr. Joseph Parritt, and inherited by the latter's sister Eleanor, wife of Col. Hiram Smith, whose descendants have since, as late as 1942, owned and occupied it as a Smith homestead. A small brook nearby is referred to in a road survey of 1762 as "Joseph Allen's Brook". (MsPO). In March, 1726/7, Joseph Allen was chosen constable for Hanover tp. In 1737, spelling his name "Allin", he mortgaged 110 acres of his farm next Parsippany (Troy) meadows, and paid off the mortgage in yearly instalments for the next ten years. (HuCt 2:165; HuMT C:15). In 1747/8 and 1749 he was Overseer of the Poor in Hanover tp.,^[92] and is last mentioned on Aug. 31, 1753, in the diary of Rev. Jacob Green of Hanover, as furnishing a load of hay. (MrCt 1:231,243; Princeton Univ. Lib. Mss.). He left no will, his property descending to his only daughter. In a Court order in 1801, referring to the above land, his name is given as "Joseph Alling", but the only specimen of his signature found to date omits the final "g". (MrD A:228; L:1).

Child of Joseph Allen:

719. Eleanor, b. abt. 1726; md., as 2nd wife, Samuel Parritt; d. Aug. 27, 1787. Of their large family children, the only ones to leave issue were four daughters, the wives of Henry Howell, Silas Parritt, John Cobb, Esq., and Col. Hiram Smith, who had numerous progeny, so that most of the prominent families of the Troy Hills area are descended from this Joseph Allen (MsPO).^[93]

SAMUEL PARROT AND HIS FAMILY

The will of John Alling, recorded in book L of Wills, p. 302, 35c., at the Prerogative Court, Trenton, probate granted 12 Dec. 1764:

In the name of God, Amen.

Witnessed by John Ogden, John Ogden, Jr., and Ezekiel Ogden. Sworn to before Robert Ogden, Surrogate, December 12, 1764, and probate granted by Governor Franklin at the same time.

Hatfield's History says John Alling was appointed overseer of the poor in 1739-40.

In November, 1729, Jonathan Allen had his title deed confirmed to him, the original title having been lost, and in 1739 he was allowed to collect pay for surveying and running lines. Jonathan and Joseph Allen were among the first settlers of New Providence, 1736-8.^[94] Joseph Allen was at the organization of the church at New Providence (then Turkey) about 1736.^[95]

Rev. Timothy Allen, born 1716, graduated at Yale, 1736, ordained to the ministry at West Haven, Conn., in 1738; called to New Providence in 1752; and died at Chesterfield, Mass., January 12, 1806, aged 91.^[96]

The date of this interesting event cannot be precisely ascertained. It is believed however to have been during the ministry of the Rev'd. Joseph Lamb, who was called to New Providence in Ma Seventeen Hundred and forty two and continued about two years. The men who composed the first Session were Joseph Allen, John Pierson and Daniel Day." So 1742-1744, as opposed to 1736.

Miscellaneous items

From Parrit Homestead:

Here Eleanor Alling and her husband lived and here their children were born, Phebe, Elizabeth, Susanna, Charity, Joseph, Ann, Mary, Eleanor, Samuel 1st, Samuel 2nd, and Archibald. I can find no Rebecca, wife of Ebenezer Farrand on the list. If she is a sister of these as some claim, she must be a half sister by a former marriage of Samuel Parrit Jr. as Rebecca was born 1740, five years previous to his union with Eleanor Alling. So far we can find no record of such a marriage.

N.B. Rebecca is known to be from Samuel’s first wife. This item is the only place I’ve seen daughters Mary and Susanna and two sons named Samuel.

From Gardner’s N.J. Families, citing Life (or perhaps Letter) of P.H.W. Smith, 16 Mar. 1[?]43):

From Condit's "The Story of Beverwyck" we get a picture of the Troy, N.J., neighborhood of the Samuel Parritt family:

Thus runs Lucas Von Beverhoudt's deed for "Beverwyck." "On the second day of March, in the twelfth year of the reign of our sovereign Lord George the 3rd and in the year of our Lord 1772 between William Kelly late of New York in America now of the city of London, Esq. of the one part, and Lucas Von Beverhoudt, late of the Island of Saint Thomas in America, now of the said city of London, Esquire of the other part, doth bargain and sell unto the said Lucas Von Beverhoudt, that plantation or estate situated in the Township of Hanover, Morris Co., in the province of New Jersey in America, consisting of the several tracts of land which the said William Kelly purchased of and from John Barlow, Stephen Tuttle, John Marsh, Patrick Darcy and Daniel Cooper and containing near, or about, 2,000 acres. On the N. E. Lands called Tract 4. On the N. W. Lands now, or lately owned by Moses Baldwin, and Elenezer Ffarron [Ebenezer Farrand?], Junior, and running north, against lands owned by Vanderhoof, and John Bowlsby. On the south by lands now or lately owned by Robert Ogden, Benjamin Smith, Benjamin Howell, and Samuell Parrott, also bounded by land owned by Jasper Smith. All erections, buildings, houses, horses, cows, oxen, sheep, all negroes with their wives and offspring and all plantation tools and chattles whatsoever." On stamped paper affixed to the indenture, "I, William Nash, Esq, Lord Mayor of the city of London, in pursuance of an act of Parliament made and passed in the fifth year of the reign of his late Majesty King George the second, Instituting an act for the more easy recovery of debts in his majesty's Plantations and Colonies in America, Certify: . . . was sworn at the Mansion House the 18th day of March 1772 before me, William Nash, Lord Mayor.”

By this indenture from which I have quoted, and which I have in my possession, we find Lucas Von Beverhoudt owner of property in the province of New Jersey. The house was on this part of the plantation,—these premises, where we meet to-day. Troy was not a simple hamlet. Men were here, our ancestors. Sturdy and strong, self-reliant, intelligent men they were, chiefly farmers. John Cobb had come from Tuanton, Massachusetts, attracted by the iron mines of New Jersey. The fire of Troy forge was kindled in the earlier part of the 18th Century,—two hundred years ago. Here Washington when holding his Headquarters at Morristown, seven miles distant, doubtless supplied himself with such sinews of war as the glowing heat of the patriotic old forge could furnish. . . .^[101]

Wills

On 2 Oct. 1758 Jonathan Stiles, father of Phebe Stiles, of Pequannock, Morris Co., N.J., signed his will, and it was proved 30 Nov. 1758. Abstract:

1758, Oct. 2. Stiles, Jonathan, of Pequannack [sic], Morris Co., yeoman; will of. Children—Joseph, John, Jonathan, Ephraim, Thomas, Ebenezer, Hanah Smith, Rebecker Primrose and Stephen. Grandchildren—Rebecker Parret and Daniel Smith. Real and personal estate. Executors—son Jonathan and son-in-law, Henery Primrose. Witnesses—Joseph Wood and John Plume. Proved Nov. 30, 1758. Lib. G, p. 21.^[103]

On 26 May 1788 Samuel Parritt of Hanover, Morris Co., N.J., signed his will. Abstract (which explicitly mentions Rebecca of his first marriage):

1788, 26 May. Parritt, Samuel, of Hanover, Morris Co.; will of. Daughters, Elizabeth, Nancy and Nelly, each 5 shillings. Granddaughters, Susannah and Nelly (daughters of daughter Charity, dec'd) and grandchildren, Samuel, Phebe, Sukey, Rebecca and Polly (children of daughter, Rebecca, dec'd), each 5 shillings. Sons, Joseph and Archibald, remainder of real and personal. Executors—the 2 sons. Witnesses—Caleb Russell, Thomas Osborn, Jr. and James Thomas. Lib. 36, p. 81; File 898N.^[104]

Samuel Parritt's two sons did not reproduce so his male line ceased. In other words there are no male Parrot descendants of his line with Y-chromosome DNA to test.

Child of the first marriage, to Phebe Stiles:

- + 32 i REBECCA³ PARROT, born 1741, married EBENEZER FARRAND, and had at least five children.

105. Gardner's N.J. Families, cites Life of P.H.W. Smith, 16 Mar. 1843.

William Parrit here was his brother, since his nephew William would have been only about seven years old. Caleb Ball was probably his son-in-law, husband of his daughter Mary (q.v.). Neither, however, was of Newark proper, only of the environs of Newark.

Abstract for John Kenney:

1766, Feb. 27. Kenney, John, of Hanover, Morris Co.; will of. Eldest daughter, Mary Parrit, £5. From Littell's First Settlers:

David Lacy lived in a house west of the parsonage house, nearly opposite to Doctor Kent's. He married Martha Parrot, and had children [as listed below].^[115]

The following children are from Littell, First Settlers, 204–207. I pursue details of some of them to gauge the accuracy of Littell's treatment. The first three below check out, but there are problems with the fourth child. So, again, Littell must be used with caution. I have simply copied Littell for three of the last four children, without checking against other records.

Children:^[116]

- + 45 i JACOB³ LACY, born about 1740, married (1) MARY CLAWSON, and had eight children, married (2) BETSEY (PARKER) HEADLEY. See his sketch for an affidavit proving that he was first cousin of William³ Parrot (6William², Samuel¹).

- 59 vi HERVY⁴ JONES (twin to Abigail). Henry perhaps? Died in infancy, from smallpox, according to Littell.

20. STEPHEN³ BEBOUT (₅*Sarah^{2*} Darling, Samuel¹'s 2d wife*) was born after 25 Jan. 1761 (since not yet 21 at father's will of 25 Jan. 1782), about 1770, baptized 9 Apr. 178[3?], with his sister, Nancy, New Providence.^[136] He was added as a member to the New Providence church during the year following 7 Oct. 1813.^[137] He married SARAH/SALLY CORY, who was daughter of Elder Daniel Cory, and died 5 July 1843.^[138] for William's widow, Catharine, contains an affidavit signed by her on 22 Sept. 1838 that states she was "aged 74 years on the 21st of January next." So, on 21 Jan. 1839 she was 74, implying a birthdate of 21 Jan. 1765. This is consistent with her further statement in that affidavit that she married William "on the 24th day of July in the year of our Lord 1779, when I was in the 15th year of my age." That is, she was 14 on 24 July 1779, implying that she was born in 1765.

I have two transcriptions of the stones in this Methodist churchyard. One gives Catharine's stone this reading: "Parrot, Catharine, wife of William, 1773-Mar. 15, 1860 ae. 87," which appears to be off by 10 years on both birth and death. The other gives "Catharine, d March 15, 1850, aged 87-1-24," which supports my reading of the photograph.

He had removed from New Jersey to New York in about 1825 (his son, Samuel, had been in Allegany Co., N.Y., for 30 years in 1855), consistent with Littell’s note that he and his family removed “to the Lakes, New York.” He married 18 Aug. 1783 or 1785, New Providence,^[158] MARY/POLLY THOMPSON, who was born 1760–1770, daughter of Thomas and Abigail (Ross) Thompson.^[159] Note that Mary’s grandfather, Thomas’s father, was Aaron Thompson, of Long Hill.

SAMUEL PARROT AND HIS FAMILY

- + 79 v CORNELIA⁴ PARROT, born 3 Mar. 1800, New Jersey, married ISAAC SAYRE/SEARS SMALLEY, and had six children. This family removed to Allegany Co., N.Y., in about 1825.

- 82 viii JOSEPH ALLING⁴ PARROT, baptized 2 Sept. 1804, Presbyterian Church, Hanover Twp., Morris Co., N.J.^[170] He was possibly the Joseph Parrot in the 1830 census in Morris Twp., Morris Co., N.J. (see next) who married and had at least two children.

Repeated for convenience: In 1830 William Pa[rrot?], 60–70, resided in Morris Twp., Morris Co., N.J., with a woman 60–70, one girl 5–10, and one woman 30–40. Listed nearby were Joseph Pa[rrot?], 20–30, with a woman 20–30, one girl under 5 and one boy 5–10, and also S[q?]uire Parrot, 30–40, with a woman 30–40, two girls under 5, one boy and one girl 5–10, and two females 10–15.^[171] This suggests that Joseph might have been a son of William³ and brother of Squier⁴, but more likely Joseph is this Joseph Alling⁴ Parrot, who is otherwise unaccounted for. Much of Joseph Alling Parrot's family removed to Allegany Co., N.Y. Perhaps he stayed in New Jersey and lived in the vicinity of his cousin and uncle.

Kennedy Vance, Thomas Parrot's guardian, married Phebe (Potter) Pettit, widow of Benjamin Pettit and mother of Benjamin Pettit (III), presumably Vance's fellowbondsman in the guardianship above. Kennedy and Phebe Vance had several children, including Jane Vance, who married 8 July 1790 Joel Jones. Joel was brother of Luther Jones, second husband of Martha Bebout, Thomas's half-cousin.

In June 1793 Thomas Parrot appeared on a tax list for Essex Co., N.J.^[178]

In Sept. 1811 Thomas "Parot" appeared on a tax list for Chatham Twp., Morris Co., N.J.^[179]

On 19 Nov. 1811, Thomas Parrot was made a Justice of the Peace in Morris Co., N.J.^[180]

In 1830 Thomas Parrot, 60–70, resided in New Providence, Essex Co., N.J., with a woman 60–70, and one female, 10–15, and two women 80–90.^[181]

In 1840 (contradicts the 1839 death year on his gravestone) "Th^s" Parrot, 70–80, resided in New Providence, Essex Co., N.J., with a woman 70–80, and one male 50–60.^[182]

Children (known from Samuel² Parrot's will (q.v.) and Ebenezer Farrand's will):

- + 88 i SAMUEL⁴ FARRAND, married MARY SMITH, and had at least two children.
- + 89 ii PHEBE⁴ FARRAND, born 18 Apr. 1760, married JOHN HOWELL, and had five children.

SAMUEL PARROT AND HIS FAMILY

Providence Presbyterian Churchyard, New Providence, Union Co., N.J.^[194] See Figure 1. She married 23 Apr. 1770, New Providence,^[195] CALEB POTTER, born about 1750 (calculated), son of Col. Samuel Potter, and died 27 May 1799, aged 49 years, and buried near his (first) wife.^[196] Caleb married, second, 28 Sept. 1777, Westfield, N.J.,^[197] Hannah (–) Hains [Hinds]. Caleb's brother Isaac Potter married^[198] Abigail³ Bebout (Sarah^{2} Darling, Samuel¹'s 2d wife*).

N.B. Littell's First Settlers has Phebe's death as 25 Apr. 1771, aged 31 years.^[199] Inspection of her gravestone easily reveals this to be an error of six years. Furthermore, she would have had two children in the space of one year if Littell's date was correct.

Abstract of Caleb's estate:

On 1 July 1799 the Orphan's Court of Newark, Essex Co., N.J., appointed Benjamin Cory, Charles Clark, and Recompence Stanbery to make a division of the real estate of Caleb Potter, deceased, between "Sam^l Potter Ju^r. son of Caleb Potter and Phebe Maxwell and Easter [sic] Maxwell grandchildren of the said Caleb Potter," the two granddaughters under 14. They submitted their report 22 Aug. 1799.^[201]

It's worth noting that Caleb Potter and Phebe Parrot were closely associated with the New Providence church, not the Hanover church. They were married there. And Caleb's father, Samuel Potter, is mentioned many times in the founding documents of the Turkey (New Providence) church, as is William Parrot, Samuel Parritt's brother.^[202]

SAMUEL PARROT AND HIS FAMILY

- + 94 ii SAMUEL⁴ POTTER, married BETSEY DUNHAM, and had two children.

34. ELIZABETH³ PARRITT (⁷Samuel², Samuel¹) was born 11 Mar. [sic] 1748 (1748/9 by Gardner),^[206] and baptized 22 Jan. 1749 (1748/9 by Gardner), Hanover Twp.^[207] She died 16 Jan. 1792, Morristown,^[208] so the 29 June 1801 partition mentions the “heirs of Elizabeth Howell.” She is mentioned in her father’s will of 1788. She was bound to marriage on 20 May 1769, New Jersey,^[209] to HENRY HOWELL, of Morristown, Morris Co., N.J., who removed from New Jersey (to we know not where) before 21 Apr. 1801, Morris Co., N.J., when his children selected their guardian.

The guardianship abstract:

1801, April 21. Howell, Henry, John and Maria, of Morris Co. Wards. Children of Henry Howell, late of said Co., being upwards of 14 years of age. Their father having removed from the state and they having real and personal estate, petition that Richard Smith be appointed their Guardian until they are 21 years of age. Guardian—Richard Smith. Fellow-bondsman—Benjamin Smith, of Hanover, said Co. | Lib. 39, p. 312; File 1073 N.^[210]

Richard and Benjamin Smith in this guardianship were probably brothers of Elizabeth’s brother-in-law, Hiram Smith.

Probably the Henry Howell, born about 1779, Morris Co., N.J., son of Henry Howell and E. Howell, a widower carpenter who died 22 Apr. 1869, Woodbridge, Middlesex Co., N.J., age 90.^[211] If he is the correct Henry Howell, then the following pertain:

In 1860 Henry Howell, 80, a carpenter born in New Jersey, resided in the household of Cornelius D. Prall, 51, a farmer, who resided in Woodbridge, Middlesex Co., N.J., with Eliza, 47, five children, all born in New Jersey, and two others.^[213]

SAMUEL PARROT AND HIS FAMILY

On Mar. 1779, a muster roll of the field staff of the first New Jersey Regiment, commanded by Col. Mathias Ogden Esq., listed Ensign Silas Parrot, commissioned 29 Oct. 1777, on furlough.^[218]

On Sept.–Dec. 1780, a muster roll of the field staff and commissioned officers of the first New Jersey Regiment, commanded by Col. Mathias Ogden., listed 2d Lieut. Silas Parrot, commissioned [?] Jan. 1778, on furlough.^[219]

Samuel's will of 1788 mentions two grandchildren, Susannah and "Nelly" (in that order), by his deceased daughter Charity. Here is an abstract of the guardianship petition of the child Eleanor:

1801, April 17. Parritt, Elenor, of Morris Co. Ward. Daughter of Silas Parritt, of said Co., being upwards of 14 years of age, having real and personal estate, by her petition makes choice of Dr. John Darcy as her Guardian, her father having renounced his right to the Guardianship. Guardian—John Darcy. Fellowbondsmen—Abraham Fairchild, of Hanover, said Co. | Lib. 39, p. 312; File 1083 N.^[220]

Silas Parrot appears on the Hanover Twp., Morris Co., N.J., tax rolls for 1788, 1796–1797, 1805, and 1815–1817.^[221]

Silas Parrot appears on a list of New Jersey Revolutionary War pensioners for 1813, rank lieutenant, annual stipend $72.^[222] His name was struck off the roll by an act of 1 May 1820.^[223]

Silas Parrot or Parrit received Revolutionary War pension S34460 for his service of six years in the New Jersey Line, commencing Jan. 1777

(according to an affidavit), in the regiment commanded by Col. Matthias Ogden. Ralph Smith wrote a letter of support 3 Mar. 1818 for the pension. Silas enlisted Jan. 1777. He received Bounty Land Warrant 1694–200, issued on 11 June 1789 to his assignee Matthias Darman. A “grandson” W. E. Bradner submitted a letter, included in the pension file, asking for information, dated 26 Nov. 1892, Newark, N.J.^[224]

I deduce that daughter Susannah⁴ Parrot married Ralph Smith, given that (1) Ralph swore an affidavit for Silas Parrot’s Revolutionary War pension application, (2) William E. Bradner claimed in that pension file that he descended from Silas, and (3) Ralph Smith, and his wife, Susannah, were mentioned in the deed 3 May 1805 of land from Eleanor Parritt to Hiram Smith.

I repeat Gardner’s abstract of that deed here for convenience:

May 3, 1805 Deed. Elenor Parritt of Hanover Tp. to Hiram Smith of do for [#? $?]¹¹⁹⁴

2 lots in Hanover tp. form [formerly] part of r.e. [real estate] of Dr. Joseph Parritt dec’d & inher [inherited] by her fr him

1: 39⁸⁰ A adj on N side of gr^{ee}’s land where he lives, beg at cor. of land allotted to Susannah wf of Ralph Smith, form part of farm of Dr Parritt dec’d, so cor. standing on S side of road fr Troy to Whippany [surveying instructions, mentions Ralph Smith & wf Susannah, Lawrence Lewis, Henry Howell Jr., John Howell, . . .]

2: 1 A on E side of road from Richard Smith’s to John Howell’s beg. [surveying instructions, mentions R’d Smith’s house, . . .]

I believe this “Elenor” to be Charity’s daughter Eleanor. In May 1805 she would have reached age 18 or more. The two lots were inherited from Dr. Joseph Parritt, which makes sense. The first lot, of almost 40 acres, abuts the land where Hiram Smith lives and also, apparently land belonging to Ralph Smith and his wife, Susannah. It’s reasonable that the two daughters would have received adjoining lots.

SAMUEL PARROT AND HIS FAMILY

It's tempting to draw another conclusion, that Ralph Smith was related to Susannah's uncle, Henry Smith. I have not found this to be the case, however. In fact, in Susannah's sketch I'll show that Ralph Smith was probably a descendant of another old Smith line, separate from Henry's line. I have not found any evidence of a relationship anyway.

Children (in will order):

- + 98 i SUSANNAH⁴ PARROT, born about 1781, before her grandfather Samuel Parritt's will of 1788, married RALPH SMITH, and had six children.
- 99 ii ELEANOR/NELLY⁴ PARROT, born on or before 1787, as she had reached 14 before her guardianship petition of 17 Apr. 1801.

37. JOSEPH³ PARRITT (⁷*Samuel²*, Samuel¹) was born 30 May 1754,^[225] and baptized 7 July 1754, Hanover Twp.^[226] He was mentioned in his father's will of 1788 (as executor) and in his brother Archibald's death notice of 29 Apr. 1795. He died unmarried (according to Gardner) and intestate, before 9 Apr. 1801, when administrators were appointed for his estate. They were his sisters Ann and Eleanor and their husbands. He was almost invariably referred to as Dr. Joseph Parritt.

Tax records show [Dr.] Joseph Parrit (Parrot, Parret, Parrett, Perret) in Hanover Twp., Morris Co., N.J., in 1780, 1783–1797.^[227]

From Parritt Homestead:

Dr. Parritt then built a second house, still larger on the same site. It is said in the large parlors of this house he drank himself to death in grief over the death in 1795 of his brother Archibald, of whose attachment for Adrianna Von Beverhoudt, and whose untimely death by drowning off Long Island Mrs. B. S. Condit has already told you. [See Archibald's sketch for this story.]

Children of Dr. John Joline Cobb and Jane Jacobus: Ann Parrott, born May 26, 1812; [and others . . .].^[240]

Note the namesake Ann Parrott⁵ Cobb, born 26 May 1812, in the last paragraph.

Evidence that Revolutionary Soldier Thomas Cobb was indeed a child of John Cobb and Rhoda is the existence of seeming namesake Archibald Parrit Cobb, son of Thomas Cobb, died 22 July 1798, Morristown, aet. 4.^[241] Since Archibald Parritt, John Cobb's brother-in-law, died 19 Apr. 1795, Thomas's son was probably named for him (assuming aet. 4 means in his 4th year, not 4 yrs. old).

Evidence that John Cobb's wife Rhoda was Rhoda Smith, daughter of Richard Smith and sister of Benjamin Smith is Richard's will abstract (transcribed elsewhere in this book), which mentions his granddaughter Elizabeth Cobb and grandson Thomas Cobb.^[242] Unfortunately, no daughter Elizabeth Cobb is assigned to John and Rhoda in The Cobb Family.

The Waddell-Smith Family doesn't hesitate:

Rhoda [Smith], m. John Cobb (son of Ebenezer Cobb and Mehitabel (Robinson) Cobb, of Taunton, Mass., and later of Parsippany, N.J.), who was b. Dec. 17, 1723, and d. 1799; he had a forge at Rockaway, Morris Co., N.J.; for descendants see "The Cobb Family," in J. P. Crayon's "Rockaway Records, Morris Co., N.J." The Cobb records show the marriage as above and Richard Smith's will mentions his grandchildren, Elizabeth and Thomas Cobb. The latter receipted on Jan. 16, 1781, to having "received of Hiram and Benjamin Smith the full Sum of ten Pounds New York Currency Which money fell to me by the Last Will and testament of my Grandfather Richard Smith deceased which has

She is mentioned in her father's will of 1788. She married 14 Oct. 1778, probably Morris Co., N.J. (see biographies below), Col. HIRAM SMITH, who was born 22 Dec. 1756, son of Benjamin and Hannah (Dod) Smith, and died 27 Apr. 1833 (see biographies below). Hiram married, second, 9 Jan. 1812 (The Dod Family), Susan Ten Eyck, and had no children. Eleanor and Hiram (and Susan) were all buried in Vail Cem., Parsippany, Morris Co., N.J.—but see the warning in the next paragraph.

N.B., there is an online transcription of stones for Vail Cem., Parsippany, Morris Co., N.J., which is untrustworthy.^[252] For example, it gives this transcription for Hiram: “Hiram Smith, April 27, 1855 77 years.” Clearly, someone has simply misread 3s as 5s, but it makes the birth and marriage dates untenable. But another transcription for him is: “Hiram Smith Born 1756 Died 1833 Lieut. Col. In Revolutionary.” And it is not far off for Eleanor: “Eleanor Smith wife of Hiram Smith D. Nov 22, 1810 57 years.” And this for second wife Susan appears tenable: “Susan 2nd consort Hiram Smith Died Sept. 24, 1826 age 64 years.” I will quote other transcriptions below to cast further doubt on this source. It must be used with great care. All that is clear is that Vail is the correct cemetery.

[Aug. 7, 1786] | Died [July 23, 1835].” I can't actually read the parts in [] brackets, but assume the transcription is accurate. It matches Crayon's “The Cobb Family.”

From a biography written by descendant Richard Smith:

Lt. Col. Hiram Smith, born 1756, died 1833. It is from this man that we are all descended. At the age of 20 he entered the Continental Army as a sergeant. His report of his various services - Albany, Johnstown, Ft. Stanwix, Fort Schuyler, Ticonderoga - is all interesting. (I have always heard that it was at Ticonderoga that he received his Colonelcy.) My great grandfather, often referred to as "Col. Hiram" or "Senior", married first Eleanor Parritt (I can't locate that date.) She was the only daughter of Samuel Parritt, and she came from Albany. Her mother was the daughter of Joseph and Eleanor Allin, Alling, or Allen. Colonel Hiram Smith was a man of affairs in his time and community. He was Justice of the Peace, Member of the State Assembly, Sheriff, County Judge, Major of N. J. Militia, and Trustee of the Parsippany Presbyterian Church. He possessed commanding presence and great dignity of bearing. After marriage to Eleanor Parritt they lived in the Smith homestead on Whippany Road with a porch 2 stories high known to us as Florence Smith's house. They had 8 children, all of whom lived to maturity. After Eleanor Parritt Smith's death in 1810, this site became the household of Col. Hiram and his second wife, Susan Ten Eyck, daughters Nancy and Addie, son Hiram and his wife (Mary Allen Osborn) and their 6 children. Susan Ten Eyck Smith was the widow of Dr. Henry White Darlee of Parsippany. Through this "second consort" we have inherited several fine pieces of furniture. A mirror with a golden eagle atop of it hangs beside me as I write; a settee is now at the Richard Smith Baldwin house. About 1830 grandmother decided that they had better have their own home; so grandfather bought from a Mr. Cobb a house on the ridge about a mile away that is now owned and occupied by my nephew, Richard Smith Baldwin.

SAMUEL PARROT AND HIS FAMILY

(See Smith Bible Records, Troy Hills, N.J. for Hannah Dod and Benjamin Smith, above mentioned; also see paper prepared by Philip H. Waddell-Smith in 1911 on the Waddell-Smith family in a work titled “Colonial and Revolutionary Families of Pennsylvania”, printed by Lewis Publishing Co. of New York.)^[253]

A will abstract that carries proof for much of the Smith family genealogy above (from The Dod Family):

1767, June 3. Smith, Benjamin, of Hanover, Morris Co.; will of. Wife, Hannah, 1/3 of the moveable estate, and 1/3 the rents of my real, as long as she lives. The rest of the rents are to be used to bring up my children. What is not used to go to my four sons, Caleb, Hiram, Benjamin and Richard, when the oldest is 21. The child that is yet unborn is to have its share. My daughter, Elizabeth, £50, when 18. Executors—my wife, Samuel Smith and Aaron Dod. Witnesses—Ebenezer Cobb, Isaac Sergeant, John Cobb. Proved. July 27, 1767. | Lib. I, p. 188.^[254]

This mentions all the Smith children surviving as of 1767, including the unborn child who must have been Mary, born a few months later. All of the sons were under 21, so born after 1746. Daughter Elizabeth was under 18, so born after 1749. Much of this family, particularly the Farrand connections, are proved elsewhere in this book.

A will abstract that carries proof for much of the Smith generation preceding Benjamin and Hannah:

1763, Feb. 12. Smith, Richard, of Hanover, Morris Co.; will of. Wife, Sarah, 1/3 the goods. Daughter, Rachel Person, rest of goods; but to my granddaughter, Elizabeth Cobb, I give £10; also grandson, Thomas Cobb, £10, when 21. To my wife I give £10, it being now in the hands of Frances More. Sons, Samuel and Benjamin, £10, and my land. Executors—sons, Samuel and Benjamin. Witnesses—Francis Moore, Robart Jinkens, William Howard. Proved. July 1, 1763. | Lib. H, p. 320.^[255]

The Cobb grandchildren come from the marriage of John Cobb and Rhoda Smith, according to an SAR membership application, which cites their child, Thomas Cobb, born 1760, died 1845, as the Revolutionary War ancestor.^[256] This implies that Rhoda was a daughter of Richard Smith above. The Cobb Family does not give her surname, but the Waddell-Smith Family verifies that it was Smith and that Richard Smith was her father.^[257]

Children of the first marriage, to Eleanor (if not footnoted then from Waddell-Smith Family):^[258]

- 109 i ANN/NANCY⁴ SMITH, born 12 Nov. 1779, died 14 Mar. 1841, unmarried. The online transcription of stones from the Vail Cem., Parsippany, Morris Co., N.J., is untrustworthy, as previously mentioned. Another example is its transcription for Nancy: “Nancy daughter of Hiram and Eleanor Smith B. March 14, 1811 62 years 4 mo. 2 da.”^[259] Everything seems to work except for the misreading of 1841 for 1811. The calculated birthdate, assuming that the only error is 1811 should be 1841, is 12 Nov. 1778.

Morris County. Messrs Gautier, DeWint and the negro were fortunate to climb on the bottom of the boat and were rescued after two hours.^[270]

Here is the story of Archibald and Adrianna:

In closing, I exclaim: "What might have been!" if this tragedy I am about to tell had not occurred. Archibald Parrott, whose sisters had by their marriages connected the Smiths, Howells, Cobbs, and Farrands, was the acknowledged suitor of Adrianna Von Beverhoudt. In an evil hour he went with the gay friends of Boudinot, together with the negro Jake to the "Fishing Banks," off Long Island. When off the "Narrows," Parrott was drowned. All returned except Parrott. Jake hinted at foul play, and was threatened with death, if he ever did it again. I think it occurred on the Sabbath . . .

This same Adrianna Von Beverhoudt, who might have married Archibald Parrott, had he lived, became Mrs. Tobias Boudinot.^[271]

A gossip version, and error-ridden, appears as a caption to the photograph of a particular house in the Parsippany Troy Hills area of New Jersey:

The Parrott-Smith House on South Beverwyck Road. Built in 1738, this elegant home was erected by Dr. Samuel [sic, Joseph] Parrott. When Dr. Parrott died in a boating accident [sic, it was his brother Archibald], his death became cause for gossip. He and another man, Tobias Boudinot, were both courting the same girl, Adrianna von Beverhoudt. When

He was probably the Caleb Ball who married, first, 8 Dec. 1748, Hanover Twp., Morris Co., N.J.,^[277] Martha Sergent. He was also probably the Caleb Ball who married, third, 23 July 1780, First Presbyterian Church, Morristown, Morris Co., N.J.,^[278] Lois Gordon, and then died 15 Nov. 1782, age 54, his intestate estate settled 3 Dec. 1782.^[279]

Caleb Ball became a Hanover church member on 15 Jan. 1764.^[280] He was a bondsman in 1767 on the administration of the estate of Mary's father Thomas Parrot (q.v.).

On 15 Jan. 1764, the “children [unnamed] of Caleb Ball” were baptized in Hanover, when he became a church member, and on 11 Sept. 1768, Helen Ball, daughter of Caleb Ball, was baptized.^[281] Since Caleb might have married twice, or even thrice, the unnamed children were not necessarily Mary's children. Since Helen was baptized later, it is likely that she was born shortly before her baptism and hence was Mary's daughter.

He married (1)^[288] MARY CLAWSON. He married (2) BETSEY (PARKER) HEADLEY, who was born 8 Feb. 1770,^[289] daughter of Benjamin and Lydia (Osborn) Parker. She had first married 12 Nov. 1796, Moses Headley, and she was still alive in about 1850 when Littell’s First Settlers was being compiled. She might have been the Elizabeth Lacy who died Feb. 1850, age 64, resident in Hanover Twp., Morris Co., N.J., but the implied birthdate of about 1786 doesn’t fit.^[290]

In the Revolutionary War pension file for William³ Parrot (₆*William², Samuel¹*) is an affidavit signed 16 Oct. 1838, Morristown, Morris Co., N.J., by Jacob “Lacey” of Morris Co., N.J., which states, “I am 98 years of age – was a soldier of the Revolutionary war in the militia of New Jersey & am now a Pensioner for said service. In 1855 John Mallory, 46, a farmer born in Ontario Co., resided in Benton, Yates Co., N.Y., with his wife, Mary, 45, born in New Jersey, and with his “Wifes Father,” Silas Lacy, 67, and “Wifes Mother,” Ann Lacy, 66, both born in New Jersey, and with his child Ruth A. 305. Littell, First Settlers, 39, Polly might be “1. Mary [Bedell], who was baptized 19th August, 1764,” daughter of Benjamin and Sarah (Herriman) Bedell.

307. Littell, First Settlers, 205, mentions only one child: “And by his 2d wife, Hannah Van Court, had a son: | 2. Silas, born 30th March, 1789, who married Nancy Parsons, born 15th May, 1790, daughter of Gershom Parker, and lived in Yates county, New York, and had [list of 12] children.”

SAMUEL PARROT AND HIS FAMILY

Pennsylvania but is probably Penn Yan, Yates Co., N.Y.), and a servant.^[310] This census item corroborates Littell's First Settlers.^[311]

139 iv NATHAN⁴ LACY, baptized 12 Aug. 1792, New Providence, Essex Co., N.J.^[312]

140 v RACHEL⁴ LACY, baptized 22 Feb. 1795, New Providence, Essex Co., N.J.^[313]

48. JOHN³ LACY (₁₁*Martha*², *Samuel*¹) married (1), before say 1785, CATHERINE —, who was born about 1749 (calculated), died 23 Oct. 1794, aged 45 years, and was buried in the New Providence Presbyterian Churchyard, New Providence, Essex Co., N.J.^[314]

According to Littell's First Settlers, John married (2) 20 Dec. 1705 [sic] RHODA JENNINGS, daughter of Joseph and Phebe (Willcox) Jennings.^[315] This marriage date doesn't make sense. Assuming it is off in one digit only suggests 1795 or 1805. Either one fits if the children listed on p. 204 of Littell are Catherine's and not Rhoda's as they read to be:

4. John [Lacy] married, 1st, Catherine —, who died 23d October, 1794; and he married, 20th December, 1705, 2d, Rhoda Jennings, and had children: 1. Aaron; 2. Caty, baptized 7th May, 1786.

310. N.Y. State Census, 1855, Benton, Yates Co., N.Y., ED 1, fam. 96.

311. Littell, First Settlers, 205–206, where Julia is probably the daughter of Mary's brother, "3. James P. Lacy, born 16th September, 1813, married Eliza Wells, of Penn Yan, and had children: 1. Julia; 2. James." And Betsy is probably Mary's sister, "12. Betsey Lacy, born 21st February, 1833."

315. Littell, First Settlers, 486, "Phebe Willcox, (daughter of William,) and Joseph Jennings had children: | 1. . . . | 2. . . . | 3. Rhoda Jennings, who married John Lacy, and had a child, Mary Lacy."

I will assume the children, Aaron and Caty, are from the marriage to Catherine. Then Littell also states, p. 485:

3. Rhoda Jennings, who married John Lacy, and had a child, Mary Lacy.

Littell is shaky at best on this family. I could not find verification of the marriage to Rhoda, for example, regardless of which marriage date might be the one intended with the obvious typo.

Children of the first marriage, to Catherine:

- 141 i AARON⁴ LACY, baptized 7 May 1786, New Providence Presbyterian Church, New Providence, Essex Co., N.J.^[316]

- 143 iii JOHN⁴ LACY, baptized 20 June 1790, New Providence Presbyterian Church, New Providence, Essex Co., N.J.^[318]

Children of the second marriage, to Rhoda (according to Littell):

- 144 iv MARY⁴ LACY.

50.MARTHA/PATTY³ LACY (₁Martha², Samuel¹) was born 25 Mar. 1762,^[319] and baptized 8 June 1766, New Providence, Essex Co., N.J.^[320]

Col. Potter died 11th July, 1802, aged 76; his wife Jemima died 25th November, 1819, aged 89 years. He was an officer in the militia, in the revolutionary war, and an elder, and one of the principal supporters of the church of New Providence, and a justice of the peace; they had children:

SAMUEL PARROT AND HIS FAMILY

On 17 Oct. 1835 Abigail Reynolds, of “New Ark,” Essex Co., N.J., “Widow of William Reynolds late of Livingston in the County and State aforesaid, deceased,” sold for $200 to Samuel Parrott “Jun” all her “dower and thirds” rights in the real estate of William Reynolds which he owned at the time he married Abigail, except for what Abigail had conveyed already to Abraham Reynolds. The deed was acknowledged on 26 Oct. 1835 in Allegany Co., N.Y.^[402] Abraham was probably her son, and Samuel her brother-in-law.

In 1850 “Abby” Reynolds, 50 [sic], born in New Jersey, resided in Clarksville, Allegany Co., N.Y., with “Thomas Barrot,” 50, and Samuel “Barrot,” 45, both born in New Jersey.^[403]

Samuel had been a resident of this place for 30 years, Abagil, a widow, for 17 years, and Thompson for 30 years.^[404] So she came to Allegany Co. in about 1838.

In 1860 “Abigail” Reynolds, 75, born in New Jersey, resided in Port Allegany, McKean Co., Pa., in the household of “Sam^l Parrott,” 59, a farmer born in New Jersey with $2,000 real and $705 personal estates, and with “Arom” T. “Parrott,” 65, blind, born in New Jersey.^[405]

On 8 Feb. 1814 Aaron T. Parrot witnessed the will of Enoch Beach of Hanover Twp., Morris Co., N.J. It was proved 4 Apr. 1814.^[408]

In 1855 Thompson Parrott, 63, born in New Jersey, resided in Clarksville, Allegany Co., N.Y., with his siblings, Samuel Parrott, 53, and "Abagil" Reynolds, 71, both born in New Jersey, and with a servant. N.B. “The Combined Registers” of Morristown is usually a good source of early Morris Co. information, but it fails in the case of this John Howell. See the footnote for its flawed version. However, it is festooned with several question marks (?), showing that the compiler was unsure of himself/herself.^[486] The version I use is derived from the history below, augmented by the putative burial records at Vail Memorial Cem.

From a history of Morris County:

B. F. Howell, a progressive business man of Troy Hills, Morris county, New Jersey, is descended from one of the oldest families in the State of New Jersey. It is supposed that all of the Howell blood in this country are descendants of Edward Howell, who purchased a large tract of land from the Indians in 1640, and settled on the south shore of Long Island. Benjamin Howell, a direct descendant of this Edward Howell, was born on Long Island, October 10, 1725, died at Troy, December 26, 1798.

John Howell, only child of the preceding, was born October 20, 1759, died October 5, 1834. He married Phebe, daughter of Ebenezer Farrand, and had: Benjamin, of further mention; Samuel F., Sarah, Cheleon, Elizabeth.

Benjamin Howell, son of John and Phebe (Farrand) Howell, was born June 29, 1786, died February 17, 1852. He married —. Some of his children died in infancy, the others being: Susan C., Phebe F., Monroe, of further mention; Benjamin F., Lemuel C.

Monroe Howell, son of Benjamin Howell, was born at Troy Hills, New Jersey, September 9, 1819, died in the same town, March 2, 1883. He was engaged in the lumber business, as a general merchant, and as a farmer. For many years he was assessor of Hanover township, held other township and county offices, and at the time of his death was surveyor-general of the eastern division of New Jersey. He married, June 13, 1849, Henrietta Clay, daughter of William Stevens, of Newark, who had at one time been post-master of that city. They had seven children.

486. History of the First Presbyterian Church, Morristown, N.J., Part II. The combined registers, from 1742 to 1885, 111, “Howell, John [? s. Charles]; d. 26 Sept. 1801, aet. 46. | [married to] Phebe Farrand; m. 11 Jan. 1785; [? d. at Troy 1814.] | Rachel: B. f. w. 13 June 1790. | Abner Pierson: b. 6 Dec. 1797; B. f. w. 21 Jan. 1798.” N.B. on same page: “Howell, Charles; L. 9 Nov. 1755: [? d. 18 June 1759, aet. 38.] | [married to] Deborah L. with h.; [? d. 19 Dec. 1765, aet. 43.] | . . . | John: B. 9 Nov. 1755; [? m. The one question mark (?) that seems about right is that Phebe did die about 1814.

B. F. Howell, son of Monroe Howell, was born on the homestead farm at Troy Hills, New Jersey, on which he is living at the present time, in 1862. He was educated in the public schools of the county, and completed his education at the usual age. He then engaged in the ice business at Fox Hill, and is now established in that line in Newark. He also successfully cultivates the farm of 200 acres, finding a ready market for his crops by reason of their excellent quality. He is progressive in this methods, and has made many improvements on the farm since it has come into his possession. He gives his political support to the Republican party, and attends the Presbyterian church. SAMUEL PARROT AND HIS FAMILY

From the Waddell-Smith Family:

Susan Farrand was daughter of Ebenezer Farrand (and Rebecca Parritt), of Hanover township, Morris county, New Jersey, son of Ebenezer Farrand (and Rebecca Ward), of Hanover township, son of Samuel Farrand, of Newark, New Jersey, 1711, son of Nathaniel Farrand, of Milford, Connecticut, son of Nathaniel Farrand, of Milford, Connecticut, in 1645—see Farrand genealogy in “Robert Kitchell and his Descendants,” New York, 1879.

From Crayon’s Cobb Family:

Children of Edward Cobb and Elizabeth Bowers: Lemuel, born May 15, 1762, married (1) Polly Smith. She was born Sept. 24, 1767, died Apr. 25, 1792. (2) Susanna Farrand, July 1, 1796. She was born Dec. 29, 1773 [sic], died Aug. 2, 1816. (3) . . . He [presumably Lemuel] died Apr. 1, 1831. All buried at Parsippany. . . . [other children of Edward].^[507]

Crayon probably derived this information from the so-called Combined Register of the First Presbyterian Church of Morristown, but let an error creep in when he calculated Susanna Farrand’s birth date (assuming the Combined Register is correct, which it isn’t necessarily):

Cobb, Edward; [d. 9 Oct. 1813; his w. Elizabeth, d. 11 July 1788; they had:— | Lemuel; b. 15 May 1762; d. 1 April 1831; he m. She died 29 Apr. 1844, Newark, Essex Co., N.J., age 63.^[531] She married say 1800, probably Hanover, Morris Co., N.J., RALPH SMITH, who was born about 1775, son of Jasper Smith, and died 9 Sept. 1832, aged 57 years, buried in First Presbyterian Church of Hanover Cem., Hanover, Morris Co., N.J.^[532]

Since this Ralph Smith would have reached age 18 in about 1793, it was surely he who began to appear on the Hanover Twp., Morris Co., N.J., tax lists that year. He appears on them for 1793, 1795–1797, 1801, 1805–1807, and 1810–1818.^[533] Jasper Smith appears on them for 1780, 1783, 1785, 1787–1788.^[534]

In 1830 Ralph Smith, 50–60 [born 1770–1780], resided in Hanover Twp., Morris Co., N.J., with a woman, 40–50 [born 1780–1790, Susanah], one male and one female 10–15 [born 1815–1820, ? and Char-

Arson and Murder

A case heard in the July term 1830 of the New Jersey Supreme Court, The State v. Cooper, helped establish precedent in the New Jersey legal system:

At the Morris General Quarter Sessions of the peace, of July term, 1830, two indictments were found against Samuel Cooper. By the first he was indicted as principal, and Catherine Cooper, and John VanGiesen as accessories, for arson, committed by burning the dwelling-house of Ralph Smith, in Hanover, in said county of Morris, on the 5th April, 1830. The second was an indictment for murder, in occasioning the death of one Joseph Hopper, burned up in the house of the said Ralph Smith, on the 5th of April 1830.^[536]

The Ralph (and Jasper) Smith Line

I will quote a series of estate abstracts and structure the Ralph Smith line from them. It will be noticed that none of the names encountered are those of the Henry Smith line elsewhere in this genealogy. If there is a connection, I have not found it.

Abstract of a will for the man I call Ralph I Smith:

1783, Sept. 16. Smith, Ralph, of Hanover, Morris Co.; will of. Wife, Rachel, 10 acres that I bought of the auditors of Doctor Thomas Budd's estate. Son, Jasper, a bond I have against him, dated May 24, 1770. Daughter, Catharine Cheevers, £125. Daughter, Sarah Lewis, £125. Grandson, William Ames Smith, house where I live and 50 acres, and, if he die before he comes of age, to my grandson, Ralph Smith, son of Jasper. Grandson, Charles Smith, 50 acres, and he is to pay to my 2 daugh-

Executors—wife, Rachel, my son, Jasper, and Aaron Kitchel. Witnesses—Elnathan Fitch, Ebenezer Cooper, Rachel Smith, Jr. Proved July 15, 1784. | Lib. 27, p. 433.^[537]

Similarly, for Rachel's estate, where Rachel was probably wife of Ralph I (but there is that strange mention of Rachel Smith Jr. in the abstract above, who might have been a daughter, but never identified as such):

1805, Sept. 21. Smith, Rachel, of Morris Co. Inventory, £174.10.0; made by Uzal Kitchel and Jacob Gray. | File 1248 N.^[538]

Similarly, for William Ames Smith's guardianship:

1790, July 2. Smith, William Ames, of Morris Co. Ward. Son of William Smith of said Co., deceased. Said Ward makes choice of Dr. Jonathan Cheever as his Guardian. | 1790, July 2. Guardian—Jonathan Cheever. Fellowbondsmen—Benjamin Freeman; both of Morristown, said Co. | Lib. 30, p. 481.^[539]

Abstract of another will:

1774, Dec. 12. Smith, William, of Morris Co.; will of. The land that I hve in connection with my brother, Ralph Smith, to be sold, and out of the money of my part of all the bonds given by me and my brother Ralph Smith to John Coperthwaite, to be paid, and the overplus to be put to interest, and 1/3 the interest given to my wife, Elizabeth, yearly, and the other 2/3 is to bring up my child, if any I should have, but, if not, then to my brothers and sisters. And finally this one for the man I call Jasper I Smith:

1769, Nov. 29. Smith, Jasper, of Maidenhead Twsp., Hunterdon Co., freeholder; will of. Oldest son, John, plantation where he lives. The plantation where my second son, Jasper, was dwelling upon, when he died, I give to his oldest son, Waters Smith. Third son, Thomas, plantation where he lives. Fourth son, Samuel, 20 shillings. My grandson, John Smith, my son Samuel's 4th son, 100 acres, taken from my own plantation, where I live, and to be on the east side of the road that leads from Trenton to Princeton; and my said grandson, John Smith, is to maintain his mother, Elizabeth Smith, his father's wife; he is also to have a meadow of 4 acres, called the Widow Anderson's lot. My son, John's second son, Jasper, 2 acres of meadow, joining the Widow Hunt's lot. My youngest son, Joshua, the rest of plantation where I live; and he is to pay to my son, Ralph (his brother), £100. Moveable estate to my sons, Samuel, Ralph and Joshua. Executors—my son, Ralph, and my grandson, Waters Smith. Witnesses—Daniel Peirson, Benjamin Vancleave, William Ball. | 1770, April 9. Renunciaiton by Waters Smith. Witnesses—Israel Smith and Jean Smith. | 1770, April 7. Renunciation by Ralph Smith. Witnesses—John Biles and Samuel Smith. | 1770, June 15. Adm'r—Joshua Smith, with will annexed. Fellowbondsmen—Christopher Howell, Jr., and Benjamin Vancleave. Witness—Abram Cottnam. | 1770, March 29. Inventory, £154.11.0, made by Daniel Hunt and Benjamin Vancleave. | 1772, March 23. Account by Joshua Smith, Adm'r with will annexed. | Lib. 14, pp. 279, 420.^[541]

From these abstracts a genealogy of the Jasper I Smith line can be deduced:

Jasper I Smith, died about 1769, and had six children (in will order):

1. John I Smith, the eldest son, had at least two sons, including:

540. N.J. Calendar of Wills, Vol. 5, 1771–1780, 483.

541. N.J. Calendar of Wills, Vol. 5, 1771–1780, 483.

- ii. Jasper III Smith, his second son.
- 2. Jasper II Smith, the second son, had at least two sons, including:
 - i. Waters Smith, his eldest son.
- 3. Thomas Smith, the third son.
- 4. Samuel Smith, the fourth son, married Elizabeth —, and had at least four sons, including:
 - iv. John II Smith, his fourth son.
- 5. Ralph I Smith, died about 1784, married Rachel —, probably she who died about 1805, and had five, possibly, six children (sons before daughters, but probably not in birth order in either gender):
 - i. Jasper IV Smith,^[542] had at least two children (not necessarily in birth order):
 - a. Ralph III Smith, born about 1775, married Susannah Parrot, who are, of course, the persons of this sketch.
 - b. William Melvill[e?] Smith, born by 1784.
 - c. ?Charles Smith, born by 1784. Charles Smith was a grandson of Ralph I Smith but I don't know which son was his father. Neither William (who had the one child only) or Ralph II (who had no children) appears to be the right father, so I've simply assigned Charles to Jasper II as a placeholder.

542. I call him Jasper II Smith because there is evidence that Ralph I Smith was son of a "Jasper Sr.," who would be Jasper I, of course [see The Scudder Family of Trenton, The Smiths of Jamaica and Maidenhead, 111, "(4) Ralph Smith of Hanover, Morris County, son of Jasper Sr. | b. abt. 1708 d. July 1784 | wife—Rachel b. d. Sept. 1805 | will dated Sept. 16, 1783; proved July 15, 1784 | sons: Ralph Jr. | William (decd. Dec. 1774) | daughters: | Catharine Cheever, wife of Dr. Jonathan Cheever | Sarah Lewis | grandsons: | Jasper Smith) | William Melville Smith) sons of Ralph Jr. [sic, the roles of Jasper and Ralph Jr. seem to have been flipped] | William Ames Smith, son of William Smith, decsd. | (5) William Smith, son of Ralph of Hanover | will dated Dec. 12, 1774; proved Jan. 7, 1775 | wife—Elizabeth and an expected child—(a son, Wm. Ames Smith, was born)."] Grandson Charles is simply omitted.

SAMUEL PARROT AND HIS FAMILY

ii. William Smith, died about 1774, married Elizabeth —, and had one child (Elizabeth was apparently pregnant at William's death):

a. William Ames Smith, born about 1774.

iii. Ralph II Smith, married perhaps Sarah Shotwell, and, if so, had no children.^[543] Her second husband was William Piatt, whose estate was settled on 21 Jan. 1792.^[544]

iv. Catharine Smith, married Dr. Jonathan Cheever[s], born about 1754, died 14 Oct. 1794, Morristown, Morris Co., N.J.^[545]

v. Sarah Smith, married — Lewis.

vi. Rachel Smith, the curious "Rachel Smith, Jr." in the abstract of the will abstract of Ralph I Smith.

6. Joshua Smith, the youngest son.

The important point of this exercise in Smith genealogy is that none of the names of the other Smith family (Benjamin, Richard, Henry, Philip, etc.) appear in this one. They appear to be separate families, at least as I see them now. I will not pursue them further, with that understanding. Furthermore, I believe there to be one or more published genealogies of this Smith family. A counterargument is the Van Beverhoudt deed quoted in the sketch of Samuel Parritt which lists both the land of Benjamin Smith and of Jasper Smith as bounds, which suggests a relationship between these two families (q.v.).^[546]

546. For example, on Google Books there is The Consolidated Genealogies of the Ralph Smith Family, by Ralph St. Clair Blois, published 1992. I don't know its quality. And there is The Scudder Family of Trenton, by Moses Bigelow and Antoinette Scudder, 1948, which I have referred to elsewhere. And Mellville [sic] Parrott – A representative business man of Mount Gilead, Morrow county, Ohio, and one whose loyalty and public spirit have prompted him to do all in his power to conserve the progress and development of this section of the fine old Buckeye state is Mellville Parrott, who is a native son of Mount Gilead and a scion of an old Pennsylvania family. He was born on the 4th of March, 1854, and is a son of Simeon S. and Mary Hiddleson Parrott, the former of whom was a native of Washington county, Pennsylvania, and the latter of whom claimed Morrow county, Ohio, as the place of her birth. Both were born in the year 1818, and the father came to Morrow county, Ohio, in the year 1837, settling on a farm near Mount Gilead. Mrs. Parrott came to this county with her parents, as a young girl, and her marriage was solemnized in September, 1840. To this union were born the following children: Nelson, Clark, Mellville, Louise and Dora. Nelson and Clark are both deceased; Mellville is the immediate subject of this review; Louise is the wife of N. N. Hiskett, and resides in Morrow county; and Dora married I. M. Lautz, of Vinton county. Simeon S. Parrott died in 1904 and his cherished wife was summoned to eternal rest in 1901.

Mellville Parrott was reared to the sturdy discipline of the home farm which was situated one mile southeast of Mount Gilead, and during the busy seasons he assisted his father in the work and management thereof, attending school during the winter terms. When eighteen years of age he gave his entire time to farming and the raising of high-grade stock and he continued to be thus engaged until 1910, in which year he opened a coal yard at Mt. Gilead. In the latter line of enterprise he has been most suc-

Note that Peter and Edwin's father was born in Virginia. This makes them, it seems, members of the "other" Parrett family in Ross Co. (In fact, an Ancestry.com check shows them both to be sons of Henry and Lydia Ann (—) Parrett of Virginia; Peter Joseph Parrett, born 1854 was married 2 Apr. 1903, Bridgewater, Rockingham Co., Va., to Nevada Brown; William Edwin Parrett married 19 Sept. 1883, Ross Co., Ohio, "Etta" C. SAMUEL PARROT AND HIS FAMILY

This Phebe would have been about 59 at the birth, and this William had died three years before.

Another problem (but solved below): Littell's First Settlers tells us "[See William High]" for William, son of William, but there is no such person in the book. There is only a William, son of Jacob listed, and he is not married to Phebe, nor does he have a son William listed.^[819]

In 1850 "W^m" High "Jun^r," 31, a farmer born in New Jersey, resided in Morris Twp., Morris Co., N.J., with Phebe, 25, Ann E., 4, Caroline, 2, and Mark, 1, all born in New Jersey, and an Irish laborer. They share a dwelling with "Wm" High, 73, a farmer born in New Jersey with $4,500 real estate, and "Abby," 62, born in New Jersey.^[820]

Solution of the Phebe problem: So Littell has it right, that William High Jr., son of William High, married Phebe. Furthermore the William High who is listed in the High section of First Settlers married Abigail Williams, consistent with the 1850 census. But Littell lists only two children under this William High, both daughters. He failed to add William Jr. to the list, as was clearly his intention.

In 1860 William High Jr., 45, a team driver born in New Jersey, resided in Chatham Twp., Morris Co., N.J., with Phebe, 34, Anna, 15, Sarah C., 12, Mark J., 10, Charles C., 8, Ira P., 5, Hannah P., 5, and Mary F., 2, all born in New Jersey.^[821]

SAMUEL PARROT AND HIS FAMILY

214. HANNAH E.⁵ PARROT (₈₅Peter⁴, Thomas³, William², Samuel¹) was born 20 June 1829 (gravestone), New Jersey, died 9 Jan. 1910, and was buried in First Presbyterian Church Cem., New Vernon, Morris Co., N.J.^[826] She married about 1851 IRA O. PRUDEN, who was born 9 May 1828 (gravestone), New Jersey, son of Timothy H. and Harriet (—) Pruden,^[827] and died 27 Mar. 1902, and was buried with his wife.

In 1860 Ira O. Pruden, 32, a farmer born in New Jersey with $2,000 real and $300 personal estates, resided in Morris Twp., Morris Co., N.J., with “Harriet,” 31, born in New Jersey, and with Emma Carter, 3, born in New Jersey. Next door resided Peter Parrot, 68, born in New Jersey (q.v.).^[828] Emma Carter might have been the daughter of Hannah’s sister Jane Carter, who died at just about the time of Emma’s birth.

In 1870 Ira “A.” Pruden, 42, a farmer born in New Jersey with $3,000 real estate, resided in Madison, Passaic Twp., Morris Co., N.J., with Hannah, 41, born in New Jersey, and with Mary, 13, born in New Jersey, and with Nancy Concklin, 79, born in New Jersey.^[829] Mary’s age is so coincident with Emma Carter’s, of the previous census, that Mary Pruden here might be a new name for Emma Carter, a child being raised as Hannah’s. This would be consistent with the 1900 census which states that Hannah had had no children.

In 1880 Ira O. Pruden, 52, a farmer born in New Jersey of New Jersey natives, resided in Passaic Twp., Morris Co., N.J., with his wife, Hannah, 51, born in New Jersey of New Jersey natives, and with his father-in-law, Peter Parrot, 87, a widower born in New Jersey of New Jersey natives.^[830]

Possible child (despite 1900 census claim of no children):

- 415 i MARY⁶ PRUDEN, born about 1857, New Jersey. She was “Emma Carter” in the 1860 census, however. Another possible explanation: Emma Carter was raised by Hannah, as her own daughter, renamed Mary.

JOHN D.⁵ PARROT (⁸⁵*Peter⁴, Thomas³, William², Samuel¹*) was born 1 May 1832, New Jersey, died 21 Aug. 1905, and was buried in Hillside Cem., Madison, Morris Co., N.J.^[832] He married (1) 9 Oct. 1855, Morristown, Morris Co., N.J.,^[833] HARRIET THOMPSON, who was born 30 July 1835, Madison, Morris Co., N.J., daughter of Barnabas B. and Phebe Philips (Arnold) Thompson,^[834] and died 11 Sept. 1857, Monroe, Morris Co., N.J.,^[835] and buried with her husband (q.v.). Sarah Griffin had had one child, who did not survive.^[891] Emily Clark was perhaps the Emily Clark of the 1870 census, but her age and nativity don't match. She must have been a sister of John W. Clark, but is not listed in the Levi Clark family in Littell's First Settlers. Similarly, Sarah A. Griffin must have been John's sister too. Littell lists a Sarah E. Clark, as a sister, but not Sarah A. But Sarah E. is born just after John W., which fits. With a caution, I identify the Levi Clark family with this one, and give John W. the middle name Wesley, as found in Littell. Note the grandchild named Wesley.

978. His middle name is said to be Ogden, named for his uncle David Ogden. It makes sense but I’ve seen no record to that effect. Nevertheless, I’ll assume it is true for the following reasons: 1. David’s mother was Henrietta (Ogden) Parrott, whose sister Ann Ogden married Rev. John Mitchell. David’s older brother was named John Mitchell Parrott. So it is consistent that David would also be named for an uncle, Henrietta’s brother, David Ogden. 2. Similarly, Henrietta’s sister, Jane Ogden, married Orson Finch. David’s brother Orson Finch Parrott was named for him, another case of naming Henrietta’s sons for uncles. 3. David’s daughter Luella (Parrott) Cross named a son David Ogden Cross. Details of the Ogden family are from Wheeler, The Ogden Family, 378–379.

An obituary for David:

David O. Parrott, son of Sylvester and Henrietta Parrott, was born at Crestline, Ohio, March 26, 1844, and died at the home of his son, Lee, in South Bend, December 17, 1925. When a small child his parents came to Stueben county, locating near Metz. Here he lived for a number of years, later moving with his family to a farm near Pleasant Lake.

In 1866 he was married to Mary Brandeberry, who preceded him in death nineteen years ago. To this union were born three children, Louella A. Cross, Clyde and Lewell E. Parrott. Clyde and Louella [sic] passed to the higher life some years ago. One son, two brothers and numerous other relatives survive who are richer because of their memories of him.

For many years, in connection with his farm life, he worked at the trade of carpenter. As a workman he was conscientious and painstaking. He was unassuming in his relation to his fellowmen, yet all recognized his integrity and kindness of spirit. His life was not without its sorrows, but these he bravely and unflinchingly. Carrying his own cares easily, he was sympathetic and tender to those who were burdened. He met adversity with courage. His day of service for others ended suddenly when he suffered a serious accident. This prevented him from further activity in the affairs of life, but in his inactivity he was both cheery and content. For long years God had been his friend and the sunset of life found him certain of the "joy which cometh in the morning."^[988] were born three children, Luella, Clyde S. and Lewell E. Parrott, one son Clyde S. having preceded the mother but a few months. She was baptized into Christ at the early age of twelve years and for more than fifty years she has been a consistent follower "In His steps." In her youth she heard and obeyed Christ's call to a life of service for him and in the closing hours of her life she spoke frequently of "Jesus calling her" and in obedience to that call she passed out into the Great Beyond where all is joy and happiness and peace and where "God shall wipe all tears from our eyes." While we mourn her departure from among us we know she is not dead, she is just away. Funeral services were held Tuesday, Dec. 18, at the Baptist church in Pleasant Lake, conducted by Elder Vernon Stuffer, assisted by Rev. S. L. Roberts.^[989]

All of their children were present and all of the grandchildren except one, Robert Parrott; Mrs. Elizabeth Schiefer and her daughter Margaret came from their home in Galion, O. last Friday; Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Schiefer and daughter Miriam, of Syracuse, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. Herbert C. Their youngest daughter, Prof. Alice, of Tri-State College, resides in the family home with her parents.

It was a happy reunion, the first in five years that Mr. and Mrs. Parrott have had their family together and once again on Saturday and Sunday the group gathered around the board in the family home in this city.

Sunday afternoon at a reception held in honor of the day, relatives, neighbors, and friends called to extend felicitations to the bride and groom of a half a century. Nieces and nephews came from near-by towns as well as from Angola, and Mrs. Parrott's Sunday school class called in a body. Mr. and Mrs. Parrott were recipients of a number of gifts, honoring them and the occasion. Dainty refreshments were served by the daughters and granddaughters.

On the 14th of Feb. 1881 Henry S. Parrott and Jennie Anspaugh came to Angola in company with their friends, Homer Robinson and Miss Jennie Lash, and, in a double wedding ceremony were married by the pastor of the Christian Church, Elder A. S. Hale. Both Mr. and Mrs. Robinson have past away.

SAMUEL PARROT AND HIS FAMILY

Mr. and Mrs. Parrott spent the early years of their married lives and reared their family on their farm in Williams Co., Ohio, near Columbia. They became prominent citizens in that community and made many friends, still enjoying and extended acquaintance in their old neighborhood, which hold them in high esteem.

In 1921, Mr. and Mrs. Parrott, because of failing health, left the farm and came to Angola, where they purchased the Mrs. Clara Burkhart residence on W. Maumee St. Here as in Williams, Co., they have made friends in the community and the Christian church, where they are devoted and consistent members.

We extend congratulations and best wishes to Mr. and Mrs. Parrott, and trust they may enjoy health and happiness for many years yet to come.^[1002]

His obituary:

In the passing of D. M. Peppard, Crestline lost one of its oldest and best-known citizens. For several years Mr. Peppard has been in a feeble condition, but the illness resulting in his death was only of about three weeks' duration, death being attributed to kidney and heart trouble brought on by his extreme age. He died at 9:20 o'clock Monday morning at his home at 105 West Main street, and funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon from the Methodist church, Rev. Thomas Grenfell officiating.

David Morrison Peppard was born in Mansfield December 25, 1834 and lived to the age of 84 years, 4 months and 17 days. At the age of 10 years, he moved with his parents to a farm north of Crestline where he lived until about 18 years of age. At this time he took a position as brakeman on the Sandusky, Mansfield and Newark R. R., now the B. and O., and after four months there returned to Crestline, beginning his long service with the Pennsylvania Co. as a fireman. Later he was promoted to engineer, but for about eighteen years he was Master Mechanic and Round House foreman of the Crestline shops. He then returned to the road as an engineer. In February, 1893, he was badly injured in a wreck near Shreve, and he was not able to work for several months. Even after returning to his duties, he could not regain his former strength, and he was placed on the pension roll of the company when he was 68 years of age, completing almost half a century of service for the Pennsylvania railroad.

Mr. Peppard was married February 14, 1856 to Miss Maria Ann Hoffman, of Crestline. Immediately after their marriage they lived for four months at Murray, Ind., came to Crestline for three months, then resided in Massillon for two years. At the end of that time they returned to Crestline and have resided here continuously since that time. For many years they lived just north of town, but in 1911, when Mr. Peppard's health became broken, they moved to the present home on West Main street.

The deceased is survived by his faithful wife and the following sons and daughters: Wm. Peppard, of Marysville; Grace Peppard, of Robinson; Edw. Peppard, of Tula Rosa [sic], New Mexico; Sam Peppard, and Mrs. Mary Welshon, of Crestline and Mrs. Kate West, of Mansfield. There are also 18 grandchildren and 11 great grandchildren, one brother, William Peppard, of Mansfield, and one sister, Mrs. J. M. Bronkar, of Crestline.^[1017]

Historical note: Ron Chernow, in his biography, Titan: The Life of John D. Rockefeller, Sr., showed that Elizabeth (Alexander) Sifleet's brother, John H. Alexander, and his partners were John D. Rockefeller's most intense rivals. Rockefeller put the group out of business in his infamous Cleveland Massacre of 1872.^[1127] The following encapsulates Rockefeller's hatred of Alexander:

During the Cleveland Massacre, Rockefeller savored a feeling of sweet revenge against some of the older men who had patronized him when he started in business. This was especially true of his negotiations with Alexander, Scofield and Company, whose partners included his original boss, Isaac L. Hewitt. . . . He despised Hewitt's partner, John H. Alexan-

As Rockefeller put it, 'How could this conceited Englishman ever conceive it possible that a young man who had been a bookkeeper, and especially at a time when he had been employed in an oil refinery, be qualified to lead in a movement of this kind?'^[1128]

This is my line. Marguerite was my great-grandmother. I still hang each Christmas a beautifully decorated red velvet stocking that she made it for me when I was two (so 1945). Her daughter, Hazel Ada Sifleet, was my grandmother. And her son Corwin's wife was my (great) Aunt Arlien Sifleet, the woman who got me started in genealogy when I was a child by giving me Arlien Sifleet's Notebook.

We know from a stash of letters in my possession from Hazel Sifleet (my maternal grandmother) to her parents, that she removed alone from the family home in Ohio to a hotel in Tularosa, Otero Co., N.M., in about 1918. She probably suffered from some respiratory disease and moved to the high, dry desert in New Mexico for health reasons. She

[no title]

Aug. 24. Old friends and neighbors here were shocked by the sudden death Monday, August 13, of Mrs. Marguerite A. Sifleet, 87, wife of Brook Park's first mayor, the late Wm. J. Sifleet, who passed away in 1932. Mrs. Sifleet had made her home with her son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. A. Corwin Sifleet, in Chatham, N. J., for many years before her death. The Sifleets lived in their homestead on Smith Rd. for well over sixty years. The home, an old landmark, a farm house surrounded by farm buildings, was destroyed by fire after Mrs. Sifleet had gone to live with her son, and the home here was occupied by renters. Many pieces of antique furniture dear to the Sifleet family, which were stored on the second floor, were also destroyed in the fire.

The funeral was held at the Baker Funeral Home, Berea, on Friday at 2:30 p.m., with Rev. Appelhof of the St. Thomas Episcopal Church officiating at the service. Following, she was laid beside her husband and daughter, Hazel Sifleet Sanders, in Woodvale. She leaves her son Corwin and wife Arlien, who cared for her through many years of ailing health; her grand-daughters, Hazel's children, Alice and Edith, and one grandson and four granddaughters [these last five should be great-grandchildren, and they should be two great-grandsons and three great-granddaughters, including one adopted one].

An historical note about him from The Encyclopedia of Cleveland History:

Brook Park, originally part of Middleburg Township, was founded in 1914 and incorporated as a city in 1961. It occupies 11 sq. mi., located 14 mi. southwest of Cleveland and bounded on the south by Berea and Middleburg Heights, on the west by North Olmsted, on the east by Parma, and on the north by Cleveland. Residents of the northern part of Middleburg Township, dissatisfied with schools, roads, and taxes, met secretly and voted to establish their own municipality. William J. Sifleet is often referred to as “the Father of Brook Park.” Credited with naming the community for the brook that ran through the western portion of Middleburg, he was elected the first mayor. . . .

Brook Park’s rural character changed dramatically when William R. Hopkins, Cleveland city manager, selected it as the site of Hopkins Airport (1925, later Cleveland-Hopkins International Airport).^[1134]

From his father’s will, proved 24 June 1892:

Mrs. Alice M. Sifleet, 78 years old, 3019 Alpine Terrace, had remained in the automobile owned by her daughter [sic, daughter-in-law], Miss Arline C. Another automobile had pulled up at the side of the Sifleet car and was awaiting service.

In some undetermined manner the automobile in which Mrs. Sifleet was sitting started, struck the automobile beside it and rammed headon into a pole. . . .

SAMUEL PARROT AND HIS FAMILY

tha/Mary S. (—) Williamson,^[1268] and died 1914, Tularosa (see Coan's history below).

From a 1907 history of New Mexico:

Jefferson J. Sanders, a farmer of Tularosa, was born in Australia in 1863 and on coming to the United States when ten years of age became a resident of Texas. His father was native of Tennessee and the mother of England, and in 1873 they arrived in the Lone Star state. Jefferson J. Sanders accompanied them on their removal to New Mexico in 1891 and since that time they have resided in Tularosa. Mr. Sanders of this review became proprietor of the Sanders Hotel, which he conducted until 1905, and in the meantime he gave considerable attention to farming and is now devoting his energies exclusively to general agricultural pursuits. His principal crop is alfalfa, but he believes that fruit can be profitably cultivated in this part of the country and is a firm believer in the future of the valley.

Mr. Sanders was married to Miss Ada Williamson, a native of Tennessee, and they have five children: William, Barney, May, Nellie and Edward. They occupy a fine new residence which stands in the midst of a fertile farm, indicating the careful supervision and practical progressive methods of the owner in its cultivation and improvement.^[1269]

From Coan's 1925 history of New Mexico:

Jefferson J. Sanders. Since coming to New Mexico in August, 1892, Jefferson J. Sanders has been identified with the most substantial interests and activities of Otero County, a farmer and rancher, and is a former member of the Board of County Commissioners.

1268. U.S. census, 1860, Lynnville (Cornersville) PO, Giles Co., Tenn., r. 1251, p. 43, dw. 596, fam. 596, lists Thos. S. Williamson, 45, born Va., Martha S., 37, born N.C., and seven children including Mary J., 10, Thos. and Martha, 6, and Ada, 4, all born Tenn., next door was N. R. Williamson, 40, and family, including John [S.], 12; U.S. census, 1870, Giles Co., Tenn., r. 1529, p. 241B, dw. 89, fam. 89, lists T. S. Mr. Sanders was born a British subject in the mining town of Adalong [sic], 300 miles inland from Sidney [sic], Australia. The date of his birth was January 17, 1863. His father was a gold miner in that region. William M. Sanders, his father, was born in the United States [see sketch of Jefferson Jackson's parents for this portion of the article]

Jefferson J. Sanders was about ten years of age when his parents moved to Texas. Most of his education was acquired back in Tennessee. As a youth he was associated with his father in the cattle industry, and later in New Mexico, and for four years they were partners in a mercantile enterprise at Tularosa. After that Mr. Sanders concentrated his attention upon his farm interests. He entered a homestead almost against the townsite of Tularosa on the west, and proved it up and has made it one of the desirable farm homes of the locality. He cultivates about 100 acres, and his chief crop is alfalfa.

In territorial times Mr. Sanders was elected a member of the Otero County Board of Commissioners, and served some eight or ten years in that office. Among his fellow members were Doctor Gilbert, Doctor Haxby, D. M. Southerland, Mr. Sewell and Mr. Gregg. Perhaps the most important work done by the board during this time, aside from a routine administration of county affairs, was the construction of the Box Canyon Highway to Cloudcroft and the highway from Tularosa to Alamogordo. Mr. Sanders is a democrat in politics. In his early years in Otero County he was member of the Tularosa School Board.

In October [sic], 1887, in Giles County, he married Miss Ada Williamson, daughter of Thomas and Martha (Wilkerson) Williamson. She died at Tularosa in 1914. The children of this marriage were: Will T., who died unmarried; Barney B., who died in 1921, at the age of twenty-eight, and by his marriage to Evelyn Gifford left a son, Will Sanders; May, the wife of Marshall Parker, of Denver; Nell, the wife of Ralph Simperts, of Tularosa and the mother of two children, Robert and Ada Simperts; and Ed Sanders, a farmer at Tularosa, who married Miss Tillman. During the World war the sons Barney and Ed were regularly enlisted in the service, Barney doing clerical work at a camp in Georgia, while Ed was in the navy, in training and other duty on Mare Island at San Francisco.

SAMUEL PARROT AND HIS FAMILY

Mr. Sanders married in March, 1919, Miss Hazel Siflett [sic], who was born in Cleveland, Ohio, in 1877 [sic], daughter of W. J. Siflett. Her mother was a Miss Parrott. Mrs. Sanders was educated at a college at Berea, near Cleveland. Her brother, Robert Siflett, was an accountant with an insurance company in New York City. Mrs. Sanders, who died February 15, 1924, was a member of the Episcopal Church, and was thoroughly devoted to her home and her children. Her daughters were Alice Jeanette and Edith Hortense.^[1270]

SAMUEL PARROT AND HIS FAMILY

Ninth Generation

597. CHARLES EDWARD/H.⁹ PARROTT (₅₅₅Garst Ogden⁸, Lewell E.⁷, David Ogden⁶, Sylvester⁵, William⁴, Thomas³, William², Samuel¹) was born 2 June 1919, Indiana, and died 3 Jan. 1974, Detroit, Wayne Co., Mich.^[1370] He was Charles H. in the 1920 and 1930 censuses and in the Michigan death records, but surely he was the same person as Charles Edward Parrott, born about 1921, South Bend, Ind., son of Garst and Pearl (Sternburgh) Parrott, who married (1) 18 Jan. 1947, Detroit, Wayne Co., Mich.,^[1371] EDNA MAE KRATZ, who was born 29 Aug. 1920, Detroit, Wayne Co., Mich.,^[1372] daughter of Leslie W. and Cora D. (Nickerson) Kratz, and died 22 June 1991, Detroit.^[1373]

That marriage must have been very short to nonexistent because the family (specifically, nephew Dale Parrott) has Charles married (2) to GOLDIE MARIE EAGLE, who was born 25 Feb. 1920, Ivydale, Clay Co., W.Va.,^[1374] daughter of Russell and Della (—) Eagle, and died 12 Mar. 2001, Alpena, Alpena Co., Mich., buried in Hillman-Rust Cem., Hillman, Montmorency Co., Mich.^[1375] and who had a son, Darrell E.¹⁰ Parrott, born 21 Jan. 1948, died 3 Aug. 2004, buried near his mother.^[1376] In fact, since Darrell was born almost exactly a year after Charles's first marriage, one wonders if Darrell wasn't actually son of Edna, but raised as Goldie's son. However, it is barely possible that the marriage to Edna was annulled, say, almost immediately, giving time for Charles to wed Goldie, and have her child. Another theory suggests itself: That, in fact, Goldie was already pregnant with Darrell, causing the quick termination of the marriage to Edna. All this is speculation of course.

APPENDIXES

A. Parrot Puzzle: Adoniram Parrot

Adoniram Parrot, born about 1757, Morris Co., N.J., fought in the Revolutionary War and settled in Clinton Co., N.Y., where he died. He came from Morris County at the same time as the Parrots were a featured family there. He came with the Broadwells, another prominent family there. DNA evidence (explored more deeply in the preface) suggests that he belongs to one of the Parrot families in the main text of this book. Here is a summary of what is claimed about him. First, I show that the Broadwell family was intertwined closely with the Parrot family, and particularly the Adoniram Parrot family, then follow it with a genealogical summary of Adoniram's family in the format of this book.

The Broadwell Connection

We know that the Broadwell family was intertwined with the Parrots of Morris Co., N.J. In particular, two Broadwell brothers were on the famous New Providence church committee, along with William² Parrot, that obtained the services of Rev. Jonathan Elmer for that church. Relevant snippets from The Broadwell Family specifically about the Adoniram Parrot family, originally from Morris Co., are these:

In 1803-04, the band of settlers, who came to Plattsburg from Morristown, consisted of: 1. David Broadwell, his third wife Elizabeth, and their son, David Benton, then about nine years old.

2. Aaron Broadwell, (David's son by his second marriage and brother of Noah, who was already living in Plattsburg) and his wife Sarah (Seeley) and possibly their two oldest children, John and Sybil.

3. Adoniram Parrot and his wife, (Sarah Carrol, who was Elizabeth Broadwell's sister), and their older children. [and two other Broadwells].^[1432]

Adoniram Parrot purchased a farm on the Military Turnpike from Thomas Treadwell and lived there for many years. "The Adoniram Parrot farm was north of Thorn's corners (Sunrise) on the Military Turnpike." For an account of the Mallorys and Parrots, see the "recollections of Clinton County and the Battle of Plattsburg 1800-1840 by Allan S Everest."^[1433] He died when he was 84 years old and was buried in Riverside Cemetery, Plattsburg, in the lot of his son-in-law, John Hunter. The Hunters, who settled in Plattsburg in the 1790's are buried in the old section of Riverside Cemetery, next to the DeLord and F. B. Hall Lot. Adoniram Parrot served in the Revolution for seven years and eight months. He took part in battles of Brandywine, Monmouth and Germantown. He also went with Gen. Sullivan on his famous Indian Campaigns. He was at Yorktown when Cornwallis surrendered. In 1824, he was living with his son, Joseph, in Beekmantown. Joseph had a son, Horton, buried in the David Broadwell lot in West Plattsburg, who in turn had two daughters, Melissa and Mary (Mame) Parrot. Adoniram's other son, William, never married and at one time lived "down east" (in the woods) on the Broadwell farm. The foundation of the house is still there. "Uncle Bill" was "eccentric" but very well liked by all the children, according to Miss Mead, who could remember him well. After his sister, Mrs. Susan Broadwell, had at last had a set of dentures made (at this time they were still considered a novelty) and was wearing them, Uncle Bill decided that he would make a set for himself, so he took a sterling tablespoon, patiently shaped it to fit the roof of his mouth, soldered some sheep's teeth to this plate, and then tried to wear his invention. Needless to say his "invention" did not work, but he steadfastly refused to admit that his sister's did, saying, "Nothing but pride keeps Susie wearing those things.” He is buried in the Broadwell Cemetery.

Adoniram Parrot also had four very outstanding daughters: 1. Sally, who married John Hunter of Plattsburg. They built a house at the junction of the roads leading from West Plattsburg to Morrisonville. It is still a beautiful place and is at present owned and occupied by a Mr. Bracken. The Hunters had four children, three girls and a boy, Thomas McDonough Hunter. The girls were named Cornelia, (after whom Cornelia Mead was named) Charlotte, who married a McElroy from Alabama and moved there in 1840, and Elizabeth, who married a Mayfield. Most of them are buried in the Hunter Lot in Riverside Cemetery.

2. Elizabeth “Betsy” married John Mallory, son of Nathaniel Mallory of Mallory’s Bush. In 1821, he owned and operated an oil mill on the Saranac River in Plattsburg. The Mallorys built and lived in the stone house across from Benedict’s on the Plattsburg-Morrisonville Road. In 1959 the state took this property and built the Northway directly over the spot where the Mallory house stood. They had one son who went to Boston where he became an artist and engraver of note. Two daughters, who were artists of some local renown, never married. Milton Broadwell said that some of the Mallory girls’ water colors were still in existence around Plattsburg. This was in 1927.

3. Phoebe, married Lemuel Storrs and lived in Beekmantown. One old resident says that the so-called “Storrs Hotel” on the Turnpike, which is a large brick dwelling, was built by Lemuel Storrs. These Storrs were also related to the Storrs who for many years had a hotel in Cadyville. Will Storrs, a lawyer, who used to visit at Milton and Frank Broadwell’s was a grandson of Lemuel and Phoebe.

4. Susan, married her first cousin David Benton Broadwell. It is they who built the sandstone house, known as the Broadwell Homestead, on Mason Street in the town of Plattsburg in 1825-30. (In 1848, the western part of the town of Plattsburg was changed to “Town of Schuyler Falls”: The name “Schuyler” came from the original owner of much of this section, Philip Schuyler, of Revolutionary War fame.

Lemuel and Phoebe Storrs moved from the Turnpike Road, Beekmantown, to Jay, (Mallory’s Bush) in 1835. Lemuel was a farmer, to which he added blacksmithing after coming to Jay. Their children were Elbridge, b. January 24, 1832 in Beekmantown, and William, Orrin, Lemuel, and Susan, who later became Mrs. O. L. Perkins of Jay. The younger children were all born in Jay, Essex County, New York. Lumbering was one of the earliest industries of Mallory's Bush, but the iron business should receive mention. The first forge was built in 1798 by Joseph Storr, John Purmont, and G. A. Purmont. In 1809, the forge was extensively enlarged, and was actually the forerunner of the iron business afterwards carried on by the J. & J. Rogers Company.

Mrs. Storrs' sister, Betsey, had married John Mallory. Nathaniel Mallory and his bother, William, had settled in 1796, the present village of Jay to which they gave the name Mallory's Bush. On March 12, 1797, the people of Mallory's Bush petitioned the Town of Willsborough to be set off and be incorporated into a town by themselves. The petition was granted and on January 16, 1798, the town of Jay, named after Governor John Jay, was created. William Mallory built the first mill erected in the town, and in company with his brother, Nathaniel, owned a grist mill, saw mill, and later a forge and carding machine. The earliest road to Mallory's Bush was a primitive passageway through the woods between that place and Westport, then called North West Bay. It could not have been used before 1796. About the same time, or soon after, the road which leads along the west bank of the south branch of the Ausable river, between Upper and Lower Jay was not ready for wagon traffic in 1812, huge spars were cut, in the Town of Jay, and drawn to the lake. From here they were floated northward to the English market at Quebec. A Mr. Sleeper, at one time, with seven yoke of oxen, drew an enormous spar from Mallory's Bush clear to the lake. Later, square timbers came into great requisition and many were sent from Mallory's Bush. By 1812, the lumber business in this area was killed by the girdling of all the trees to facilitate the clearing of the land.

In 1814, at the time of the Battle of Plattsburg, David, then about 18, and his cousin Joseph Parrot, who was visiting him at the time, heard about the impending danger from British invasion of Plattsburg. The two boys set out on foot, through the woods in a pouring rain. Night overtaking them, they slept in the woods. Proceeding on their journey at an early hour, they arrived at the Lake as the British Fleet was rounding Cumberland Head. They notified the garrison, thus helping in McDonough's victory. (This is an old family tale, which must have some truth to it as in later years Mrs. David Broadwell was awarded a pension for the part her husband played in the war as a young man)

On January 5, 1820, David Broadwell married his first cousin, Susan Parrot. She was born, March 18, 1800 in Morristown, New Jersey, the youngest daughter of Adoniram Parrot. Their mothers were sisters, both having been Carrols from Morristown.

The Revolutionary War Patriot

The following was posted online 12 Dec. 2008 by descendant Arnold E. Fallon Jr.^[1434] It is unsourced except in the general way claimed at its end. I have added sources to specific claims, in footnotes:

Adoniram Parrot, my 4th generation great grandfather, was born in West Hanover, now known as Morristown, New Jersey in 1758.^[1435] He married Sarah Carrol and they had four daughters and two sons, among them:

"The soldier had, also, four daughters, namely, Sally, who married John Hood and live in Plattsburgh, New York; Elizabeth, who married John Mallory, also of Plattsburgh and they had a large family, no names designated; Phebe, who married — Stoors, and lived in Beekmantown, New York, and Susan, who married — Broadwell and in 1824 was living in Plattsburgh, New York. |

Son William never married.

Son Joseph, my 3rd generation great grandfather, was an Oregon pioneer. He was the husband of Sarah Washburn. And, later, Nancy Kindred.

Daughter Betsey married John Mallory, who owned and operated an oil mill on the Saranac River in Plattsburgh.

Daughter Susan married David Benton Broadwell. Broadwell was prominent in business and political circles. They built the elaborate sandstone house in nearby Schuyler Falls, which stands to this day.

Daughter Phoebe married Lemuel Storrs, who was a farmer.

[Missing is daughter Sally, mentioned in Adoniram's pension file, who married John Hood [should be Hunter] and resided in 1824 in Plattsburgh.]

Mr. and Mrs. Adoniram Parrot emigrated to northern NY, along with other families, during the winter of 1803–1804 via ox-sled.^[1436] Adoniram Parrot owned and operated a farm on the Military Turnpike, Plattsburgh. He purchased the farm from Thomas Treadwell, who had been a member of the Continental Congress.

Parrot also participated in the War of 1812. He was a member of Col. Tom Miller's regiment, among other activities. According to a published interview with one of his grandsons, Parrot loved to hear the song, "The Noble Lads of Canada," a War of 1812 song that poked fun at the British. Adoniram Parrot died in 1842 at the age of 84.

Battles in which Adoniram Parrot (Parrot) b. 1758 d. 1842 acted and his locations during the Revolutionary War, 1776–1783 follow. The veteran is buried at the Hunter lot at the Riverside Cemetery, Plattsburgh, New York.

The name of one David Broadwell appears in the claim, but his relationship to the husband of soldier's daughter, Susan, was not stated." His bounty land warrant for 100 acres was issued on 14 Aug. 1789, for his service in "the Jersey line." [image online at U.S. War Bounty Land Warrants, 1789–1858].

1436. U.S. census, 1810, Plattsburgh, Clinton Co., N.Y., r. 30, p. 34, Adoniram Parrot, over 45, with a woman over 45, one male under 10, two females 10–16, one male 16–26.

SAMUEL PARROT AND HIS FAMILY

Parrot's enlistment occurred on February 24, 1776. He signed up under Captain Peter Dickinson. His pay as a private was \$6 $\frac{2}{3}$ dollars per month. He was at Fort Tyconderoga, New York through November 23, 1776. Moving on from there, he was then at Mount Independence (Vermont) for garrison duty through February 24, 1777.

He was at the Battle of the Brandywine -British General Howe brought his troops to the Chesapeake Bay during August of 1777. This megaforce wasn't all that far from Philadelphia, the capital of the Colonies. The British had about 15,000 troops. The Americans had about 11,000. Adoniram was one of these troops. Washington chose a place between Chester, Pennsylvania and Philadelphia--on the banks of the Brandywine Creek for positioning. The confrontation between the armies occurred in September. Casualties amounted to about 1,000 for the Americans, about 600 for the British. The Americans' loss at Brandywine enabled entrance for the British into Philadelphia. The British would occupy Philadelphia--a big, important city of 40,000. At Brandywine, Parrot was under the command of Captain Peter Dickinson. This group was known as the Jersey Greys. Shortly afterward Dickenson resigned and Parrot was then under the command of Captain Jeremiah Ballard. Col. Elias Dayton was in charge of the 3rd New Jersey Regiment. This regiment contained the Ballard and Dickinson companies. The Third Regiment and Second Regiments consolidated and were known as the "Jersey Blues." Their name emerging from the blue uniform with red facing that some wore.

After Brandywine, Parrot participated in the Battle of Germantown. Germantown was a small town. Under the direction of Gen. George Washington, a decision was made to approach the town at night. Generals Wayne and Sullivan were also present for the battle. Germantown is now a part of Philadelphia. The casualties on the British side amounted to over 500 killed and wounded. The Americans had over 1,000 killed, wounded, or captured. Although it was considered a British victory--it was a PR victory for the Americans--the Americans showing great resilience in the confrontation. Wayne and Sullivan's pounding of the British almost resulted in their withdrawal from the confrontation. About 9,000, British and American, were in this battle. The Battle of Germantown began in the early morning hours of October 4, 1777.

On October 22, 1777, the Battle of Monmouth was staged. Parrot was fighting in his home state of New Jersey...not too far from the Atlantic Ocean at Red Bank, New Jersey. Hessians were scraping against a Rhode Island regiment, led by Colonel Christopher Greene—this regiment was defending Fort Mercer at Red Bank, right on the New Jersey shore. The British and Hessians had experienced loss at the Battles of Saratoga. Parrot must have been adept at preparing a campsite and also pulling up stakes expediently when needed in light of his success during the Revolutionary War.

After surviving the Battles of Saratoga—the British were vulnerable. Monmouth would also dictate who was strong and who wasn't.

Adoniram Parrot was at Valley Forge as a part of Gen. George Washington's winter encampment. Parrot was there until June of 1778. During his stay at Valley Forge, Parrot made shoes, among other activities. He was sick for a period during the encampment.

Parrot went to western New York on the Indian campaign led by Gen. John Sullivan.

Parrot, as part of Col. Elias Dayton's 2nd New Jersey Regiment was at the Battle of Little York in October 1781, later known as the Battle of Yorktown. He was there for the surrender of Lord Cornwallis, the battle that brought about the end of the Revolutionary War.

Parrot was discharged near Newburgh, New York in 1783, having served 7 years and 8 months in the Revolutionary War, an extraordinary accomplishment.

Parrot became corporal on February 1st, 1780. As a matter of historical record, my 4th generation great grandfather was at the following locations, and in the following battles and engagements with the Continental Army:

Encampments at the following locations:

- Fort Tyconderoga, New York
- Mount Independence, Vermont
- Easttown, Pennsylvania

Genealogical Summary of Adoniram Parrot's Family

Third Generation

27. JOSEPH³ PARROT (c.²William², Samuel¹), born say 1736, New Jersey
(see argument below).

The only mention of Joseph that I know is this from The Broadwell Family, published in 1962 (the quotation marks are in the book, but no source is cited):

"In 16—, William Parrott lived where Ezra Willcockse now does and owned 200 acres of land extending from the Passaic River to the Stony Hill road. He married the widow of Daniel Clark and had several children. One of these children was Joseph, father of Adoniram Parrot, who came to Clinton County in 1803-04."^[1437]

The first part of this quotation is almost verbatim from Littell's First Settlers (which does not, however, mention a Joseph):

William Parrot lived where Ezra Willcox now does, and owned 200 acres of land, including that now owned by Ezra Willcox, Abraham Valentine, and David A. French, extending from the River to the Stony Hill Road. It was divided between his sons William and Thomas. He married the widow of Daniel Clark and had children: [William Jr., Thomas, and Samuel are listed, but not Joseph.]

This is a weak argument, stretching credulity without further evidence of Joseph's existence. The only hint of an argument is that Adoniram named his first male child Joseph and his second William. Supported by the DNA match, of course.

1437. The Broadwell Family.

SAMUEL PARROT AND HIS FAMILY

But let's assume that Joseph was William's son. Joseph's son Adoniram was born about 1757 or 1758, so let's further assume that Joseph was at least 21 when Adoniram was born, implying that Joseph was born before say 1736. William was born 19 Sept. 1714, so he would have been about 22 at this Joseph's birth. But William was not married, so far as we know, until he was about 42, when he married Daniel Clark's widow, Abigail. So it is theoretically possible that William had a first wife, but there is no evidence of one (other than the putative son, Joseph). Or perhaps he had Joseph out of wedlock. But these are mere speculations. As religious as the Parrots and the Broadwells were, it seems unlikely that they would have countenanced such a relationship. Also note that The Broadwell Family claims that Joseph was son of Abigail.

Alternatively, notice that William's brother, Samuel, born in 1716, married, we estimate, in say 1737 to Phebe Stiles. So far as we know, Phebe had no children, but we note that Joseph born say 1736 fits this marriage. And I argue elsewhere that Samuel seems more likely the ancestor than William. But, as with William, there are no records that justify this theory. Furthermore, Samuel named a son of his second wife Joseph, which is unlikely if he already had a son Joseph.

Another theory is that there was no Joseph Parrot. There is no record of him after all. We have only the mention of him in The Broadwell Family, with no supporting evidence. Then it is possible that Adoniram below was the first child of William's wife Abigail (after she bore her daughter Abigail Clark with whom she was pregnant at her marriage to William in 1756 or so). But again we have the problem that there is no record of this birth in a churchgoing family with careful records of all other births. And William doesn't mention either a son Joseph or a son Adoniram in his will of 1784, long before Adoniram removed to New York.

Possible child of the putative Joseph:

She died in childbirth and he then married Sabera Willcox (5) by whom he had five children—all in New Jersey. He then married Elizabeth Carroll of Morristown and it was she and their one and only child (son), David Jr., who was born in New Jersey in 1795, who made the trip here in 1803–1804.” Unfortunately, the date and provenance of this letter are not established. Littell, First Settlers, 59, “David [Broadwell], married Mary Howel, 25th November, 1767; she died 9th April, 1769, aged 21 years,” and 483, “William Willcox, (2d child of Peter Willcockse,) and Miss Howel had children: | . . . | 5. On 19 Jan. 1824, Adoniram Parrot of Beekmantown, Clinton Co., N.Y., sold to David Broadwell of Plattsburgh, Clinton Co., for $150 a tract of land of 25 acres in Beekman's Patent, part of lot no. 69 in Beekmantown, including the dwelling house in which Adoniram "now" occupies. Adoniram acknowledged the deed on 28 Jan. 1824, and it was recorded 31 Jan. 1824.^[1457]

Beginning 7 Sept. 1827 Adoniram Parrot of Clinton Co., N.Y., received a pension for his Revolutionary War service as a corporal in Capt. Ballard's company in Col. Dayton's regiment in the New Jersey line for the three years 1776 to 1779. He enlisted at Morristown, N.J. in 1776. He signed the affidavit for his service on 6 Oct. 1824, aged 68 (implies born about 1756), in Beekmantown, Clinton Co., N.Y. In another affidavit Adoniram, 71, signed on 26 June 1827 he gives his family structure:^[1458]

This deponent has no wife and only two sons—Joseph parrott resides in Beekmantown. I live with him. He is worth no property. I have four daughters. Sally married John Hood [sic] they reside in Plattsburg but are poor my daughter Elizabeth married John Mallory who resides in Plattsburg and works at the distilling business. They have a large family and are not able to support me — my son Joseph is poor & has enough to do to take care of himself — my Son William left here more than five years ago & is now in parts unknown to this deponent. SAMUEL PARROT AND HIS FAMILY

Another affidavit in the same pension file was by William Broadwell of Plattsburgh, Clinton Co., N.Y., sworn 28 Mar. 1818:

That he was acquainted with the before named Adoniram Parrot from the time he was a child untill he enlisted as a soldier in the revolutionary army & their Parents lived within a few rods of each other in Hanover Morris County in New Jersey . . .

This may be important because William² Parrot, did not live in Hanover Twp., but Samuel² Parrit did.

On 7 June 1828, Adoniram Parrot, of Beekmantown, Clinton Co., N.Y., bought from Lemuel Stoors [signed, Storrs], of the same place, for $600, two parcels of land lying in Beekmantown “within a certain tract of Land granted by Letters Patent to William Beekman and others being part or parts of the lot known and distinguished in the division of the said tract by number seventy two,” containing 31 acres in one parcel and 34 acres in the other. The deed was acknowledged the same date.^[1459]

In 1830 Adoniram was probably the male 70–80 in the family of [his son] Joseph Parrot in Beekmantown, Clinton Co., N.Y. (q.v.).

In 1840 Adoniram Parrot, 83 [implies born 1757], resided in Plattsburgh Village, Clinton Co., N.Y.^[1460]

Adoniram’s grandson Joseph (Jr.) wrote an autobiography which is quoted in detail in his sketch, but here I excerpt only that part of it that might be relevant to the structure of Adoniram’s family. There are reasons to treat this autobiography cautiously which I’ll mention from time to time:

My father, Joseph Parrott, a Sr., was born in the Jessier Inn in 1803. In the second war with England, 1812–1814, I had to [sic] uncles – William and Richard – who engaged in that war; were wounded, taken prisoners and paroled. When in 1814 Provist, with 14,000 Wellington veterans, came to Platsburg, the two boys broke their parole and the father himself turned out and assisted to drive the “red coats” from New York.

In the latter part of the 1820s, Joseph and his brother, William, went to Canada. Will came back to Platsburg and went to the Mexican War and was heard of no more. Joseph returned and worked on the Erie Canal for some time. Then he went to Frankfort, Ky., in 1839, and after that moved to Andrew County, Mo., where Joseph, Jr., was born in the Jan., 1844.

- 656 iv WILLIAM⁵ PARROT, died unmarried. We know of him principally from his nephew Joseph (Jr.) Parrot’s autobiography (see above), that he and his brother Richard fought in the War of 1812 and were captured, then paroled. The brothers broke their parole and fought with Adoniram. In 1820 William and his brother Joseph went to Canada. William returned to Plattsburgh, then fought in the Mexican War and was heard of no more.
- 657 v RICHARD⁵ PARROT. We know of him only from his nephew Joseph (Jr.) Parrot’s autobiography (see above), that he and his brother William fought in the War of 1812 and were captured, then paroled. The brothers broke their parole and fought with Adoniram. That’s all we know of Richard.

There is a service record for a Richard Parrott in the War of 1812 but with a different unit (Sitcher’s) than the one Adoniram and William belonged to (Miller’s).^[1461]

From a history of Clinton Co., N.Y.:

David Broadwell, son of David and Elizabeth (Carrol) Broadwell, was born in Morristown, N.J., July 18, 1795. When David was nine years old his parents removed to this (Clinton) county, and settled in the woods on what has become the Broadwell homestead, a view of which is found on another page, and which is now owned and occupied by his grandson, De Witt C. Broadwell.

David spent his early life helping his father on the farm, attending school when he coul, going three miles through the woods in order to do so.

At the age of twenty-five he was married to Susan Parrot, fourth daughter of Adoniram and Sarah (Carrol) Parrot. By this union eight children were born, two of whom are still living, namely: Harriet, born Oct. 24, 1820, and De Witt C., born Nov. 28, 1825.

David Broadwell combined the lumber business with farming, running a saw mill, and finding a market for his lumber at Whitehall, which he reached by way of Salmon River and Lake Champlain.

In politics he was a Democrat, and as such filled different town offices. He was for fourteen years justice of the peace, and for several terms represented, before its division, the town of Plattsburgh in the board of supervisors, and after Schuyler Falls was set off, he served that town in the same capacity. . . .^[1479]

In 1850 David Broadwell, 55, a farmer born in New Jersey with $10,000 real estate, resided in Schuyler Falls, Clinton Co., N.Y., with Susan, 50, born in New Jersey, and with "Dewit" C., 24, Stephen, 21, Julia A., 18, all born in New York, and Samuel Long, 12, born in New York.^[1480]

In 1860 David Broadwell, 64, a farmer born in New Jersey with $20,000 real and [$2,500?] personal estates, resided in Schuyler Falls, Clinton Co., N.Y., with Susan, 60, born in New Jersey. They shared a dwelling with Horton Parrot, 33, a laborer born in New York, and his family.^[1481] Horton⁶ Parrot was Susan's nephew, son of her brother, Joseph⁵ Parrot. Dewitt Broadwell resided next door.

On 12 Sept. 1813 David Broadwell [father of the current David] of Plattsburgh, Clinton Co. N.Y., signed his will, and it was proved 5 Apr. 1816. It mentions "my beloved wife Elizabeth Broadwell," "my son David Broadwell," "Noah Broadwell & David Broadwell," "my son Aaron." Although Noah is not declared a son, he is treated in the will as one.^[1482]

On 13 Dec. 1867 David Broadwell of Schuyler Falls, Clinton Co. N.Y., signed his will, and it was proved 23 Jan. 1871. It mentions "my and paroled. When in 1814 Provost, with 14,000 Wellington veterans, came to Plattsburg, the two boys broke their parole and the father himself turned out and assisted to drive the “red coats” from New York.

In the latter part of the 1820s, Joseph and his brother, William, went to Canada. Will came back to Plattsburg and went to the Mexican War and was heard of no more. Joseph returned and worked on the Erie Canal for some time. Then he went to Frankfort, Ky., in 1839, and after that moved to Andrew County, Mo., where Joseph, Jr., was born in the Jan., 1844.

In 1830 Joseph Parrot, 20–30, resided in Beekmantown, Clinton Co., N.Y., with a woman 20–30, a male 70–80 [probably his father, Adoniram], and one boy [Horton] and one girl under 5.^[1494]

On 6 Apr. 1833, Joseph Parrot [variation, “Parot”] and “Sally” his wife sold to Daniel Baldridge, for $160, a parcel in Beekmantown, Clinton Co., N.Y., being in lot no. 69 of the Beekman Patent, and “being the south equal half part of the farm containing twenty five acres which was deeded to me by Lemuel “Stoors.” The deed was acknowledged on 30 Apr. 1834 and 31 May 1834, and it was recorded on the latter date.^[1495]

In 1840 Joseph Parrot, 30–40, resided in Ausable, Clinton Co., N.Y., with a woman 20–30 [which does not match Sarah].^[1496] This does not appear to jibe with Joseph Jr.’s autobiography which places Joseph (Sr.) in Frankfort, Ky., in 1839, but it is possible that Joseph returned to New York for the 1840 census. Note, however, that Sarah had remarried in 1836 in Clinton Co., and Joseph then remarried in 1842 in Missouri, probably on the way to Oregon where he arrived in 1844 and where he died. The 1840 census item fits only awkwardly, unless the autobiography is in error (but also see the Oregon database item in this sketch).

N.B. Ausable is nearly always written that way in the records, but the name of the town is often given as Au Sable in other contexts.

SAMUEL PARROT AND HIS FAMILY

The Allen Connection

Much of what we know of Wilson Allen, Sarah Washburn's second husband comes from a small book preserved on The Internet Archive: Charles J. North's John Allen and Phoebe Deuel, of Cambridge and Peru, N.Y., "Preliminary Edition, | For private circulation | Chas. J. North Buffalo N.Y. | 1897"^[1497] The author, North, gathered this information from living relatives:

11. x. Wilson [Allen], b. Jan'y 14, 1791, d. Sept. 19, 1872.^[1498]

11. Wilson,² John.¹ [that is, Wilson Allen, son of John Allen and Phoebe Deuel]

M. (1) June 1, 1810, Elizabeth, dau. of Zebedee and Annis (Allen) Mosher, and granddaughter of Elisha and Elizabeth (Fish) Allen, b. Oct. 11, 1794, d. Sept. 27, 1834. Her mother having died while she was a child, she was brought up in the family of John Allen. He settled on a portion of the original tract purchased by his father, at Allen's Hill, Ausable, N.Y. | Their children were: [list of 6: David, Martin, Andrew J., Annis, Helen, Phoebe, with details].

Married (2) November 14, 1835, Sarah, dau. of John and Jemima (Horton) Washborn [sic], b. July 10, 1807, d. May 4, 1894. | Their child was: | 77. vii Wilson, b. In 1840 Wilson Allen, 40-50, resided in Ausable, Clinton Co., N.Y., with a woman 30-40, one boy under 5, two girls 10-15, and one male 15-20.^[1500]

In 1880 Sarah Allen, 72, a widow born in New York of a father born in Vermont and a mother in New York, resided in Schuyler Falls, Clinton Co., N.Y.^[1502]

On 24 May 1869, Wilson Allen signed his will in Ausable, Clinton Co., N.Y., and it was proved 16 Dec. 1872. It mentions “my Daughter Annis Calkins,” “my son Wilson Allen Jr.,” “Andrew J. Allen, Phebe Allen & Highland Allen,” “my present Wife Sally Allen,” “my son Andrew J. Allen & Elisha Allen, my Executors.” It was witnessed by Turner Calkins and Elisha Allen, both of Ausable.^[1503]

Although I would like to have further proof of the Horton surname of Sarah Washburn’s mother, this set of evidence is self-consistent and I provisionally accept it.

Joseph Parrot in Oregon

Joseph Parrot arrived in Oregon in 1844 and received a provisional land grant in Clackamas Co., Ore., on 12 Nov. 1845.^[1504]

In 1850 Joseph Parrot, 30 [sic], a carpenter born in New Jersey, resided in Oregon City, Clackamas Co., Ore. Terr., with Nancy, 27, born in Indiana, and Joseph Jr., 6, born in Missouri, and three males.^[1505]

An online contribution about New Era, Clackamas Co., Ore., and Spiritualism:^[1511]

The New Era Spiritual Society, a religious group settled on a hill above Parrott Creek flowing into the Willamette River above the falls, was the source of the name for the settlement beginning to form a short distance away. As the town began to grow, so did the name New Era as an appropriate name for the town. The rich soil was ideal for farming and potato was the crop of choice. Shipments were made by wagon to Oregon City, transferred to boats below the falls and on to Portland. After a system of locks was built, boats could put in a New Era and after the arrival of the railroad, the produce was shipped by train. There are structures still intact in New Era.

Update: The origin of the name of New Era is incorrect. Although more research is needed to verify the history, the Spiritualist Camp was founded after the name "New Era" was used. Taken from Clackamas County Historic Survey records regarding the Spiritualist Camp: "Communities sprang up along streams where water power allowed industrial development. A post office was established in the early 1850's (original name unknown at this time), at the confluence of Beaver and Parrot creeks, now known as New Era. The New Era Rolling Mill was established in 1868, continuing operation until 1935. The origin of the name New Era is unclear, however, some inaccurately relate it to the Spiritualist Camp, founded in 1873, located near the mill site. James Washington Offield, a child when his family arrived via the Barlow Road in 1850, stated that he

Known child of the first marriage, to Sarah:^[1512]

- + 670 i HORTON⁶ PARROT, born about 1826, Beekmantown, Clinton Co., N.Y., married (1) DELIA E. CORNELL, and had two children, married (2) SARAH ANN ROWDEN, and had four children.

Child of the second marriage, to Nancy:

- + 671 ii JOSEPH⁶ PARROT[T], born 18 Jan. 1844, Andrew Co., Mo., married (1) ELEANOR E. FISH, and had one child, divorced, married (2) MARY DAVIS JESSE, and had ten children.

658. SALLY⁵ PARROT (₆₅₂*Adoniram*⁴, ?*Joseph*³, ?*William*², *Samuel*¹) married JOHN HUNTER, who apparently became insane (see next item).

On 6 Oct. 1818, as previously presented in the sketch of *Adoniram*⁴, a petition (q.v.) which partially states, "Sally Hunter the Mother of Thomas McDonough Hunter a son of John Hunter of Plattsburgh afore-said who has been long insane, an infant who was three years of age on the third day of February last," and she requested that Adoniram Parrot of Plattsburgh, Clinton Co., N.Y., be appointed Thomas's guardian until he reached age 14.

In 1820 Sally Hunter, 26-45, resided in Plattsburgh, Clinton Co., N.Y., with one boy [Thomas] and two girls under 10 [probably Charlotte and Elizabeth].^[1513]

Joseph had a son, Horton, buried in the David Broadwell lot in West Plattsburg, who in turn had two daughters, Melissa and Mary (Mame) Parrot. Adoniram's other son, William, never married." That Horton's mother was Sarah comes from descendant Arnie Fallon Jr. [email 17 Dec. 2015] who gives his lineage as: Adoniram Parrot and Sarah Carrol | Joseph Parrot and Sarah Washburn | Horton Parrot and Delia Cornell | Henry (Parrot) Fallon and Mary Etta Tuthill | Dr. Harry Cornell Fallon and Millicent Morrison | Arnold E. Fallon and Ann Karichkowsky | Arnold E. Fallon, Jr. and Mary Rebecca Cass.

- 673 ii CORNELIA⁶ HUNTER, perhaps died young since there were only two daughters in the 1820 census.
- 674 iii CHARLOTTE⁶ HUNTER, born 1810–1820, married — McELROY, moved to Alabama in 1840. She was possibly the Miss C. E. Hunter, 27, born in New York who resided in Cahawba Beat, Dallas Co., Ala., in 1850.^[1516]

SAMUEL PARROT AND HIS FAMILY

From a 1913 history of Nebraska re their son Frank:

Broadwell, Frank A., of South Omaha, president of the Broadwell-Roberts Company, former clerk of the district court of Douglas county, was born on a farm near Plattsburg, N.Y., July 3, 1859, and graduated in his 19th year from the seminary at Barre, Vt. His father, Dewitt C. Broadwell, lived on a farm near Plattsburg, and was born in 1825, son of David Broadwell, who was born in Morristown, N.J., July 18, 1795, and was a life-long democrat, and served as supervisor of the town of Plattsburg. He was a soldier of the war of 1812 and fought in the battle of Plattsburg, N.Y., September 11, 1814. He removed to the vicinity of Plattsburg in the year 1800, where he died in 1871. He was long known as "Squire Broadwell." He was the son of another David Broadwell, who was born in New Jersey in 1748 and removed to the Lake Champlain valley in 1800. The younger David Broadwell married a daughter of Adoniram Parrott, who served as a soldier through the Revolutionary War and also fought in the battle at Plattsburg. Frank A. Broadwell's mother was Helen Broadwell, daughter of John Broadwell and Margaret Reynolds, and granddaughter of Aaron Broadwell. She was a native of Willsboro, Essex county, N.Y. She married Dewitt C. Broadwell in 1845, and of their five children Frank A. is the second. No blood relation exists between these two Broadwell families. Frank Broadwell attended school and worked upon his father's farm alternately until he approached his majority, when he began teaching school. Frank Broadwell was for a year principal of the schools at Altona, N.Y., and for another year at Clayburg, N.Y. He then took a course in civil engineering at Cornell University, and in 1888 came to Omaha, where he was employed as a salesman and officeman for the Omaha Coal, Coke & Lime company. In 1889 he was placed in charge of the company's branch office in South Omaha, and at the end of four years he bought the business in partnership with his brother, H. H. Broadwell. In 1900 the business was incorporated under the firm name of the Broadwell-Rich Coal Company. Mr. Broadwell was one of the organizers of the South Omaha Brick Manufacturing Company, of which he was president and treasurer. Like his father and grandfather Mr. Broadwell is a democrat and is active in the promotion of the policies of that party. In 1896 he was elected treasurer of South Omaha, and was reelected in 1898. In the followin year he was elected clerk of the district court. Mr. Broadwell is a member of the Omaha Club and of a similar social organization in South Omaha, and of the Masons. In 1891 he was married to Miss Gertrude Glasgow, daughter of Dr. J. M. Glasgow. Mrs. Broadwell is a native of Iowa City, Ia. They have one child, Frank A., Jr.^[1541]

In 1860 Dewitt Broadwell, 35, a farmer born in New York with $2,000 real and $965 personal estates, resided in Schuyler Falls, Clinton Co., N.Y., with “Huldah,” 28, Julia, 5, and Franklin, 11/12, all born in New York, and one servant. David and Susan Broadwell resided next door.^[1542]

For some reason, Sarah’s birthplace which was almost certainly Ireland has been changed to Scotland in many of the following records. In particular, her son Franklin’s marriage record gives it as Edinburth, Scotland (q.v.), which tells us we must take evidence from this particular record with caution.

N.B. Other children of Silas and Hannah Cornell were Rheuby C. Fallon, who raised son Henry D. Parrot [Fallon] and Govett G. Cornell,^[1553] administrator of Silas’s estate. Another was Guildford D. Cornell whose wife was Gertrude, probably the “Gertude Connel” in the 1860 census of Horton.

SAMUEL PARROT AND HIS FAMILY

The Delia Maxfield Problem

The following deed suggests that Delia married, second, Nathan Maxfield: On 5 Oct. 1864 John Fallon and “Ruby” [but signed Rheuby] C. Fallon, his wife, of Peru, Clinton Co., N.Y., sold to Delia E. Maxfield, wife of Nathan Maxfield of Ausable, Clinton Co., N.Y., for $1,350 two parcels of land in Ausable, one of 100 acres and the other of 15.55 acres.^[1554]

But there are problems with this identification. In 1879 and 1883 Delia C. Maxfield, a dressmaker, resided in Albany, N.Y.^[1555] In 1875, Delia Maxfield, 25, a single dressmaker born in Columbia Co., N.Y., resided in Albany as a boarder. This would make her born 1850 and clearly not our Delia, who married in 1853. And Columbia County does not appear to match our Delia either.^[1556] In 1880 Delia C. Maxfield, 35, a widowed dressmaker, resided in Albany.^[1557] Again this evidence places Delia Maxfield, born about 1845, outside the bounds required for our Delia, born 1835ish. This draws Delia Maxfield into doubt as our Delia. Notice that there is nothing other than coincidence that says the Delia Maxfield who bought property from the Fallons in 1864 was our Delia. It is still possible that Delia Maxfield greatly lowered her age in later records, but the changes seem to me to be outsized. The initials E. and C. for Delia Maxfield do argue in her favor.

In 1850 Horton Parrot, 24, a farmer born in New York, resided in Ausable, Clinton Co., N.Y., in the household of Erastus Thew, 33, his

In 1850 Hugh Rowden, 37, a tailor born in Ireland, resided in Ellenburg, Clinton Co., N.Y., with Mary J., 38, born in Ireland, and Michael, 15, William, 13, Susan, 11, Joseph, 9, Sarah, 7, Rebecca, 5, all born in Ireland, and Jane E., 2, born in New York.^[1560]

In 1850 Ira D. Knowles (who would be guardian to Delia E. C. Parrot at her marriage to Horton), 39, a farmer born in New York, resided in Peru, Clinton Co., N.Y., with Permelia, 20, Southard, 7, George P., 4, and Emma I., 2, all born in New York. They resided next door to Godfrey Cornwell, a farmer born in New York, with Clarissa, 48, born in Massachusetts, and Gertrude, 13, Loyal, 8, Emogene, 5, and Elizabeth, 1, all born in New York.^[1561]

In 1860 Horton Parrot, 33, a laborer born in New York, resided in Schuyler Falls, Clinton Co., N.Y., with Delia, 24, Luther, 16, and “Gertrude Connel [perhaps Cornell, perhaps the Gertrude, 13, next door to Ira D. Knowles in 1850],” 23, all born in New York, and Emma Fripen, 6, born in Vermont. They shared a dwelling with David Broadwell, 64, a farmer born in New Jersey with $20,000 real and [$2,500?] personal estates, and with Susan, 60, born in New Jersey.^[1562] These were David Benton and Susan⁵ (Parrot) Broadwell, with Susan⁵ a daughter of Adoniram⁴ Parrot, so Horton’s aunt. I don’t know who Luther Parrot, born about 1844, New York, was.

Henry Parrot was raised by his aunt and uncle: John Fallon and Rheuby Cornell Fallon.^[1563] Rheuby’s sister was Henry’s mother, Delia Cornell

SAMUEL PARROT AND HIS FAMILY

Parrot. When Henry was an infant, Horton Parrot and Delia parted ways. The infant Parrot took on the Fallon name since he was part of his aunt and uncle's household.^[1564] [So apparently not a formal adoption.]

In 1870 Horton Parrot, 44, a lawyer born in New York with $800 real estate, resided in West Chazy, Altona Twp., Clinton Co., N.Y., with Sarah A., 25, born in Ireland, and Mame, 5, and "Malissa," 3, both born in New York of a mother of foreign birth.^[1565]

In 1870 H. H. Rodden, 58, born in Ireland, resided in Mooers, Clinton Co., N.Y., with Mary Jane, 62, born in Ireland, in the household of Joseph R. Rodden, 27, a farmer born in Ireland with $1,000 real and $400 personal estates, and with Susan, 29, born in Ireland, and Elizabeth, 20, born in New York.^[1566]

In 1880 Sarah A. Parrot, 35, a widow born in Ireland of Ireland natives, resided in Mooers, Clinton Co., N.Y., with her sons, Herbert E., 10, and Franklin A., 6, both born in New York of a father born in New York. They shared a dwelling with Joseph Roden, 37, born in Ireland of Ireland natives, with his family and his mother, Mary J. Roden, 71, a widow born in Ireland of Ireland natives.^[1567]

In 1900 Sarah A. Judkins [sic], 53, a widow born Mar. 1847 in Scotland of a father born in England and a mother in Scotland, resided in Tewksbury, Middlesex Co., Mass., in the household of her son-in-law, James H. Hamilton (q.v.). She had had four children, with four surviving.^[1568] The Judkins surname for Sarah is surely an error, being the surname of her daughter Mame instead.

Also in 1900, next door, was Herbert E. Parrott, 29, a locomotive fireman born June 1870 in New York of a father of unknown nativity and a mother born in Scotland. He resided in the household of his uncle, William H. Baker, 49, a railroad light inspector born Dec. 1850 in New York of New York natives, his (William's) wife of 29 years, "Lizzie J.," 49, born Feb. 1851 in New York of a father born in England and a mother in Scotland, and with his (William's) daughter, Sarah A., 20, born Sept. 1879, in New York, and his son, Walter E., 7, born Mar. 1893 in Massachusetts. Lizzie had had five children, with two surviving.^[1569] So Lizzie was sister to Sarah A. "Judkins."

Joseph Parrott, Pioneer

Glenwood, Oct. 8. – Joseph Parrott age 79, late of New Era, Ore., died Oct. 1, 1923, and was buried in the Zion cemetery, Canby, Ore., Oct. 3, 1923. Numerous relatives, and a host of friends mourn his death.

He was among the earliest settlers of Klickitat county, and was a pioneer of this vicinity as well as of Oregon. Following is an article by him on the early history of his family, and their achievements as pioneers:

History of the Parrott family in Early Times

On the Parrott side of my ancestors the fartherest back of whom I learned it was my grandfather, Adonisan [sic] Parrott. Of my Grandmother Parrott I never learned of her maiden name. But Adonisan in 1776 was a rebel against England. He was in the battle of Bunker Hill and was also in the encampment at Valey Forge during “the times that tried men’s souls,” and stayed in the army to the end of the war. In 1804 he, with his wife and children, settled near Platsburg, NY. My father, Joseph Parrott, a Sr., was born in the Jessier Inn in 1803. In the second war with England, 1812–1814, I had to [sic] uncles – William and Richard – who engaged in that war; were wounded, taken prisoners and paroled. When in 1814 Provist, with 14,000 Wellington veterans, came to Platsburg, the two boys broke their parole and the father himself turned out and assisted to drive the “red coats” from New York.

In the latter part of the 1820s, Joseph and his brother, William, went to Canada. Will came back to Platsburg and went to the Mexican War and was heard of no more. Joseph returned and worked on the Erie Canal for some time. Then he went to Frankfort, Ky., in 1839, and after that moved to Andrew County, Mo., where Joseph, Jr., was born in the Jan., 1844.

On the first day of May that same year we crossed the Missouri river bound for Oregon City, Oregon. The company included my mother’s parents, two of her brothers, one sister and their families, besides many others. During the trip many delays occurred. At one camp on the bank of a stream that we came to, we were detained by hard rains which made the streams unfordable. Here we were detained two weeks for not crossing in this stream before camping. With their jaded teams the company encountered snow in crossing the Blue mountains. We arrived at The Dales where we embarked on a Hudson Bay batteau for the Cascades. We rode along the south line of Klickitat county late in November and were detained at the Cascades three weeks waiting for a boat to take us to Oregon City. Our food was boiled wheat and Indian cured Salmon skins for breakfast. For dinner for a change, we had Salmon skins and boiled wheat; for supper we had both. My father had a project of his own. His wagon bed was made to answer as a boat so he planned to go down the river in it an tow his wagon behind. He went all right for a while, but the river became too rough and his outfit unstable, so he abandoned by wagon. He stopped near an Indian camp for the night and motioned to a little fellow to bring him some fire and he would give him some powder, which he did, but the older Indians came, all hungry and begging for something to eat. One Indian would not have the piece of meat given him and waded to the stern of the boat to help himself. Father unwittingly took up his gun and pointed it at the Indian. The Indians, with one exception, became very angry. They took his gun away from him and made him pay a good price to get it back. When the angry Indians, the other Indians, who father thinks saved his life, motioned him to leave and showed him how they would kill him if he stayed. He pulled out and camped on an island with no fire. Part of the emigrants drove their stock down some Indian trail on the Oregon side. Their provisions got so low a fat stray Indian dog was butchered at a camp made at a crossing of a small river which gave the river the name of Dog river. This name it kept for many years before it came to be known as Hood River.

We all reached Oregon City on the 23rd day of December, 1844, a crestfallen, discouraged, forlorn looking group of mortals; barely clothed, in rags and moccasins, with no money or provisions, and winter upon us. What was to carry us through this condition? In fact there was no money, it was all barter and swap except wheat, which was legal tender by custom. The Hudson Bay company had a well supplied store and the head manager, Dr. John McLoughlin, a man of stern commanding qualities, but of a generous and tender heart, freely supplied the wants of the helpless emigrants, even to his own detriment.

The Kindreds, my mother's folks, in 1776, were in the southern states somewhere. The great grandfather Kindred followed Daniel Boone to Kentucky. Some of the Kindreds are in the mountains districts of Tennessee. But David, my grandfather, moved to Indiana then to Iowa; from there to Missouri, and from Missouri to Oregon. He located near Tumwater, Wash. in 1845. His son, John, and partner, Mike T. Sicons, also located on Tanzy Point at the mouth of the Columbia river, where the town of Hammond now is, while father took a claim on the east bank of the Willamette, six miles south of Oregon City, where he and mother lived until their deaths.

I lived there mostly until the spring of 1883, when with my family I moved to Goldendale, Wash., and lived there until the spring of 1895, when we moved northeast of Glenwood, Wash., and lived the life of pioneers. I made many miles of wagon road, and made the Klickitat river crossable by the erection of the Parrott suspension bridge.

In 1916 he and his family moved from the old homestead to Glenwood Hotel for about four years. He was postmaster during that time, and also for a few years more after moving out of the hotel. From Glenwood he moved to Seaside, Ore., and bought property where he made his home until 1920.

The last two years of his life were spent as caretaker of the Spiritualist camp grounds at New Era, Ore., where he spent his last days among the scenes of his boyhood, along with such old friends and acquaintances as were left of those early pioneers of Oregon.^[1585]

So pass the pioneers!

And here's a similar but shorter family reminiscence, from Parrott Talk, by descendant Robert I. Parrott when he was 88:

It seems hard to believe that I am only one of the third generation since the American Revolution from Great Britain at the time when the United States of America was formed. However, my great grandfather came to America along with other members of the Parrott family, and settled in New Jersey before the Revolution. My father told me that he [the great grandfather] was in the Battle of Bunker Hill. He joined the service in

New Jersey, and was in many battles during the seven years and eight months he served. His name was Adoniram Parrott and was later given a claim of land by the Government near Plattsburg, New York for services rendered. He came back from the war, got married, and settled in New Jersey and raised quite a family. There were four girls and three boys.

My grandfather, Joseph Parrott, was born in Passaic, New Jersey in 1803, and moved with the rest of the family to the Claim near Plattsburg, New York in 1804. He grew up there and left in 1839. He went to Frankfort, Kentucky, then to Andrew County, Missouri, where he met and married my grandmother, Nancy Kindred Parrott. My father, Joseph Parrott, Jr. was born there January 18, 1844, and they came across the plains in a covered wagon that summer. He was no doubt carried in his mother's arms most of the way until they got to Oregon City, Oregon.

He married my mother, Mary Jesse, March 31, 1878, and they moved into Washington State in 1884. There were five girls and one boy born before me, and I was born January 21, 1892 in Yakima County on a farm near Glenwood, Klickitat County, Washington, and am now a little past eighty-eight years of age but only three generations past the Revolution. I have had three daughters, one of which has passed away with cancer. Have eight grandchildren, and four great grandchildren.^[1586]

SAMUEL PARROT AND HIS FAMILY

Ann's obituary:

Ann Fallon, 96, died at Saratoga Hospital on Thursday May 4, 2017.

Born in Troy on April 2, 1921, she was the widow of Arnold E. Fallon, Sr. Mrs. Fallon was the daughter of the late Katherine (Tolopka) and William Karichkowsky of Troy.

She attended the former School 5, School 14, and Troy High School. At Troy High, she participated in school theatricals. Her interest in performance continued in the area of radio. She played Mary Todd Lincoln in a radio drama on WGY, Schenectady in the 1930s. She competed in the Miss Troy Beauty Pageant—the winner going on to the Miss America Pageant. She was first runner-up.

On February 9, 1941 she married Arnold E. Fallon, the son of Dr. and Mrs. Harry Cornell Fallon of Troy, at First Presbyterian Church of Lansingburgh. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Seth L. Genung. The couple also exchanged vows on May 4, 1941 at St. Nicholas Ukrainian Orthodox Church in Troy in a ceremony conducted by Rev. Andrew Ivanyshyn. The couple honeymooned in Montreal, Canada. As newlyweds they lived in Little Falls, New York; where her husband was manager of Carroll's Pharmacy. Their son, Robert, was born in Little Falls.

Her husband joined the Naval Reserves on September 25, 1942 and was put into active service the same day. He, at first, reported to the United States Naval Hospital in Brooklyn. He was assigned to the United States Naval Midshipmen's School at Columbia University; he taught pharmacy. Mr. and Mrs. Fallon and their infant son, Robert, resided on Riverside Drive, New York City.

Her husband was part of the 5th Medical Battalion of the 5th Marine Division at Camp Joseph H. Pendleton, Oceanside, California. During this period, the family lived in Laguna Beach. Their daughter, Diane Christina, was born at Orange, California just weeks after Arnold was transferred to Hilo, Hawaii. He later participated in the assault and capture of Iwo Jima, Volcano Islands. Mrs. Fallon, like so many brides during the war, is to be commended for carrying the family torch at home while her husband was serving their country.

After the war, the family resided on Liberty Street in Troy. In 1951 she and her husband purchased the 27 room brownstone at 149 Second Street, Troy (rebuilt after a fire in 2010). She enjoyed decorating the home. Mr. and Mrs. Fallon did much entertaining. The home's dining room had a tapestry ceiling, stained-glass windows, and a beautiful sculpted fireplace. She complimented the decor within the home using many family antiques and portraiture.

Mrs. Fallon studied art under Rudy Helmo: first at the Jewish Community Center on First Street in Troy and at the Country Club of Troy. Painting in oil, she was comfortable with landscapes and country scenes.

In the late 40s, Mrs. Fallon was an American Red Cross volunteer at the Veterans Administration Hospital in Albany. In addition, she raised money for the American Cancer Society and the Heart Fund. She also worked with the elderly at the Troy Senior Center and with developmentally-disabled adults.

She and her husband were co-presidents of the St. John's Day School Parents Association. She also volunteered at the school—assisting in a special needs class.

Her memberships over the years included: the Country Club of Troy; the Troy Jewish Community Center; and the former Troy Club. She and her husband enjoyed attending the Holly Ball each year at the country club.

In 1969, Mr. and Mrs. Fallon purchased the Milo and Gladys Hayner farm on Hill Road in Center Brunswick. They moved to Center Brunswick in 1970.

Mrs. Fallon was an officer of the Troy Drug Company, Inc., of which her husband served as president. She was shareholder of Karichkowsky Realty Corporation.

She was supportive of her husband's civic and professional activities—accompanying him to many New York State Pharmaceutical Society conventions and events associated with his interest in housing. Her husband was appointed by Governor Thomas E. Dewey to the State Commission to Study Rents and Rental Conditions in 1948. Governor W. Averell Harriman reappointed her husband in 1955. He later served as chairman of the Troy Housing Authority. Arnold E. Fallon Apartments in Troy were named in his honor. Mr. Fallon passed away on March 9, 1973.

SAMUEL PARROT AND HIS FAMILY

B. Parrots Without a Home

The following are records that don't "fit" in the genealogy as I currently understand it. There are so many of them, in the right place and the right time, to create a major puzzle. It's almost as if one whole family, or one whole branch of a family, has somehow fallen out of the official recording.

Hanover

John Parrot, married 27 June 1765, Hanover Twp.,^[1717] to Anne Rioson.

Martha Parrot to Joseph Taylor on 26 Dec. 1765, Hanover Twp.^[1718]

C. The Abraham Rutan Family

I have particular interest in this early New York and New Jersey family, from whom I also descend. They intermarried with the Parrots in New Jersey.

I begin by simply quoting several Rutan genealogies which appear to be correct but without my actually knowing that they are. In other words, use the following cautiously, as we do Littell's First Settlers everywhere in this book. Many of the facts stated in these genealogies can be corroborated from the record. I do so whenever possible with footnotes. So trust only those facts below that are so corroborated.

Let's begin with the Rutan history summarized well in a book called The Hoyes of Maryland:^[1754]

The Rutan Family

Mary Rutan, daughter of John Rutan of the Blooming Rose in Maryland, became the second wife of William Waller Hoyer in 1814.

The history of the Rutan family takes us back to the religious wars and persecutions in France. The Rutans were French Huguenots, the tenets of whose faith were similar to those of the Scotch Presbyterians and English Puritans.

In 1559 the Huguenots, then a strong religious and political minority in France, held their first General Synod in Paris, but under Charles IX occurred the massacre of St. Bartholomew when some 6,000 Huguenots were murdered, followed by a religious-political civil war, until Henry of Navarre renounced Protestantism and became King of France. King Henry then issued the Edict of Nantes, which guaranteed freedom of conscience and of worship to the dissenters, who increased in numbers and became influential in trade and industry. But Louis XIV determined to stamp out forever the Huguenots of France. After some years of persecution and dis-

1754. Hoyer, The Hoyes of Maryland, 95-96. I have researched several Huguenot families for years, especially the Durand and Rutan families from which I descend. I find this summary accurate so far as I've been able to determine, but have not completely verified yet.

SAMUEL PARROT AND HIS FAMILY

order, in 1685 he revoked the Edict of Nantes, saying, “I have forbidden any exercise within my kingdom of the religion men call reformed.”

It was during this period—when Huguenot churches were destroyed, private property confiscated, men sentenced to the galleys and prisons, women forced into convents, children taken from their parents and placed in Jesuit schools, mobs and soldiers turned loose on the people who would not be “converted”—that about one million good citizens of France, most of them after terrible risks and hardships, escaped from their native land to neighboring countris and to America.

Such is the European background of the Rutans.

The first family record we have is of Ferry Rutan, mayor of St. Mihiel in 1534. Mob violence first struck at St. Mihiel and the Rutant family fled to Metz, where they established themselves in their various pursuits of good citizenship.

When this mob violence hit the city of Metz the Rutant family escaepd with a party of friends to Manheim, Lower Palatanate, Germany. Even there they were harassed by the French so they went to Holland an thence to America, landing at Bosteon leing thence to New York.

The historian of the Rutan family gives the genealogy of the immigrant as follows: (1) Ferey Rutant, Mayor of St. Mihiel in 1534. (2) Claude Rutant I, merchant of S. Mihiel. (3) Claude Rutant II, draper in Metz. (4) Abram Rutant, born in 1634.

I interrupt the Hoye version of the Rutan story here to introduce other sources I use for the early history and which back up the Hoye version (one of them is probably “the historian of the Rutan family”) unless otherwise indicated (see bibliography for further details):

Let's rejoin Hoye with a lengthy footnote of his:^[1755]

Note:—(1) Letter from Taton-vassal, Mayor of St. Mihiel, 1936:

... A superficial research has permitted me to find at St. Mihiel the presence of a noble family Rutant, whose members were magistrates from 1521 to 1641, and especially I find a Ferry Rutant who was Mayor from 1534, and whose nephew, or rather a descendant, was exempt from the tax in 1659, "because of his rank of the privileged."

(2) Letter from the Mayor of Metz, dated July 24, 1936:

There are no more members living in Metz. The old parish and Protestant registers and the state records in our libraries often mention the family Rutant or Rutan, including the brothers Blaise and Claude, sons of Claude Rutant. Claude Rutant II—protestant, draper, father of Judith, Marie, Jean, Daniel, Abraham, Sara.

(3) "History of the Huguenot Emigration to America" says:

"It was probably from the neighborhood of the same town (Metz in Lorraine) that Abraham Rutan, one of the Huguenot settlers at New Paltz, escaped to the Palatinate."

Also: "Refugees of the name Ferry Rutan and Blaise Rutan fled at an earlier day (about 1560) from persecution in St. Mihiel to Metz."

1755. Hoye, The Hoyes of Maryland, 95–96. I have researched several Huguenot families for years, especially the Durand and Rutan families from which I descend. I find this summary accurate so far as I've been able to determine, but have not completely verified yet.

SAMUEL PARROT AND HIS FAMILY

N.B. Metz is an ancient city (3,000 years of history) located now in the far northeast of France near the point where France, Germany, and Luxembourg join. It lies at the confluence of the Moselle and Seille Rivers. It lies in the region of France known as the Alsace-Champagne-Ardenne-Lorraine region, often just called the Alsace-Lorraine. It lies about 20 miles south of Luxembourg and 20 miles west of Germany. St. Mihiel (or Saint-Mihiel) lies in the same region, about 30 miles southwest of Metz. St. Mihiel lies about 30 miles northwest of Nancy. Mannheim, Baden-Württemberg, Germany, lies about 100 miles or so east of Metz (slightly north of east).

Abraham Rutan accompanied Abraham Hasbrouk from Mannheim to Holland, thence to America. In 1675 Hasbrouk and eleven other French refugees obtained a patent for a large tract of land in Ulster County, New York, south of Kingston, which they settled and named New Paltz. In 1677 Abraham Rutan was living in New Paltz. He married Marie Petilion, a French girl who had crossed the ocean with the Hasbrouk party; the records show that in 1678 she joined the Dutch Reformed Church of New York City.

At New Paltz the settlers built their houses on the village street, as was the custom in France, advisable also for defense from the Indians. Some years later they replaced the log cabins with well built stone houses, such as they had in France. Several of these original settlers' stone houses are still in use as residences in New Paltz; one is the village museum; the old fort of two stories is a tourist or visitors' home.

The church at New Paltz was formed "after the manner and difficult discipline of the Church of Geneva, followers of John Calvin." It was called the Walloon Protestant Church. Services were held in the French language for fifty years; thereafter in Dutch.

Father Abraham and Mother Marie Rutan are buried in the old French Church (Bellville) graveyard at Hackensack in unmarked graves.

1756. Hoye, The Hoyes of Maryland, 96-97.

Children of Abraham Rutan and Marie Petilion baptized in the New Paltz Church:^[1757]

(1) Daniel, baptized Sept. 23, 1683. Godfather, Louys Dubois.

(2) Paul, baptized March 20, 1685. Godparents: Roghe Frere, Agaer Mchel.

(3) Davide, baptized Apr. 17, 1688. Godparents: Pier Dygle, Genve Vylar.

(4) Ester, baptized May 14, 1690. Godparents: Abraham & Ester Hasbrouk.

(5) Pierre, baptized Ocgt. 24, 1691. Godparents: Pierre Quimer, Ester Hasbrouk. Died, Aug. 5, 1690, a daughter, aged six months.

The last record we have of Abraham Rutan in the New Paltz Church is in 1695, when he is named godfather of a son of Moses De Grave.^[1758] After this he is found in New Barbadoes (Hackensack), Bergen County, New Jersey, where in 1699 he bought a tract of land of Thomas Noel. In 1707 he bought a "parcel of land from Bartholomew Feuert, paying five pounds and a more valuable and greater consideration."

At New Barbadoes the family attended the Belville Church; in the records of that church are the following names of children of Abraham and Marie Rutan, but no dates of their births or baptisms are given: (6) Susan; (7) Sara; (8) Maria; (9) Catharine; (10) Abraham; (11) Samuel.

Abraham Rutan's will (see appendix) was signed September 10, 1712, and proved May 19, 1713. Mary Rutan, his widow, mader her will February 19, 1713, and it was proved June 12, 1713.

Much of the following is an attempt to verify (or correct) such histories as that just given by Hoye. An important early record supporting the Hasbrouck connection are these adjacent baptismal records from the Dutch Reformed Church of New Amsterdam (New York City) for 1680:

[date] [1680] 12 May; [parents] Abraham Hasbroeck, Maria Dujou;
[child] Rachel; [witnesses] Carel de Nuson, Abraham Rutan, Margariet
Dojou

1757. Another transcription of these baptisms follows, which supports this one to within spellings of the names.

1758. No. He was godfather to Moses De Grave in New York in 1680. See record below.

SAMUEL PARROT AND HIS FAMILY

[1680] 12 May; Moses de Grave, Maria Le Blanck; Samuel; Abraham Ruton, Maria Hasbroeck.^[1759]

The Rutan story in America goes into high gear with the founding of New Paltz, Ulster Co., N.Y., in 1683 by Huguenots escaping persecution in France and Germany. On the very first page of the first record of the “French church” in New Paltz is the first vital record entered there, the baptism of Peter Deyo (as it’s now spelled) by the Rutan immigrant, Abraham¹ Rutan, and his wife, Mary Petilion. The little record book consists of only 17 pages and terminates in 1702:

October 14, 1683. Baptized two children of Pierre Doyau and — and [one] named Peter, the other Mary. Abraham Rutan, Godfather, and Mary Petilon, Godmother, to the first . . .

September 23, 1684. Baptised a child of Abraham Ruton [Rutemps] and Marie Petilon, named Daniel. . . .

March 20, 1685–6. Baptised a child of Abm. Ruton [Rutemps], named Paul. . . .

April 19, 1688. Abram Ruton and Mary Petilon had baptized a child named David. . . .

May 14, 1690. Abram Rutemps and Mary Petilon had a daughter baptised named Esther. Abm. Hasbrouck, Godfather, and Esther Hasbrouck, Godmother.

August 3, 1690. A daughter of Abram Rutemp died, aged about 6 months.

October 24, 1691. Abram Rutemps and Mary Petilon, his wife, had a boy baptised called Peter. Godfather, Peter Guimar, Godmother, Esther Hasbrouck.^[1760]

1759. Reformed Dutch Church of New Amsterdam (New York City) Baptisms, online transcription at <www.olivetreegenealogy.com/nn/church/rdcbapt_1680.shtml>, accessed 2 Mar. 2016, “[1680] 12 May; Abraham Hasbroeck, Maria Dujou; Rachel; Carel de Nuson, Abraham Rutan, Margariet Dojou | [1680] 12 May; Moses de Grave, Maria Le Blanck; Samuel; Abraham Ruton, Maria Hasbroeck.” Dujou is now usually spelled Deyo.

There are no further Rutan vital records in New Paltz after 1691. There is only one further mention of the name there, in the will of Jean Hasbrouck, one of the founders of New Paltz, signed 26 Aug. 1712:

I give to my daughter Mary and to her order or heirs the sum of fifty-seven pounds current money of New York due me from Abraham Rutan according to bond forty-two pounds and from Pieter Dubois according to bond fifteen pounds [for a total of 57 pounds due].^[1761]

Although Abraham and Marie were there at the beginning, for some reason they moved on, perhaps because all the good land had been taken. Their son, Peter Rutan, baptized 24 Oct. 1691, New Paltz, would next appear in New Jersey. He married 7 Nov. 1713, Dutch Reformed Church, Hackensack, Bergen Co., N.J., Gertrude Vanderhoef.

[1713] Nov. 7 Pieter Rettan, y.m., b. in the Isopus. [to] Geertruy^t Van der Hoef, y.d., b. Albany. Both living at N. Berbadus.^[1762]

Esopus lies in the vicinity of New Paltz. It was where Abraham Hasbrouck, brother of Jean, and one of the 12 patentees (the “douzaine”) of New Paltz first lived when he immigrated to America. The Paltz patent, bought from the Indians, covered what are now parts of the towns of New Paltz, Esopus, Rosendale, and Lloyd. This piece of land lies just west of the Hudson River and just north of an east-west line through Poughkeepsie, N.Y. (which is on the east side of the river). New Barbadoes Twp. was an old name for Hackensack, Bergen Co., N.J.

Another Rutan record from Hackensack:

SAMUEL PARROT AND HIS FAMILY

So the American genealogy of the Rutan family begins with the immigrant, associated with the Hasbrouck party of Huguenot immigrants in the late 17th century from the Palatinate (Paltz, in German) to New Paltz, N.Y.:

1. ABRAHAM¹ RUTAN^[1764] was baptized 10 June 1658, Reformed Church, Metz, Lorraine, France, son of Daniel and Anne (de Bize) Rutan,^[1765] and died 19 May 1713, New Barbadoes (Hackensack), Bergen Co., N.J.^[1766] He came to America, perhaps with the Hasbrouck party. This is supported by his being a witness to two baptisms on 12 May 1680, Dutch Reformed Church, New Amsterdam (New York City), involving the Hasbroucks.^[1767] He married 7 Apr. 1679, Bergen [?] Co., N.J. sometime before 1684 (baptism of first known child) MARY PETILION^[1768], who was born 25 Mar. 1664, France. She came to America, perhaps with the Hasbrouck party, and became a member of the Dutch Reformed Church of New Amsterdam (New York City) 30 May 1678.^[1769] Abraham signed his will 10 Sept. 1712, New Barbadoes (now Hackensack), Bergen 1764. There are several variations of the surname, including Rutemps, Ruttan, Rutant, Retan, and so forth. The form Rutan or Ruttan is used here most often, although the latter is characteristic of the Canadian family, that is, of the Loyalist branch during, or because of, the Revolutionary War.

Co., N.J., and it was proved 19 May 1713 (see abstract below). Mary Rutan, widow of Abraham, of New Barbadoes signed her will 19 Feb. 1712/3 (see abstract below).^[1770]

The following biography should be used cautiously as its many facts have not all been checked:

While living in Metz, Abraham was a minor and no records of his life there have been found. Probably about 1670, he went into Germany, as did many other Huguenots, and settled in or near Mannheim in the Palatinate where he is believed to have joined the Hasbrouck Party and journeyed with them via Rotterdam, Amsterdam, and England to America, arriving in the town of Boston in early 1675.

Abraham, so far as is known, was the first and only of our name to have emigrated from Europe to America in these times. The Hasbrouck Party sailed on to New York and travelled on, reaching Ulster County in July 1675. They moved on to Esopus, the area around Kingston in Ulster County on the west bank of the Hudson River, where, in 1677, New Paltz was founded. Abraham settled there and the first record of him in America is as a sponsor, on October 14, 1679, at the baptism of a daughter of Peter Deyo, one of the "Douzaine" (the twelve families that established New Paltz) at Kingston, New York. In 1680, the exact date not known, Abraham married Marie Petilion (or Peteljon) who is believed to have come to America in the same group as Abraham. Their children were amongst the first to be baptized in the French Church, which had been established in 1683 at New Paltz.

On September 1, 1689, Abraham took the Oath of Allegiance to the English Crown. By indenture dated October 26, 1699, Abraham bought a parcel of land and meadow in New Barbadoes in the County of Essex in the Province of East New Jersey from Thomas Noell of the City of New York, merchant, and Hannah, his wife. There he and Marie and likely some of their children lived and it seemed prospered, until he died on May 19, 1713. Marie (Mary) died later that same year. With the exception of a parcel of land that had been given to their eldest child, Daniel, and some other small bequests, her will dated February 19, 1712 (or possibly 1770. N.J. Calendar of Wills, Vol. 1, 1670–1730, 399, for both wills.

1713?) directed that her estate be distributed in equal proportions amongst her children. While there is some disagreement among researchers, it appears that Abraham and Marie had twelve children, the first five of whom are recorded as being baptized in the French Church at New Paltz.^[1771]

An abstract of his will:

13 xii ?SAMUEL² RUTAN, born 1710, New Barbadoes. He married MARIE STOUTENBURGH. Probably he who signed his will 15 Oct. 1776, Newark Twp., Essex Co., proved 1 May 1778.^[1788]

Second Generation

Let’s return to the Hoye treatment of the Rutan family (cont. from preceding excerpt).^[1789]

Pierre (Peter) Rutan, son of Abraham I, was baptized at New Paltz, N.Y., in 1691. Pieter Rettan married Geestruy Van der Hoef, Nov. 7, 1713. (Hackensack Church Record).

Joseph Frazee and Peter Rutan were among the earliest settlers at New Providence, N.J., in 1736. Peter Rutan of Morris Co., N.J., made his will 1774; proved Aug. 7, 1774. His son and heir was Abraham. (N.J. Archives). Peter Rutan resided at Elizabethtown, N.J., where he owned lots 28 and 29 of 100 acres each.^[1790]

Here’s an interesting footnote from Hoye:^[1791]

Rutan and Des Marest doubtless met in Manheim. Abraham Rutan, about 1699, moved from New Paltz to the Demarest colony in New Jersey, where he appears to have resided on the west bank of the Hackensack River.

N.B. The Dutch Reformed Church, Tarrytown, N.Y., was also known as the “Old Dutch Church of Sleepy Hollow.”^[1798]

The following is from an extensive folder of Rutan evidence, assembled by J. R. Meachem, and held in the Internet Archive. This is from “Brief Outline of the Ancestors of Peter Rutan Jr.” (use cautiously).^[1799] It reveals a surprising turn in the Rutan story—the split between the Patriot Rutans of the United States and the Loyalist Ruttans of Canada caused by the Revolutionary War:

The Rutans have first been found in the town of St. Mihiel, in the province of Lorraine in the northeastern corner of France bordering on Germany. The name is mentioned in 1506, and between 1567 and 1599 four brothers Rutan were made noblemen by the Duke of Lorraine and assigned coats of arms.

The first known ancestor of our line was Claudin Rutan or Rutant. We do not know his parents. He had a son Claude baptised 1590 in the Roman Catholic Church, who became a Protestant and fled to nearby Metz. His son Daniel christened at Metz in 1620 had Abraham, christened at Metz on 10 June 1658.

Probably about 1670 Daniel and his family escaped into Germany as did thousands of Protestants or Huguenots. From there many went to Holland and from there to America. Young Abraham is thought to have accompanied Abraham Hasbrouck and family across the sea in 1675 first to Boston, then on to New York. The Hasbroucks were one of the “Douz-ine” or twelve families that established New Paltz on the west bank of the Hudson River near today’s Kingston. Abraham settled there and the first record of him in America is as a sponsor in 1680 to the baptism of a child of Abraham Hasbrouck at the Refomed Dutch Church of New York.

1798. As witness this source of its records: First Record Book of the “Old Dutch Church of Sleepy Hollow” organized in 1697 and now The First Reformed Church of Tarrytown, N.Y.

Soon after the French Church was established at New Paltz and the children of Abraham and his wife Marie Petilon are among the very first baptised there, including their second son Paul in 1686. Abraham and his family left about 1695 and by 1699 had settled in Bergen County in northern New Jersey. Paul however went to the Tarrytown, N.Y. area and in 1708 married Engeltje (Angelica) Davidse born at Laval, Canada. Their son William was baptised at the “Old Dutch Church of Sleepy Hollow” in 1710. Paul and his second wife moved to Schraalenburgh (now Bergenfield), N.J. about 1725^[1800] where William in 1731 married Maria Demarest of a well known Huguenot family.^[1801] They had a least ten children of whom Elizabeth (~~later Mathews~~) [“wife of Matthew Van Norden” is penciled in over the crossed out words] baptised in 1733, Peter in 1742, Jacob in 1753 and William in 1759 later went to Canada.

Peter was a Captain in the N.J. Volunteers (Loyalist) having previously married Jantjie (Jane) Ackerman at Schraalenburgh in 1766. William was a Lieutenant and he married Margaret Steel in New York City in 1782 during the War. In mid-1783 the Loyalists were forced to leave New York. Captain Peter was in command of a group of 86 in the ship Hope, one of a small fleet commanded by Michael Grass, which arrived at Sorel, between Montreal and Trois Rivieres after a nine weeks’ voyage (and an 8 day gale.) After a winter of severe hardships during which William’s only child, a baby girl, died they proceeded to Adolphustown to clear and settle lands granted them by the Crown.

1800. The baptism records below show them to be in Hackensack (which was near Schraalenburgh but a different church) in 1724 and also in 1731. They witnessed the baptism of a child of William Rutan and Mary Demarest in Schraalenburgh in 1733, and also in 1744.

1801. There is a marriage record (transcription) in 1731 at the Schraalenburgh church for William “Codden” to Moria De Morest that might be this marriage: 48, “[1731] Dec. 11. Willem Codden, y.m., born at Philipsburg [sic], and Moria De Morest, born and living at Hakkensak.” It fits, but only inspection of the original record might reveal that “Codden” was a mistranscription of say “Rodden,” but it seems unlikely.

SAMUEL PARROT AND HIS FAMILY

In October 1784 a roll of the settlers was taken and Peter Ruttan Jr. was listed separately from his family, probably indicating that he was over 12 years of age. From Capt. Peter and Lt. William (and a few from Jacob who came in 1793) are descended (almost?) all of the Ruttans in Ontario. [Followed by a genealogy of Peter Ruttan Jr., son of Capt. Peter and Jane Ackerman.]

Abraham Rutan II, son of Peter, of Elizabethtown, N.J., owned the eastern half of his father's 200 acre tract. His house was near the spring. His wife, Elizabeth [sic], died in 1788.^[1828] He was an elder in the Presbyterian Church of New Providence.

Now I will proceed to take the received history and attempt to document it. Items in red I have so far failed to justify.

1828. Abraham's wife was almost certainly Anne, not Elizabeth. This is a good example of why we cannot trust these "genealogies" that do not support their facts.

1829. But this is not so. Cf. the treatment from Littell in the sketch of Abraham that follows. Many of the dates in Hoye do not appear in Littell. What Hoye does here is use another undocumented source to document his genealogy. So errors get propagated.

SAMUEL PARROT AND HIS FAMILY

24. ABRAHAM³ RUTAN (⁶Peter², Abraham¹) was born about 1734, and died 21 Sept. 1792. Abraham signed his will 20 Sept. 1792, Morris Co., N.J. (see its abstract below), and it was proved 27 Oct. 1792. He married ANNE —, who died 15 Dec. 1788. This is my line.

From Littell's First Settlers:

Abraham Rutan was an Elder in the Presbyterian Church of New Providence.^[1830] He married, —; she died 15th Dec. 1788; they had 5 sons and 8 daughters:

1. John, who married, 20th March, 1774, Catherine Jones, and went to the west.

2. Samuel married Eleanor Bedell, daughter of Jacob, and went west. [See Bedell.]

3. Peter, born 1757, and died 12th April, 1802, aged 45 years, unmarried.

4. Joseph, born 1769, married, 14th June, 1791, Hannah Baker, daughter of Thomas Baker, Jun. [sic].^[1831] She died 26th July, 1804, aged 34 years, and he married, 2d, Rachel Hole, daughter of Uzel Johnson's 2d wife. He died 19th March, 1809, aged 40 years.

5. Abraham married Hannah Shipman, daughter of Abraham, of Munroe, Morris county. He died 25th Dec. 1804, aged 30 years, and left two children, Manning and Eliza; Eliza died young; Manning married Miss Hurd, and lived at Dover, Morris county, and subsequently removed to Greenville, Montcalm county, Michigan.

6. Sally, who married, 6th June, 1775, Simeon Simpson, son of Alexander, as his 2d wife. [See Simpson.]

1830. Records and Notes, 13–14, “At a publick lecture held at New Providence Oct 12th 1781 the following Votes were passed Viz: . . . and that Mr Rutan and Mr. Britton have liberty to move the old pew on the west side of the Meeting house and put a seat behind it on their own cost . . . At a publick lecture held at New Providence Nov. 2d 1781 the following Votes was pas'd Viz: that Mr. Britton and Mr. Rutan have liberty to build a pew behind the old pew on the East side of the meeting house in the room and stead of the one formerly voted to them . . .”

1831. Littell, First Settlers, 366. This is one of the few errors I've found in Littell. He contradicts himself at this point. On p. 19 he has, “Daniel Baker, son of Thomas Baker, Junior, and Abigail [sic] Hendricks, had children: | . . . | 3. Hannah, married Joseph Rutan, son of Abraham Rutan, of Long Hill, [See Rutan.]”

7. Hannah married John Cauldwell, son of William. [See Cauldwell.]
 8. Mary married, 7th April 1785 Mathias Roll, and went to Ohio. [See Roll.]

 12. Anna married, 29th April, 1799, Moses squier, son of Thomas. [See Squier.]
 13. Elizabeth married, 14th June, 1791, Abraham Cauldwell, son of William. [See Cauldwell.]
- James Miller, son of Charity Rutan, and John Miller, married Anna Collard, and had children: 1. John Miller; 2. Charity Miller, who married Nathaniel Bonnel, of Green Village, as his 2d wife; 3. Ebenezer Miller married Hannah Winters, of N.Y.; 4. Mary Miller; 5. Joseph Miller married Sarah Messler, daughter of John Vleit Messler; 6. James Miller; 7. Margaret Miller married Mr. Logan.^[1832]

He was not mentioned in his father’s will of 1792, consistent with his having removed to “the West” (Littell). He actually moved to far western Maryland (abutting modern West Virginia and western Pennsylvania, see next).

N.B. Allegany Co., Md., was formed in 1789 from Washington Co., Md., which itself had been formed from Frederick Co. in 1776. Allegany became then the westernmost county of Maryland. Then in 1872 Garrett Co. was formed from Allegany Co., and Garrett then became the westernmost county. This seems to be the part to which John Rutan removed.

In his will, John Rutan of Allegany Co., Md., mentions “my dear wife Catherine,” “my son David,” “my daughter Sarah More,” “my son Peter Rutan,” “my son Daniel Rutan,” “my two grand children Sarah and Isac Rutan children of my son Isac Rutan,” “my daughter Mary hoye,” “my

There are enough errors in Hoye (for example, he calls Abraham³ Rutan's wife Elizabeth) that I hesitate to use this data without further corroboration.

Children (in will order):

58 i DAVID⁵ RUTAN, born 1780-1790, married ESTHER —.

From Wright's newspaper extracts: Maryland Advocate, 4 Nov. 1826:

Allegany Equity Court – Robert French agnst [sic] Samuel French and others. Object of bill is to obtain decree for sale of lot westward of Fort Cumberland of which Joseph French, of Allegany Co. died, seized or possessed, intestate, leaving children: . . . , Phebius French, . . . , and a widow Annah French. Phebius m David Rutan of Allegany co who died leaving two children her heirs, Peter and Daniel Ruttun under the age of 21 and who now res in Allegany co. . . .^[1871]

Unfortunately this is inconsistent with the 1830 census (see below), which shows David still alive, and the 1840 census has him too. It's also inconsistent with Hoye, who gives David's wife as Esther.

In 1810 David Rattan, 26-45, resided in Allegany Co., Md., with a woman 26-45, and two boys and one girl under 10. He is listed next to John Rattan, Joseph Moore, and Isaac Rattan.^[1872]

In 1820 David Rattan, 26-45, resided in Allegany Co., Md., with a woman 26-45, and three boys and three girls under 10, and one boy 10-16. He is listed next to John Rattan.^[1873]

In 1830 David Rutan, 40-50, resided in Allegany Co., Md., with a woman 30-40, and a girl under 5, a girl 5-10, one boy and one girl 10-15, and two males 15-20.^[1874]

In 1840 David Rutan 50-60, resided in Selbysport, Allegany Co., Md., with a woman 40-50 and an older woman 80-90

Record of a deed:

Simeon Simpson purchased Sept. 10, 1794, for “one pounds,” from Stephen Sanders and “Catee” his wife of Wash. Co., a parcel of land on Ten Mile Creek for which Stephen Saunders obtained patent, June 2, 1794.

“One of the Justices of aforesaid Co.” testifies: “Catee being by me examined separate from his Husband acknowledged that she voluntarily of her own free will and accord without compulsion of her Husband . . . the foregoing Deed | Signed, Ebenezer Bogle | One of the Justices of aforesaid Co.”^[1897]
