This is a hyperlinked text file.

It looks like a book but acts like a webpage:

The top line of the title page is linked to the table of contents.

Each line in the table of contents is linked to its sketch.

The person atop a sketch is linked to its respective child line.

A child with a + sign is linked to its respective parent sketch.

Each line in the table of illustrations is linked to its picture.

Each footnote superscript is linked to its footnote.

The cursor changes to a pointing finger above a link. Then click.

Text in red is unsubstantiated at this printing, or claimed but not supported by proof, or is a question I am asking for possible future answer, or is in some other way to be considered temporary. An advantage of electronic publishing is that I can continue to improve and update the text while the mass of valid information is made available now. It is important therefore that citations mention the version number, that red items not be cited, and that the color be preserved.

Acknowledgments

I wish to thank the following contributors to this work, but most particularly, Christine (Smith) Andrews, who has generously shared her treasure trove of Smith family artifacts and records with me and other Smith researchers, and similarly to Ken Whitley, who has made careful analysis of much Smith evidence and shared it with me and other researchers:

Family member or researcher—Linda Anderson, Christine (–) (Smith) Andrews, Lynn (Smith) (Lockwood) Aucutt, Gwen Childs, Margaret (Smith) Coleman, Linda Dyer, Leshya Foster, Robert Gleason, Sue Gorman, Hilda Henley, Terry Jenkins, Judson Lovingood, Connie (Beck) Manchester, Casandra (Smith) Martin, Gwen (Smith) McJunkins, Kristin Lee Nielson, Nancy Nielson, Mary Del (Posey) Perkins, Evelyn (Harrison) Pugh, Sam Scarborough, Alvy Smith (my father), William Lawrece Smith, George Snider, Sharla (Goodwin) Snider, Bob Snyder, Melanie Snyder, Debra Thompson, Sherry Thompson, Maureen Webb, Ken Whitley, William “Bill” Randall Wilson, Norma Gorman Wright. And the DNA contributors (see DNA Evidence).

Preface

This book was formerly titled A Texian-New Mexican Smith Family, c1770–2018. And before that it was titled The Jesse Richard Smith Family of Texas and New Mexico, and the Associated Families of Elijah P. Gorman and John Malone Harrison, 1774–2011.

The first name change occurred on 30 Jan. 2013 when I severed the original book into three volumes, one for each distinct surname in the title. At this time I changed the title of the Smith family volume to reflect the broader coverage it has taken on since I originally began working on it over a decade ago. Jesse Richard Smith, my direct ancestor and Texian,^[1] was son of James M. Smith. Via DNA research I was able to push back Jesse's family one generation, to James M. Smith, and hence also to Jesse's uncle, William Berry Smith. So the original book gave rise then to these three:

A Texian-New Mexican Smith Family, c1770–2017

The Elijah P. Gorman Family, 1774–1993.

The John Malone Harrison Family, 1774–2010.

Since the version number at the severing was 7.26, I numbered each of the new volumes version 8.0.

On 14 July 2018 I severed the book (Texian Smiths) again into three new books. The reason was that that the book had grown too large to use effectively in Word. It had reached over 810 pages. Word could still handle it but had slowed down too much.

1. Texian, as distinct from Texan, denotes a citizen of the Republic of Texas, 1836–1846. The same person was generally first a Mexican (before 1836), then a Texian (1836–1846), then an American, specifically a Texan, after 1846, without ever moving. Texan came into use in the 1850s. Texian thus refers to a Republic of Texas heritage. At the infamous battle of the Alamo on 23 Feb.–6 Mar. 1836, Gen. Santa Anna (and 11 times President of Mexico) and his Mexican troops defeated the Texian defenders, killing them all. The Republic of Texas had been declared on 2 Mar. 1836. The Alamo defeat was quickly followed by the famous (20-minute) revenge battle at San Jacinto on 21 Apr. 1836 in which Santa Anna was defeated, captured, and held for ransom, thus leading to recognition of the Republic. Anyone who fought at San Jacinto was rewarded with a “league and labor” of land (4,605 acres) in what is now called, of course, Texas.

PREFACE

The book at that time carried two speculative lines that DNA showed might be promising ones. I have elected to separate out those two lines into two new books:

The Alexander Smith Family

The Randolph Smith Family

Since the version number of the book was v16.45 at the time of the severance, I elected to make the new version number of this book v17.0. I also made the two new books start at version number v17.0.

The section DNA Evidence explains what the two new books contain.

On 18 Aug. 2018 I renamed the book The Alexander Smith Family of Buncombe County, North Carolina, c1770–2018, and gave it version number 19.0. I also renamed the other Alexander Smith family book. So the three new books are:

The Alexander Smith Family of Buncombe County, North Carolina

The Alexander Smith Family of Hawkins County, Tennessee

The Randolph Smith Family

William Berry² Smith and his brother, James M.² Smith (my direct ancestor), both fought at the Battle of San Jacinto, where Gen. Santa Anna was defeated. And Joseph Lawrence, father of Mary Lawrence who married William Berry² Smith's son, Henry Patrick³ Smith, was at San Jacinto too. Another way to put it is that Henry Patrick³ Smith's father, uncle, and father-in-law were all at San Jacinto. All three were originally from Buncombe Co., N.C.

The DNA Evidence

From the DNA evidence for the following Smith males, I deduced the existence of [patriarch]¹ Smith, from whom Michael Curtis⁷ Smith, Timothy Michael⁸ Smith, and I descend. This book proves that [patriarch]¹ was Alexander¹ Smith of Buncombe Co., N.C., in the early 1800.

The Smith males with matching genetic signatures are as follows, with their descendency lists and genetic signatures on 67 markers, where available. The markers that differ are shown in blue. The descents from Alexander¹ are proved in this book:^[2]

mwnjknllmmmCpjjkkypsCoppqkkswpooqKLllkiophjjhjlwvpjllphlvtmlkmmkml

Alvy Ray⁷ Smith III (₁₁₀₁*Alvy Ray⁶, Alvy Ray⁵, Benjamin Benton⁴, Jesse Richard³, James M.², Alexander¹*):

mwnjknllmmmCpjjkkypsCoppqkkswpooqLLllkiophjjhjlwvpjllphlvtmlkmmkml

Craig Alan⁷ Smith (₁₂₈₀*Hubert Jess⁶, John Leland⁵, John H.⁴, Jesse Richard³, James M.², Alexander¹*):

mwnjknllmmmCpjjkkypsCoppqkkswpooqKLllkiophjjhjlwvpjllphlvtmlkmmkml

Timothy Michael⁸ Smith (₁₃₈₄*Roger A.⁷, Robert Deward⁶, Otha⁵, Lewis Wilson⁴, James Colbert³, Joel N.², Alexander¹*):

mwnjknllmmmCpjjkkypsCoppqkkswpooqKLllkiophjjhjlwvpjllphlvtmlkmmkml

The genetic signatures of Michael and myself (Alvy) match at 65 of 67 markers, which means that with high probability Michael and I had an MRCA (Most Recent Common Ancestor) within a few generations. This book shows that our MRCA was Alexander¹ Smith.^[3]

2. Using the space-saving code for repeat counts: a = 1, . . . , z = 26, A = 27, . . . , Z = 52, and the ordering established by the testing company FamilyTreeDNA. The formal name for what I call a genetic signature is a haplotype, but I find that people confuse haplotype and haplogroup, neither of which is intuitively named. A haplogroup is a major subdivision of the human family. Every Smith male in this book belongs to haplogroup R1b, which consists of western European males.

3. See Smith, "The Probable Genetic Signature of Thomas¹ Riggs," for technical details. For full particulars on sources, see the bibliography.

THE DNA EVIDENCE

The third genetic signature, for Craig, matches mine at 65 of 67 markers, and at 65 of 67 markers for Michael's signature. Therefore we are all related (with high probability). Craig and I are third cousins. Our most recent common ancestor was Jesse Richard³ Smith.

The fourth genetic signature, for Timothy, matches mine at 66 of 67 markers, at 66 of 67 markers for Michael's signature, and at 66 of 67 markers for Craig's signature. Therefore we are all related (with high probability).

This book establishes that Michael⁷, Timothy⁸, and (me) Alvy⁷ Smith (along with my third cousin, Craig⁷ Smith) descend from three brothers. This is an achievement for DNA-based genealogy, as Smiths are notoriously difficult to follow via paper trail.

This is a rather spectacular result so let me state it again. Y-chromosome DNA analysis of three living Smith males, Michael⁷, Timothy⁸, and (me) Alvy⁷ Smith, has established that we must be genetically related. Craig⁷ descends from the same brother as me.

This "existence proof" on 67 markers that Michael and I must be related (with high probability) gave me the necessary confidence and resolve to do the scholarly genealogical research to establish exactly how we are related. DNA does not establish line of descent, only that there must be one. DNA says only that there must have been a MRCA = Most Recent Common Ancestor for us, but it doesn't tell us how many generations back he must have been.

Caveat: As the argument in this book unfolds, it will be seen that William Berry² Smith and James M.² Smith are not tightly bound to the other putative children of Alexander¹ (see next). It is possible therefore that the two groups are related in a different way, cousins say, descending from a common MRCA who is not Alexander¹. It is memories of William Berry's descendant, Roxalee⁴ (Smith) Andrews (₁James Lowery³, William Berry², Alexander¹), which I use to establish that Sarah² was sister of William Berry², and that James M.² was brother of William Berry², and that Joel N.² was also brother of William Berry². And hence that all the putative children of Alexander¹ were indeed siblings. Admittedly, this is soft evidence, hearsay from a grandchild, but is what we currently have.^[4]

This book presents the scholarly paper-trail research that establishes exactly who our MRCA was. I originally called him [patriarch]¹, but he is established here to be Alexander¹ Smith of Buncombe Co., N.C., to distinguish him from contemporaneous Alexander Smith of Hawkins Co., Tenn. The result is that Michael⁷, Timothy⁸, and I (and Craig⁷) descend from three brothers, all sons of Alexander¹. They were William Berry², Joel N.², and James M.² Smith, respectively. We are therefore 5th cousins (with Timothy being once removed). I'll refer to the four of us below as “we/us Smith boys.”

There is a technique for taking our four genetic signatures and deriving from them what must have been the genetic signature of Alexander¹. It's the parsimonious rule of thumb that it's more likely for one change per marker than two (and to change in the same direction yet). Details may be found in the reference in this footnote.^[5]

The parsimonious rule yields the following as the likely genetic signature for Alexander¹. The three blue markers are resolved to K, p, and w.

mwnjknllmmmCpijkkypsCoppqkkswpqqKLLlkiophjjhjlwwpjllphlvtmlkmmkml

Timothy Michael is distance 0 from this deduced signature. That is, he matches it perfectly, with no mutations. Michael Curtis is distance 1 from it, as am I (Alvy). Craig is distance 1 from it. Any other Smith male in this family must match this signature closely. We call this the Texian Smith Modal Signature. (This name was given before I understood that Alexander of Buncombe Co. was [patriarch]¹.)

As of 8 Jan. 2017, the genetic signatures for Michael, Timothy, and me have all been extended to 111 markers, to sharpen the result with higher resolution. We all three match exactly on markers 68–111. So the genetic signature of Alexander¹, and the Texian Smith Modal Signature, is extended by these 44 markers:

4. I thank descendant Judson⁶ Lovingood for careful arguments that I should not jump to conclusions based on Roxalee's testimony.

5. I should add “with high probability” because that is always implied in DNA results.

THE DNA EVIDENCE

JoiolzzslkmljilljkkElmxojjvosnxpoylwrinqilk

As of 14 Sept. 2018 the genetic signature for Craig was extended to 111 markers, and the new markers differ only 1 from those of the rest of us (so does not change the modal signature):

JoiolzzslkmljilljkkElmxojjvosnxpoylwrinqilk

Notice that, even at the higher resolution of 111 markers, Timothy is distance 0 from the (full) deduced signature, and Michael and I are distance 1 from it. We are definitely genetic matches. Any other Smith male in this family must match this (extended) signature closely.

Let's now look at two other signatures, where the red markers differ from the Texian Smith Modal Signature. No known paper-trail connections exist proving these two gentlemen part of the Smith clan in this book:

William Barton⁶ Smith (Roy Finnell⁵, George Russell⁴, George Washington³, George Washington², TNAlexander¹):

mwnjknlnmmCpijkkypsCopqqkkswoooqLMllkiophjjhjlwwpjllphlvtmlkmmkml

Ricky Dean⁷ Smith (Vaughn Verlyn⁶, Fred Noble⁵, William Scott⁴, William³, Randolph², [KYpatriarch]¹):

mwnjknlnmmmCpijkkxpsCopqqkkswoooqLMllkiophjjhjlwwpjllphlvtmlkmmkml

Notice that these two signatures are only distance 2 apart.

The descent of William Barton (Bart) from (a different) Alexander¹ appears in my book, The Alexander Smith Family of Hawkins County, Tennessee. Since that Alexander was in Hawkins Co., Tenn., I call him TNAlexander¹ here to distinguish him from our Alexander¹ of Buncombe Co., N.C., at about the same time.

The signature for Bart differs from the one above deduced for Alexander¹, the Texian Smith Modal Signature, by distance 4 which is quite large but not out of reason. Bart's 111-marker result shows him even a further distance 4 from the deduced signature for Alexander¹ on the additional markers. Off by 8 on 111 is a large distance—but see the SNP argument below. The large distance suggests that the MRCA of Bart and us

Smith boys might have occurred several generations earlier than Alexander¹ and TNAlexander¹.

The descent of Ricky from Randolph² (and hence from an hypothesized [KYpatriarch]¹) is proved in my book, The Randolph Smith Family.

Ricky's signature also differs from the Texian Smith Modal Signature by distance 4. The MRCA of Ricky and us Smith boys might also have been several generations earlier than Alexander¹ and [KYpatriarch]¹.

However, Bart matches Ricky on 65 of 67 markers, as already mentioned. That makes them genetically close. We don't have enough information at this time to deduce their modal signature, but we can write it this way, on 67 markers, using the notation {x|y} to mean the marker at that position is either x or y. That is, we don't know which is the mutation:

mwnjknll{m|n}mmCpijkk{x|y}psCopqqkkswoqqLMllkiophjjlwwpjllphlvtmkmkml

We call this the non-Texian Smith Modal Signature. It differs (or might differ) from the Texian Modal Signature at the positions in red. A distance of 3-5 on 67 markers is starting to be too distant, certainly too distant to automatically claim kinship. If the two unresolved marker values resolve to m and y, then the two modal signatures still differ by 3 on 67, a little too loose for comfort.

We have the 111-marker signature for only Bart of this non-Texian pair, with red indicating where it differs from the Texian Modal Signature:

KoiolzzslkmljlljkkElmxojjvosoxoloylwrinqilk

Now we turn to a different kind of genetic argument. We've been discussing a type of genetic analysis based on STR mutations. An STR = Short Tandem Repeat is a short sequence of DNA that gets repeated again and again. Without going into too much detail, the genetic signatures discussed above are essentially a list of the number of repeats of each STR on a Y chromosome. STRs mutate (their repeat counts vary) fairly rapidly in terms of the very slow clock of evolution. Seven generations is an eyeblink on the evolutionary clock. Yet we have seen that we Smith boys have an STR mutation or two in that time period.

Another genetic technique is based on the SNP (pronounced “snip”), or Single Nucleotide Polymorphism. This is a single-letter mutation of great rarity. The whole human race is divided into subfamilies determined by the occasional SNP. We Smith boys must share a common list of SNPs. The deepest SNP—the most recent one timewise—is the one that shows the most kinship. A deep one is called R-S5940. I have it and so do Michael, Timothy, and Craig.

The encouraging news is that Bart also carries SNP R-S5940. What this means is that the chain of rare mutations on my Y chromosome match one for one those on Bart’s Y chromosome, down to a deep level—even though his genetic signature departs by distance 8 from the Texian Smith Modal Signature.

There’s even a deeper SNP, called R-BY38534. So it’s shared by an even smaller set of humans. Both Bart and I share this deep SNP.

Let me express this kind of match between Bart and me another way. We both match for every SNP that is now known for our general branch of the human race, known as the R1b haplogroup, or western European males. All of this group share the SNP called R-M343. The next SNP, called R-P25, in the chain divides the vast R1b clan of human males into two parts. Half (say) of the western European males have SNP R-P25, and half do not. We (Bart and I) are both in the half that has it. Then the next SNP in the chain is called R-P297, which divides our half into half again (or the original group into quarters).^[6] Bart and I are both in the subgroup with that SNP. And so forth. Each SNP in the chain further subdivides the western European males. The 13th SNP in the chain is R-S5940. The 13th SNP subdivides the original group of all western European males into a group roughly $1/8192$ th the size of the original group (8192 is 2 raised to the 13th power). After all this subdividing, Bart and I (and all the Smith boys) still fall into the same bucket.

6. Since this is a rough argument only, I’m assuming that for every SNP on one branch there is also one on the other branch or branches. Although probably true, the corresponding SNPs on other branches would be different from the SNP on our branch and almost assuredly would happen at a different time.

Suppose there are 3 billion males on earth today. Suppose there are 30 major clans. These are not unreasonable assumptions. Western European males form just one of those clans. That means that approximately 100 million males alive today are western European males. Divide this by 8000 (to make the math easier than dividing by 8192 would be) to get 12,500 males who share the chain of SNPs that ends with the one called R-S5940. Are there as many as 12,500 Smiths (our Smiths, not those others) in the world today? Probably not. There are several other SNPs in the chain to be discovered that would narrow this group down to just us Smiths. We are learning new SNPs every few days now. Another three SNPs in the chain would further subdivide this group down to a subgroup of size about 1,500. So a chain of say 16–20 SNPs could just be read off as (our) Smiths. We're not quite there yet.

So again, after all this subdividing—through 13 successive SNPs—Bart and I fall into the same bucket. So do Michael, Timothy, and Craig.⁷

Bart and I have both now been tested for five SNPs deeper than R-S5940. It's called R-BY38534. So far as we know currently, Smith is the only surname that shares this SNP chain of 18 successive SNPs. I don't yet know if Michael or Timothy share R-BY38534. My guess is that they do. [Note added 30 June 2020: Michael does.] Those five additional SNPs narrowed our subgroup down to an estimated size of about 375. That might just actually be all the living Smiths of this family in the world today. What this tells me is that Bart and I MUST be related, but when, where, and how?

Note added 30 June 2020: Bart and I have now been tested positive down one more SNP level, to R-BY72866, down to a couple of hundred (highly estimated) living related Smiths. (I must say that my estimation technique looks a little flimsy at this point. But I can account personally for only 4 living Smith males—myself, my two sons, my one grandson.)

7. We can look forward to a time when a YDNA test will result in a surname. That is, the SNP chain will be known right down to modern times. I've already met one man who knows his SNP chain all the way down the evolutionary tree to himself. But we are not quite there yet, in general

FIRST GENERATION

1. ALEXANDER¹ SMITH was born say 1770 [1765-1784, according to the 1810 census], perhaps in North Carolina, married say 1790, and had eight known children (seven by 1810). He died sometime after the 1810 census and the 3 July 1810 purchase deed (q.v.) and before the 4 Oct. 1833 partitioning deed of his heirs (see below). He had probably died before the 1820 census (if the marriage argument is valid). He married (if the argument in the next section is correct) NANCY —, who was born 1765-1770.^[8] Nancy married, second (again, assuming the marriage argument below is valid), sometime after the 1810 and before the 1820 censuses, James Davidson. She lived to be over 100 years old, according to a family story.

Nancy Davidson Was Alexander's Wife?

I argue that the Nancy Davidson, wife of James Davidson, in the 1833 deed (q.v.) was the remarried widow of Alexander¹ Smith, and not his daughter as each of the other women mentioned in that deed. (1) James Davidson, and presumably his wife Nancy, resided in the 1820 and 1830 censuses next to son-in-law Samuel Lovingood (q.v.). (2) Nancy's husband was not a signatory to the 1833 deed as were the daughter's spouses, and she was not sequestered from her husband by the judge as were the daughters (but see notes after presentation of the deed). (3) There is no record of a James Davidson and wife young enough to be a son-in-law and daughter. (4) Notes from Roxalee⁴ (Smith) Andrews, and passed to me by correspondent Christine (Smith) Andrews:

Grandfather William Berry Smith's father died in North Carolina. Caught in a storm and stopped under a tree for shelter. Lightning struck tree breaking limb which fell on him crushing him to death. He had been a farmer, planter and distiller.

Grandfather William Berry Smith's mother afterwards married a Davis(?) [the ? is in Roxalee's note] She lived to be more than 100 years Old. Had three sets of teeth and second sight—at least this is the gossip handed down by the family.^[9]

On 2 Feb. 1795 the State of North Carolina granted to James Davidson and Joseph Henry 50 acres in Buncombe Co. “on Sandy mush Creek,” with a legal description that mentions “the Rock House” and “both sides of said Creek.” The grant was recorded 29 Aug. 1799. This pair obtained several grants in the county. This deed puts James Davidson in the vicinity perhaps of Alexander Smith on Sandy Mush.^[10]

In 1810 “Elixander” Smith, 26-45, resided in Buncombe Co., N.C., with a woman 26-45, three boys and two girls under 10 [born 1800-1810, Sarah, Matthew, and Joel N., possibly Mary], and one male and one female 10-16 [born 1794-1800, James M. and Elizabeth].^[11]

9. Both notes in an email from Christine Smith, 11 Nov. 2018. Christine says this about Roxalee: “She wrote several documents which are accompanied by notes. She was compiling information she knew about the family. Based on everything, It may have been about 1919. She says she is getting some of the information from her mother who was living with Roxalee and Frank in 1919. And you are correct about the children. In the same notes she identified James M and Sarah as well as Joel along with personal details about them. | She writes a lot about William Berry Smith and other family members. It seems to be in response to request of biographers of WB and James Lowry Smith and is accompanied by various newspaper clippings. | Roxalee and her husband Frank (a prominent Texas attorney) seem to strive for accuracy in all the information they provided anyone. Every time I go back to look at the information, and there are volumes, I notice something new.

There are two other grants in the vicinity of this one in the same deed book, both to the same pair on 4:486, no. 642 on Sandy Mush, and on 4:487b, no. 645 on Turkey Creek. But on 22 Oct. 1801, Joseph Henry of Buncombe Co., N.C., and James Davidson of Wilkes Co., N.C., sold the grant no. 642 land to Joseph Dobson of Burke Co., 100 acres, for $125 [Buncombe Co., N.C., Deeds, 3:347-348, images 179-180/742 online at <www.FamilySearch.org>, FHL 410550, DGS 7551935].

In 1820 James Davidson, over 45, resided in Buncombe Co., N.C., with a woman, over 45 [so born before 1775], three boys and three girls under 10 [born 1810–1820], two boys and one girl 10–16 [born 1804–1810], and one female slave under 14. Next door was Samuel Lovingood, 16–26, with a woman 16–26, and two girls under 10.^[13]

In 1830 James Davidson, 50–60, resided in Haywood Co., N.C., with a woman 50–60 [born 1760–1770], a girl 5–10 [born 1820–1825], and a female 15–20 [born 1810–1815] Listed next was Samuel Lovingood, 30–40, with a woman, 20–30, two boys under 5, two boy 5–10, and two females 10–15.^[14]

Possibly Relevant History—The Davidsons

From the Wikipedia page for Asheville, Buncombe Co., N.C.:

The history of Asheville, as a town, began in 1784. In that year, Colonel Samuel Davidson and his family settled in the Swannanoa Valley, redeeming a soldier's land grant from the state of North Carolina. Soon after building a log cabin at the bank of Christian Creek, Davidson was lured into the woods by a band of Cherokee hunters and killed. Davidson's wife, child and female slave fled on foot overnight to Davidson's Fort (named after Davidson's father General John Davidson) 16 miles away.

In response to the killing, Davidson's twin brother Major William Davidson and brother-in-law Colonel Daniel Smith formed an expedition to retrieve Samuel Davidson's body and avenge his murder. Months after the expedition, Major Davidson and other members of his extended family returned to the area and settled at the mouth of Bee Tree Creek.^[15]

We know the following structure of the Daniel Smith family from the Revolutionary War pension application made for his widow Mary of Buncombe Co., N.C.:

Capt. [or Col.] Daniel Smith, born about 1757, New Jersey,^[16] died 17 May 1824, aged 67, married in the fall, 1781, Burke Co., N.C. (in the home of her father), Mary Davidson, died 20 May 1843, daughter of Maj. William Davidson, niece of Samuel Davidson.^[17]

Children were:

William D. Smith, born 1 Oct. 1784, deceased before the application [his name is perhaps William Davidson Smith].^[18]

James McConnell Smith, born 7 Jan. 1794, in his father's home, in what is now Asheville,^[19] died 4 July 1844 [not the same as "our" James M.² Smith who was in Texas by this time]. He married Mary Davidson. He married Polly Patton, daughter of John Patton.

From the History of Buncombe Co., N.C.:

The County Court of Buncombe County organized that county under the act so creating the county on April 16, 1792 and that court was then composed of the county justices of the peace James Davidson, David Vance, William Whiteson, William Davidson, James Alexander, James Brittain and Philip Hoodenpile, seven of the quorum.^[24]

The first meeting of the County Court mentions other Davidsons: Thomas Davidson as entry officer of lands, John Davidson, son of James, as survey register, James and William Davidson as securities for David Vance and John Davidson, son of James. Also Daniel Smith was security for Thomas Davidson as entry officer

The Court first met at the residence of Col. William Davidson and then in his barn as the meeting was too large for his home.^[25]

Davidson's death, reverting to her first husband's name. Joel Smith had moved to Cocke Co., Tenn., probably before the 1840 census. He and his family lived in the same district as this Nancy, but not nearby.^[29] But this Nancy's age doesn't quite fit the 1810, 1820, and 1830 censuses. N.B. Cocke Co., Tenn., is directly across the North Carolina-Tennessee border from Haywood Co., N.C.

Placeholder. In 1839 Nancy Smith was listed as a taxpayer on 100 acres in Dist. 4, Cocke Co., Tenn., and Joel Smith was listed in Dist. 1.^[30] This also fits the notion of James Davidson's death followed by Nancy reverting to her Smith name, and moving at the same time as son Joel to Cocke Co., Tenn. But, as with the 1850 census, they didn't live nearby one another. And see next for a possible problem with this theory.

Placeholder. In 1830 Nancy Smith, 40-50 [born 1780-1790], resided in Cocke Co., Tenn., with two males 10-15 and two females 15-20.^[31] This Nancy's age doesn't quite match the 1850 Nancy, but if they are the same woman, then she could not be the Nancy Davidson of the 1833 deed.

Note that Wilkes Co., N.C., abuts the part of Surry Co. that the Sparks family resided in, the part now known as Yadkin Co. Several Surry Co. deeds of the time mention the "Wilks line" in the land descriptions. This might be an earlier marriage from which came William Berry² and James M.². But deed research in Wilkes Co. lists several

The Wilkes Co. line appears in the land descriptions for the Smith and Sparks families there at the time of Alexander and Nancy. These are on Little Hunting Creek well south of the Blue Ridge Mountains.

N.B. Burke Co., N.C., was just north of Rutherford Co., N.C., in 1790. In 1791, Buncombe Co., was formed partially from the western-most parts of Burke and Rutherford, and it became effective in 1792. Surry Co., N.C., was four counties removed from Buncombe Co. at that time, and remained so for about 50 years.

N.B. Surry Co., N.C., was divided into two counties in 1789, the left half still Surry Co., and the right half becoming Stokes Co. Then in 1849 and 1850 the lower half of Surry Co. became Yadkin Co., and the lower half of Stokes became Forsyth Co.

In May 1797 Matthew Sparks of Surry Co., N.C., sold to Alexander Smith of Surry Co., N.C., for 20 pounds, 100 acres of land in Surry Co. “on the waters of Hunting Creek.” It was witnessed by Thomas Wright and John Finch and proved in the Aug. 1798 term of Surry Co. court by Thomas Wright.^[41]

On 9 Oct. 1801 Alexander Smith of Surry Co., N.C., sold to Charles Worth of Stokes Co., N.C., for 115 pounds, two parcels of land: “the one deeded to him by Matthew Sparks containing one hundred acres

Alexander¹, whom I originally called [patriarch]¹, was deduced (see The DNA Evidence) from the fact that a living male Smith descendant of James M. Smith—namely myself—has a Y-chromosome DNA genetic signature that matches that of a living male Smith descendant of William Berry Smith. The DNA evidence proves only that James and William had a most recent common ancestor (MRCA), not that the MRCA was their father. However, a descendant of William—his granddaughter Roxalee Smith—claims that William had a brother James who lived in Belton, Bell Co., Tex., which exactly describes my ancestor James.^[44] Based on this anecdote and the DNA evidence I deduced that the MRCA was their father. All subsequent evidence has supported this finding.

Email from Christine Smith, 22 June 2010, includes a memo titled “James M Smith Brother of William Berry Smith,” which contains this item: “According to Roxalee Smith, William Berry Smith’s granddaughter, William Berry Smith had a brother named James who lived in Belton, Texas. James M Smith lived in Belton, Texas and that is where he died.”

N.B. Buncombe Co., N.C., was formed in 1791-1792 from Burke and Rutherford Counties and Indian lands. Haywood Co., N.C., was formed in 1808 from the western part of Buncombe Co. In 1828 the western part of Haywood Co. became Macon Co. In 1851 parts of Haywood and Macon Counties were combined to form Jackson Co.

Figure. The Sandy Mush watershed in North Carolina is outlined in dashed red. The blue marker indicates modern Sandy Mush Twp. The dashed lines highlight in yellow are county lines. Modern Buncombe, Madison, and Haywood Counties have a common corner at the upper left of the watershed. And the Buncombe-Madison boundary follows the top of the watershed from that common corner to highway 63 (New Leicester Hwy.), then it follows Sandy Mush Creek itself to the place where the creek branches from French Broad River. Hominy Creek, tributary to French Broad, is at bottom, below I-40. Newfound Creek, a French Broad tributary, and Turkey Creek, a Sandy Mush Creek tributary are labeled in blue. The Asheville municipal area is at the lower right.^[45]

On 21 Jan. 1803 a deed of particular interest (Figure 44) was made, for 100 acres in Buncombe, on a branch of Sandy Mush, sold to Alexander Smith for $80 by John Strother.^[46]

On 3 July 1810 was another (Figure 45), for 15 acres in Buncombe Co., N.C., on the Piney Fork of Sandy Mush, sold to Alexander Smith for $15 by James Lowry.^[47] The deed was acknowledged in open court and ordered to be registered at the 11 Jan. 1811 session in Asheville.^[48] This is the last known mention of Alexander Smith in the Buncombe Co. records.

Here is the legal description of the 100-acre tract sold to Alexander Smith in 1803 [we discuss the fact that this description doesn't make sense later, but note that north and south measurements sum to equal numbers, 164 poles, but east and west do not, 174 vs 100 poles]:

... on both sides of a N^o West branch of Sandy Mush Creek Including the place where the said Smith now lives and containing one hundred acres beginning at three Spanish or red oaks on the spur of the mountain on the east side of the branch then runing due South eighty poles to a Spanish oak & Sowerwood then east eighty [sic, I believe it should be six] poles to a large hickory and small red oak then South eighty four poles to a poplar and mountain Burch on the point of a mountain on the east side of the creek or branch then running west six poles to the branch ninty four poles to a Stake then north one hundred and sixty four poles to a stake then east ninty four poles to the beginning - The same being part of a large tract of land originally granted to David Alison . . .^[49]

Samuel H. Williams, acknowledged in Oct. 1804 Sessions and ordered to be registered. That deed refers to one of 29 Sept. 1798, John Hughey, Sheriff of Buncome Co., N.C., to John Strother, of Buncombe Co., N.C, who purchased the Allison tract when Allison defaulted on payment of taxes on the tract: Buncombe Co., N.C., Deeds, 4:230-232, images 356-357/742 online at <www.FamilySearch.org, FHL 410550, DGS 7551935, acknowledged by James Davidson, clerk.

Here is the almost identical legal description of the 100-acre tract that the [patriarch]’s heirs sold in 1833 [with same mistake]:

. . . on the waters of the piney fork of Sandy Mush and bounded as follows . . . Beginning on three Spanish Oaks On the Spur of the mountain on the East Side of a branch and South Eighty poles to a Sowerwood then East Eighty poles to a Large hickory and Small Read Oak then South Eighty four poles to a Poplar and mountain Birch On the point of a mountain on the East Side of the creek or branch then Running west Six poles to the branch Ninety four poles to Stake thence North One hundred and Sixty four polls to a Stake then East Ninety four poles to the Beginning-Containing One hundred acres . . . the Same being part of a Large tract of Land originally granted to David Alison . . .^[50]

Similarly, here is the legal description of the 15-acre tract sold to Alexander Smith in 1810:

. . . Land Containing Fifteen acres and Four poles . . . on the waters of the Piney Fork of Sandy Mush and Bounded as Follows Begining on a Spanish Oak on the East Side of a Ridge thence North Fifty Poles to a stake in Alexander Smiths line thence east with his line Twenty Six poles thence North fifty two poles to a Stake thence East twelve poles to a Stake thence South one hundred & two poles to a Stake in Hemphills line Thence West thirty eight poles to the place of Beginning the same being part of a large tract of land originally granted to David son . . .^[51]

And here is the almost identical legal description of the 15-acre tract that the [patriarch]’s heirs sold in 1833:

... the Second Tract Containing fifteen acres four poles ... On the piney fork of Sandy mush Joining the first mentioned tract Beginning on a Spanish Oak on the East Side of a Ridge thence North fifty poles to a stake in a Line of the first tract thence East with that Line twenty Six poles thence North fifty two poles to a Stake thence East twelve poles to a Stake thence South One hundred and two poles to a Stake in Hemphills Line now Lowrys then west thirty Eight poles to the place of Beginning the Same being part of a Large tract of Land originally granted to David Alison ...^[52]

This evidence from the deeds argues strongly that [patriarch] must have been Alexander Smith of Buncombe Co., N.C.

N.B. A descendant of the Smith family is James Low[e]ry³ Smith (*William Berry*²). Coincidence? A History of Buncombe County, North Carolina says this about James Lowry:

‘Col. James Lowry, of Sandy Mush,’ a stepson of George Swain and half-brother of David L. Swain [after whom Swain Co., N.C., was named], was long and favorably known as an industrious and enterprising citizen, both in public and private. He served his country in the legislature very acceptably a great number of times; was State Councillor; and filled many other stations of honor and trust. Bishop Asbury said of him in his early days, 1802: 'I would here record that James Lowry, an agreeable, pious youth, rode with me for the last seventy miles . . . and died in peace in 1857.'^{53]}

The same book has this about Sandy Mush:

Before that war [Revolutionary] one of the South Carolina hunting parties visited the French Broad and crossed a short distance above the mouth of Swannanoa. In their hunt they camped the first night on an unnamed stream tributary to the French Broad. Having hominy for supper they named the creek on which they were encamped, "Hominy." Next they encamped on another stream of which they had never heard and named it "Newfound." Next night, they encamped on a third tributary of the French Broad not known to them and having for supper some wild turkeys which they had killed they called this third unknown creek, "Turkey Creek." Further on they encamped the next night on a fourth unknown tributary of the French Broad; and on account of getting sand in some mush which they had for that supper, they named this fourth creek, "Sandy-mush."^{54]}

The large David Allison tract mentioned was North Carolina Grant No. 251 to David Allison on 29 Nov. 1796 of 250,240 acres in Buncombe Co. "on the South West Side of French Broad river Begining [sic] at a white oak, Hall, Walton, and McIntire's corner on the West Side of the dividing ridge between Sandy Mush and Turkey Creeks . . . crossing the North fork of Hominy C^r . . . to Forgey creek then East one hundred and fifty eight poles crossing said creek . . . to a hickory on the South fork of Hommony creek, then down the said creek . . . crossing McDowell's, Avery's, & Roger's creeks . . . crossing both forks of Mills River (the North fork at Brittons Mill) to two Red oaks at the waggon Road which leads from Buncombe Court house to the upper Settlements and French Broad river then with the various course of the Said road crossing Boylestone, Ben Davidson's and Lambs Creeks to the line

Placeholder: On 2 Dec. 1807 North Carolina granted to Nathan Harrison 300 acres “on Smiths branch of Sandy Mush.”^[56] On 2 Apr. 1811 Nathan Harrison sold to William King, in two transactions, 100 acres “on the south Fork of Smith Branch of Sandy Mush Creek” and 300 acres “On Smith Branch of Sandy Mush.”^[57]

An advance in this Smith family is due to a deed from Buncombe Co., N.C., dated 4 Oct. 1833, contributed by descendant Judson Lovingood, 10 May 2016 (Figure 46 and Figure 47), and rechecked by me 7 Oct. 2016. It is the sale by Smith heirs of land in Buncombe Co., N.C.,

Notice that James Davidson is not a signatory to the document above, and that Nancy Davidson was not taken aside to ascertain no undue persuasion had been applied to her by her spouse. Why didn't James sign? And why was Nancy not sequestered as were the other married women? My current assumption is that Nancy was the mother, remarried to James Davidson.

Because of the next two deeds, we know that the 10 people listed and the one-tenth portions mentioned in the deed above do not correspond. It appears that there were 10 heirs, each with a one-tenth undivided portion. We know so far only eight of these parties. The deed above covers the first six of the heirs listed below. The next two deeds cover the last two:

1. Elizabeth (Smith) and her husband Samuel Lovingood
2. Mary (Smith) and her husband Matthew Rogers
3. Sarah (Smith) and her husband William Crawford
4. Nancy, mother, but not her husband(?) James Davidson
5. Joel Smith
6. Matthew Smith
7. Jesse Smith
8. Nancy (Smith), daughter, and her husband John Brown.

Note that Nancy Davidson cannot be a daughter because there is a daughter Nancy Smith who married John Brown. Note that it was Nancy Davidson who served as administratrix for Jesse Smith.

Two last two descendants in the list above, Jesse Smith and Nancy (Smith) Brown, were revealed with the discovery of the following deeds (Figure 48 and Figure 49) a few pages before the deed mentioning the first six:

Supporting the family structure above is the following deed (Figure 50), where I spell out the legal description of the first tract be-cause it differs rather remarkably from all the legal descriptions of the tract so far discussed and almost corrects the persistent error:

On 24 Sept. 183[?] “Nancy Davidson (alias) Smith” and Leonard Panter posted bond in Macon Co., N.C., on the condition that Nancy Davidson serve as administratrix for the estate of Jesse Smith deceased.^[64] Note that he appears in the 1849 Robeson to Robeson deed above as if he were alive.

The Dowry Question

These Sandy Mush deeds suggests that there are two other undivided one-tenths somewhere. Presumably William Berry and James M. account for them, but there have been no such records found. But how could 64. Macon Co., N.C., Estate Records, 1831-1920, Siler, William T. (cont.)-Vanhook, A. M., images 294-295/2087 online at <www.FamilySearch.org>, FHL 2317507, DGS 5241884, Jesse Smith.

Alexander Robeson use or sell his land if he didn't own all 10 parts? There must be records somewhere.

Or another explanation. Perhaps Nancy Davidson exercised 3 of the 10 portions as an approximation of her one-third dowry. North Carolina dowry laws are explained online thus:

Laws governing a widow's share of real estate (called her dower) evolved as follows: 1663–1783: Throughout marriage a wife had a right to one-third of her husband's real estate. She could not sell it, but he could not sell property without her consent. This was called dower by common law.

1784–1868: A wife's right to one-third of her husband's land became effective only at his death, meaning that during marriage his control was absolute. He could sell any and all of the property. His control was called his "curtesy."

1869: Dower by common law was reinstated. In 1960, dower was abolished along with the husband's curtesy.

Generally, a widow's dower is protected from the husband's creditors. She also is entitled to the dwelling house and outbuildings. When a widow enters her petition for dower it appears on the minute docket as "Jane Doe vs. the heirs of [etc.]" This is a form of law and normally is not an adversarial proceeding.

Though dower is allotted to the widow, she has only lifetime use of it. She never has fee simple ownership if there are bodily heirs surviving the husband. If a widow remarries, she still is entitled to the dower for her lifetime. Upon her death, the land goes to heirs of her first marriage. A sale can be transacted if her husband's heirs go on the deed with her. The dower can be transferred or swapped with one of the heirs, if the others are agreeable and execute quit claim deeds. Heirs, however, cannot not sell the dower out from under the widow. She has to consent to such a sale.^{65]}

The problem with this idea is that the 1833 deed explicitly states that each party is selling its one-tenth part of the undivided legacy. Nancy

Arguments for the Children

The argument that these are patriarch Alexander's children hinges on these facts: (1) Sarah² Smith, his known daughter, is known to have married William Crawford, and they resided in 1830 in Buncombe Co. as stated in the deed. (2) Earlier versions of this book had tentatively listed Joel N.² Smith as a brother, with James, of William Berry (based on Roxalee's notes, q.v.). This deed explicitly lists Joel Smith as brother of known daughter Sarah². (3) Signer Elizabeth Lovingood is established herein to have had maiden name Elizabeth Smith, thus making her a sister of Sarah². Elizabeth married in Buncombe Co., N.C., and resided in Haywood Co. in 1833. (4) Signer Mary Rogers is established to have had maiden name "Marry" Smith, thus making her a sister of Sarah². She was bonded to marry in Haywood Co., N.C., in 1826. (5) James M.² Smith was not a signatory to the deed because he was long gone, to Alabama, by 1820. William Berry² Smith had similarly departed, arriving in Texas supposedly in 1834. (6) Matthew² Smith is established as another brother, but removed to Missouri by 1833. (7) Jesse² Smith and Nancy² (Smith) Brown were established as additional children from other deeds.

A potential problem: Why should Matthew, who had removed to Missouri, be mentioned in this deed but not William Berry or James M., who had removed? Perhaps Matthew had only recently departed. This is consistent with the Caveat in the DNA Evidence section: William Berry² and James M.² Smith might be cousins of the other putative children of Alexander¹ (or related in another way sharing an MRCA). It is only Roxalee³'s notes that binds the children listed in the 1833 deed to William Berry² and James M.² The text below assumes that Roxalee³'s memories were correct. Descendant Judson⁶ Lovingood has kept me aware of this potential problem.

ALEXANDER SMITH OF BUNCOMBE CO., N.C.

Known or suspected children (actual birth order not yet firmly established, and the first one or two children might be from a different mother):

- + 2 i WILLIAM BERRY² SMITH, born about 1792, possibly Buncombe Co., North Carolina, married MARY ANN ASHMORE, and had 10 children. This is Michael Curtis Smith's line.
- + 3 ii JAMES M.² SMITH, born about 1796, North Carolina, married (1) SARAH M. —, and had nine children. This line is my line and also that of Craig Alan Smith. James married (2) LUCINDA (MCCLURE) GRISWOLD, and had one child, and perhaps adopted two more.
- + 4 iii ELIZABETH² SMITH, born about 1799, North Carolina, married SAMUEL LOVINGGOOD, and had at least eight children. She was Elizabeth Lovinggood, with husband Samuel, of Haywood Co., N.C., in the important Buncombe Co. deed of 4 Oct. 1833. This is Judson Lovingood's line.
- + 5 iv SARAH² SMITH, born 31 Aug. 1801, Buncombe Co., N.C., married WILLIAM THOMAS CRAWFORD, and had nine children. She was Sarah Crawford, with husband William, of Buncombe Co., N.C., in the important Buncombe Co. deed of 4 Oct. 1833.
- + 6 v MAT[T]HEW² SMITH, born probably North Carolina, resided in Missouri by 1833. He was probably the Matthew Smith born about 1805, North Carolina, married MELINDA COLE, born about 1808, North Carolina, and had at least eight children and probably 11. This Matthew was in Missouri by 1830. He was Matthew Smith of Missouri in the important Buncombe Co. deed of 4 Oct. 1833.
- + 7 vi JOEL N.² SMITH, born about 1800 or 1808, North Carolina, married CYNTHIA GRIFFIN [or GRIFFITH], and had at least nine children and probably 11. He was Joel Smith of Haywood Co., N.C., in the important Buncombe Co. deed of 4 Oct. 1833. This is Timothy Michael Smith's line.
- 8 vii JESSE² SMITH, born 1800-1810, probably North Carolina, and died in Macon Co., N.C., after selling his one-tenth share of inherited land 12 Feb. 1834 and before 24 Sept. 183[4-9] when Nancy (Smith) Davidson was appointed administratrix for his estate. He probably married the unknown woman who resided with him in the 1830 census.

N.B. Haywood Co., N.C., abuts Buncombe Co. on the west. In 1829 (pending in 1828) Macon Co. was formed from Haywood Co. on its west.

In 1830 Jesse Smith, 20–30 [born 1800–1810], resided in Macon Co., N.C., with a woman 20–30.^[69]

Repeated for convenience: On 24 Sept. 183[?] “Nancy Davidson (alias) Smith” and Leonard “Panter” posted bond in Macon Co., N.C., on the condition that Nancy Davidson serve as administratrix for the estate of Jesse Smith deceased.^[70]

Placeholder. In 1830 Lenard Panther, 40–50, resided in Macon Co., N.C., with a woman 30–40, one boy and one girl under 5, two boys 5–10, two males 10–15, two males and one female, 15–20.^[71]

Placeholder. On 6 July 1833, Macon Co., N.C., Polly Panther, daughter of Leonard Panther, was bonded for marriage to Carr Hester.^[72]

Placeholder. On 22 June 1807, Rutherford Co., N.C., Lucy Smith was bonded for marriage to Leonard “Painter.”^[73] There’s no known connection of Lucy to “our” Smiths. [N.B., there is an LDS Pedigree Resource File that has Lucy daughter of Colby Smith.]

- + 9 viii MARY² SMITH, born about 1811, North Carolina, married MAT[T]HEW ROGERS, and had at least eight children. She was Polly Rogers, with husband Matthew, of Haywood Co., N.C., in the important Buncombe Co. deed of 4 Oct. 1833.
- + 10 ix NANCY M.² SMITH, born 28 Aug. 181[3? 5?], Buncombe Co., N.C., married JOHN BROWN, and had at least 11 children. She was Nancy Brown, with husband John, of Haywood Co., N.C., in the 16 Mar. 1844 Buncombe Co. deed when they sold their one-tenth share of Alexander¹'s land to the same man as the others did.

ALEXANDER SMITH OF BUNCOMBE Co., N.C.

SECOND GENERATION

2. WILLIAM BERRY² SMITH (¹*Alexander*¹) was born about 1792, possibly Buncombe Co., North Carolina,^[74] and died, according to a memorial plaque, 30 June 1876, aged 84,^[75] but in fact died sometime after 1 Jan. 1877, when he signed deeds to two of his children (details follow), and probably on 11 June 1877, Bosque Co., Tex., as given in a sketch about him in the History of Texas Baptists (quotation follows). He was buried in Smith-Pitts Cem., Iredell, Bosque Co., his memorial giving his death date as 30 June 1876.^[76]

He married MARY ANN ASHMORE, who was questionably born in Arkansas (according to the death certificate of her daughter Louisa, q.v., which calls her “Becky” Ashmore, the only document we have apparently that states an actual birthplace for her, but a suspect one), but more likely she was born in South Carolina where most of her siblings were born.^[77] She died before her father’s estate settlement of c1844 and be-

74. William Forrest Smith (q.v.) recalls his grandfathers, William Berry Smith and Joseph Lawrence (both at Battle of San Jacinto): “The father of my father, Henry Patrick Smith, was William Smith who was from Buncombe [sic] County in North Carolina. This being the same county as my grandfather, Joseph Lawrence, was from and William Smith knew or was acquainted with Joseph Lawrence while living in North Carolina.”

77. The argument for this birthplace comes from my correspondent on this family, Christine Smith, who states that the 1850 censuses show “her siblings born in South Carolina until 1822 when Joseph Paschall Ashmore is shown as being born in Mississippi. Mary Ann is presumed to be born in 1804 which makes sense as James Lowry Smith was born 1827.” Walter Ashmore, 57 (b. c1793), born S.C., is in the 1850 census for Attala Co., Miss. James Ashmore, 54 (b. c1796), born S.C., is in the 1850 census for Winston Co., Miss. William Ashmore, 58 (b. c1802), born S.C., is fore the 1850 census, in which she is not listed and which has her three youngest children residing in the household of her daughter, Sarah Tandy (q.v.). She probably died in Washington Co., Tex. Mary was daughter of William Ashmore.^[78]

She perhaps died about 1848, when her youngest son Henry was 4, according to a statement made by Henry's son W. F. Smith (q.v., in Henry's sketch).^[79] She had definitely died by September 1850 when an estate paper of her father William Ashmore was submitted to the County Court of Nacogdoches Co., Tex. It listed his heirs, including "the Children & heirs of Mary Smith dec^d formerly wife of W^m Smith of Washington County Texas."^[80]

Did William Berry Smith Marry a Second Time?

The History of Texas Baptists sketch about William already mentioned states: "June 11, 1877 he died. In the same year he was followed by his wife." This implies that William married again since his first wife probably died before the 1850 census. But another possibility is that this history simply has it wrong about when his wife died.

A deed of 10 Dec. 1873 (q.v.) mentions "Wm. B. Smith and wife, Virginia." Indeed a William Smith married (licensed) 10 Dec. 1869, Bosque Co., Tex.,^[81] Susan Virginia Barton. This seems to support Wil-in the 1860 census for Yorkville, Pickens Co., Ala. Spencer Ashmore, 35 (b. c1815), born S.C., is in the 1850 census for Sabine Dist., Sabine Co., Tex. Paschal Ashmore, 28 (b. c1822), born Miss. is in the 1850 census for Sabine Dist., Sabine Co., Tex. See next footnote.

78. A quotation from "Daughters of Republic of Texas, Volume 1," downloaded from <Ancestry.com> states: "William Ashmore's estate papers, found in the court records of Nacogdoches County, name all 11 children and where they resided at the time the estate was settled: ' . . . to Walter Ashmore, Catherine Sullivan, widow of William Sullivan and James Ashmore of the State of Mississippi, U.S.A., William Ashmore of the State of Alabama, Spencer Ashmore and Paschal Ashmore of Sabine County, Texas, John Ashmore and the heirs of Mary Smith (Mrs. William Berry Smith) formerly of Washington County, Texas, residence now unknown . . .'" See appendix L for the actual wording of the estate papers, supporting this interpretation, but not actually stating anywhere that Mary Smith was Mrs. William Berry Smith.

79. Assuming that the "Mr. Smith" who died when Henry was 4 was actually "Mrs. Smith."

80. Image of William Ashmore's estate paper, Sept. Term 1850, Nacogdoches Co., Tex., County Court, published online at <Ancestry.com> by descendant Christine Smith.

liam Berry Smith having a second wife. But I don't think so. Consider the following:

In 1870 William Smith, 25, a farmer born in Alabama, resided in Meridian, Bosque Co., Tex., with his wife (married in Dec. 1869), "Susan," 20, born in Texas, and with Garlon, 20, a farm hand born in Alabama.^[82] This is surely the William B. Smith who married Susan Virginia Barton on 10 Dec. 1869. Hence there were two William B. Smiths in Bosque Co., and neither was William Berry Smith Jr., born about 1829, died 1862.

I conclude that William Berry Smith (Sr.) did not marry a second time.

Back to William Berry Smith

From The History of Bell County, by George W. Tyler, in a section titled "The Second 'Runaway'-Crouch and Davidson Killed by Indians":^[83]

The returned settlers in the Bell County territory had about completed their work of plowing out and laying by the corn patches, and were gathered at Captain Childer's for the time, when, about the first week in June, 1836, two messengers came in haste from Nashville [on the Brazos in present-day Milam Co., Tex., now a ghost town] with the announcement that they had been sent up to warn these people on Little River and the Leon of an immediate invasion by Indians from the northwest and to urge them to hasten back to Nashville for protection. . . .

William Smith to Susan Virginia Barton, 10 Dec 1869. It is suspiciously signed by "I, Ward Heeler Dept Clerk of the Bosque County Court." This notation is penciled at the bottom: "Vol B (1863-1875) Marriage Bonds." Also *Tex. ALEXANDER SMITH OF BUNCOMBE CO., N.C.

The Little River settlers gathered up such of their belongings as they could carry in a wagon, drawn by a yoke of oxen, and with a few loose cattle, started for Nashville. They camped the first night at the Walker Spring, some six or eight miles east of where Cameron now stands. Here lived Henry Walker, Daniel Monroe and William (“Camel-back”) Smith, who were also preparing to retreat to Nashville but, not being ready, told the Childers party to go ahead, as they would go by a different route anyway.

[Here appears a description of the Indian attack on the Childers party, and the killing of some of it.]

After leaving the Childers party, the Indians appeared at the cabins of Walker, Monroe and Smith and kept up an attack upon them nearly all day. The three families there got together in one cabin and defended themselves by firing through port holes. No Indians were killed but some were wounded and toward night they retired. The Walker, Monroe and Smith party, well mounted, made their way safely to Nashville, arriving soon after the Childers party.

From the same Tyler history, in a chapter titled “Troubles with Indians in the Little River and Upper Milam County Area, 1837-1843”:^[84]

In October, 1838, a party of twenty-three men, who were surveying lands in the southwest part of the present county of Navarro, about one mile west of the present town of Dawson, but then in Milam (or Robertson) county, were attacked by about three hundred Indians, chiefly Kickapoos. After a desperate struggle lasting all day and into the night, six only of the party escaped, leaving seventeen of their comrades dead on the field. Among the dead was Euclid M. Cox. Wm. F. Henderson, who was long afterward an honored citizen of Corsicana, Walter P. Lane, a veteran of the Texas Revolution and afterward a distinguished Brigadier General in the Confederate Army, and William (“Camel-back”) Smith (mentioned before in our account of the “Second Runaway”) were among the six who escaped. W. P. Lane, William Smith, Violet and another man of the survivors were severely wounded. The Indian death loss was said to have doubled that of the Texans. The affair occurred on a little creek which from this circumstance bears the name of "Battle Creek," and where, in 1885, John P. Cox and Rev. J. Fred Cox, sons of Euclid M. Cox, erected a befitting monument, on which the names of the participants are engraved. A fence was built to enclose the monument and a lone tree, behind which Cox had stood and killed several Indians before receiving his death wound.

From Salado, Texas: Its History and People, by Felda Davis Shanklin:^[85]

In 1862 another group moved to Salado, among whom were Col. J. T. Flint, O. M. Bigham, Prof. J. L. Smith, and Dr. J. A. Ewing.

Prof. James Lowery Smith was greatly responsible for the establishment of Salado College. His father, William Berry Smith, moved from Raleigh N.C. where young James was born, to Alabama and then to Texas. He is first mentioned in Mr. Tyler's book as living at Walker Springs, seven miles from the present town of Cameron, as early as 1836 during the second runaway of the Texas Revolution.

Smith and two other families living there, being warned of an Indian attack, got together in one cabin and defended themselves by firing through bore holes. After several Indians were wounded, the rest escaped at night. The three white families then, on good horses, made their way safely to Nashville.

We hear of William B Smith again in 1838 when he and 20 other men, surveying lands in present Navarro County, were attacked by 300 Kickapoo Indians from the north. The Kickapoos were famous hunters, brave, well armed warriors, and rivals of the fierce Comanches.

A desperate battle ensued which lasted a day and a night. Only six of the party escaped, Mr. Smith being one of them, although he was wounded. The Indians lost twice as many men. The creek near which this struggle occurred is still called "Battle Creek." [See the sketch of son James Lowery Smith for continuation of this article.]

ALEXANDER SMITH OF BUNCOMBE CO., N.C.

Smith and William Berry Smith, James Lowery was born in North Carolina in in 1827. The family came to Texas in 1834 and settled in Milam County about ten miles east of Cameron. Indian depredations were so severe that the Smiths moved to Washington County between Chappell Hill and Independence.¹⁹ Because of humped shoulders, the elder Smith was called “Camelback” and later “Uncle Billy.” He was an expert gunsmith, marksman, and fearless Indian fighter. He served in the Texas Revolution and was a close friend to Houston, Burnet, Lamar, Sterling Robertson, and “Deaf” Smith.²⁰ William Smith died in Bosque County June 11, 1877, and his wife died the following year, leaving the following children: James L., Alexander, Henry, Lula (Mrs. Pitts), Lizzie (Mrs. Russell of Iredell), and Sarah (Mrs. Tandy).^{186]}

This is The History of Texas Baptists history as cited in the source above:^{187]}

William Smith and family came to Texas from North Carolina in 1834, one of the greatest pioneer families of Texas, great as courageous pioneers, as early foundation layers and builders, educators and business citizens. William Smith, because of rounded or humped shoulders, was frequently called “Camel Back Smith,” in late years, however, he was known by everybody as “Uncle Billy.” He was really a great character, and especially as a pioneer. He was an expert gunsmith, a very famous marksman, and a fearless Indian fighter. In Texas history he is several times referred to by name, as taking part in noted Indian fights. And one time especially in one serious Indian fight, his brave wife is said to have rendered valuable and heroic service. John Henry Brown in his “Indian Wars” referring to this incident uses these words: “Honored forever the pioneer mothers of Texas, and thrice honored be such as Mrs. Smith.”

William Smith served honorably and gallantly in the Texas Revolution. He was at the Battle of San Jacinto, but because of wounds previously received he was detailed on that day to care for the teams, wagons and supplies. Such men as Burnett, Lamar, McCullough, General Burleson, Anson Jones, “Deaf” Smith, Sterling Robertson and Sam Houston were his intimate friends. Sam Houston was frequently a guest in his home. At different times he lived in Milam, Washington, Bell and Bosque County. June 11, 1877 he died. In the same year he was followed by his wife. Their children were: James L., Alexander, Henry, Lula (Mrs. Pitts), Lizzie (Mrs. Russell of Iredell), and Sarah (Mrs. Tandy). A special sketch will be given of Mr. James L. Smith, the oldest son, one of the greatest Baptist educators of Texas. The following are some of the distinguished grandchildren of these great pioneers: James L. Smith, a banker of Amarillo – a citizen, a Christian, and a Baptist of whom Texas is proud; Mrs. Andrews, wife of the Hon. Frank Andrews, of Houston, himself the son of a worthy Texas Baptist preacher.

William Smith was issued a certificate on 1 Feb. 1838 by the Board of Land Commissioners, Washington Co., entitling him to a league and labor for being in the Republic of Texas at its inception, as a married man. He came before the Commission on 10 Jan. 1838 and proved that he had arrived in Texas in 1835 and was a resident there at the date of the declaration of independence, as a married man at that time, and that he had remained in the county ever since with his family. See appendix H. He was granted the land promised by the certificate—a first-class head-right—by Gov. George P. Wood of the state of Texas on 3 Oct. 1849, being located in Milam District on the Main Bosque River, about 49 miles northwest of “Waco Village.” See also appendix H.

In 1846 a Wm. B. Smith is listed in Brazos Co., Republic of Tex.^[88]
From History of Bell County, Texas, by Bertha Atkinson:^[89]

The first Indian hunt that ever went out from Bell County was in the spring of 1849. It came in this way: An old gentleman known as “Cowhouse” Taylor had just moved in and camped on the Cowhouse near the mouth of the branch known as Taylor’s branch. There came with him from eastern Texas a young man by the name of John Potter. From where they were camped they saw a squad of Indians driving a large herd of horses up the valley. Potter was sent to notify the settlers below. A crowd of men and boys consisting of . . . Camelback Smith and his son William, . . . , and John Potter, the guide, were soon on the trail. They struck it at Taylor's branch on Cowhouse and followed it to the headwaters of the Leon river, where the Indians had been intercepted by Lieutenant Pickett who had been sent out from Fort Gates with a squad of soldiers with pack mules and Mexican drivers. The Lieutenant had found the Indians camped in a bottom on the branch. He charged them with his full force excepting the Mexicans. Had it not been that the Texans had to break their way through a dense thicket, they would have made a better attack than they did.

From the same Atkinson history:^[90]

There were also three blacksmith shops in the county. In 1848, the first blacksmith shop stood in Taylor's Valley near where the old Giles house now stands. It was run by a man named Stewart, who had an Indian wife and two papooses. In 1849, "Camelback" Smith had a shop at Supples's store on the Lampasas and John Danley had one at Bill Reed's place on Little River.

In 1810 William Smith, 16-26 [implies born 1784-1794], resided in Buncombe Co., N.C., with a woman 16-26, and with two boys under 10.^[91] There was another William Smith in 1810 in Buncombe Co. but he was over 45.

In 1820 William Smith, 26-45 [implies born 1775-1794], resided in Buncombe Co., N.C., with a woman 26-45, and with three boys and one girl under 10.^[92] There was also a William D. Smith in 1820 in Buncombe Co., 26-45, with a woman 26-45, two boys and two girls under 10, two boys 10-16, and one male 26-45, and 15 slaves. Nearby was listed James M. Smith, 26-45, with a woman 16-26, four girls under 10, one boy 10-16, and three males 18-26.^[93] After studying Buncombe Co. deeds for a long time, I've concluded that William D. Smith was probably from a completely different Smith family, as was (this) James M.

In 1850 William Smith, 47 [implies born 1803], a blacksmith born in North Carolina with $2,500 real estate, resided in Milam and Williamson District, Milam Co., Tex., with Milam, 17, a blacksmith, born in Mississippi, and Ransom, 11, born in Texas. Sharing the dwelling were William B. Smith, 21, a blacksmith born in Mississippi, with Antoinette, 18, born in Alabama.^[94]

On 10 Dec. 1873 “Wm. B. Smith and wife, Virginia Smith” sold to Samuel L. Smith and Nancy Smith 230 acres on the north bank of the North Bosque River for $1,350.^[95] The location on the North Bosque River (see the two deeds of 1 Jan. 1877) suggests that this was William Berry² Smith. If so, then it also identifies a second wife, Virginia. But I’ve already argued that this is not William Berry Smith, but a much younger man, also named William B. Smith, and also resident in Bosque Co., Tex. William Berry Smith had only one wife, I believe.^[96]

On 3 Sept. 1875 in Meridian, Bosque Co., Tex., William Smith sold a plot of his land, of 350 acres in Bosque Co., to his daughter Elizabeth E. Russell. See appendix J for the deed. It was filed for record 14 Dec. 1876, but by mistake filed away and not recorded until 26 Jan. 1877. The deed mentions William’s son, William, deceased.

On 1 Jan. 1877 in Bosque Co., William Smith sold to his son, H. P. Smith, for five dollars and love and affection, 275 acres of his land on North Bosque Creek in Bosque Co., Tex. (appendix K). On the same day he sold to his son, Ransom L. Smith, for five dollars and love and affection, 470 acres of his land on North Bosque Creek in Bosque Co., Tex. (appendix K).

10-16, and three males 18-26, and nine slaves.^[105] But there is a James M. Smith with slaves in Buncombe Co. in 1830 and 1850. So surely this was not our James M. Smith, in Alabama in 1820. Note that a James M. Smith, with wife Polly Patton, had a daughter Elizabeth A. James's son, Jesse, was born in Pickensville, Pickens Co., Ala., in 1820 (q.v.). There was a James Smith listed in Pickens Co., Ala., in 1824.^[107] Indeed, on 10 May 1824 "James Smith of Pickens County" was granted 80.47 acres in the Tuscaloosa District, Ala.^[108]

In 1824 James Smith was listed as a member of the Commissioners Court, Pickens Co., Ala.^[109]

In 1830 James Smith, 30-40, resided in Pickens Co., Ala., with two women 30-40 [Sarah and ?], and with a boy [William, just born perhaps] and a girl [Emily, about 1] under 5, two boys [Jesse, about 10, and John, about 7] and one girl [Margaret, about 6] 5-10, and one male [?] 15-20.^[110] land in the new Republic of Texas. Here is a transcription of the award of the league:

This is to certify that Ja^s M Smith has appeared before the Board of Land Commissioners for the County of Montgomery and proved according to Law that he arrived in this Country Dec^r 1835 and that he is a married man and entitled to One League of Land^[112] upon the condition of paying at the rate of Three 50/100 dollars for every labor of Irrigable land, Two 50/100 dollars for every labor of Temporal or arable land, and One 20/100 dollars for every labor of Pasture land which may be contained in the Survey secured to him by this Certificate. According to Looscan (1913), 284, 288, Joseph Theall was Dugald’s son-in-law, married to daughter Eureka McFarlane. Looscan has Dugald born in Scotland about 1796 or 1797, immigrated to S.C. when he was 18 or less, moved to Ala. and married Eliza M. Davenport and resided near Tuscaloosa, or in it.

for the same company also under Dugald McFarland, for the period 31 Aug.–31 Oct. 1836, lists Pvt. James M. Smith, enrolled on 13 Feb. 1836 for the duration. And another muster roll, but for Company A this time under Dugald McFarland, for the period 31 Oct.–31 Dec. 1836, contains many of the same names (over a dozen) as the previously mentioned muster roll, including Sgt. James Smith, enrolled [torn, possibly 15] Feb. 1836 for the duration, who is probably therefore also James M. Smith, with a promotion.^[116]

The definitive evidence for all this is the official discharge from Texas Army duty of James Smith, who enlisted on 13 Feb. 1836, signed on 20 May 1837 by Capt. D. McFarland, Company A, 1st Regiment Regular Artillery. James had served 15 months 4 [sic] days, with the last 5 months 24 days as a second sergeant (Figure 35).^[117] From these dates it is ascertained that James was officially discharged on 17 May 1837, and had been promoted from private to sergeant on 23 Sept. 1836.

In 1840 and 1846 James M. Smith was listed in Montgomery Co. [Republic of Tex.] tax lists.^[118]

In 1840 James M. Smith and Jesse Smith (presumably his son) served under Gen. Felix Huston, according to a claim for pay for that service, paid to the claimants on 12 Aug. 1857, mailed to Brenham, Washington Co.^[119] The discharge papers for James and Jesse state that their service was for 18 June to 12 July 1840, “by order of Felix Huston Maj Gen¹ of the Militia of Texas.”^[120] So James (and probably also Jesse) did not take part in the Battle of Plum Creek on 11 Aug. 1840 under Gen. Felix Huston, described in the Handbook of Texas as follows:

The battle of Plum Creek was an aftermath of the Council House Fight, in which many of the Comanche Indian chiefs, their women, and warriors were killed. In the summer of 1840 the Comanches swept down the Guadalupe valley, killing settlers, stealing horses, plundering, and burning settlements. After sacking Linnville in Calhoun County, they started a retreat. The Texans organized a volunteer army under Gen. Felix Huston, Col. Edward Burleson, Capt. Mathew Caldwell, and others and with Texas Rangers under Ben McCulloch overtook the Indians at Plum Creek in the vicinity of the present town of Lockhart [Caldwell Co., Tex.] on August 11, 1840. There a decisive defeat on the following day pushed the Comanches westward.^[121]

In 1846 a James M. Smith was listed in Montgomery Co., Republic of Tex.^[122] Furthermore, he was listed there, also in 1846, as a trustee of Methodist-Episcopal Church. In that year Joseph Lindley donated three acres of his land to the trustees of the church (others were William Cude, Daniel Robinson, and Thomas W. Hoy). The deed states Lindley’s desire that the church to be built on the land would be used by other Christian denominations in addition to the Methodist-Episcopalians.

ALEXANDER SMITH OF BUNCOMBE CO., N.C.

A cemetery now known as the Old Danville Cem., or the Shepard Hill Cem., is now located on that land.^[123]

Placeholder: In 1850 James M. Smith, 54, a mechanic born in North Carolina with $1,800 real estate, resided in Washington Co., Tex., with Lucy, 46, born in Georgia, and with H. R., 28, male, Rebecca, 18, Jane, 15, and William, 18, all four born in Mississippi.^[124] After the first line, none of this item fits our James, with the one possible exception of William, 18, who might have been son, William Ledbetter, born 1829 in Alabama, but that seems a stretch. Note in deeds below that James's wife in 1852 was Sarah.

On 19 Jan. 1852 James M. Smith was granted 640 acres of land in Leon Co., Tex., for his participation in the Battle of San Jacinto on 21 April 1836. Here is a complete transcription of this important document:^[125]

On 30 Dec. 1852, “James M Smith and Sarah M Smith (his Wife), both of this county of Washington and the State of Texas” sold to Asbury Daniel of the same place, for $2,000, a parcel of land “whereon Said James M Smith now resides it being a part of a half Legue [sic] of Land granted to Abner Kuykendall.”^[126]

Ken Whitley, a descendant from James M. Smith’s daughter, Margaret, has researched James for years. I now defer to his careful analysis of the Texas records, with his permission, for this excerpt which emphasizes the intertwining of the Smith and Whitley families:

James M. Smith served with the Army of Texas during the War for Independence. A prime document filed in the General Land Office in Austin, Texas, is his Donation Warrant #492, issued 3 August 1838, Patent #347, dated 19 Jan 1852, for 640 acres located in Robertson District, Leon County, Texas, 16½ miles west of Centerville, Texas, filed for record 8 May 1855. This land warrant was issued “in consideration of the grantee’s having participated in the Battle of San Jacinto 21 April 1836.”

126. Washington Co., Tex., Deeds, L:84-86, photocopy courtesy Ken Whitley, June 2010. The land description is more fully “it being a part of an half Legue of Land granted to Abner Kuykendall and Known in the division of Said half League of Land as Lot N° 3.” James Smith and Sarah M Smith signed the deed, and it was witnessed by Aaron C. Daniel and John T Pearl [perhaps “Peard”].

ALEXANDER SMITH OF BUNCOMBE CO., N.C.

This land, apparently sold by James M. Smith to one Louis Durst by Deed of Trust (mortgage), then foreclosed for lack of payment ($250), was placed in the hands of trustee A. M. Weir who auctioned it off for $166 to satisfy the indebtedness. The buyer was one Willim Holman. James M. Smith never lived on this land, or in Leon County, at the time of these transactions. It must be mentioned here that, not coincidentally, the land was located along the Navasota River about 16 1/2 miles West of Centerville adjoining land granted by warrant to John Sadler, another veteran of the Battle of San Jacinto, and the man from whom James M. Smith obtained a labor (177 acres) of land for his homestead at New Waverly. James was neighbors with John Sadler there, and with Samuel Washington Lindley, John's father-in-law. Samuel Lindley was the husband of Elizabeth Whitley, GGGgrandaunt of this writer.

According to explanation by staff researchers of the Texas State General Land Office, this Donation Warrant #492, is associated with the James M. Smith who enrolled 13 February 1836 in Company B, 1st Regiment Artillery, Texas Army; Company Commander 2nd Lt. Dugald McFarland, Regimental Commander Colonel James C. Neill, and answered the last muster on 31 October 1836 at Camp Johnson. [I (Alvy) found James, now a sergeant, still in McFarland's outfit, now Company A, from Oct. to Dec. 1836 (q.v.). Ken has subsequently found James's official discharge on 20 May 1837 as 2nd sergeant from Company A (q.v).] It is a historical fact that Col. Neill had been in command of the Alamo garrison in San Antonio until turning command over to Col. William Barrett Travis and Jim Bowie before the siege of the Alamo.

Other documents were found in James M. Smith's file at the Texas General Land Office. Headed by Elijah Collard, the Board of Land Commissioners of Montgomery County, Texas, issued a 1st Class Head-right Certificate, #298, on 16 March 1838, to James M. Smith for one League (4,428 acres) of land. On the same date, he was issued Certificate #299 for one Labor (177 acres) of land. Government policy of the day made it his prerogative as to where he claimed his land. It was in these documents that December 1835 was stated as the month and year James M. Smith arrived in Texas.

The Labor of 177 acres was surveyed on 12 June 1838 by Jonathan S. Collard. His chain carriers were Jesse Smith and John Baker. The land was located east of South San Jacinto River in Montgomery County along the north boundary of John Sadler's League intersected by Little Caney creek inside the limits of the present-day town of New Waverly, Walker County (created out of Montgomery County in 1846). This became the homeplace for the Smith family for the next ten years. First listed in the 1838 tax roll of Montgomery County, James continued to be listed to 1846. In 1840, he was assessed taxes on 177 acres, 1 horse, 15 cattle, and one 2-wheel carriage. In 1841, his assets included 1 slave, 10 cattle and his 177 acres.

The Smiths and John Sadler were named in County road maintenance tasks in Commissioner's Court Minutes books of Walker County. The Court's Minutes for 12 January 1848 named many of the families in the community where the Smiths lived: William Lindley (a son of Samuel and Elizabeth (Whitley) Lindley, Wilson and Jennings O'Banion, and Elijah and John Harrison were close by. Just to the north in the direction of Huntsville were the Collards, Tolberts, Pursleys and Whitleys—all related through marriages.

On 18 November 1830, back in Illinois, John Sadler had married Barsheba Lindley, a daughter of Samuel and Elizabeth Lindley. Elizabeth was a sister to Mills and Sharp Whitley. Mills's son, William, married Emily Collard, a daughter of Elijah Collard. Mills Whitley was the Montgomery County Justice of the Peace who performed the marriage ceremony on 15 October 1840 for Margaret Smith and Larkin Day. Mills's nephew, Elisha Whitley, married Emily A. Smith on 17 May 1847 in Walker County. Jesse Richard Smith married Elizabeth Mary Harrison (sister of Elijah and John Harrison) in 1849 after their move to Washington County. These associations with the Smiths beginning in 1836 formed the basis of close family relationships for the next thirty years and more as many of them moved out and across the State of Texas.

The other major landholding of James M. Smith, his 1st Class Headright issued as Certificate #298 for 25 Labors (one League of 4,428 acres) was surveyed on 22 August 1838 by J. E. Scott, of Robertson County. The land was located in Navarro County, west of the Trinity River, north of the San Antonio Road on Post Oak Creek, a tributary of Richland Creek, and bordering on the J. T. Bell Survey. The surveyor's chain carriers were James Little and Perry Randolph. The land lies along present-day State Highway 31, 13 miles southwest of Corsicana, Texas.

ALEXANDER SMITH OF BUNCOMBE CO., N.C.

James M. Smith never lived on this land, a similarity with the James M. Smith/Leon County land warrant previously referred to. On 20 October 1838, James assigned 1,107 acres (1/4 League) over to John Welch for siting and clearing services. President Anson Jones, Republic of Texas, issued James's Patent #236 on 5 November 1845 for these 25 Labors. On 2 October 1854, James Smith, "of Bexar County," as witnessed by Bexar County rancher Elisha A. Briggs (James's neighbor 16 miles west of San Antonio), sold 1,106 acres of this League to Dread Dawson for $1,000. On 31 January 1857, James assigned Power-of-Attorney to Ethan Melton of Navarro County to settle a conflicting claim involving the other half of his headright and Mercer Colony claimants. This land provided James the opportunity to raise cash when he needed it until he had disposed of the entire holding.

Montgomery County deed records show that James M. Smith made a number of land transactions in 1846, including one involving his son-in-law (now a widower), Larkin Day.

The War with Mexico was just beginning but there is no evidence that James was involved, although his son Jesse Richard Smith joined the Texas forces. The 13 January 1848 Walker County Commissioner's Court Minutes show that several Smiths—Jim, William and Henry—were still in that county. Just a short time later, however, James moved his family to Washington County near present-day Earlywine. In March 1848, James paid $550 for 276 3/4 acres purchased from Brazilla Kuykendall, a son and heir of Abner Kuykendall, one of three brothers who were the first of Stephen F. Austin's "Old 300" colonists. This acreage was identified as Lot #3, located on Hardeman Creek, a tributary to Kuykendall Creek. Witnesses in that transaction were James's sons, Jesse R. and John Smith, both in their late 20s by this time.

On 14 January 1849, Jesse R. Smith, in partnership with Elisha Whitley, bought 277 acres identified as Lot #8 of the Abner Kuykendall half-league near the acreage previously bought by James M. Smith. It was here that Jesse married Elizabeth Mary Harrison on 15 February 1849.

The Texas Agriculture Schedule of 1850 for 1849 production listed James M. Smith with 30 acres improved, 240 acres in pasture @ $1,800, tools @ $28, 8 horses, 15 milk cows, 8 ox, 50 cattle and 40 pigs @ $800; also 2 bales of cotton, 68 bushels of sweet potatoes, and 365 pounds of butter. Unfortunately, the Smith and Whitley families were not enumerated in the census of 1850 although they were living in Washington County at that time.

The Washington County tax rolls listed James M. Smith and several of his sons from 1849 to 1852. Also included in the Washington County tax roll was Sharp Whitley, father of Elisha Whitley. It was their past acquaintance in Montgomery County, then Walker County, and the marriage of Emily A. Smith and Elisha Whitley in 1847 that continued the bond between the Smith and Whitley families, to be further cemented in 1857 with the marriage of Martin Whitley, another of Sharp's sons, to Mary L. Smith, another of James's daughters. The bond was again strengthened in 1857 with the marriage of James M. Smith's granddaughter, Sarah Amanda Day, to Thomas Jefferson Whitley, a first cousin to Elisha and Martin Whitley.

Another indication of the closeness of their families was the marriage on 24 December 1849 in Washington County of Elisha's sister Catherine Whitley to John Alexander Smith, a son of William Berry Smith who was a brother to James M. Smith.

Sharp Whitley had moved his family to Lavaca County a few miles away by 1850 where Elisha and Emily joined him after Elisha sold his 138 acres on 27 December 1851. It was in that year, on 31 March 1851, that James M. Smith's son, William L. Smith, bought 825 acres (on an $825 mortgage) in Bexar County from Samuel H. Luckie, located in the west portion of Richardson Survey #8, 17 miles west of San Antonio along the Medina River. On 7 August, 1853, Samuel Luckie's nephew, William P. "Bill" Luckie, would marry James M. Smith's daughter, Sarah Ann Smith.

It was probably William's land deal that attracted his father James M. Smith and other family members to Bexar County. James and Sarah M. Smith sold their land in Washington County on 30 December 1852 to Asbury Daniel and moved to Bexar County. They bought 150 acres from Elisha A. Briggs on 22 July 1854 after having arrived the previous year. The land that James bought was part of the George W. Price grant, located 16 miles west of San Antonio along the lower side of the Medina River not far from the land William had bought previously.

As stated above, James's wife Sarah M. died on 10 March 1856. The Smiths were living about a mile and a quarter east of present-day LaCoste, Texas, at the time, but Sarah's burial site has not been located.

ALEXANDER SMITH OF BUNCOMBE CO., N.C.

James M. Smith had been listed in the Bexar County tax rolls since 1853. That year he was assessed taxes on 50 acres, 10 horses, 200 cattle and 2 wagons valued at $1,900. By 1859, he had 319 acres on the Medina River in the Price grant west of San Antonio with 4 slaves @ $2600, 15 horses and 200 cattle @ $1200. The 1860 Bexar County Slave Schedule described his slaves as 1 male, 35 years old, 1 female, 25, 1 female, 3, and 1 female, 2 years of age. The court document dated 26 January 1860 named them as “Buel,” “Rachel,” and “Clara,” the infant unnamed.^[127]

In 1860 James M. Smith, 60, a stock raiser born in North Carolina with $1,000 real and $3,300 personal estates, resided in LaCoste, Bexar Co., Tex., with Lucinda, 42, born in Ohio, and with Frank, 20, born in Texas, Sarah M. “Griswold,” 14, born in Ohio,^[128] Lucinda V. Griswold, 5, born in Texas, William N. Griswold, 3, born in Texas, and Charles W. Smith, 4 weeks, born in Texas. Next door were J. and Sarah Whitley, and beyond them were W. P. and S. A. Luckie. Also next door was E. A. Briggs, mentioned in the 1866 deed (see next).^[129] The Griswold children were Lucinda’s from her previous marriage, Frank was James’s from his previous marriage, and Charles was the result of the second marriage of both James and Lucinda. There was also a James Smith, 24, on the next page of the census, who was surely James Jr. And a Joseph Smith, 57, on the same page as James (Sr.), but listed as born in France(?).

The 1860 slave schedule lists four black slaves for James M. Smith of Bexar Co., Tex.: a male, 35, a female, 25, and two girls, 2 and 3, all residing in a single house.

Stepping back one census for Lucinda: In 1850 William Griswold, 34, a farmer born in Ohio with $3,000 real estate, resided in Marion, Marion Co., Ohio, with Lucinda, 29, born in Ohio, and with Ann, 9,

GREETING:

Whereas, Sarah A Luckie, and her husband William P Luckie, Amanda Whitley, and her husband Jefferson Whitley, Mary Whitley, and her husband Martin Whitley; all residents of Bexar county, State aforesaid, and Emily Whitley and her husband Elisha Whitley, residents of Karnes county, State aforesaid, have filed in the Clerks Office of the District Court of said county, their petition against [sic] James M Smith, a resident of Bexar county, State aforesaid; representing that Sarah Smith was heretofore legally married to defendant; that on or about the 10th [possibly 18th] day of March, A D 1856, said Sarah Smith being defendant's wife as aforesaid, departed this life, leaving, owned and possessed by her, in common with defendant, a large amount of property, consisting of the following lands, slaves, and personal effects worth the sums hereinafter mentioned, at the time of her death, to-wit: about 300 acres of land on the Medina river, in Bexar county, the homestead of said Sarah Smith, dec'd, and defendant, worth about $4000. Also the purchase money of defendant's headright league of land, in Navarro county, sold for about $9000; also a negro man named Buel [sic], worth $2000, a negro woman, Rachel, worth $1500, Clara, worth $600, and an infant worth about $500, Pres[?] worth $2900; fifty horses worth $3500. 300 cattle worth $2490, about 100 hogs worth $300, 50 fine sheep worth $200, 8 yoke of oxen, and 2 waggons, worth $890. That there were no claims against her said estate, at the time of her death; that said defendant has since her decease, used and enjoyed the rents and profits of the above mentioned property; that the hire of the negroes was worth $500 per annum; that the use of the purchase money of the headright league is worth 12 per cent per annum, that the increase of the lands, slave and personal effects is worth about $2000; that since the death of said Sarah Smith, defendant has, and still does, fail and refuse to account for or make over to petitioners, their respective rightful slaves of said estate.

Petitioners further represent that said Sarah A. Luckie, Mary Whitley, and Emily Whitley, were the lawful children and heirs of said Sarah Smith, that said Amanda Whitley is the lawful and only child and heir of Margaret Angeline Day, who was the lawful daughter of, but died before, the said Sarah Smith, that petitioners together with whatever other heirs there may be, are owners in coparcenary¹³⁴ of one-half of the above mentioned property; that they believe that John Smith, William Smith, Franklin Smith, a minor were all lately of Bexar county, Texas, and Jesse R Smith and Jas M Smith, Junior, of Atascosa county, Texas, all claim part of said estate as heirs; they pray for judgment and costs, and that partition and distribution of the property, and that a guardian ad litem be appointed for said minor, and the said Jefferson Whitley having made oath that the residence of William Smith is at present unknown to him and the other petitioners. You are therefore hereby commanded that you summon the said defendant, William Smith, (by making publication of this citation in the San Antonio Ledger & Texan, a weekly newspaper published in the city of San Antonio, in the county of Bexar, for four successive weeks previous to the return day thereof,) to appear before our honorable District Court of Bexar county, at the Court house, in the city of San Antonio, on the first Monday in March, A D 1861, to answer the petition of Sarah A Luckie, Wm. J. [sic] Luckie, Amanda Whitley, Jefferson Whitley, Mary Whitley, Martin Whitley, Emily Whitley and Elisha Whitley, and then there make return how you have executed this writ.

[seal] Witness, John M. Carolan, Clerk of said Court, and the seal thereof, at office in the city of San Antonio, this 26th day of January, A D 1860 [sic].

On 18 Jan. 1866 children of James M. Smith sold "James Smith our father," for $1, a parcel of 150 acres of land on the Medina River, Bexar Co., Tex. See the full deed and associated papers in appendix F. This parcel was taken from a tract “granted to Geo W Price known as Survey No 191 It being the same land conveyed to said James Smith by E A Briggs & wife.” So apparently James had given the 150 acres to his heirs who sold them back to him with this deed. Signing the deed were M. L. Nolen [daughter, Mary L. Nolen], S. A. Whitly [sic] [granddaughter, Sarah A. (Day) Whitley, representing daughter, Margaret], F. [sic] R. Smith [son, Jesse Richard Smith], R. [sic] F. Smith [son, Benjamin Franklin Smith], John Smith [son, John C. Smith], W. L. Smith [son, William L. Smith], Sarah Leckie [sic] [daughter, Sarah A. In 1870 J. M. Smith, 72, a blacksmith born in North Carolina with $2,000 personal estate, resided in Belton, Bell Co., Tex., with Lucinda, 51, born in Ohio, Viola, 14, William, 13, Charley, 9, all three born in Texas, and Burl Donald, a 40, black domestic servant, born in Tennessee.^[135] Burl is probably the “Buel” mentioned (as a slave) in the 1861 charge against James M. Smith published in the San Antonio Ledger. Viola and William are the two of the three “Griswold” children in the 1860 census, Lucinda V. Griswold, 5, born in Texas, and William N. Griswold, 3, born in Texas, both children of Lucinda’s previous marriage.

Also in 1870 it was probably James M.² Smith listed as 68, born in North Carolina, in the household of [his nephew] John M. Pitts (q.v.).^[136]

In 1880 Lucinda Smith, 61, a widow born in Ohio of Virginia natives, resided in Pct. 1, Bell Co., Tex., with her son, “Chas,” 19, a farmer born in Texas of a father born in North Carolina, and (Griswold) grandson, Ernest Reynolds, 9, born in Texas of a father born in Maryland and a mother in Ohio.^[137] Next door was Mrs. C. included Cyrillas Miller, “Jno.” Miller, and widow Lorinda (–) Oliphant.^[138] Mrs. Lucinda Smith is also listed in the 1880 Agriculture Census for Census Division 1, Bell Co., Tex., in a list that has Mrs. C. W. Bond next to her, and includes also C. Miller, “Jno” Miller, and Mrs. Lorinda Oliphant.^[139]

In 1900 Lucinda Smith, 81, a widow born Dec. 1818 in Ohio of Ohio natives, resided in Menard Co., Tex., in the household of her son-in-law, John G. Trimble, 71, a farmer born June 1828 in Kentucky of Kentucky natives, and his wife of 41 years, Annie E., 60, born May 1840 in Ohio of Ohio natives, and his son, Robert, 17, born Oct. 1882 in Texas. Lucinda had had one [sic] child, with one surviving. Annie had had 10 children, with seven surviving. Walter Trimble, 40, born Aug. 1859 in Texas, lived next door (a son).^[140]

Benjamin proved that this connection was not the right one (I being the decendant of Jesse³ used for comparison). As already discussed, it was a descendant of William Berry Smith instead who matched my DNA, the discovery of which pushed my ancestry back one generation to James M. Smith.

143. US census, 1850, Marion Twp., Marion Co., Ohio, r. 708, p. 82A, dw. 225, fam. 233, lists William Griswold, 34, farmer born in Ohio, with Lucinda, 29, born in Ohio, with Ann, 9, Sarah, 5, and Olive, 2, all born in Ohio, and with Martin, 31, a laborer born in Ohio, and Alvin, 8, listed as a female, and Richard, 4, both born in Ohio, and with Betsey, 61, born in Connecticut. Martin was presumably a Griswold brother, and Betsey their mother.

married before the 1880 census CORA (DUNCAN) SMITH, born 5 June 1857, Bell Co., Tex., daughter of Thomas A. and Mary Anne (Griffin) Duncan, and died 13 Sept. 1935, Temple, Bell Co., Tex., and buried 14 Sept. 1935, South Belton Cem., Bell Co.^[161] William was possibly adopted by James M. Smith, since he is listed as a Smith in the 1870 census. However, he is W. N. Griswold in the 1880 census and William Noble Griswold on his death certificate. I think it is safe to say that neither Lucinda Viola nor William Noble was adopted by James M. Smith.

In 1880 W. N. Griswold, 23, a farmer born in Texas of Ohio natives, resided in Bell Co., Tex., with his wife, "Corah," 24, born in Texas of parents of unspecified nativities, and with his stepdaughters, Ellia Smith, 8, and "Minie" Smith, 5, both born in Texas of a father born in Louisiana and a mother in Texas.^[162] Minnie is surely the Minnie McDonald, born Nov. 1874 who lived in the household of Cora Griswold in the 1900 census.^[163] Thus Cora was Cora Smith, and these two stepdaughters were Cora's from a previous marriage.

On 23 Nov. 1804 Samuel Lovinggood entered 200 acres of land in Buncombe Co., N.C., “on both Sides of a Small Creek that runs into french broad River on the West Side.” Also on the same day he entered 200 acres in the same county “on the Waters of Boylstons Creek.”^[166] He must be Samuel Lovinggood Sr. mentioned below.

On 23 Mar. 1813 Samuel Lovinggood purchased from John Strother, both of Buncombe Co., N.C., for $67, 200 acres in Buncombe Co. “on the waters of Spring Creek [but legal description says Warm Spring Creek].” This tract was originally part of the same immense grant to Daniel Allison as Alexander Smith’s larger tract derived from.^[167]

In 1820 Samuel Lovinggood, 16–26, resided in Buncombe Co., N.C., with a woman 16–26, and two girls under 10 [Matilda and Ann]. Listed next was James Davidson, over 45, with a woman, over 45 [born before 1775], three boys and three girls under 10, and two boys and one girl 10–16.^[168]

In 1820 Samuel Lovinggood “(Sen.),” over 45, resided in Buncombe Co., N.C., with a woman over 45, and one boy under 10, one female 10–16, and one male 16–18.^[169]

In 1830 Samuel Lovinggood, 30-40, resided in Haywood Co., N.C., with a woman, 20-30, two boys under 5, two boy 5-10, and two females 10-15. Listed next was James Davidson, 50-60, with a woman 50-60 [born 1760-1770], a girl 5-10, and a female 15-20.^[171] The wives of James Davidson in both the 1820 and 1830 censuses are too old to have been Nancy Smith, Elizabeth’s sister.

In 1840 “Saml” Lovinggood, 70-80, resided in Macon Co., N.C., with a woman 80-90, one male 10-15, and possibly one[?] male 15-20 (but the total count is 2). If in this family then he must have been Samuel Lovinggood Sr.

N.B. Macon Co., N.C., was derived from Haywood Co. in 1829. Union Co., Ga., was formed at the northern edge of Georgia in 1832. It abutted just across the state line Macon Co., N.C.

In 1850 Samuel Lovinggood, 52, a farmer born in North Carolina with $7,000 real estate, resided in Union Co., Ga., with Elizabeth, 51, born in North Carolina, Washington, 24, Eli, 22, Anderson, 18, William, 14, all born in North Carolina, and Lucinda, 10, Louisa, 8, and Emily, 5, all born in Georgia.^[172]

In 1860 Samuel Lovinggood, 65, a farmer born in South Carolina with $15,000 real and $2,000 personal estates, resided in Canton, Bells Dist., Cherokee Co., Ga., with “Elisabeth,” 68, born in North Carolina, Louisa, 18, and “Emely,” 15, both born in North Carolina.^[173]

In 1870 Samuel Lovinggood, 74, a farmer born in South Carolina with $6,000 real and $1,500 personal estates, resided in Cherokee Mills, Bells Dist., Cherokee Co., Ga., with Elizabeth, 71, born in North Carolina, and Louisa J., 25, born in Georgia. Next door in one direction was Abraham Lovinggood, 50, a black man, with Isaac, 25, a black man, both born in Georgia. Next door in the other direction was the family of George W. Lovinggood, 36, born in Georgia.^[174] Despite the discrepancies this George appears to be his son, George W., who was actually about 44 and born in North Carolina. For example, both Georges had twin sons named William D. and Samuel E.

ALEXANDER SMITH OF BUNCOMBE CO., N.C.

5. SARAH² SMITH (₁Alexander¹) was born 31 Aug. 1801, Buncombe Co., N.C.,^[177] and died 21 Aug. 1878.^[178] She married say 1817 WILLIAM THOMAS CRAWFORD, who was born 8 Apr. 1796, Buncombe (later Haywood) Co., N.C.,^[179] died 3 May 1881 after the 1880 census, probably in Medina Co., Tex.

N.B. Haywood Co., N.C., was formed in 1808 from the western part of Buncombe Co. In 1828 the western part of Haywood Co. became Macon Co. In 1851 parts of Haywood and Macon Counties were combined to form Jackson Co.

In 1812 William Crawford was listed in Haywood Co., N.C., in a North Carolina muster roll.^[180]

In 1820 William “Craford”, 18–26, resided in Buncombe Co., N.C., with a woman, 16–26, and one boy and one girl under 10 [Nancy and George].^[181]

In 1830 William Crawford, 30–40, resided in Buncombe Co., N.C., with a woman, 20–30, two boys and one girl under 5 [John, probably William, and Sarah], one boy 5–10 [George], and one girl 10–15 [Nancy].^[182]

In 1850 “Wm” Crawford, 54, a farmer born in North Carolina with $200 personal estate, resided in Polk Co., Tenn., with Sarah, 48, born in North Carolina, and with “Polly” Ann 17, James A., 12, Enos, 6, Elizabeth J., 17, Margaret, 16, Charles H., 21, Miles, 19, Mary A., 14, Kisiah S., 13, Eliza, 12, and James T., 7, all 11 born in North Carolina. Crawford, 37, born in North Carolina resided next door.^[183] The names in red are not listed in the Bible (except perhaps Mary A. and Margaret). They appear to be another family's children. Where is William's daughter Sarah? Perhaps she died as we have no other record of her except the Bible. Where are Nancy, George, William Thomas Jr.? Well, Nancy had married. And George and William we know only by the Bible so perhaps they had all died or married and gone away.

On 19 July 1867 William and Enos Crawford registered to vote in Atascosa Co., Tex., Pct. 2, having both been in Texas for 10 years [since 1857], in the county for 8 years, and in the precinct for 8 years.^[184]

In 1870 W. Crawford, 74, a farmer born in North Carolina with $400 personal estate, resided in Atascosa Co., Tex., (using the San Antonio post office), with Sarah, 70, born in North Carolina. John and Mary A. Smith resided next door, with John believed to be son of Sarah's brother, James M.² Smith. Nearby were J. A. Crawford, 31, and G. W. Crawford, 25.^[185]

In 1880 "Will^m" Crawford, 86, a widower born in North Carolina of a father born in South Carolina and a mother in Virginia, resided in Medina Co., Tex., in the household of his son-in-law, John Smith, 60, and his wife, Mary Ann, 43, born in North Carolina of North Carolina natives (q.v.). William is listed as "wife's father."^[186]

I include the following analysis by Christine (Smith) Andrews, which I endorse with minor exceptions (in red):

We believe we have identified Sarah (Sallie) Smith as the sister of William Berry Smith and James M Smith.

ALEXANDER SMITH OF BUNCOMBE CO., N.C.

1. Sarah Smith was born 18 Aug 1801 in Buncombe County, North Carolina. Her brothers William Berry and James M were born in 1792 and 1795, respectively, in Buncombe County, North Carolina.

2. According to Roxalee Smith, granddaughter of William Berry Smith, WB's sister, Sarah, married a man named William Crawford. According to Sarah's daughter's Bible records, Sarah Smith married William Thomas Crawford.

3. According to Roxalee Smith, Sarah Smith died in San Antonio, Texas. Although I have seen no records supporting her place of death, the last census location of Sarah Smith Crawford was Atascosa, Texas. Atascosa County is just south of Bexar County and San Antonio is the closest "big" town.

4. Sarah Smith Crawford's daughter, Mary Ann Crawford, married what is presumably her cousin, John Smith, son of James M Smith. Two of their children were named after a sibling of each.

Based on these facts, I think we are safe to conclude that we have identified the sister of William Berry and James M Smith. It should be noted that Roxalee Smith has written "(jeweler)" by William Crawford's name. Based on census records, there is no evidence that he was anything other than a farmer.

Thanks again to Barbara Hensley, Gwen McJunkin and Ken Whitley for their research.^[187]

I add to the above argument the fact that John Smith's wife, Mary Ann, was daughter of William Crawford, according to the 1880 census, who was born about the right time and place to be the William Crawford who married Sarah Smith.

ALEXANDER SMITH OF BUNCOMBE CO., N.C.

6. MAT[T]HEW² SMITH (₁*Alexander*¹) was born about 1805, North Carolina, and was alive for the 1870 census. He married before the 1830 census and was definitely married before the 1850 census to MELINDA COLE, who was born about 1808, North Carolina. She was not listed in the 1860 census with the family so perhaps had died by then.

Argument that Melinda was Melinda Cole

An <Ancestry.com> family by my correspondent Gwen Childs has Melinda as Melinda Cole, daughter of Samuel and Sarah (Thrash) Cole.^[195] Here is the supporting evidence:

Samuel (died 14 Sept. 1858, aged 88 years) and Sarah Cole (died 6 Apr. 1860, aged 86 years 8 months) were buried in the same unnamed cemetery in Saline Co., Mo., as their putative granddaughter Elmira (Smith) Anderson and her husband.^[196] Also in that cemetery were buried three Clark siblings-in-law, by the second marriage of their putative son Alfred Smith's widow, to George Clark. See the sketches of Elmira and Alfred for further details. Furthermore, the cemetery was on the Anderson farm.^[197]

In 1800 Samuel Cole, 26-45, resided in Morgan, Buncombe Co., N.C., with a woman 16-26, and four girls under 10.^[198]

195. Va. Marriages, 1660-1800, Samuel Cole to Sarah Thrash, 4 Sept. 1792, Montgomery Co., Va. I've seen no supporting evidence that this is the correct marriage. For one thing, the marriage was in Va. for two people from N.C. But Montgomery Co., Va., did once about N.C. (ca 1788).

196. Unnamed Cemetery Saline County, Missouri, from MOGenWeb, last updated 17 Mar. 2015, digital photocopy forwarded to me by Gwen M. Childs, 11 Aug. 2016, “We have entered 7 records for this cemetery . . . Directions: Township 53, Range 20, Section 31. On Route F between Slater and Miami, Missouri | . . . | [Name] Cole, Samuel Aged 88y [Birth] [empty] [Death] 14 Sep 1858 | Cole, Sarah Aged 86y 8m [empty] 6 Apr 1860.” There are also three Clarks and two Andersons buried in this cemetery. Gwen proposes that the Coles were Melinda's parents.

197. Email from Gwen M. Childs, 17 July 2016, “They [Matthew and Melinda] were farmers, and their daughter and son-in-law (Elmira Ellen Smith and William Anderson) lived next door. I found the Anderson family plot (not on Findagrave) on their farm. William and Elmira have readable stones, but there are several unreadable stones, and I think Matthew and Melinda were buried there, also.”

198. U.S. census, 1800, Morgan, Buncombe Co., N.C., r. 29, p. 165, FHL 337905.

In 1810 Samuel Cole, 26–45, resided in Buncombe Co., N.C., with a woman 16–26, one boy and three girls under 10 [N.B. Melinda born 1808 would fit here], three females 10–16, and one female 16–26.^[199]

In 1820 Samuel Cole, over 45, resided in Buncombe Co., N.C., with a woman over 45, one boy and three girls under 10, two females 10–16 [N.B. Melinda born 1808 would fit here], and one male 16–18.^[200] They were in Buncombe Co. also in 1800 (Morgan Twp.) and 1810.

On 1 Oct. 1831 (signed 24 Apr. 1833) Samuel Cole of Saline Co., Mo., was granted 80 acres of land in Saline Co., Mo.^[201] So the Coles came into Saline Co. (or environs) about the same time as the Matthew Smiths, both apparently from Buncombe Co., N.C.

In 1840 Samuel Cole, 60–70, resided in Jefferson Twp., Saline Co., Mo., with a woman 60–70, one girl under 5, and one female 15–20, and one slave.^[202]

In 1850 Samuel Cole, 81, born in North Carolina, resided in Saline Co., Mo., with Sarah, 79, born in North Carolina, with Sarah A. Johnson, 14, born in Missouri.^[203] The Coles are 17 dwellings removed from the Smiths.

This is a fairly strong argument for Melinda Cole. The reason I hesitate is that Samuel Cole descends from a bona fide Revolutionary War veteran, John Cole, born 9 June 1746, Morristown, Morris Co., N.J. I prefer to have definite proofs when linking to such notable ancestors.

In 1830 Matthew Smith, 20–30, resided in Chariton Co., Mo., with a woman 20–30, and with one boy and two girls under 5 [so all born 1825–1830].^[204]

N.B. Chariton County lies directly across the Missouri River from and north of Saline County. Both were slave counties when they were established in 1820. Miami, Saline Co., is located right on the Missouri River, directly across from Chariton (and Carroll) County.

In 1840 Mathew Smith, 30-40, resided in Greenville Twp., Saline Co., Mo., with a woman 30-40, and with one boy and one girl under 5 [both born 1835-1840, so Andrew and Ellen], one boy and one girl 5-10 [born 1830-1835, so Adeline and James], and one male and two females 10-15 [born 1825-1830, so Harriett], and two male slaves.^[205]

On 21 Jan. 1847 Mathew Smith of Saline Co., Mo., bought from Alford Wheeler and Ruth, his wife, of Saline Co., for $41, a tract of land lying in Saline Co. of unstated acreage but lying in Section 13, Twp. 53N and Range 21W. It was recorded 20 Dec. 1853.^[206]

In 1850 Matthew Smith, 45, a farmer born in North Carolina with $50 real estate, resided in Saline Co., Mo., with Melinda, 42, born in North Carolina, and with Adeline, 17, James, 15, Andrew, 13, Ellen, 11, Alfred, 6, Thomas, 4, and Mary, 7/12, all born in Missouri. Next door was Moses Webb.^[207] This places this family in Missouri by about 1833 at least.

In 1860 Mathew Smith, 50 [sic], a laborer born in North Carolina with $400 real estate, resided in Marshall, Miami Twp., Saline Co., Mo., with "Alferd" T., 17, "Tho" J., 15, and Mary F., 10, all born in Missouri. Next door was "W^m" Anderson.^[208]

In 1870 Matthew Smith, 57, a laborer born in North Carolina with $408 real and $800 personal estates, resided in Marshall, Miami Twp., Saline Co., Mo., with Alfred T., 26, a farmer, "Tho" J., 23, a farmer, Mary F., 20, and Susan M., 17, all born in Missouri. Next door in one direction was (his grandson) Alexander Webb, 20, born in Missouri. Next door the other way was "W^m" Anderson, and next him was "W^m" K. ALEXANDER SMITH OF BUNCOMBE CO., N.C.

THIA GRIFFIN [or GRIFFITH]^[211] who was born about 1806, North Carolina, probably daughter of John and Cynthia (Colvert) Griffin.

An onomastic argument suggests that Cynthia Griffin is daughter of John and Cynthia (Colvert/Calvert) Griffin, where John Griffin was a Revolutionary War soldier who served in Virginia. There was a bounty land warrant issued to widow Cynthia Griffin for John's service. John Griffin, of Haywood Co., N.C., served as a private in the Virginia line for the term "77 War" and received a pension inscribed on the roll of North Carolina, commencing 9 Oct. 1821.^[212]

In John Griffin's pension application of 9 Oct. 1821, Haywood Co., N.C., John, 68, asks for support for his family: "Damaris a Daughter of 17 years of age Cynthia a Daughter of 15, William a Son of 12 years, Betsey a Daughter of 10, Franklin a son of 7 years old, Patsy a Daughter of 5 years of age." So Cynthia would have been born about 1806, which fits.^[213]

In another affidavit signed 8 Sept. 1855, Cherokee Co., N.C., Cynthia Griffin, now 84, she states "That her maiden name was Colvert, was married to the said John Griffin in Surry Co. on the _ day of November 1797." A copy of the marriage bond is included in the pension file, made 9 Nov. 1797 for the marriage of "Mr Graffin to Cynthia Calbret" in Surry Co., N.C. He is John Griffin in the actual bond wording, and she is Cynthia Calvert. [This is a voluminous pension file, containing much detailed information.]^[214]

In 1830 Joel Smith, 20-30, resided in Haywood Co., N.C., with a woman 20-30, and two girls under 5.^[215] This is the only Joel Smith listed in 1830 and is consistent with the Joel in Haywood Co. in the 1833 deed in his father's sketch.

The following is from Salado, Texas, Its History and People, by Felda Davis Shanklin (continued from the sketch of father William Berry Smith):^[260]

James Lowery Smith, the oldest son of this couple, was educated at old Independence under Dr. Rufus C. Burleson and assisted Dr. Burleson in teaching. Meanwhile he had married and taken his bride there. She was Julia Catherine McDowell who was born in Charleston, S.C. Her family had moved to Texas when she was eight years old.

Two sons, Archibald and James Jr. were born in Independence. From there the family moved to Cameron, where Professor Smith taught in Milam County Liberal Institute.

Their next change was to Salado where he was to teach. Robert, Forrest, Roxalie (Rosa Lee), Hattie and Julia Smith were born in Salado.

Professor Smith was called into service at the first of the Civil War and contacted an illness, which caused his retirement later on. He was Principal of Salado College from 1863-1874 and again from 1879-1880. The college reached its highest enrollment of 307 during his time. I well remember their Salado home on Smith Branch east of the college and their handsome sons and pretty daughters.

“Archie” Smith was a merchant and married Emma Caskey. Jim taught the men’s Sunday School class in the Baptist church.

Robert married Lou Andrews and moved back to Illinois to be near her family.

Forrest became a doctor and married Louella Allen. One daughter, Mrs. T. S. Moffitt, Jr. lives in Houston. The other daughter, Mrs. Donald Edwards, lives in Tulsa, Oklahoma.

ALEXANDER SMITH OF BUNCOMBE CO., N.C.

Mrs. Rosa Lou, or Roxy Lee as she was letter called, married Frank Andrews, a prominent Houston lawyer. They had a beautiful colonial style home in River Oaks. I use to see her often before she died. She was my first school teacher in Salado and was such a lovely lady.

They had two sons, Edward and Forrest Lee, a prominent Houston lawyer.

William Andrews had come from Illinois, settled in Salado, and had a son, Hardin, and a daughter, Martha, by his first marriage. Hardin married Virginia Fuller, daughter of Captain Fuller. Martha married E. S. Bellamy, a U.S. Marshall. Two of their daughters, Beulah married to J. T. Smith and Lula Mae, married to V. T. Romanet, live in Houston.

Children by his second marriage were Lou [sic], Kate and Baker. Lou married Robert Smith. I will remember what a handsome couple they made. The family moved back to Illinois before the younger children married. The Andrews' home was the two-story rock house north of the Orgain's home. Miss Hattie Smith married J. M. Ralston and died recently (1951) in Cameron, Texas. Miss Julia never married and made her home with her sister Hattie.

Jim went west and finally became a banker in Amarillo. We often met him and his wife, Marie, when he lived in Canyon, Texas. We attended his funeral in the Baptist church to which he had contributed so liberally.

The older children attended Salado College and the younger ones Thomas Arnold High School. Hattie and Julia were members of mama's Sunday School class.

It is said that Prof. J. L. Smith with his able faculty built Salado College to its highest standard.

From a 1972 history of Baylor University:

James L., the eldest child, attended Baylor at Independence from 1851 to 1855.²¹ On December 15, 1851, the university treasurer was ordered to pay the young man fifteen dollars for repairing desks, and on December 21, 1854, he was named teacher of the preparatory department for the next year, a position he held until 1860. From 1856 to 1860 he was termed "Principal of the Preparatory Department," and on June 28,

1860, he was awarded the honorary degree A. M. “Secundum Gradum” as requested by President Burleson.²²^[261]

A footnote on the same page states:

Smith taught at Alma Male and Female Academy in Hallettsville in the session opening in January 1854 and for several years after leaving Baylor. C. Y. ALEXANDER SMITH OF BUNCOMBE CO., N.C.

13. WILLIAM BERRY³ SMITH JR. (₂*William Berry*², *Alexander*¹) was born about 1829, Mississippi, and died 12 Dec. 1862, Austin, Lonoke Co., Ark., of typhoid pneumonia contracted in Civil War service. He married 11 July 1850 ANTOINETTE WALDEN, who was born about 1834, Alabama, and died before the 1900 census. She married, second, William L. Baugh, born May 1821 (1900 census), Georgia.

In 1850 William Smith, 47, a blacksmith born in North Carolina with $2,500 real estate, resided in Milam and Williamson District, Milam Co., Tex., with Milam, 17, a blacksmith, born in Mississippi, and Ransom, 11, born in Texas. Sharing the dwelling were William B. Smith, 21, a blacksmith born in Mississippi, with Antoinette, 18, born in Alabama.^[270]

In 1860 “W^m” Smith, 28, a blacksmith born in Alabama with $610 real and $1,155 personal estates, resided in Belton, Bell Co., Tex., with Antoinette, 26, born in Alabama, and with Mary J., 8, Sarah, 6, Josephine, 2, and Francis, 3/12, all four females born in Texas.^[271]

On 30 Apr. 1862 W. B. Smith, 32, enlisted in Belton, Bell Co., Tex., as a private in Robert T. P. Allen’s Infantry (the 17th Texas Infantry in the Confederate Army), for a period of three years or the duration of the war. He mustered in at Camp Terry, Austin, Tex., on 9 May 1862, with commanding officer Capt. Hillery M. Bouldin. He was detached as regimental blacksmith, and served there until 30 June 1862. His last muster rolls show him in Austin, Ark., in Nov. and Dec. 1862. He died there 12 Dec. 1862 of “typhoid pneumonia.”^[272]

272. Compiled Service Records of Confederate Soldiers Who Served in Organizations from the State of Texas, NARA M323, RG 109, Seventeenth Infantry (Allen’s Regiment), contains nine service cards: [5067]4595, 4721, and 4855. They are for Pvt. W. B. Smith, 32, in Capt. Hillery M. Bouldin’s Co. Allen’s Reg’t Texas Infantry (subsequently became Company I, 17th Regiment Texas Infantry). The first card is a company muster roll for 11 Apr. to 30 June 1862. Second is a muster roll for Sept. and Oct. 1862. Third is muster roll for Nov. and Dec. 1862. Finally there is a Receipt Roll for W. B. Smith, Allen’s Regt., recording his pay for the 4th quarter, 1862, as a blacksmith, for the period 1 Oct. to 30 Nov. 1862, 61 days at 25 cents per day.

In 1870 “Antnette” Baugh, 37, born in Alabama with $1,000 real and $1,000 personal estates, resided in Aiken, Bell Co., Tex., as the (presumed) wife of W. L. Baugh, 47, a stock raiser born in Georgia with $400 real and $11,000 personal estates, and with Stanford Baugh, 20, John P., 17, Henry, 16, Francis, 13, Marion, 12, “Layfayette.” 10, George, 8, and Thomas, 6, all born in Texas, and with Sarah Smith, 16, “Josiphene,” 12, Maria, 8, and William, 7, all four born in Texas.^[273]

In 1880 William L. Baugh, 59, a farmer and stock raiser born in Georgia of Georgia natives, resided in Coryell Co., Tex., with his wife “Octa,” 45, born in Georgia of Georgia natives, and with his sons, Doctor L., 20, “Georgia” E., 18, Thomas O., 16, and “Sanford” H., 30, a widower (or divorcee), all four born in Texas, and with his granddaughters, Mary I., 2, and Janie D., 4/12, both born in Texas of a mother born in Georgia, and “wife” (presumably Sanford’s about-to-be wife), Aurelia M. Randall, 27, born in Texas of Alabama natives.^[274] Oota is about the right age to be Antoinette. The clues identifying this family with that of W. L. Baugh of the 1870 census are Doctor L., the right age to be Lafayette Baugh of the 1870, and Sanford H., the right age to be Stanford Baugh of the 1870, Georgia E., a male the right age to be George of the 1870, and Thomas O., the right age to be Thomas Baugh of the 1870.

In 1900 “Wm” L. Baugh, 79, widower, born May 1821 in Georgia of Georgia natives, resided in Coryell Co., Tex., with his granddaughter, Iona Jacobs, 23, single, born Nov. 1876 in Texas of a father born in Texas and a mother in Georgia.^[275]

Lovic Baugh, of Belton, Tex., a descendant of William Baugh, sent the following to my correspondent Christine Smith, and she shared it with me via email on 6 Aug. 2018:

Antoinette Walden Smith married my Great-Great Grandfather, William Lovic Baugh, on 23 September 1868 in Belton, Texas. She was a Confederate soldier’s widow with four of her five children still living at that time. Her first husband, William Berry Smith, Jr, was a blacksmith in Belton before The Civil War. He died in Arkansas in 1962 as a result of pneumonia and is buried there, Find A Grave Memorial #176755026 (check it out).

Antoinette died in 1874 in Coryell County Texas and her grave site is unknown, as are the grave sites of Wm Lovic's other two wives. There has been speculation that there is a family cemetery located on the grounds of what was once known as "The Baugh Mansion", but many have searched for it without success. The estate that once totaled 734 acres has dwindled now to only 10 acres where the ruins of the old house once stood. Much of that land has been developed for housing, and it's certainly not unheard of that developers would bulldoze over ancient graves instead of having the expense of relocating them. . . .

Death records from that time are almost non-existent, especially in rural areas. When people died, they were buried very soon afterward. Wm Lovic was married to his third wife, Octavia Hendrix Carson, by 1875 when she was named in her father's will as Octa Baugh. By a process of elimination based on other info, Antoinette is most likely to have died in the early months of 1874.

Children:^[276]

- 103 i MARY J.⁴ SMITH, born about 1852, Texas. She is not listed in the 1870 census, but might have married. Cf. Josephine Smith below.
- + 104 ii SARAH MATILDA⁴ SMITH, born 28 Aug. 1853, Texas, married JOHN E. HARLAND, and had seven children.
- 105 iii JOSEPHINE⁴ SMITH, born about 1858, Texas. She was listed in the 1870 census of Coryell Co., Tex.^[277]
- + 106 iv FRANCIS LOUISA⁴ SMITH, born Apr. 1859, Texas, married JOHN WILLIAM OGLE, and had 10 children.

ALEXANDER SMITH OF BUNCOMBE CO., N.C.

ELLA BURT, who was born 26 May 1869 (gravestone, pension application) or Feb. 1870 (1900 census), Millican, Brazos Co., Tex. (see reunion news item below), died 27 June 1943 (gravestone and pension application), in the home of her daughter, Weltha, and was buried next to Ransom.

From an obituary for R. L. Smith:

Was a pioneer, having lived in the County more than sixty years, Mr R. L. Smith of [sic] "Uncle Ran" as he was called by his many friends died at his home on Clayton Prairie near Smetana, Monday, February 2nd, a brief notice of which has been previously made in this Eagle.

Mr. Smith was a native Texian, was born in Washington County in 1831, and therefore was in his 83rd year at the time of his death.

He was among the oldest settlers of Brazos County, having moved here from Washington County when but 22 years of age, before Bryan was founded and when old Boonville was the County seat.

He settled on Clayton Prairie, seven miles west of Bryan, and that community has been his home continuously since. . . .

He was a valiant ex Confederate soldier, having fought valiantly for the south during the entire four years of the war and was once seriously wounded in the hand rendering him partially disabled the remainder of his life.

He was twice married and is the father of 23 [sic] children.

He is survived by his widow and a number of his children, who have the deep sympathy of all in their sorrow.

He was laid to rest in the family burying ground near his home. . . .^[306]

On 11 Oct. 1930, Mrs. “Louella” Smith (but she signed Mrs. Lou “Ella” Smith) of Bryan, Brazos Co., Tex., applied for a Confederate widow’s pension, and it was granted 28 Mar. 1931, with pension allowed from 1 Apr. 1931. In it she claimed to be the widow of Ransom Lafayette Smith, who died 1 Feb. 1914, Brazos Co., Tex., and they married 28 Aug. 1892, Brazos Co. She was 61, born 26 May 1869, Texas. She gave his service as four years, citing specifically, “Cavalry – He was in Texas & in Battle of Pittsburgh.” The application file is full of controversy about his exact service, seeming to settle on a private, R. An undated news item titled Smith Family Reunion Scheduled for Today:

Children and grandchildren of the late Mr. and Mrs. Ransom Lafayette Smith are having a reunion today at Sue Haswell Park [in Bryan, Tex.]. All friends of the family are invited to the gathering, the first held in a number of years.

The Smiths were married in Brazos County, Aug. 28, 1892. A veteran of the Civil War, he was in Co. D, 26th Texas Cavalry. He was born in Washington County, the exact date is unknown, although it is known he came to Brazos County at the age of 22.

Mrs. Smith was born in Millican May 25, 1869. S[h]e died June 27, 1943 and her husband died Feb. 1, 1914.

For a number of years they farmed land where Bryan Air Force Base, now titled the Research Development Annex of Texas A&M College, is located. All of the seven Smith children were raised in the community known as Clayton Prairie seven miles west of Bryan.

Smith children who will be in attending the reunion are:

Mrs. D. R. (Della) Andrews and Mrs. W. S. (Weltha) Hilton of Bryan; Mrs. B. J. (Mertie) Bailey of Baytown; Mrs. O. (Richard) Gann of Gualala, Calif.; Mrs. F. T. (Bonnie[]) Myers and Mrs. A. B. (Lou Ellen) Crownover of Houston, and Guy M. Bryan Smith of St. Francesville, La.

About 200 members of the family are expected for the event.^[317]

18. ELIZABETH E.³ SMITH (₂*William Berry*², *Alexander*¹)^[319] was born July 1841 (1900 census), Texas, and died 12 Dec. 1925, Bosque Co., Tex.^[320] She married 16 July 1858, in the home of (her brother-in-law) Albert M. Tandy, Lavaca Co., Tex.,^[321] ROBERT C. RUSSELL,^[322] who was born Jan. 1819 (1900 census), Texas, Tennessee, or Jackson, Hinds Co., Miss. (the last from son William's death certificate), and died before the 1910 census.

On 3 Sept. 1875 Elizabeth's father, William, sold her, for one dollar and love and affection, 350 acres of his land on Bosque Creek in Bosque Co., Tex. (appendix J).

In 1880 Robert C. Russell, 61, a farmer born in Texas of Virginia natives, resided in Bosque Co., Tex., with his wife, "Lizie" E., 38, born in Texas of a father born in North Carolina and a mother in South Carolina, and his sons, William C., 20, Albert F., 18, and Mack D., 12, and his daughter, Minnie G., 8, all four born in Texas, and with two domestics.^[323]

319. Partin (1975), 13-15, gives her full name as Elizabeth Edith Smith. Partin was her granddaughter which lends some strength to the claim, but I have found no supporting evidence and do not, as a rule, use hearsay from a two-generation remove as evidence.

Although Lizzie is usually a nickname for Elizabeth, I have only one record that uses the name Elizabeth for this person, the 1850 census in which Elizabeth Smith, 8, resided in the household of her sister, Sarah Tandy (q.v.). She went by the name "L. E." in the 1910 and 1920 censuses and is listed as "Lizie" E. in the 1880 census, suggesting she had another name beginning with an E, but I have seen no record expanding it. The name Ruth in the 1900 census appears to be an error.

ALEXANDER SMITH OF BUNCOMBE CO., N.C.

In 1900 “Robt.” Russell, 81, a farmer born Jan. 1819 in Tennessee of Virginia natives, resided in Iredell Pct., Bosque Co., Tex., with his wife of 41 years, Ruth [sic], 58, born July 1841 in Texas of a father born in North Carolina and a mother in South Carolina, and his sons, “Willie” C., 40, born Feb. 1860, and Mack, 32, born Nov. 1867, both single and born in Texas. Ruth had had two [sic] children, both surviving. Next door was J. [or Jo] Youree and his wife, Minnie, 28, born Apr. 1872, with the same nativities as Robert’s other children, and hence probably his daughter Minnie G. Next door the other direction was “Fernanda” Russell, 38, a male born Jan. 1862, with the same nativities as Robert’s other children, and hence probably his son, Albert F. Russell.^[324] That Ruth is the same wife as “Lizie” in the 1880 census is evident, but the name change is surprising and not backed up by any other record I have found.

In 1910 “L.” [for Lizzie] E. Russell, 67, a widow born in Texas of North Carolina natives, resided in Bosque Co., Tex., in the household of her son, Mack, 53, single, a farmer born in Texas of a father born in Tennessee, and with his (Mack’s) niece, Thelma Youree, 4, born in Texas of Texas natives.^[325]

In 1920 “L.” E. Russell, 77, a widow born in Texas of a father born in North Carolina and a mother in South Carolina, resided in Bosque Co., Tex., in the household of her son, M. D., 62, single, a farmer born in Texas of a father born in Tennessee, and with his (Mack’s) nieces, Linnie Youree, 16, and Thelma Youree, 14, both born in Texas of Texas natives.^[326]

On 3 July 1924 “L.” E. Russell, a widow, signed her will in her home in Bosque Co., Tex. It was proved in Jan. 1926. In it she mentions “my deceased son Mack Russell,” “my estate shall be divided into three parts; one part to go to W. C. Russell; one part to Fern Youree, Grace Youree Medford, Arrah Youree Hirsh, Edythe Less, Forrest Youree, Linnie Youree Meader, Thelma Youree and Minnie Youree, share and share

Children:

- + 139 i WILLIAM CURREN⁴ RUSSELL, born 28 Jan. 1860 or Feb. 1860, Hallettsville, Lavaca Co., Tex., married ANNIE LAURA STROUD, and had nine children.
- + 140 ii ALBERT FERNANDO⁴ RUSSELL, born 1 Jan. 1862, Texas, married MARY JENNIE HILL, and had seven children.
- 141 iii MACK D.⁴ RUSSELL, born Nov. 1867, Texas. Single in the 1920 census.
- + 142 iv MINNIE GERTRUDE⁴ RUSSELL, born 24 Apr. 1872, Texas, married J. B. YOUREE, and had at least nine children.

She married 1 July 1865 about 1866 JOHN MCKEE PITTS, who was born 2 May 1843 (death certificate and calculated) or May 1842 (1900 census), Alabama, son of Jessie and Millie (Duncan) Pitts, and died 7 May 1910, Whitney, Hill Co., Tex.,^[330] aged 67 years 1 month

328. Her full birth information is deduced from the 1900 census giving her birth as Feb. 1844, her being apparently a twin to Henry Patrick Smith, and Henry's obit. (q.v.). Both Louisa and Henry were aged 5 in the 1850 census in which both resided in the household of her sister, Sarah Tandy (q.v.). Her calculated birthdate is 5 Jan. 1844.

In 1870 J. M. Pitts, 26, a farmer born in Alabama with $200 personal estate, resided in Belton, Bell Co., Tex., with Louisa, 26, born in Texas, and Eubulas, 2, and Julia, 1, both born in Texas, and James Smith, 68, born in North Carolina.^[332] James was probably James M.² Smith, Louisa's uncle, with an error in his age (James M. was probably born about 1796, not 1802).

In 1880 John M. Pitts, 37, a farmer born in Alabama of a father born in Alabama and a mother in Georgia, resided in Bosque Co., Tex., with his wife, "Louiza" J., 36, born in Texas of a father born in North Carolina and a mother in South Carolina, and his son, "Eubulus" E., 12, and daughters, Julia O., 11, Elizabeth A., 10, Louola, 9 [written over an "8"], and Emma J., 6, all five born in Texas, and his "neace," "Louiza" F. Smith, "(18)," born in Texas of Texas natives, and a boarder and two domestic laborers.^[333] Louisa F. Smith was probably the daughter of William Berry³ Smith Jr. who was killed in the Civil War. William was Louisa Pitts's brother, and he had a daughter, Francis⁴ Smith, born about 1860, Texas. The E. F. Smith genealogy claims she was Fannie L. Smith, born 14 Apr. 1859, Bell Co., Tex. This fits.

On 19 Nov. 1880 in Bosque Co. John M. Pitts conveyed 85 acres to his wife, Louisa J. Pitts for "consideration love and affection [sic]."^[334]

On 24 June 1882 in Bosque Co. "R. C. Russell, L. E. Russell, Jno. M. Pitts, Louisa J. Pitts, Louisa F. Smith of Co. of Bosque" conveyed an undivided interest to "sellers and brother," being 10/16 of the [undescribed] property, for $843.75.^[335] L. E. Russell was Louisa's sister, Elizabeth/Lizzie. So, assuming 2/16 share for each of the five people, Louisa F. Smith is an heir equal to Louisa J. Pitts and L. E. Russell apparently, both sisters of William Berry³ Smith Jr. There were eight heirs of William Berry² Smith who survived, but Louisa F., if a daughter of William Jr., had a living sister who should have received half of what Louisa F. received, shouldn't she?

In 1900 J. M. Pitts, 58, a machinist born May 1842 in Alabama of Georgia natives, resided in the Huntsville Penitentiary, Huntsville, Walker Co., Tex. He had been married 34 years.^[336]

In 1900 Louisa J. Pitts, 66 [sic], born Feb. 1844 in Texas of a father born in North Carolina and a mother in South Carolina, married 35 years, with six children, four surviving, resided in Bosque Co., Tex., in the household of her son-in-law, Frank J. Smith, 28, a railroad fireman born Oct. 1871 in Minnesota of parents of unknown nativities, with his wife, Julia "A.," 31, born Apr. 1869, and twin daughters, Bertie, 2, and Bertha, 2, both born Dec. 1897 in Texas, and also with his nephew John T. Carnes, 8, born Sept. 1891 in Texas of Texas natives. Julia had had three children, with three surviving (but only two are listed).^[337]

In 1910 John M. Pitts, 66, a plumber born in Alabama of a father born in the U.S. and a mother in Mississippi, resided in Whitney, Hill Co., Tex., with his wife of 44 years, "Cliza" J., 65, born in Texas of a father born in North Carolina and a mother in South Carolina, and also with his grandson, John "J." Carnes, 17, born in Texas of Texas natives. Presumably John J. Carnes is the same as John T. Carnes in the 1900 census. Cliza had had six children, with two surviving.^[338]

ALEXANDER SMITH OF BUNCOMBE CO., N.C.

Joseph Lawrence, soldier, was born on June 15, 1800,^[349] in Buncombe County, North Carolina, and moved to Texas in 1835. He was at Washington-on-the-Brazos when William B. Travis sent his messengers calling for volunteers to relieve the Alamo and joined a group who left for Gonzales on March 1, 1836. Most of the men stopped at Gonzales to join others who were gathering there. Lawrence joined Erastus (Deaf) Smith and Henry W. Karnes when Sam Houston sent them to San Antonio to find out the fate of the Alamo garrison. When they learned that the Alamo had fallen, they returned to Gonzales, and Lawrence made the long retreat with Houston and the other volunteers. They crossed the Lavaca River, Rocky Creek, the Navidad, and finally the Colorado. Lawrence transferred to Captain Karnes's company on March 20 and remained with it throughout the campaign. At San Jacinto his company was part of the cavalry, and he was in the skirmish on April 20. On the day of the battle of San Jacinto his company chased the Mexican cavalry for twelve miles, capturing and killing. The day after San Jacinto, Lawrence shot and killed an escaping Mexican soldier who was carrying Travis's saddle and blanket. They were sold with the other spoils of battle, the saddle for twenty dollars and the blanket for ten. Lawrence stayed in the army until he received his discharge on June 28 and then returned to Washington-on-the-Brazos. By early 1837 he had acquired some money and property. In February he furnished a bond for a probate administrator, and he was on the 1837 Washington County tax rolls. Late in 1837 he received a bounty warrant for 320 acres in Fannin County. In 1853 he received 640 acres in Caldwell County for his services at San Jacinto.

Lawrence married Mary Eleanor McGary on March 22, 1839,^[350] at Washington-on-the-Brazos. Shortly after their marriage they moved, with members of her family, to DeWitt County, where Edward McGary was killed by Indians. In August 1840 Lawrence joined the men who chased the Comanche Indians that attacked Linnville in the Linnville raid of 1840, and he fought in the battle of Plum Creek. Later in the year he served in an expedition to the Upper Colorado. He moved to La Grange in 1843, and in 1847 he was a charter member of LaFayette Masonic Lodge No. 43. In 1848 he moved to Lavaca County, where he opened a large plantation near the Old Pine Tree Crossings on Rocky Creek. In 1850 he petitioned to establish the Hallettsville Masonic Lodge. Lawrence lived on his plantation in Lavaca County for almost forty years. When he died on October 9, 1897,^[351] he was ninety-eight and the oldest surviving veteran of the Texas Revolution. He was buried in Andrews Chapel Cemetery.^[352]

From an obituary for Henry Patrick Smith:

Mr. H. P. Smith was born at Independence, Washington county, Texas, Feb. 6th, 1844, and died at Floresville, Texas, March 16th, 1924, aged 80 years.

He served through the Civil War as a confederate soldier and after the war moved to Lavaca county where he married Miss Mary Lawrence, on December 28th, 1869. Here he resided until he moved to Wilson county in 1908. . . .

He leaves the following children: Three sons, J. E. Smith, San Antonio; J. M. Smith, Elmendorf, and W. F. Smith, Floresville, and one daughter, Mrs. A. Overton, Floresville.^[353]

ALEXANDER SMITH OF BUNCOMBE CO., N.C.

The following is a set of “recollections of William Forrest Smith about his grandfathers, William Berry Smith and Joseph Lawrence as well as his father, Henry Patrick Smith.” It is his mention of his “uncle, James Lowery Smith,” that cements the relationship of the speaker to the family of William Berry Smith (established strongly however by the 1 Jan. 1877 deed from William Smith to his son, H. P. Smith, appendix K):

The father of my father, Henry Patrick Smith, was William Smith who was from Buncombe [sic] County in North Carolina. This being the same county as my grandfather, Joseph Lawrence, was from and William Smith knew or was acquainted with Joseph Lawrence while living in North Carolina. One time Joseph Lawrence went to see William Smith while in North Carolina to get him to repair a tongue in a juice [sic] harp. While there, a big fellow with a frock tail coat road up on his fine horse and soon an argument started. Smith told the man to get down off his horse and they would settle it. The man got down and they fought and fought and Smith got the man down in the mud with his fine black suit and long tie. Smith let the man up and the man left. This scared Joseph Lawrence very much, Joseph Lawrence being a very young boy and Smith being much older. Smith was a blacksmith, gun smith, and a very strong man—a rather Sampson [sic]—and could hold out an anvil at arm’s length with both hands. This was near the years 1807 to 1810, Lawrence being around 7 to 10 years old. And, perhaps Smith being 20 years old or older. Smith came to Texas and very likely settled in Independence or Salado.

Mr. Smith died or was dead when H. P. Smith, my father, was 4 years old.^[354] My father, Henry Patrick Smith, was raised by my uncle, James Lowery Smith.^[355] My father ran away and joined the Confederate army

354. This cannot be right since William Berry Smith died in 1877 and Henry Patrick Smith was born in 1844. It probably should say “Mrs.” Smith died when H. P. was 4. We know that she is not listed in the 1850 census.

355. This is probably not right either since James Lowery was born in 1827, so he would have been 21 in 1848 when Henry Patrick was 4, and nothing about another family member is mentioned in the 1850 census record for James Lowery Smith. When Henry Patrick was 17 (and ran away), the year would have been 1861. The 1860 census listing for James Lowery Smith also makes no mention of Henry in the household. However, at least when Henry was 5, he was in the household of his sister Sarah (Smith) Tandy.

when about 17 years old.^[356] After the war, my father went home with my uncle, Cameron Lawrence, Uncle Jim Jameson, and Uncle Bill Lawrence and Uncle Sol McCown.^[357] My father married Mary Lawrence, daughter of Joseph Lawrence of Lavaca County. He lived in Lavaca County, about seven miles south of Schulenburg, Texas on Rocky Creek. He was a farmer and owned a gin on Rocky Creek. He also was a stockman and raised and fattened as many as 400 cattle at one time. He shipped as much as a train load at one time to Chicago and perhaps St. Louis, etc. At that time he got as much as 4 1/2 cents per pound and made good money. He owned the gin for about 5 years. After selling the gin, he moved to Schulenburg and lived there for a period of about one year, then moved back to the farm, seven miles south of Schulenburg.

One time my brother, Edwin Smith, and my brother-in-law, Alfred Overton, went with a cattle train to Chicago and while passing through Oklahoma, they were out punching cattle that were down in cars and they train started to moving and they had to climb on top of the cattle cars and almost froze to death. They were saved by being able to get through a small door or opening in top or end of the car and getting down amongst the cattle where the warmth of the cattle kept them from freezing.

In the year 1907, he sold out his Lavaca County farm and moved to Wilson County west of Floresville, Texas. He bought two farms, one about two miles west of Floresville and the other about two miles east of Floresville and being on the Poth Road. After a number of years, he sold the farm on the Poth Highway and bought property in Floresville and built three houses. He lived in Floresville until his death on March 16, 1924.^[358]

356. A muster roll (containing dates 24 Feb. 1862 and 8 Mar. 1862) index card: "Name & Rank: Smith, Henry P., Pvt., | Comm. Off: Berry, H. L., Capt., | Organ: Harrison Cty. Clough & Hill Avengers Co. Taylor homestead on Hogg Creek; took active interest in organizing the county; by occupation, farmer; married, and has a family of children.^[371]

Pickens Co., Ala., did not come into existence until 20 Dec. 1820 (although created 19 Dec. 1819, detailed below) and Pickensville was the original county seat. Alabama became a state on 14 Dec. 1819, formerly being Alabama Terr., 1817-1819, and part of Mississippi before that, 1798-1817.^[372]

Following is a brief history of Pickens Co.:

Pickens County was created by the Alabama Legislature on December 19, 1819, out of Tuscaloosa County. It was named for General Andrew Pickens of South Carolina, a hero of the Revolution. The first county seat was established at Picken's Courthouse (later called Pickens and Pickensville) and moved to Carrollton in 1830. Neighboring Counties include Fayette, Greene, Lamar, Sumter and Tuscaloosa in Alabama and Lowndes and Noxubee counties in Mississippi.

Early Settlers: The first white settler in the county was Joseph Tilly who was born in North Carolina or Tennessee about 1785, lived in Tuscaloosa and in 1817, settled on the bluff, now known as Tilly's Bluff, on 370. Gen. Somervell created two regiments under James R. Cook and Joseph L. Bennett, respectively [Hendricks, "The Somervell Expedition to the Rio Grande, 1842," Southwestern Historical Quarterly 23:117].

the Tombigbee, about half a mile above Pickensville. He was a trader among the Choctaws. The second settler was Jonathan York, who settled near Tilly in 1818. Catherine, a daughter of Jonathan York, was the first white child born in the county . . . After that year the county was rapidly settled. The majority of the immigrants were from the up country of South Carolina.^[373]

Regarding the “Sommerville” [Somervell] campaign against “Meyer” [Mier] and the Mexicans, there is this account from Fehrenbach’s Texas history, Lone Star:

Houston still did not intend to make war [against Mexico], but he had to do something to allay public opinion. By November, 1842, 750 men were assembled in San Antonio. This army marched to Laredo, north of the Rio Grande but a Mexican town, and captured it on December 8. Here, some of the men left the army and went home. Somervell, the Texan general, marched south along the river for a few miles as a demonstration, then ordered the army back to Gonzales. He was working under Houston’s orders, and even the army suspected he did not intend to make war.

Some 300 men were infuriated by this retreat and refused to go. They elected a new colonel, Fisher, and crossed the border, taking the town of Mier. Here, after a desperate battle, the force was rounded up by the Mexican General Ampudia, on December 26. The captives were started for Mexico City; they tried a break, and in retaliation, after the typical lottery, they were decimated—one man in ten was shot. Those left were incarcerated in Perote prison, with the survivors of the expedition to Santa Fe. After some months, they were released, largely due to the efforts of Waddy Thompson, Texas’ old friend in the U.S. Congress, who was now U.S. Minister to Mexico.^[374]

Since Jesse’s statement made no mention of the capture by the Mexicans, it is probably safe to assume that he was with the group that returned home with Gen. Somervell on 19 Dec. 1842 before the ill-fated attack on Mier.^[375] The following excerpt from Soldiers of Misfortune, by

373. Welcome to Pickens Co., Ala.: A Genealogical and Historical Web Site.

374. Fehrenbach, Lone Star, 261–262.

375. Sower, History of Bend Co., chapter 31, “The Mier Expedition,” 183–186, is another account of

Sam W. Haynes, about the ill-fated Somervell campaign and subsequent Mier expedition, suggests the possibility that Jesse might even have departed earlier, on 11 Dec. 1842, with Joseph L. Bennett (who commanded Jesse's regiment) just after the capture and looting of Laredo:

There were 187 men who had had enough. Many were drafted militiamen who had been eager to quit the campaign for quite some time; only the stigma of desertion had prevented them from abandoning the cause in San Antonio. The rigors of the march had left many dispirited. Others believed nothing significant could be accomplished at this stage, and there were no doubt a few men who had managed to keep some of the property they had stolen in Laredo and were satisfied with their plunder. One looter was said to have stolen one hundred gold doubloons and a number of valuable blankets. Under the command of Colonel Joseph Bennett, these men marched north the following morning, December 11.^[376]

There was an even earlier time when Jesse might have returned home, even before the raid of Laredo reported in the Lone Star excerpt, when the Southwestern Army of Operations still had 1,250 men. Again, from Soldiers of Misfortune:

It all proved to be too much for many of them [the soldiers]. Those who had arrived in the early days of October were ready to go home. Having rushed to the frontier soon after the Woll invasion [to which the Somervell campaign was a response], they had not anticipated a prolonged campaign. . . . Desertions soon became so widespread that soldiers made little effort to conceal their withdrawal. Somervell ordered some of the first deserters arrested, but this did not deter others from leaving. So nasthe ill-fated Mier expedition. It gives this timeline: On 22 Nov. 1842, the command of 700 men left San Antonio for Mexico; Capt. Jack Hays's company was the "spy company," or scouts; dissatisfied with the lack of activity, 200 returned home; on 14 Dec. the command demanded supplies of the town of Guerrero; on 15 Dec. they moved back north of the Rio Grande, on 19 Dec. an order to return home was issued; 300 refused to obey, but 200 returned; the Jack Hays company stayed a few days more then returned home "deeming the force which remained too small to accomplish anything;" on 21 Dec. the remaining force camped across from Mier; on 24 Dec. the ill-fated attack began. So this account agrees with the one given above in general.

376. Haynes, Soldiers of Misfortune, 58.

ALEXANDER SMITH OF BUNCOMBE CO., N.C.

ty had the mood of his troops become that Somervell actually feared an uprising in the ranks, and was obliged to let them go unmolested.

Within ten days, the Southwestern Army had dwindled to a mere 750 men; close to 500 had deserted and gone home. The militia regiments had the highest attrition rate. The Washington and Montgomery County outfits disappeared almost entirely. These men had been drafted into service and were anxious to get back to their farms and families.^[377]

I include this possibility, despite the hint of desertion, because Jesse might indeed have been from Washington or Montgomery counties. But a certificate of service for Jesse R. Smith, a private in the Somervell Campaign, gives his service dates as 1 Oct. 1842 to 1 Jan. 1843 (Figure 6). This probably means that Jesse was with the group that returned 11 Dec. 1842 with Joseph L. Bennett, since Bennett signed his discharge papers (Figure 7).

An analysis of Sterling Brown Hendricks's The Somervell Expedition to the Rio Grande, 1842 yields these points (Hendricks was on the Somervell expedition):

1. The negative tone of the expedition started almost immediately with the two companies, of Captains John Hays and Samuel Bogart, vying for first position. Hays's company usually won the position. Somervell did not use his authority to quell the dispute.

2. Gen. Alexander Somervell organized two regiments, under Colonels James R. Cook and Joseph L. Bennett. We know from Jesse's statement that he was in Col. Bennett's regiment.

3. First march south was 13 Nov. Lots of grumbling about Somervell's lack of decisiveness.

4. The finally marched on 30 Nov. with Hays's company in the vanguard.

5. Crossed the Rio Frio on 1 Dec.

6. Learned on 6 Dec. that no Mexican forces were in Laredo.

7. 9 Dec., some of the troops looted Laredo and then had to return the loot to the villagers. Somervell apparently decided to head for home rather than cross the Rio Grande. 230 men were for returning, 500 for proceeding.

377. Haynes, Soldiers of Misfortune, 41-42.

8. 11 Dec., the 230 men left for home. Gen. Somervell stayed with the main body and they marched for a river crossing downriver near Guerrero. [This was probably when Jesse returned home, as already noted, Col. Bennett being part of the returning force.]

9. 14 Dec., at least some of the troops crossed the river.

10. By 17 Dec., they had recrossed the river. They had not attacked the Mexicans.

11. 19 Dec. Somervell orders the army home. Many troops refused to obey the order. 200 returned home with Somervell. 300 under Col. William S. Fisher and Gen. Thomas J. Green, did not, marching on Mier with unfortunate consequences.

12. The battle at Mier occurred on 25 Dec.

13. The army under Somervell was well on the way home on 1 Jan. 1843 when the army was disbanded. They arrived San Antonio on 4 Jan.

As regards Jesse's service in 1846 under Capt. "Hubbart," it will be shown below that this was his 1846 service in the Mexican War under Capt. Herbert. As regards the "Jack Hayes Regiment," caution must be exercised because, as historian Fehrenbach says:

For almost a century, every Texas Ranger wanted to be "like Jack Hays"—a monumental epitaph for a man who ended his service at the age of thirty-four. Three things stand out about John Coffee Hays above all other: he was no talker, but a born partisan who liked to ride the wild country by the North Star; he was not a great gunman, but a leader without fear who rose by sheer ability from among his peers; and he was a superb psychologist, who could bend both friend and foe to his will.^[378]

But John C. Hays did fight the Mexicans in Sept. 1842, leading up to the Somervell expedition,^[379] and the Jack Hays company was part of the Somervell expedition.^[380] And he did form a regiment in the Mexican War at age 30. Hays's Rangers were famous for introducing the Colt six-shooter to the Mexican War and Indian warfare.^[381] I shall show below that Jesse did indeed serve in the J. C. Hays Regiment in the Mexican War.

A Class 2 land grant, a so-called "second class headright," conditional certificate, was issued 2 Aug. 1838 to Jesse R. Smith for 640 acres, by the County Board of Land Commissioners, Montgomery Co., Tex., and the unconditional certificate was issued 7 Dec. 1841 to him by the same body. Class 2 grants were issued for those who first arrived in Texas between 2 Mar. 1836 (the founding date of the Republic of Texas) and 1 Oct. 1837 (see Figure 2–Figure 3). Presumably Jesse did not qualify for a first class headright, even though he arrived in Texas in 1835, because he was not yet 18 on 2 Mar. 1836. For a second-class headright, 640 acres were granted to single men and 1,280 to heads of families. The unconditional certificate, giving sell and transfer rights to the owner, was issued after three years residency in Texas.^[382] This does not mean that Jesse lived in Montgomery Co., nor that his land right had to be exercised there. In fact, 640 acres were surveyed Oct. 1840 in Henderson Co., Tex., by virtue of unconditional certificate no. 59, (see appendix A) so this is where Jesse chose his land.^[383] The survey notes were titled "Waters of Flat creek, tributary of the Neches r." Today there is a Flat Creek that exists entirely in Henderson Co. and enters the Neches River there,

380. Haynes, Soldiers of Misfortune, 26, "The Texans converged on San Antonio. Jack Hays and his ranger company were the first to appear, after their recent skirmish with Woll's army, and made camp outside of town. En route to the frontier Colonel Joseph L. Bennett's militia company from Montgomery County passed through."

382. Jesse R. Smith Tex. Archive File (see bibliography for full details), conditional certificate no. 89, unconditional certificate no. 59; Ericson and Ingmire, First Settlers of the Republic of Tex.: Headright Land Grants, Jan. 1840, 2:50, Montgomery Co., second class, no. 89, Jesse R. Smith, 640 acres, 2 Aug. 1838.

383. Jesse R. Smith Tex. Archive File, survey field notes, abstract no. 704, states that the survey is dated before the unconditional certificate. Presumably the survey was made in 1840 but the notes were not written until after the unconditional certificate was issued in 1841.

but this cannot be the one in the survey, which makes it very clear that the land was in Van Zandt County.^[384]

Since Jesse claimed to have entered Texas on 11 Dec. 1835 (in his 1886 statement), he seems to qualify for a first-class headright. However he was probably too young to qualify, being only 15 on 2 Mar. 1836 and 17 on 1 Oct. 1837. He became 18 during the second-class time period, explaining the puzzle.

Intriguingly there was a J. R. Smith, born in Alabama, with Mary, 20, in 1850 in Van Zandt Co., Tex., and they had been married within the year.^[385] They were both listed as illiterate, and with them was M. J. Gr[i?]ndle, a woman aged 14, born in Alabama. Unfortunately, there are too many things wrong with this item: J. R. was age 19, which is too young; he was born in Blunt [Blount] Co., Ala., which is not correct; and Mary was born in Tennessee, which does not match what is known about her. But worst of all, as will be shown in the next two paragraphs, Jesse had sold his land in Van Zandt Co. in 1848-1849 and bought land in Washington Co. in 1849.

Jesse R. Smith “of Washington County” transferred this land 29 Aug. 1848 to “Saml.” R. Smith for $300 in a deed of conveyance signed in Walker Co., Tex., witnessed by J. Carroll Smith, and a patent for the land was issued 25 Sept. 1849 in Austin, Tex., to “Saml.” R. Smith, being the final disposition of the original headright. It is not known if Samuel R. Smith or J. Carroll Smith was related to Jesse R. It appears from the Texas records that Samuel R. and J. Carroll were principals in many land deals, accumulating much property, so it was probably just

384. The phrase “Situated in Van-Zandt Co.” has been added, between lines, to the survey notes. This had to be added later because Van Zandt Co. did not come into existence until 20 Mar. 1848, derived from Henderson Co. The Tex. General Land Office lists the land in what is currently Henderson Co. The land was a square 1900.8 varas on a side, where a Texas vara was approximately 33 1/3 inches; thus it was one square mile (1760 yards converts to 1900.8 varas). The western end of Flat Creek in Henderson Co. is now under Lake Athens and its eastern end, where it enters the Neches, is now under Lake Palestine. Ambiguously, there is another Flat Creek in the northwest corner of Cherokee Co., just below Lake Palestine, that flows southwest into the Neches. Both the survey and the patent measure relative the northwest corner of the Neches Saline League, named for a saline now apparently covered by Lake Palestine, or partially so.

There was mention that Jesse R. Smith, along with Elisha and Emily A. (Smith) Whitley, purchased land 14 Jan. 1849, Washington Co., Tex., probably using money paid Jesse by Samuel R. Smith.^[387] Emily was Jesse's sister.

Benjamin Billups's first letter; Benjamin Billups's second letter to Sherry Thompson, posted 5 July 2001 by Sherry Thompson, The Gililand/Smith Family, <MyFamily.com>, (hereafter Benjamin Billups's second letter), cites his pension application giving his age as 67 on 17 Feb. 1887, and mentions that his birthday was exactly the same day and year as that of Benjamin Turner Hudman. Family legend, repeated in these letters, has Jesse the oldest boy in the wagon train leaving San Antonio before the battle of the Alamo, Feb. 1836, and that he was an Indian fighter wounded fighting Indians either by being dragged by a horse or by an arrow wound resulting in a broken hip. The 7 June 1846 date is curious; A Chronology of the U.S.-Mexican War, <www.dmwv.org/mex-war/chrono.htm>, has "7 July 1846: U.S. Naval forces occupy Monterey, California." and "20-24 Sept. 1846: Battle of Monterey, Northern Mexico."

The third card, for Jesse “K.” Smith, was a muster-out roll for the company dated 2 Oct. 1846, Monterey, Mexico, for musters-out listed up to that date. Jesse’s card contains the notation “pay due from Com: Service.”^[390]

Jesse R. Smith bought 320 acres for $320 in 1862 in Atascosa Co., Tex., then sold it to E. B. Harrison, probably Elijah Benton³ Harrison (*Ewel Sexton*², *John Malone*¹), in 1866 for $320, same legal description. He bought three lots in Pleasanton, Atascosa Co., in 1866 for $200, sold two of them in 1868 for $160.^[391]

Elizabeth Mary³ Harrison was daughter of Ewel Sexton² and Artemecy (Gorman) Harrison, who were married 12 Sept. 1820, Perry Co., Ala. See my companion book to this one on the Harrison family, for details.^[392] The migration of the Harrison family from Alabama to Atascosa Co., Tex., reflected that of the Smith family and suggests that they might have moved to Texas together, a theory supported by the intermarriage of the families, the name Benton which appeared in both, and property dealings the two did together. However, since Jesse R. Smith was in Texas in 1835, according to his 1886 statement, and at least by 1836 or 1837, as his land grant required, then he, at least, came west earlier than the Harrisons.

In 1847 the following three were listed together on the Walker Co. tax records: Mary Harrison, 50 acres of the original Stette land grant, value $100; J. M. Harrison, 100 acres of the Whitley grant, value $200; and Artemecy Harrison, 320 acres of the Whitley grant, value $320. This

On 26 Apr. 1852, Washington Co., Tex., “Jessee” R. Smith [signed J. R. Smith] granted power of attorney to Thomas R. Cartmell to collect $37.50 from the State of Texas for “service in the Somerville Campaign,” according to “Certificate No 511.” An attachment labeled “N^o 511 2^d Class | Smith, Jesse R.” was apparently attached [judging from a photocopy], as was this notation: “Rec^d Payment | Austin August 5th 1852 | Tho P Cartmell | atty for J. R. Smith.”^[394]

Artemecy Harrison deeded 100 acres to O’Bryan and Wright for $700, signing on 30 Nov. 1852 “in the presence of J. R. Smith (her son-in-law) in the State of Texas, Washington County. Filed for record Jan 9, 1853. Her daughter Elizabeth married Jesse Richard Smith Feb. 15, 1849 in Washington County, Tx. They had land adjoining each other on the waters of the Kuykendall Creek, Washington County, vol. L pages 90-91-92.”^[395]

Artemecy² Gorman was daughter of Elijah P.¹ and Mary (–) Gorman. Elijah was born about 1774, Greenville District, Greenville Co., S.C., and Mary was born about 1777, in South Carolina. See my companion book to this one, on the Gorman family, for further details.^[396]

Ewel Sexton² Harrison was son of John Malone¹ and Pheriba (Chism) Harrison, who married 17 Apr. 1802, Warren Co., Ky., and had 12 children. John Malone Harrison was born about 1785, Warren Co., Ky., and Pheriba Chism was born 15 May 1787, Warren Co., daughter of John Chism. The following records have been reported by my correspondent Ken Whitley, but I have not verified them against actual records:

On 15 May 1860, Jesse obtained right and title to the remaining 312 acres owned by his brother, William, by purchasing it at auction for $480. In 1856, Jesse bought 100 acres from his Harrison brothers-in-law. Jesse's brother, James M. Smith, Jr., bought the other 100 acres the Harrisons had purchased from William in 1854. . . .

By the time of birth of their seventh child, Sophronia Parilee, on 23 March 1860, Jesse and Elizabeth had moved their family to Atascosa County [he appears to have been there by 1858] where he bought land along Galleras Creek, a tributary to the Atascosa River, from Peter Tumlison. Located 19½ miles 59 deg E from San Antonio, the property was identified as the A. M. Oliver patent #317, Section #6 of Survey 1359 1/2, Republic of Texas Land Warrant #672, dated 4 Dec 1837.

In 1860 Jesse Smith, 42, a stockman born in Alabama with $775 real and $1950 personal estates, was in Atascosa Co., Tex., at the Pleasanton post office. He was with Elizabeth Smith, 31, born in Alabama, and seven children all born in Texas: Mary E., 10, James W., 9, "W^m" L., 7, John H., 5, Samuel O., 4, Cordelia J., 2, Sophronia P., 4/12, and with "Stockraiser" James Harrison, 27, born in Alabama.^[401] The last person

Harrison, 10, also born in Texas.^[420] The last boy was James A. Harrison, son of Elizabeth's brother Elijah Benton Harrison, who died in the 1860s, and his wife Martha (Payne) Reynolds [Runnals], who died 22 Feb. 1864.^[421]

From his personal testimony, Jesse moved to Runnels Co., Tex., in Dec. 1879, bought the B. W. Taylor homestead on "Hogg Creek," and "took active interest in organizing the county."^[422] [There was a Baldy W. Taylor in Runnels Co. in the 1880 census.] Here's a description of Hog Creek from The Handbook of Texas Online:

Hog Creek (Runnels County). Hog Creek rises a mile north of Hog Mountain and two miles north of Farm Road 384 in northwestern Runnels County (at 31°56' N, 100°14' W) and runs south for twelve miles to its mouth on the Colorado River, five miles north of Brookshier (at 31°49' N, 100°14' W). Mesquite and grasses grow around the upper reaches of the stream, and water-tolerant hardwoods, conifers, and various grasses grow along its lower. The creek rises in land with moderately steep slopes and high local reliefs and ends in flat terrain with local shallow depressions and a clay surface.^[423]

In 1880 "Jessy" R. Smith, 60, a farmer born in Alabama of "NoCa" [North Carolina] natives resided in Runnels Co., Tex., with his wife, Elizabeth M., 51, born in Alabama of Alabama natives, his daughter, Cordelia P., 21, son, Samuel O., 23, daughter, Sophronia P., 19, and sons, Elijah F., 18, "Jessee" R., 12, "Benjman" B., 12, the children all born in Texas, and William Wheeler, 22, a laborer born in Texas.^[424]

In 1880, curiously, there was another listing for this same family, but in Tom Green Co., Tex. N.B. Tom Green abutted Runnels:

ALEXANDER SMITH OF BUNCOMBE CO., N.C.

In 1880 “Jessie” Smith, 60, a cattle raiser born in Alabama of North Carolina natives, resided in Tom Green Co., Tex., with his wife, Elizabeth, 51, born in Texas of Alabama natives, son, Samuel, 24, daughters, “Cordilea,” 22, and “Suffrona,” 20, and sons, Elijah, 18, “Jessie,” 12, and Benjamin, 12, all born in Texas.^[425]

The preceding 1880 census was enumerated 2–3 June 1880, and the second 16 June 1880, so the family might have moved during that brief interval. More likely is that they moved mid-Mar. 1880, leaving a record behind so that they would be counted somewhere while moving. The differences in ages between the two listings suggest that they left the older home during the period 12–20 Mar. 1880, between the birthdays of Elijah and Sophronia. But all these calculations depend unrealistically on the accuracy of census data. Recall that Jesse’s statement of 1886 has him moving to Runnels Co. in Dec. 1879. And he apparently gave his statement from there.^[426]

Jesse applied 1 Mar. 1887 for a pension for his Mexican War service in Company E, 1st Texas Mounted Volunteers, and obtained it.^[427] The last record of him is the cancellation of his pension on 4 Feb. 1906, stating that the pension was last paid on 4 Nov. 1902 and subsequently cancelled because of failure to claim the money. He was living in Cloudcroft, Otero Co., N.M. Terr., 1 Dec. 1902, which probably explains his failure to collect the pension.^[428]

In 1890 “Jessie” R. Smith paid taxes (81 cents!) on 50 acres and two horses and six cattle in Atascosa Co., Tex.^[429]

In 1891 Jesse R. Smith paid taxes (72 cents) on 50 acres and two horses in Atascosa Co., Tex.^[430]

On 17 Dec. 1894, a San Antonio, Tex., newspaper article about the death of Jesse's brother, "W. L. Smith," stated this (more details under William Ledbetter Smith's sketch, q.v.):

His [W. L.'s] brothers are James Smith in Atascoca county, Jesse Smith in New Mexico and Frank Smith, at Pearsall.

In 1895 J. R. Smith paid no taxes in Atascosa Co., Tex., although his name was listed on the tax roll.^[431] He was probably exempted because of his age (75), or because he had moved to New Mexico.

In 1896 J. R. Smith paid no taxes in Atascosa Co., Tex., although his name was listed on the tax roll.^[432]

In 1897 J. R. Smith paid no taxes in Atascosa Co., Tex., although his name was listed on the tax roll.^[433]

The 1900 census of Sterling Co., Tex., has Jesse Smith, 80, a widower born Apr. 1820, Alabama, living with his son, Sam. O. Smith, and his family. Jesse's father is shown a native of North Carolina and his mother of South Carolina.^[434]

The Billups letter claims this about Jesse's death and burial:

He died [in 1905] in Cloudcroft and was buried in Cox Canyon, in a small community graveyard on the Talley or Bonnell ranch property. This cemetery [sic] is opposite the old Sawmill site.^[435]

Courthouse basement ‘filebox’ by Vera (Whitley) McCarty.” Presumably both documents were found in the same filebox.

The license for the marriage was issued 20 Sept. 1840. The marriage was performed by Mills Whitley, who wrote the following marriage certificate, orthography preserved:

Larkin Day of Montgomery Co. is listed in a Republic of Texas poll list for 1846.^[450]

From Ken Whitley:

Margaret Angeline Smith was born in Pickens County, Alabama, ca 1824 considering the probability of her age at the time of her marriage in 1840 to Larkin Day. Family tradition holds that Margaret died in childbirth of her only daughter, Sarah Amanda “Mandy” Day, who was born 12 October 1843 in Montgomery Co., Texas. Margaret married Larkin Day on 15 October 1840 in Montgomery County, Texas, the marriage performed by Jeff and Elisha Whitley’s uncle, Mills Whitley, Justice of the Peace.

Margaret and Larkin Day’s original marriage license, issued 25 September 1840 but never recorded in the county’s marriage book, was discovered in a file box stored in the basement of the Montgomery County courthouse by Vera Whitley McCarty, a descendant of Emily A. (Smith) Whitley, while searching for Emily's parents.

449. The image sent includes that of a typescript transcription of this certificate: “Marriage License | Larkin Day | To | Margaret Smith | issued 25 [sic] Sept 1840 | Republic of Texas | Montgomery County | This is to certify that I solemnized the words of matrimony to the above named persons named on the marriage license on the 15 day of October 1840 given under my hand and seal this the 16 October 1840 . . . ALEXANDER SMITH OF BUNCOMBE CO., N.C.

Sarah Amanda's grandparents, Sarah M. and James M. Smith, Sr., must have raised Sarah until at least 1853. Events and circumstances indicate that Sarah Amanda and her aunt, Mary L. Smith, lived with Mary's sister and brother-in-law, Emily A. and Elisha Whitley, in Lavaca County from 1853 to 1857, the year both Sarah and Mary would be married.

Sarah Amanda married Thomas Jefferson Whitley, a 1st cousin to Elisha Whitley, on 17 November 1857 on their "elopement" to Colorado County. Sarah had written "Lavaca County" in her CSA Veteran's Widow's Pension application, but their record of marriage was located in Colorado County. Mandy was just fourteen years old. At the time of their marriage, Jeff lived with his brother John R. Whitley not far from Emily and Elisha near Hallettsville, Lavaca County. Jeff and John R. arrived in Lavaca County in late 1853, or early 1854 from Missouri. They were both named in Commissioner's Court's Minutes Books for 1854.

Jeff was born on 15 September 1835 in Clark County, Illinois where his father Randolph's family was enumerated in the 1830 census. His brother John R. Whitley was probably born in Bond Co., Illinois, where Randolph Whitley (16 Jan 1798-3 Apr 1858) and Judy Duncan were married on 25 March 1819. Jeff and John were two of Randolph and Judy's ten children, two of their sons not yet identified. Randolph was a son of John Saunders Whitley and Bathsheba Bateman, originally from Isle of Wight County, Virginia. The family settled in Illinois ca 1810/1811.

From Illinois, Randolph's sister, Elizabeth, and her husband, Samuel Washington Lindley, had moved their family to Texas in 1833. Their son, Jonathan Lindley, died in brave sacrifice at the Battle of the Alamo on 6 March 1836. Two other brothers, Mills and Sharp Whitley, arrived in Texas in January 1835, settling in Montgomery County. Randolph, with several siblings, had moved to St. Claire County, Missouri, ca 1836.

From the time of their marriage, it is evident that Jeff and Sarah stayed near Emily and Elisha for at least two years after leaving Lavaca County, first in Karnes County in 1858, then 1860 in Bexar County. The 1860 census of Bexar County shows that Jeff and Sarah were living next to her grandfather James M. Smith, Sr., along the Medina River west of San Antonio near LaCoste, Texas. Living in the same community were Sarah Amanda's aunt, Sarah Ann and William P. "Bill" Luckie, and her uncle James M. Smith, Jr., with his wife Virginia. Not far away in Atascosa County were Sarah Amanda's uncles Jesse Richard Smith and John C. Smith. Emily and Elisha lived at Sutherland Springs, Bexar County.

Since Margaret Angeline had named her daughter after her own mother Sarah Smith, it is no coincidence that Sarah Amanda and Jeff named their first child Margaret Angeline Whitley who was born 2 October 1859.

During the American Civil War, Jeff served in the 33rd (36th) Texas Cavalry, CSA, with James M. Smith, Jr., and James' brother Benjamin Franklin Smith. They had engaged in the "last battle of the Civil war" at Brownsville, Texas, along the Rio Grande River. After the war, Jeff and Sarah Amanda settled near Benton City and Von Ormy, Atascosa County. The 1870 census shows they lived near Sarah's uncle Benjamin Franklin Smith and his wife Sarah Caroline Avent whom he had married in 1867.

The Smith-Whitley familial relationship continued with Jeff signing as security for Sarah Amanda's aunt Mary L.(Smith) Nolen in the September 1865 settlement of Mary's deceased husband's estate in Caldwell County. Martin Whitley was killed in action on 30 April 1864 in the Civil War Battle of Jenkin's Ferry in the Camden Expedition. Martin was one of at least 86 CSA soldiers killed in the battle.

(Sarah) Amanda Whitley and her husband Jefferson Whitley were party to a petition brought to Bexar County District Court by the children of James M. Smith, Sr., naming him a defendant in the case in which they were asking for distribution of their interest in their mother's half of community property occasioned by her death in 1856. As stated in the petition, "Amanda Whitley is the lawful and only child and heir of Margaret Angeline Day, who was the lawful daughter of, but died before, the said Sarah Smith . . ." The petition named all of James and Sarah's children, and was published in The San Antonio Ledger & Texan on Saturday, Feb 2, 1861. (A copy provided by Mark Pinak in 2010 to this writer.) This document provided the proof that Margaret Smith and Emily A. Smith were, in fact, daughters of James M. Smith.

ALEXANDER SMITH OF BUNCOMBE CO., N.C.

S. A. (Sarah Amanda) Whitley was a signatory on a Bexar County deed dated 18 Jan 1866 which also included the names of James' children, except for Emily A. Whitley. Sarah Amanda and her aunts and uncles were returning the property (for $1) to James M. Smith with unencumbered title so that he could sell it before his impending move to Belton, Bell County, Texas, with his 2nd wife, Lucinda (widow of William Griswold) whom he had married in 1859.

Besides Margaret Angeline born in 1859, Sarah and Jeff had five more children: Jefferson Franklin, Robert Stokeley "Newt", Eva Josephine "Evy", George Wesley "Bud", and Lilly Dora Whitley.

Sarah and Jeff moved to Medina County about the time Elisha Whitley was killed by Indians in January 1872 near Black Creek in that county. By 1883, Jeff and Sarah had homesteaded a place in Atascosa County near the Frio, Medina and Atascosa County line. Descendants of Elisha and Emily Whitley, and Jeff and Sarah Amanda Whitley, still live in that community.

Located a short distance from Jeff and Sarah's place on the Sesterdero Creek is the Brummett Cemetery, situated in a cattle pasture surrounded by mesquite trees and cactus, but well-maintained by the cemetery association. Jeff died 23 June 1904 and was buried in the Brummett Cemetery. Sarah Amanda's uncle, James M. Smith, Jr., died 21 April 1910, and was buried in Jeff's plot. Sarah Amanda died 25 September 1930 and was buried next to Jeff and James.

Margaret Angeline (Smith) Day died in Montgomery County in 1843 but her grave has not yet been found (by this writer).

Ken is a descendant of Thomas Jefferson Whitley. Ken adds the following: “In addition to Mills, Sharp and Randolph, John Saunders Whitley (1770–1838) also had five more sons and two daughters: John Jr., Elisha, Abraham, William, Josiah, Clarendo and Elizabeth. Elizabeth is the one who married Samuel W. Lindley.”

ALEXANDER SMITH OF BUNCOMBE CO., N.C.

in Medina Co., TX in 1863. He died on 12 Jan 1872 in Devine, Medina Co., TX. Elisha and Henry McCray were both killed by Indians. He was buried in Devine Evergreen Cemetery in 1872 in Devine, Medina Co., TX. Elisha's parents and family came to Texas from Illinois in 1835, and were of Scot/Irish blood. Elisha's father was said to have fought in the Battle of San Jacinto in 1836. Elisha Whitley and Emily Smith, were married on May 17, 1847, in the home of Thomas Carothers in Walker County, by Thomas Carothers, Justice of the Peace of Walker County. Elisha and Emily lived their first year of marriage in Walker County close to the area where their families were living at the time. William Whitley was born April 9, 1848, in Walker County, Texas. Elisha Whitley and Jesse R. Smith purchased land in Washington County, Texas, on January 14, 1849, where he moved his new family. John Madison Whitley was born on this place on July 21, 1849, along with his brother Sharp Whitley, who was born a year or two later. Elisha moved on southwest to DeWitt County, Texas, where Elisha Franklin Whitley (Jr.) was born in 1854, probably on a rented farm. James and Robert J. Whitley were born sometime between 1854 and 1859 in DeWitt or Gonzales County because Sarah (Sally) Whitley was born on June 4, 1859, near Rancho, Gonzales County, Texas. During the Civil War Elisha Whitley and his family were living in Kerrville, Kerr County, Texas. Most of the Kerr County residence were immigrants from Germany or Europe and had left their home land in fear of such civil wars and did not want to fight in this one either. Many of these settlers became victims of brutal massacres when they refused to join and fight. Elisha Whitley belonged to Lieutenant Arber's Company but did not become one of his scouts who had taken part in these massacres. In the early part of 1864 word was sent to him that they wanted him to guide them to a camp on the San Antonio River, but he knew that they were planning to kill him so he took his family and fled that part of the country. He moved from Kerrville to Medina County where he built a log cabin and settled on what is now the outskirts of Devine, Texas. Here Elisha and Emily's last child, Mills Whitley, was born in September of 1864. At the time Elisha moved his family to Medina County, there was nothing there at what was to become Devine, Texas. It was all open land and settlers were far and few. Elisha and his son John, hauled salt from the Rio Grande Valley by wagon for time after they settled at what was to become Devine, Texas. On one such trip they came upon an alligator way out in the dry part of south Texas. They roped it, spit chewing tobacco in its eyes, then turned it loose and went about their way hauling salt. Those days were filled with hard work and very few good times could be remembered. The greatest threat to them were Indians who would make raids through the territory to steal horses. They would kill the settlers to prevent them from spreading the word that they were in the area, so the settlers had to watch out and constantly be on guard. Elisha had a fine race horse and on numerous occasions the Indians had tried to steal him, but Elisha kept him chained to the door of his log cabin, which made it impossible for him to be taken. This was a smart thing for him to do, because this saved his cabin from being burnt down like so many of the other settler's cabins in the area. The Indians were crazy about horses and would not harm them. One day the Indians had made a raid in the area and had stopped to watch Elisha's cabin. They would not attack a cabin if they knew a man was inside, but Elisha was gone on a hunting trip and had left his wife and children alone. That night the Indians made sounds like Whoo Owls to see if any men would come out of the cabin. When nobody came the three of them decided to attack the cabin. the yard dogs killed two of the Indians before they were killed. The last Indian started chopping a hole in the cabin and when it was large he stuck his head through it, Emily Whitley split his skull with an ax that she used to chop kindling with. On most moonlight nights the Indians would always be wandering about and just waiting for someone to come out of the cabin. Elisha had a few cows and would always put them in the barn before dark. One evening one cow did not come until after dark. Emily, Elisha's wife went out to put the cow in the barn after Elisha told her not to. On the way to the barn she heard an Indian making a sound like an owl to her left and another to her right, knowing the Indians had set a trap for her she ran back to the safety of the cabin. On January 12, 1872, Elisha Whitley and Mr. Henry McCray, father of Frank Whitley's wife Mary, went hog hunting at night. They traveled a short distance from the log cabin taking two horse, a wagon and several dogs with them. Shots could be heard along with the baying of dogs at the log cabin by Emily and the family that night. They thought they were killing this winters meat, but the next morning was a different ending. The next morning John, Elisha's son followed the wagon tracks to where all of the shooting was coming from, thinking he could help butcher the freshly killed hogs, but instead he found his father and Mr. McCray dead, along with the hounds. They had been attacked and killed by Indians. They killed Elisha standing at the horses; he caught the horses to prevent them from running off. Mr. McCray ran off to a thicket of oak trees and they killed him and cut his heart out and stuck it up on a stick, which meant he was a coward for running off. They were brought home and buried in the shade of a large live oak just a short distance from the log cabin. Their burial opened what was to become the Divine Evergreen Cemetery. Their family placed a stone wall around the graves. Between 1910 and 1930 the stone wall disappeared and the oak tree was struck by lightning and now all that marks their graves is two sand stone rocks at the head of each grave.

(These stories were told by John Madison Whitley to his grandson, my father, Vernon Robert Coffman. I, Robert Vernon Coffman, remember John Madison Whitley as my great grandfather. As a child I was afraid to go to him because cancer had destroyed his nose and he had a hole in his face. The cancer finally ate an artery in his throat causing his death in 1943.)

Devine County Newspaper article written by Raymond Carter Jr. (relative) depicts the story of Elisha Whitley and Henry McCray being murdered by the Indians in Devine County. They were out trying to kill winter meat and were attacked. The article in the Devine News is titled: "Whitley facts of Devine Cemetery" on Thursday, August 24, 1978.

From Ken Whitley:

James M. Smith is Jesse Richard Smith's father. Vera Whitley McCarty (dec'd 2006),^[459] a descendant of Emily A. Smith and Elisha Whitley, was convinced that Emily was a daughter of James M. Smith, but like everyone else, she could never find documented evidence that she was. I'm afraid she went to her grave not knowing for a certainty. Only time, 459. Tex. Birth Index, 1903-1997, Vera Aloma Whitley and John Wendell McCarty, were parents to John Patt McCarty, born 29 Feb. 1940, Dallas, and to Jacklin Diana McCarty, born 5 July 1941, Dallas; SSDI, Vera A. McCarty, SSN 461-10-4621, born 5 Oct. 1910, died 21 Feb. 2006, last residence 75080 Richardson, Dallas Co., Tex., issued Tex. (before 1951). This is probably the Vera Whitley McCarty referred to.

place and events can be used for the argument as to who Emily's parents were. The Smiths and Whitleys lived close to each other from the 1830s to the 1860s and beyond. Elisha married Emily in 1847 in Walker County. James M. Smith settled in that part of Montgomery county that became Walker County in 1846, in the same community as the Whitleys. When James relocated to Washington County near Earlywine in 1848, Elisha partnered with Jesse Richard Smith to buy land in the same section that James M. bought his 276 acres. William Berry Smith must have been in the same area because that is where his son John Alexander married Elisha's sister Catherine Whitley. Elisha's father and other siblings moved on to Lavaca County. James M. Smith and other sons moved on to Bexar County around 1853 but several "children" were left behind, most likely living with Elisha and Emily. James M. Smith's daughter Mary L., married Elisha's brother Martin Whitley in 1857. Martin was killed in the Civil war and Thomas Jefferson Whitley was a surety for Mary L. and her second husband Frank Nolen in the settlement of Martin's estate. Another of James' daughters Sarah Ann married William P. Luckie there. James M. Smith's granddaughter Sarah Amanda Day, had to be living with Elisha at her age of 14 when she eloped with Elisha's 1st cousin, Thomas Jefferson Whitley (my GGgrandfather) in 1857. Sarah Amanda's mother Margaret Smith who had married Larkin Day in 1840 died in childbirth when Sarah was born in 1843 in Montgomery County. By 1860, Jeff and Sarah Amanda, James M., Jr., and his wife, Sarah Ann and her husband Bill Luckie were all living near James M. Smith, Sr., near LaCoste west of San Antonio. Even Elisha and Emily had settled a short distance from them in Sutherland Springs south of San Antonio. In 1854, James M. Smith bought land in Bexar County, the deed witnessed by Elisha Whitley. That was the same land that James' children and granddaughter released their interest in back to James so he could sell it in 1866 before he moved to Belton in Bell County where he died in 1873. If Emily were not the daughter of James M. Smith, why would Elisha have such an interest in helping James M. Smith by witnessing his deed, or by always staying not far from him or others in his family. Thomas Jefferson Whitley and Sarah Amanda were buried in Brummett Cemetery in Frio County near Devine, Texas.^[460]

ALEXANDER SMITH OF BUNCOMBE CO., N.C.

Not three feet away from Sarah Amanda was her uncle James M. Smith, Jr.'s grave. Emily A. was buried in that same cemetery in 1899. Elisha had been killed by Indians in 1872 and was buried in an unmarked grave in Evergreen cemetery in Devine, Texas. It will take some powerful argument or evidence to make me believe Emily was not a daughter of James M. Smith, and I will include her in James M. Smith's family until such time as anyone comes up with documented evidence to the contrary.

Added 23 May 2024: A cousin, Richard Bills, sent me a newspaper clipping today, from an 1894 San Antonio paper, which answers the question in the paragraph just above, gives William a first wife, and informs us when Jesse R. Smith first moved to New Mexico. I quote the item completely here, with thanks to Richard:

Sudden Death

Alderman W. L. Smith Succumbs to Neuralgia of the Heart.

The citizens were shocked today on the news of the sudden death of Alderman W. L. Smith, which occurred suddenly last night at 10 o'clock, at his residence on the corner of South Frio and Vera Cruz streets, heart failure or neuralgia of the heart, being the cause of death.

Capt. Smith had some weeks ago, a severe attack of la grippe and for several days past has suffered a relapse. He attended the meeting of the city council last Monday, but was ill and afterward took to his bed and began his usual course of medicine.

Last night he was in bed, when his wife reminded him it was the hour to take his medicine. He felt so much better, he replied, that he did not care to take it and did not do so. In a few moments Mrs. Smith laid beside him to rest and watch over him, and soon became aware that his breathing was unnatural. She was grief-stricken to see that her husband was dying and summoned others [sic] members of the the family. Death came quickly and he expired in his wife's arms, before the arrival of Dr. Withers, the physician summoned.

Capt. Smith was one of the most respected citizens of San Antonio. He uprightness of character, in business and social relations, was the shining mark of his career and his many qualities of heart and hand had endeared him to a large circle of warm friends. He was born in Alabama in 1850 [sic]. He parents settled near the Bexar county line on the Medina, when he was four years of age. Here he grew to manhood, and at the beginning of the late civil war, he joined the Terry Rangers, finally being promoted to the rank of captain of one of the companies.

His company took part in the war and their captain acquitted himself with great bravery and gallant conduct.

ALEXANDER SMITH OF BUNCOMBE CO., N.C.

After the war San Antonio was chosen as his home, and he soon became one of the foremost stockraisers of this section. He continued stock raising and trading up to the time of his death. One line of his business, in anti-railroad days, was Mexican freighting.

Alderman Smith was elected as a member of the city council from Ward No. 2 at the last election and had served his ward in the present council faithfully and well.

During the county election in November he ran for the office of hide and animal inspector, but was defeated. He was chairman of the police committee of the city administration, and member of the streets and bridges and ditches and irrigation committees.

The family of the deceased consisted of a wife and four children, two sons and two daughters, all of whom reside in this city. He also has three brothers and two sisters living. His brothers are James Smith in Atascosa county, Jesse Smith in New Mexico and Frank Smith, at Pearsali [sic]. One sister, Mrs. William Luckie, lives at Marble Falls, Tex., and another Mrs. Nolan, resides near Pearsall, Tex.

He was twice married. His first wife was Miss Hart, of Navasota, who died about twenty years ago. His second marriage was Miss Sallie Buck [sic] of this city, who survives him.

The funeral will occur tomorrow.^[470]

An analysis by Rena and Ken Whitley:

William's arrival in Bexar County by 1851, as indicated in deed transactions in Bexar County preceded his family's arrival by a couple of years. His father and mother moved from Washington County, Texas, to Bexar County in 1853. On 31 Mar 1851, William purchased 825 acres located 17 miles west of San Antonio along the Medina River from Samuel H. Luckie. By 1860, this land had been mostly sold off to William's brother Jesse Richard Smith, and Jesse's brothers-in-law, Elijah and John Harrison.

A petition by William's siblings, Sarah A. Luckie, Mary Whitley, Emily Whitley, and niece (Sarah) Amanda Whitley, filed in Bexar County District Court, named William as an heir of their mother, Sarah Smith, who had died 10 Mar 1856. They were asking for partition of their share of their mother's community property by their father, James M. Smith. William was named a defendant in the summons accompanying the petition because, as was sworn to in the petition, none of them knew where William resided at that time. The petition with the summons, was published in The San Antonio Ledger & Texan, Saturday, February 2, 1861.

The court record showing resolution of the petition has not been discovered, but had to have been successful. On 18 January 1866, James M. Smith's children, including William L., relinquished their interest in the 150 acre parcel where their father resided (for $1) so he would have unencumbered title when he sold the property prior to his move to Belton, thorough work, and is only lacking references, which I hope to supply (or have Ken supply):

James M. Smith, Jr., 10 Oct 1833–29 Apr 1910, was born in Pickens County, Alabama. At the age of two years, on 11 Dec 1835, he arrived in pre-Republic of Texas with his parents and siblings. Tax rolls of 1838 for Montgomery County show that this family settled on 177 acres (a Labor) at present-day New Waverly, Texas, in the northern part of Montgomery County which was to become Walker County in 1846. In this vicinity also were the families of the Sadlers, Lindleys, Harrisons, Days and Whitleys, among others. The 177 acres was part of the Sadler Headright.

A month after the end of the U.S.-Mexican War, James' parents, James M Smith, Sr., and Sarah M. Smith (maiden name unknown), and others of his family moved to Washington County where, in March 1848, they settled on the Abner Kuykendall grant near Earlywine, northeast of Brenham, Texas. Abner was one of three brothers who were the first of Stephen F. Austin's "Old 300" colonists. The Smiths farmed and raised stock here for five years, then sold out and moved on to Bexar County in 1853, settling along the Medina River sixteen miles west of San Antonio.

On 20 March 1856 in Bexar County, James M. Smith, Jr., married Virginia C. Hutchison who was born ca 1839 in Alabama. She was a daughter of Isaac and Margaret C. Hutchison. James' and Virginia's marriage ceremony was witnessed by James' brothers-in-law, William P. "Bill" Luckie and Elijah B. Harrison.^[483] Elijah B. Harrison was a brother of Elizabeth Mary (Harrison) Smith who was the wife of James' brother, Jesse Richard Smith. Virginia had at least two brothers, Oliver P. and William Charles Hutchison (12 Apr 1835–16 Nov 1921). William Charles' wife, Sarah E. –(b. ca 1850), died 10 Jan 1924. Isaac Hutchison had deeded 100 acres to Virginia. This land was located in Survey #7 of the John H. Pickens 1/2 League (2,214 acres) on the south side of the Medina River near where the Smiths had settled near MacDona (McDonna), at LaCoste, Texas.

James M. Smith, Jr., bought 100 acres for $800 from Elijah Harrison on 16 August 1856. This land was located in Survey #8, the Richardson survey, a part of the Juan de Dos Nietos grant, on the south side of the Medina River. On 30 Oct 1856, Virginia and James sold the land she had received from her father to Catherine Gibson for $350. On 12 November 1856, James bought another 100 acres from Elijah Harrison. This was part of the land Elijah had bought from James' brother William L. Smith in September 1854. William had preceded his family, having arrived in Bexar County by 1851 when he bought 825 acres from Samuel Luckie. Sam was William P. "Bill" Luckie's uncle, an early land speculator in Bexar County. William L. Smith sold 200 acres of this land to Elijah and John M. Harrison in 1854.

James was listed on the Bexar County tax roll of 1857 with 100 acres valued at $500, located in the Juan de Dos Nietos grant along the Medina River, and with one horse and ten head of cattle. The 1859 tax roll listed James with 100 acres @ $600 located on the Luckie grant, 6 horses and 45 head of cattle, oxen and hogs.

James Smith was enumerated in the 1860 census of Bexar County at age 24, with wife Virginia, 21, and a daughter, Margaret, 2 years. His family, #2629, was only a few removed from his father (#2623), brother-in-law W. P. Luckie (#2621), and from Jeff Whitley (#2622) who had married James' niece, Sarah Amanda Day in 1857 in Colorado County. (Jeff and Sarah were living in Lavaca County at the time and probably had to elope to get married since Sarah was only 14 years old.) James M. Smith, Sr., had settled just 1 and 1/4 mile east of LaCoste, Texas, just west of MacDona.

James M. Smith, Jr., "of Atascosa County" was named in a petition his siblings brought against their father for distribution of their half interest in their deceased mother's substantial community property. Their mother, Sarah M. Smith, had died 10 March 1865 in Bexar County. The petition was publicised in the newspaper, The San Antonio Ledger & Texan on Saturday, February 2, 1861, as a summons for William Smith, co-defendant, apparently because he could not be found.

ALEXANDER SMITH OF BUNCOMBE CO., N.C.

During the Civil War years, James enlisted in the CSA on 3 March 1862, and was discharged at Houston, Texas, in 1865 at the close of the war. He served with Company "C", 36th Regiment, Texas Cavalry, the same unit as his younger brother, Benjamin Franklin Smith.⁴⁸⁴ In his Confederate Veteran's Pension application filed on 23 My 1905, James stated that he had lived in Bexar County for 52 years near MacDona.

The 1866 Bexar County tax roll listed James again with 100 acres in the Juan de Dos Nietos grant. The 1868-1869 tax rolls listed his 100 acres in the John H. Pickens grant.

Back in 1854, July 22nd, James was named as a witness on a deed to a land transaction between his father and Elisha A. Briggs. Involved was 150 acres located in the George W. Price grant along the south bank of the Medina River just west of the John H. Pickens grant. The other witness to the deed was Elisha Whitley who had married Emily A. Smith, James' sister, in 1847 back in Walker County. On 18 January 1866, James, Jr., and his brothers and sisters (except Emily A.) relinquished their interest in the 150 acres back to their father for $1 so that it could Stevens' Company, Texas Mounted Riflemen (subsequently became Company C, 36th Regiment Texas Cavalry, which was also called the 32nd and Woods' Regiment Texas Cavalry. The first card is a muster-in roll dated 9 Apr. 1862, San Antonio, Tex., for musters-in up to 22 Mar. 1862. Jesse joined 22 Mar. 186[empty], San Antonio, by J. K. Stevens, for "three years or the war." Second is a muster roll for 22 Mar. to 30 June 1862, with James's horse valued at $95 and his equipment at $40. Third is muster roll for July and Aug. 1862. Fourth ditto for Sept. and Oct. 1862. Fifth ditto for Jan. and Feb. 1863. Sixth ditto for Jan. and Feb. 1864, with James "Under arrest." Seventh is a Prisoner of War roll, for J. M. Smith, "Pvt. Co. Ninth is a roll of officers and men of the Confederate States Army, prisoners of war, paroled 16 Aug. 1865, James M. Smith, "Pvt Co. C. 32 Tex Cav.," resident of Bexar Co., Tex., with note that "it is believed that all of the men were paroled at San Antonio, Texas." There are two cards with no new information, and then finally this item: "No. 1 | San Antonio Tex. Aug 16 1865. | James M. Smith Pvt of C Company 32 Regiment Tex Cav C.S.A, residing in Bexar Co having been, with the approval of the proper authorities, paroled, is permitted to return to his home, not to be disturbed by the United States Authorities, so long as he observes his parole and the laws in force where he may reside. | By order of Brig Genl J A West | Geo. be sold with title unencumbered. Apparently the petition in 1860 was successful.

James' and Virginia's first child, Margaret C., was born 29 July 1858. Not quite age 15, Margaret married Eugene M. Luckie (b. ca 1844) on 7 April 1873. This writer found that Margaret had at least one son, William Smith Luckie, born 30 Oct 1881, died 2 April 1950 whose wife's name was Ida —(?). The rest of Margaret and Eugene's family was provided by Sandy Meacham, a Luckie family researcher whose daughter Kelly Jo married Clinton Charles Carson, a descendant of Eugene and Margaret (Smith) Luckie. (See Modified Register for Eugene M. Luckie [a genealogy by Ken Whitley]). Margaret died 16 April 1910, and was buried at Lytle, Texas.

The record is not clear yet for James' family following 1869, notwithstanding his statement of 1905 that he had lived in Bexar County for 52 years (since 1853). He has not been found (by this writer) in the 1870 census. On 24 July 1872, James and Virginia sold the 100 acres bought in August 1856 from Elijah Harrison to John D. Vardemann for $900. It is believed this sale had something to do with financial need at the birth of their twins, Effie and Perry.

On 28 February 1874, James paid $100 for 25 acres located in Atascosa County on the south side of Elm Creek about 18 miles southwest of San Antonio. Purchased from Elisha A. Briggs, it was part of Survey #183, J. Tejada grant. This land was sold by James to James McCluskey on 1 September 1883 for $1,000.

The Bexar County census of 1880 names James M. Smith at age 46. Virginia was not listed, so she apparently had died between 1872 and 1880. In James' household, his son, William, age 19, was named along with twins, Effie, 8, and Perry, 8. William was born ca 1861, and the twins ca 1872. Nothing more is known about what happened to Virginia, William A., Effie or Perry.

As of 1905, James was living near MacDona in Bexar County, no longer owning land. His health was bad from old age if not from having fallen off his one possession – a “$30 saddle horse.” (Re: His Confederate Veteran's Pension application). James died on 21 April 1910, and was buried in Brummett Cemetery near Bigfoot, Texas, in Frio County. To the last, a close family relationship was evident. James was laid to rest in the cemetery plot of Jefferson Whitley who had died in 1904. The implication is that Jeff's widow (James' niece) Sarah Amanda "Mandy" Whitley was responsible for James' burial next to where her own grave would be located twenty years later.

In 1860 "Jas" Smith, 26, a stock raiser born in Alabama with $300 real and $200 personal estates, resided Ecletto, Karnes Co., Tex., with Virginia, 21, born in Alabama, and M. But also in 1860 James Smith, 24, a farmer born in Alabama with $400 real and $700 personal estates, resided in San Antonio, Bexar Co., Tex., with Virginia, 21, born in Alabama, and with Margaret, 2, born in Texas. Nearby were W. P. and S. A. Luckie, J. and Sarah Whitley, and James M. Smith, 60. Next door were John G. and "Anna" E. Trimble.^[486]

In 1880 James Smith, 46, widower, a farmer born in Alabama of a father born in North Carolina and a mother in South Carolina, resided in Bexar Co., Tex., with his son, William, 19, and "twins," daughter, Effie, 8, and son, Perry, 8, all three born in Texas of Alabama natives. There was a family of boarders in the household, headed by Sarah Julian, 52, a widow born in North Carolina of North Carolina natives, with James B. Julian, 24, and Katie Julian, 17, both born in Louisiana of a father born in Tennessee.^[487]

An obituary for Sarah Ann Luckie, dated 12 June 1920:

Mrs Sarah A. Luckie, died at the home of her son, W. F. Luckie in Sonora, Texas, Wednesday, June 9th, 1920, in her 85th year.

Mrs. Luckie was a pioneer of Texas, coming from her native State, Alabama, with her parents Mr. and Mrs. James Smith, when an infant. She was married to W. P. Luckie in Bexar county in 1853. Her husband was a Confederate veteran who served all through the Civil war. She lived in the town of Castroville at the time and knitted socks for the soldiers. They moved to Burnett county in 1869, where Marble Falls now stands and had many thrilling experiences with the Indians in those days and in her later years often related these experiences for the entertainment of her grand children. Her husband died March 23rd, 1902 and was laid to rest at Marble Falls and her remains were taken there Thursday and placed by his side. She was the mother of 12 children, rearing ten of them to maturity and seeing them married six of whom are now living as follows: W. F. Luckie of Sonora, Mrs. Julia Cox of Stroud, Okla., Mrs. Josie Hamlin [sic] of Moody, Mrs. Sallie Lowe of Nashville, Tenn., Latain [sic] Luckie of Hagerman, N.M., Mack Luckie of St. Cloud, Minn. Deceased lived through 4 wars of the U.S.A., and during the European struggle again knitted socks for the A. E. F. boys. She left a host of grand and great grand children to mourn her loss as she ws dearly loved by all.

The remains were taken to Marble Falls Thursday accompanied by W. F. Luckie and Miss Ethel Luckie. They were met at San Angelo by Latain Luckie.^[498]

ALEXANDER SMITH OF BUNCOMBE CO., N.C.

On 18 May 1846 Samuel Lovingood of Union Co., Ga., sold to Samuel “Ferguson” of Haywood Co., N.C., for $100, 50 acres “on the Bush [sic] Fork of Crabtree.” On the same date Samuel Lovingood also sold to Thomas “Furgurson” of Haywood, for $250, a tract on the same waters. One witness for both was Andrew “Ferguson.” Both deeds were acknowledged in the September Sessions 1847 of the Haywood County Court of Pleas and Quarter Sessions, and both were registered 18 Dec. 1847.^[536]

In 1850 Samuel Ferguson, 36, a farmer born in North Carolina with $1,150 real estate, resided in Haywood Co., N.C., with Matilda, 34, born in North Carolina, Fanny, 13, “Vilet,” 12, Mary, 8, John, 4, George, 2, all born in North Carolina. and Fanny E., 78, born in “Ireland Tirone Cty.”^[537]

In 1860 Samuel “Fergason,” 45, a farmer born in North Carolina with $2,500 real and $2,650 personal estates, resided in [Ferris?] Creek, Haywood Co., N.C., with Matilda, 43, born in North Carolina, “Vilett” S., 20, John A., 14, George W., 13, “Eli” M., 9, Caroline M., 6, and “Elinor” C., 6, all born in North Carolina.^[538]

In 1870 Samuel Ferguson, 55, a farmer born in North Carolina with $1,600 real and $1,166 personal estates, resided in Crabtree, Crabtree Twp., Haywood Co., N.C., with Matilda, 51, born in North Carolina, “Vilat,” 30, Elisha, 18, Catherine, 16, “Charity,” 16, and George, 21, all born in North Carolina, and with Fanny Teague, 32, and Elizabeth Teague, 11, both born in North Carolina.^[539]

Martha resided in Haywood Co., N.C., in 1877 (date of her mother’s sworn statement).

In 1880 “Sam^l” Ferguson, 66, a farmer born in North Carolina of Ireland natives, resided in Crabtree Twp., Haywood Co., N.C., with his wife, Matilda, 62, born in North Carolina of North Carolina natives, and his daughters, Violet, 39, and Ellen, 26, both born in North Carolina. Next door was Eli Ferguson, 29, a farmer born in North Carolina of North Carolina natives, and his wife, Annie, 26, born in North Carolina of North Carolina natives. Nearby resided George Ferguson, 30, a farmer, with his wife, Malinda, 25, daughter, Malinda, 7, and son, Robert S., 3, all four born in North Carolina of North Carolina natives.^[540]

On 12 Apr. 1882 Samuel Ferguson and his wife, Matilda S., of Haywood Co., N.C., sold to E. M. Ferguson also of Haywood Co., for $500 gifted back plus an additional $400 [meaning, I think, that they took a loss of $100 instead of any gain], 100 acres “on the Rush fork of Crab Tree Creek and adjoining the lands of S. Ferguson [and others].” The legal description mentions “in a line of S. Ferguson’s Lovinggood Tract.” The deed was acknowledged 3 May 1882 in the Haywood County Probate Court, and was registered 26 May 1882.^[541]

Martha had had 13 children, with 11 surviving.^[612]

59. SARAH ADELINE³ SMITH (₆Matthew², Alexander¹) was born about 1833, Missouri. She married WILLIAM K. WILLIAMSON, who was born about 1822, Georgia.

In 1850 William Williamson, 28, a farmer born in Virginia, resided in Callaway Co., Mo., in the household of Noah Flood, a Baptist minister and his family.^[613] I believe this might be our William because Rev. Flood resided in Callaway, Boone, and Howard Co., Mo., and those counties are in a row leading to Saline Co., Mo. Also his Find a Grave entry has what appears to be an obituary which includes this statement: "He [Rev. Noah Flood] served as pastor for the Fayette [Howard Co.], Walnut Grove [Boone Co.], Mt. Next door resided (her brother-in-law) “W^m” Anderson, and next to him resided (her father) Matthew Smith.^[616] This is the our first evidence linking Sarah A. Williamson to Sarah Adeline Smith. The second piece of evidence is the 1926 Iowa state census for their daughter, Malinda Cook (presumably the Matilda above), 57, born in Missouri, of father William Williamson and mother Adeline Smith, born in Missouri, and married to Alfred Cook (q.v.).

In 1880 Sarah Williamson, 48, a widow born in Missouri of North Carolina natives, resided in Miami Twp., Saline Co., Mo., with “Belinda,” 12, born in Missouri of a father born in Missouri. In the same dwelling resided Sarah’s son-in-law, Andrew Campbell, 55, a farmer born in a father born in Scotland and a mother in Tennessee, his wife, Mary, 26, born in Missouri of a father born in Georgia, his son, Milton, 17, daughters, Rebecca, 12, and Rhoda, 4, and son, Joseph, 1, all born in Missouri of Missouri natives.^[617] Milton and Rebecca were from a previous marriage.

Sarah had had 11 children, with six surviving.^[637] If the children count is correct, then Sarah's children by Alfred Smith hadn't survived.

In 1900 Arthur S. Dewey, 38, a farm laborer born June 1861 in Indiana of a father born in Illinois and a mother in Indiana, resided in Buffalo Twp., Newton Co., Mo., in the household of his mother, Jane Harrison, 62, a widow farmer born Jan. 1838 in Indiana of a father born in Tennessee and a mother in Connecticut. In 1920 and 1930 Arthur S. Dewey and his wife, Sarah A., resided in Walla Walla Co., Wash.^[640]

On 19 Nov. 1938 (the last date listed by the attending physician) Arthur S. Dewey died in Prosser, Benton Co., Wash. He was born 30 June 1860, Indiana, son of Rose ([Weiven?]) Dewey, born in Indiana. She must have been the same person as Jane Harrison. The informant on Arthur's death was W. A. Harrison, of Seattle, Wash. Arthur was buried 21 Nov. 1938 in the IOOF (Oddfellows) Cem., presumably in Prosser.^[641]

67. WILLIAM³ SMITH (⁷Joel N.², *Alexander*¹) was born about 1831, North Carolina. He married SARAH CATHARINE GREEN,^[655] who was born about 1837, Tennessee.

In 1860 William Smith, 29, a laborer born in North Carolina with $100 personal estate, resided in Taylorsburg, Cocke Co., Tenn., with

Sarah C., 23, born in Tennessee, and with William D., 5, Mary C., 1, and Isabella, 10, all born (presumably) in Tennessee. Lewis Smith, 25, resided next door.^[656]

In 1870 “W^m” Smith, 37, a farmer born in North Carolina with $500 personal and $100 real estates, resided in Big Creek Depot, Cocke Co., Tenn., with Catherine, 32, born in Tennessee, William L., 17, Louisa, 9, and Isabella, 5, all born in Tennessee.^[657] This makes Louisa a separate person from Isabella, not borne out by subsequent records.

In 1880 William Smith, 50, a farmer born in North Carolina of North Carolina natives, resided in Grassy Fork, Cocke Co., Tenn., with his wife, “Katie,” 43, born in Tennessee of a father born in North Carolina and a mother in Virginia, and with his daughters, “R. D.,” 19, and “E. L.,” 14, both born in Tennessee. Joel Smith, 72, resided next door.^[658]

Known children:

- 286 i ?ISABELLA⁴ SMITH, born about 1850, Tennessee. She was probably not Sarah’s daughter since Sarah would have been about 13 at her birth. And see Sarah’s Isabella below.
- 287 ii WILLIAM D./L.⁴ SMITH, born about 1855, Tennessee.
- 288 iii MARY C.⁴ SMITH, born about 1859, Tennessee.
- + 289 iv RESSIE D.⁴ SMITH, born Apr. 1861, Tennessee, had one child out of wedlock, married COLUMBUS G. BROWN. She was the daughter, R. D. Smith, 19, of the 1880 census.
- + 290 v LOUISA ISABELLA⁴ SMITH, born 20 Aug. 1863 or Aug. 1865, Tennessee, married (1) JOSEPH/BILLY PRICE, and had eight children. She married (2) JOSEPH WILLIAMSON. She was presumably the daughter, E. L. Smith, 14, of the 1880 census.

ALEXANDER SMITH OF BUNCOMBE CO., N.C.

died 26 May 1916, Sevierville, Sevier Co., Tenn.,^[659] aged 83 years, and was buried 28 May 1916, Baxter Cem., presumably in Sevier Co. He married about 1850 RAPSA JANE SMITH, who was born Mar. 1837 (1900 census), Tennessee, daughter of William M. and Nancy (–) Smith.^[660]

A possible problem with Rapsa Jane being Rapsa Jane Smith, daughter of William and Nancy, is that “Rhapsey” J. Smith, 26, daughter of William and Nancy, was still living with her parents in 1870.^[661] The dates and birthplaces don’t quite match the 1850 census but the names do match, including that notable one, Rhapsey. An explanation that works, and leaves the logic above unchanged, is that the “Rhasy,” 30, and William, 13, both born in Tennessee, are listed twice in the 1870 census, once with her parents and once with her husband (see 1870 below). She is not listed with her parents in the 1860.^[662]

In 1860 James A. Smith, 26, a laborer born in North Carolina with $150 personal estate, resided in Wilton Springs, Cocke Co., Tenn., with Jane, 22, born in Tennessee, and with William N., 3, and “Joseph,” 1, both born presumably in Tennessee [fields are empty]. Next door was Jane Smith, 75, born in North Carolina with $70 personal estate, and Susanah Whitlock, 30, born in Tennessee.^[663] Jane, 75, was presumably grandmother of Jane, 22, and was the “Jenny,” 62, of the 1850 census (see previous footnote). Susanah was presumably the “Susan” Whitlock, Next door was William Smith, 65, born S.C., with Jenny, 62, born N.C., presumably William M.’s parents and Rapsey’s grandparents. Next door to the elder William was Lemuel Whitlock, 50, with “Rhapsey,” 45, and eight children, including Susan, 20, all born S.C.

661. U.S. census, 1870, Newport PO, Cocke Co., Tenn., r. ?, p. ?, dw. 73, fam. 73, lists William N. Smith, 52, farmer born S.C., Nancy, 52, born N.C., and “Rhapsey” J., 26, born Tenn., and William [N/V?], 13, born Tenn.

20, of the 1850 census residing next door to Jenny. Onomastically, “Rhapsy” Whitlock, 45, of the 1850 census was surely sister of William M. Smith, who named his daughter for his sister.

N.B. The unusual name Rapsa, or Rapsey, or Rhapsey, etc., reappears in this family, I believe, a sRassie, or Reecie, a name I don’t otherwise understand. An Ancestry.com tree suggests the formal name was Serapta, but I’ve seen no proof of it.

In 1870 James A. Smith, 36, a farmer born in North Carolina with $400 personal estate, resided in Newport, Cocke Co., Tenn., with “Rhasy” J., 30, born in Tennessee, and with William N., 13, Joel, 12, Nancy J., 8, Elizabeth, 5, John D., 3, and James S., 1, all born in Tennessee.^[664]

In 1880 James A. ALEXANDER SMITH OF BUNCOMBE CO., N.C.

Tennessee of Tennessee natives. Nancy was 15 at first marriage [so married about 1894].^[699]

Figure 53 shows a document written by Cynthia (Smith) Ford (see the first child below. Its title is “Names of Cynthia J Fords Whole & half Brothers & Sisters.” It is in her handwriting. It allows us to flesh out the children beyond what the census readings provide (which are, in most cases, supported by the list). It contains some mysteries too.

Children of the first marriage, to Minerva:

- + 320 i CYNTHIA JANE⁴ SMITH, born 11 Mar. 1867, Tennessee, married ISAAC G. FORD, and had nine children. Cynthia wrote the list of her full and half siblings.
- 321 ii SARAH FRANCIS⁴ SMITH, born about 1871, Tennessee. She is listed as “Francis Smith Ford Whole married Isaac Ike Ford” in Cynthia’s note. But Cynthia married Isaac Ford, apparently Isaac G. Ford while Francis married Issac J. Ford. Her name is “Saraha Francis Smith” in the 1880 census.
- + 322 iii LEWIS WILSON⁴ SMITH, born 25 Dec. 1873, Cocke Co., Tenn.,^[700] married MAGGIE SAMPLES, and had at least one child. Lewis is listed as “Lewis Wilson Smith Whole” in Cynthia’s note. This is Timothy Michael⁸ Smith’s line.

For convenience, known children of Minerva outside the Smith marriage:

- 323 iv EVA⁴ SMITH [MCMAHAN?], born Mar. 1877 (1880 census) or Sept. 1876 (1900 census), Tennessee. She is “Evey Smith” in the 1880 census. She is Eva McMahan in the 1900 census. She is “Eva Smith Edmond Half” in Cynthia’s notes, suggesting that she was indeed a Smith child, but Cynthia informs us that she was her half sister. Perhaps she was born of Smith but after the divorce?
- 324 ROBERT⁴ MCMAHAN, twin, born Mar. 1880, Tennessee. He is “Robert Smith” in the 1880 census. He is “Robert McGaha 1880

Half” in Cynthia’s notes, a half brother, but isn’t listed in the 1900 census. Apparently the “McGaha” in Cynthia’s note is an error everywhere for “McMahan.”

- 325 ADA/SIVADA⁴ MCMAHAN, twin, born Mar. 1880, Tennessee. She is “Sivada Smith” in the 1880 census. She is “Ada McGaha B1880 Half” in Cynthia’s notes, a half sister, but she is Ada McMahan in the 1900 census. She married (1) an unknown person, and had one child, married (2) about 1906 RUSSELL REINS.

In 1910 Russell Reins, 26, a farmer born in Tennessee of Tennessee natives, resided in Sevier Co., Tenn., with his wife of four years, Ada, 29, born in Tennessee of Tennessee natives, his son (presumably adopted from Ada’s first marriage), Paul, 12, born in Tennessee, and his mother-in-law, Manerva Smith, 57, divorced, born in Tennessee of Tennessee natives. This was Russell’s first marriage, and Ada’s second. Ada had had the one child only, and Manerva had had four children with three surviving. Next door was Lawson McMahan, 26.^[701]

- 326 LAWSON⁴ MCMAHAN, born June 1882 or 23 Aug. 1882, Tennessee. He is “Lawson McGaha 8-23-1882 10-1965 New Jersey” in Cynthia’s notes, a half brother, but he is Lawson McMahan in the 1900 census. He married about 1905 PRINTHA —, and had at least one child.

In 1910 Lawson McMahan, 26, a farmer born in Tennessee of Tennessee natives, resided in Sevier Co., Tenn., with his wife of five years, Printha, 20, born in Tennessee of Tennessee natives, his daughter, Annis A., 1 11/12, born in Tennessee. Printha had had the one child only. Next door was Ada Reins, and her mother, Manerva Smith, 57.^[702]

Children of the second marriage, to Anna Elizabeth:

- + 327 v ISAAC WILSON⁴ SMITH, born 20 May 1879, Tennessee or North Carolina, married NANCY A. (RAINS) BROWN, and had at least one child. He is “Isaac Smith Half” in Cynthia’s note.

ALEXANDER SMITH OF BUNCOMBE CO., N.C.

- + 328 vi JOE/JOSEPH⁴ SMITH, born 22 Jan. 1881, North Carolina, married MARTHA GREEN, and had six children. He is “Joe Smith Half” in Cynthia’s notes.
- 329 vii LOURLY⁴ SMITH, born Oct. 1882, North Carolina. She is “Loury Smith Half” in Cynthia’s note
- + 330 viii NANCY LOUIESE⁴ SMITH, born Dec. 1884 or 23 Dec. 1882, North Carolina, married JEFFERSON/JEFF KELSEY SUTTON, and had at least nine children. She is “Nancy Smith Half” in Cynthia’s note.
- + 331 ix RISEY BELLE⁴ SMITH, born July 1885 or 2 July 1886, North Carolina, married her cousin THOMAS ANDERSON⁵ SMITH (₃₁₀*John Lewis⁴, Joel³, Joel N.², Alexander¹*), and had at least six children. She is “Ricey Bell Smith Half” in Cynthia’s note. This line is continued under Thomas.
- 332 x ALBERT MARTIN⁴ SMITH, born 10 June 1887, North Carolina, died 5 July 1960, Lincolnton, Lincoln Co., N.C.,^[703] buried 7 July 1960, Macedonia Baptist Church Cem., Denver, Lincoln Co., N.C.,^[704] married VERA ABERNATHY, born 16 Dec. 1908, died 17 Feb. 1995, and buried with her husband. He is “Martin Smith Half” in Cynthia’s note.
- He resided, age 44, single, in 1940 with his brother Isaac in Ironton Twp., Lincoln Co., N.C. (q.v.). He had resided in Haywood Co., N.C., in 1935.
- + 333 xi WILLIAM RILEY⁴ SMITH, born 22 Sept. 1888 or 29 Sept. 1889, Haywood Co., N.C., married (1) LIZA ANNIE GREEN, and had at least one child, married (2) MA[Y]E ESTES, and had six children. He is “Rily Smith Half” in Cynthia’s note.
- 334 xii JOHN THOMAS⁴ SMITH, born June 1890, North Carolina. His name might have been Thomas John. He is “Tommy Smith Half” in Cynthia’s note.

- + 335 xiii ABRAHAM LINCOLN⁴ SMITH, born May 1892, Tennessee, married ETHIE BROWN, and had at least eight children. He is “Link Smith Half” in Cynthia’s note.
- + 336 xiv KING S.⁴ SMITH, born 5 June or July 1894 or 5 July 1896, Mt. Sterling, Haywood Co., N.C., married MILEY MESSER, and had four children. He is “King Smith Half” in Cynthia’s note.
- 337 xv CHARLES⁴ SMITH, born July 1895 (1900 census) or 23 Apr. 1895 (death certificate), North Carolina, died 7 Aug. 1956, Concord, Cabarrus Co., N.C.,^[705] buried 9 Aug. 1956, Hollybrook Cem., Lincolnton, N.C. He is “Charlly Smith Charles [Lasute? Laside?] B. 7-1895 NC Half” in Cynthia’s note.
- 338 xvi MARLEY⁴ SMITH, born June 1896, North Carolina. I can’t place her in Cynthia’s note.
- + 339 xvii DELLA MAE⁴ SMITH, born May 1899 or 11 May 1897, North Carolina, married WILLIAM DAVID SUTTON, and had two or three children. There is a “Della (Smith) Sutton B 1900” at the bottom of Cynthia’s list.
- + 340xviii RILDA⁴ SMITH, born about 1900, North Carolina, married JASON H. WHITE, and had five children. She is “Rildy Smith Half” in Cynthia’s list.
- 341 xix AJ⁴ SMITH, born about 1903, North Carolina. This is probably “A. J. Smith Half” in Cynthia’s list, a son, but he’s possibly the next son, Raymond A., who doesn’t appear in the 1910 census otherwise (but the birthdates don’t match) nor in Cynthia’s list.
- + 342 xx RAYMOND ALLEN⁴ SMITH, born 5 Mar. 1894 (!) or 5 Mar. 1906, Waynesville, Haywood Co., N.C., married LAURA MARY ATKINSON, and had two children. I can’t place Raymond in Cynthia’s note, unless he is the child just above, “AJ.”
- + 343 xxi ERNEST LAWRENCE DANIEL⁴ SMITH, born 14 or 24 Mar. 1907, Sevier Co., Tenn., married OLLIE F. BALES, and had at least two children. He is “L. D. Smith B. 1904 Half” in Cynthia’s list.

An obituary for Joseph:

Joseph Allen Russell Dead

Death Came Quietly at The Age of 110 Lacking Few Days.

Joseph Allen Russell died Tuesday morning, Feb 6 at 5:50 o'clock at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Laura Mahana, in East Lampasas.

Joseph Allen Russell was born in Bumkin [sic] County, North Carolina on April 12, 1813 and died in Lampasas Feb 6, 1923, lacking a few weeks being 110 years of age, and was the oldest man in Lampasas and perhaps the oldest in the state of Texas. His early educational advantages were meager, but like many who lived in the primitive days he learned to read and write, and having a natural inclination to read, he kept abreast of the times in his early days and bore the reputation of a deep thinker and many who knew him during his middle life refer to him as being above the average in intelligence. In his young manhood he joined the Methodist church and was ardent in matters pertaining to religion and the betterment of the country. He rendered service to his country, be-white, married, housekeeper, born 1 Sept. 1830, Haywood Co., N.C., father John Brown, mother Nancy Smith, both born N.C., informant Roy Morris, of Lampasas, buried 28 May 1912, Oak Hill Cem.

ginning with the Indians in 1827 while in the United States Army; 1845 he enlisted in the war with Mexico, and served all through the Civil War, and during the last year of those stirring times he was captain of his company. He was married twice. The first marriage was to Miss Mary Brown in North Carolina and to this union thirteen children were born. Ten of the children grew to manhood and womanhood but several have gone to their resting place. The second marriage took place in Lampasas about six years ago, when he married Mrs. Mary Bowers, at the age of 104. She lived four years, and since that time he has made his home in Lampasas with his daughter. Mrs. Laura Mahana.

The deceased was an unusual character in many respects. He was past 100 years when he had the first doctor to prescribe medicine for him; he never used tobacco in any form, and no one can truthfully say he ever was intoxicated in his life. He was a stockman and farmer the greater part of his life, and at two different times he amassed a fortune, but lost it in business transactions, and the only real estate he possessed at the time of his death is a 100 acre farm on Mesquite Creek, which is now occupied by Rice Wells. On this farm there is a bluff where he dug for gold and silver and the government assayed the rocks and found both gold and silver, but it was in such small quantities that it was thought not enough to mine. Although he spent much time and money digging and excavating on this property [sic]. He lived on this place for thirty-five years and up to about five years ago worked the farm and did a day's work every day. He was a medium height and build, but was strong and vigorous up to the very last, his mind was clear and he was conscious up to the last breath he drew. His daughter, Mrs. Mahana, was at his bedside constantly, and when the end was near he said, "Laura are you going to let me go?" implying that she had done so much for him that it was possible for her to keep him still. Later as the end drew nearer, he prayed, "Lord, take me; I want to go." His last request was to see his sister, Fannie, who has been dead many, many years. His snow white hair and beard and fair, clear complexion distinguished him and there was no trace of suffering or that of unrest, but a calm repose seemed to settle upon his brow and whatever trace of wrinkles might have been visible passed away and every vestige of care was effaced and the quiet repose indicated that he slipped without a struggle.

city, the regard and confidence in which he was universally held, were the normal products of a fine character, earnest industry and sincere devotion to high ideals. He was a native Texan and no one could excel him in love for Texas and Texas institutions. His grandfather Smith headed a colony that came to Texas when it was part of Mexico, and he fought with other Americans for its independence. His father was a splendid Christian educator. James Lowry Smith was born at old Independence, Washington County, Texas, March 12, 1860. His grandfather, William Berry Smith, a native of Buncombe County, North Carolina, arrived in Texas in 1834, making the journey from his former home in Columbia, Mississippi, and locating at old Washington. [?] later he served in the army and fought for independence and the creation of the Texas republic, and he also became a noted Indian fighter.

The parents of James Lowry Smith were James and Julia (McDowell) Smith, the former a native of Mississippi and the latter a native of [?] Charleston, South Carolina. James L. Smith, Sr. was educated in Baylor University when it was located in Independence, [?] came a notable career [?] became president of Salado College in Salado, and that institution under his presidency was a source of inspiration and learning for hundreds of men and women now living. He retired from the presidency a short time before his death in 1883. A man of high ideals and scholarly attainment, he accomplished much in the line of education in a day when the public schools of Texas were in their infancy. Many of the most illustrious citizens of the state were under his charge at one time or another.

James Lowry Smith received his education at Salado College under his father, and in 1882 completed a course in the Island City Business College in Galveston. His experience in merchandising began in the same at Colorado in Mitchell County with Burns, Walker & Company and in 1886 he was made a junior member of the firm. When, in 1888, Burns, Walker & Company established a branch house in the new Town of Amarillo, Mr. Smith was selected for the responsible position of manager. Amarillo was then a real frontier town. In 1889 he bought the interest of F. M. Burns, at which time the company name was changed to Smith & Walker, and under his immediate management the house grew to be the largest and most favorably known establishment in Southwest Texas, carrying an immense stock of dry goods, groceries, hardware, feed and general ranch supplies. The store also served in the capacity of a bank. In those early days it is said that ranchmen came for a distance of two hundred miles in order to [?] with "Jim Smith." The mercantile interests of the Smith-Walker Company was sold in 18[?] and hereafter the banking side of the business was given precedence. The Smith-Walker Company became a firm of private bankers with Mr. Smith as president. It was succeeded by the National Bank of Commerce, of which he was president, and then Mr. Smith sold his interest in that institution. He was one of the organizers and became chairman of the board in the Guaranty State Bank, which is now the American State Bank.

Except for about four years Mr. Smith was a resident of Amarillo from April, 1888, until his death on April 29, 1927, a period of thirty-nine years. In 1895 he joined his partner J. A. Walker, in the organization of the Temple Grocery Company in Temple. This was the beginning of Walker-Smith Company, one of the largest wholesale grocery organizations in the state. He took an active part in the management of the business for some time and then returned to Amarillo. Mr. Smith was secretary-treasurer of the Walker-Smith Company from its organization until his death. Though Amarillo was a long distance from Brownwood, the headquarters, he responded to every call made for his counsel and advice, and kept in closest touch with the organization and did much to promote its [?] service as a wholesale house. During [?] the company extended its trade from the northwest plains country to Galveston, operating fourteen branch houses all over the state.

Mr. Smith was a prominent figure in the civic and religious development of the Panhandle country. He was a charter member and one of the first deacons of First Baptist Church of Amarillo, for more than twenty years a member of the executive board for the state Baptist Convention, and not only gave liberally of his means to general church causes, but particularly to the support of Christian education. He was one of the most generous donors to Baylor University of Waco, Baylor College at Belton, and Howard Payne College, and his name appears on a tablet at the entrance of Baylor Hospital as a record of those who have contributed of time and money to the erection of that building. . . .

On February 25, 1886, Mr. Smith married Marie Bynum at Horn Lake, Mississippi. Mrs. Smith is a daughter of William J. and Katherine (Walker) Bynum. Her father was a native of Virginia, of old English ancestry, the forebears of the Bynum family having come to this country in 1616. William J. Bynum was a planter, sheriff and tax collector of DeSoto County, Mississippi, where he established his home in 1844. He died in December 1907.

Mrs. Smith was born in Mississippi, was educated in the Mary Sharp College at Winchester, Tennessee, and after her marriage she came abruptly into an almost frontier locality of West Texas, where she quickly and admirably adapted herself to the new social environment. Mrs. Smith became a resident of Amarillo with her husband in 1883, and has been a personal witness to the development of the Panhandle metropolis. . . . in 1927 she was made a director of the Walker-Smith Company, succeeding her late husband on the board.^[753]

In 1910 James Lowry Smith, 50, a bank president born in Texas of a father born in Mississippi and a mother in North Carolina, resided in Amarillo, Potter Co., Tex., with his wife of 24 years, Marie B., 45, born in Mississippi of a father born in Virginia and a mother in Tennessee, and with his mother-in-law, Katharine Bynum, 71, a widow born in Tennessee of a father born in North Carolina and a mother in Tennessee, his brother-in-law, Earl Cobb, 34, an ice manufacturer born in Arkansas of a father born in Virginia and a mother in Kentucky, and Earl's wife of zero years, his sister-in-law, Sarah A. Cobb, 30, with the same nactivities as Marie. Marie and Sarah had had no children; Katharine had had seven children, with four surviving.^[754]

Theory: Catherine Whitley married twice. First, to Alexander Harper, and had one child, William Harper. Second, to John Alexander Smith, who might have adopted William. By this theory, William Harper was actually not a Smith, but a bona fide Harper. A DNA test of a male descendant from William Harper would establish this one way or the other.

In 1880 William Harper, 29, a farmer born in Texas of Texas natives, resided in Grant Parish, La., with his wife, "Sallie," 28, born in Louisiana of Louisiana natives, and his son, William Harper, 2, born in Louisiana, and one boarder.^[824]

In 1900 "Mandy" Harper, 28, a widow born Aug. 1871 in Louisiana of Louisiana natives, married for 15 years, resided in Colfax, Grant Parish, La., with her son, John, 9, born Feb. 1890, and daughters, Minnie, 6, born Dec. 1893, and "Ludy," 13, born Apr. 1886, all born in Louisiana of a father born in Louisiana. Mandy had had five children, with four surviving.^[825]

From a letter by E. F. Smith, family historian, dated 3 Nov. 1986:

My record shows only five children of William Elijah Smith, Alma, Samuel Smith, the youngest son reported to have operated saw mills in Arizona and other places, probably an operator of a saloon in San Angelo, Tx., Samuel had a daughter "Hattie" who died at about age 12, Viola Smith, Alexander Smith reported as having been killed in San Antonio, and William Smith, the oldest son had an Army career, probably died in

Uncle Will's Revenge

By Earl Smith

July-1978

In about 1922, while we were living at Ft. Chadbourne, Uncle Will came to see us again. Uncle Bob asked him if the men who killed his brother Sam were ever caught. Will said, "Well, you know it's a peculiar thing. The last time I heard anything about them they were in Old Mexico, and they had their throats cut." Uncle Will practiced a lot with his pistol, but he never was one to waste bullets, when there was no need. Some of the folks said Will was trying to get revenge for his brother Sam. He had been on the trail of six men who had followed Sam after losing money horse racing. Will followed two of them into Old Mexico. The last one he found in a saloon in south Texas. But by then he was an old man. Sitting at the bar, he looked so down and out, Will didn't want to shoot him. So he turned and walked away.

Sam had been up in Oklahoma racing horses, and had won a good deal of money. He had started home but the losers determined not to let him get away with their money, so they followed him into Texas. Sam had stopped for the night close to Granbury when they caught up with him. This was in Hood County. They killed him and took the money.

Some of the folks had a different story to tell about Sam. They said Will couldn't have been avenging the death of his brother, not openly at least. Because Sam was supposed to have been buried at Round Rock, and no one was supposed to know there were 140 pounds of rocks in that grave, instead of Sam "Bass." Uncle Albert was telling Papa about Sam getting shot close to Round Rock and was nearly dead, but some of the folks paid the Sheriff $500.00 to bury 140 pounds of rocks in a wooden box. He said they slipped Sam out of town in the night and he recovered. Papa and Uncle Albert didn't know I was listening when they were talking about this. I guess it would be a surprise if they were to dig up that grave at Round Rock and find just a bunch of rocks!

Who's who in the story:

Jackson Massacre (a Texas Historical Marker):

Settlers Moses and Lydia Jackson set out one morning in October of 1858 with four of their seven children to spend the day with friends. As they neared their destination they encountered a small party of Indians, possibly Comanches. Louisa and I. J. Jackson and their parents were killed immediately. The two middle children, Joshua and Rebecca, were abducted, only to be abandoned after almost two weeks. They walked for two days before being recovered by a search party of settlers and Texas Rangers near Sweetwater. The Jackson family was buried where they fell a short distance from this site.^[978] ter of James Newton and Keron (Woodward) Anderson.^[1001] Lula died 31 Dec. 1970, and was buried with William.

The following story was written by son Edwin Forrest Smith in his genealogy of the Smith family:

William Forrest Smith was born May 10, 1873 in Lavaca County, Texas. He died January 19, 1962 and is buried in the City Cemetery in Floresville, Texas. He was united in marriage to Miss Lula Lee Anderson on January 26, 1898 in Lavaca County. Lula Lee Anderson Smith was born December 28, 1877 in Lavaca County, died December 31, 1970 and is buried in the City Cemetery in Floresville, Texas.

We will let Forrest tell of the time when he was a baby: "At the time when I was a baby, the art of taking care of an infant was not as far advanced as it is today. All the baby food and milk formulas were not on the market. My mother was sick and I was in urgent need of nourishment so the colored woman came to my assistance and furnished enough nourishment for her baby and myself in the natural way until my mother was well again."

As most boys, Wm. Forrest became greatly interested in the outdoors and had a gun as soon as he was big enough to wear knee pants. He kept the table well supplied with wild food, especially squirrels. He also liked to fish but his favorite sport was coon hunting and deer hunting. He always had one or more good coon dogs and many a time I have heard him tell stories about his coon hunting and deer hunting. He could talk of these experiences for hours at a time. He was also interested in good horses and when young always had a good racehorse which he entered into many races.

He enjoyed music and when rather young made a violin out of an old cigar box. He learned to play some on this homemade crude violin and it was not long until his father bought him a violin which cost about $6.00 in those days. He soon learned to play real well and played for many dances around the county.

He did not like to go to school, but did go for a few years. He went to school for one year while his father was living in Schulenburg and went to school for another year just after his father moved back to the farm.

1001. U.S. census, 1880, Lavaca Co., Tex., ED 77, r. 1316, p. 379D, dw. 616, fam. 616, lists Newt Anderson, 32, born La., wife, Keron, 28, born Tex., children including Lula, 3, female, born Tex.

His father then took him to Flatonia to go to school and left him with relatives, the trip being made in a wagon. His father then returned home going by Schulenburg to attend to some business which caused him to be a little late arriving at home and when he arrived at home, he found Wm. Forrest sitting on the front porch this ended his school days. He started farming at an early age, also helping with the livestock and having some experience driving the oxen.

His grandfather, Joseph Lawrence, a San Jacinto veteran, lived in the Smith home after becoming old and until his death. Wm. Forrest would listen to him tell of the San Jacinto battle and the early times in Texas and would run errands for his grandfather. William Forrest tells of one of the trips.

“Very often my grandfather would send me to the store after whiskey and give me a five dollar bill. A quart of whiskey cost one dollar at the time. I never will forget it. I bought the whiskey and started out the front door and as I went out, I dropped it on a rock and broke it. The negroes got down and drank what they could out of the pieces of glass that held what was left. I turned around and said ‘Oh hell’ I have plenty of money and told the fellow to give me another quart. I took it and told my grandfather about dropping the bottle and buying another. He did not get mad at all but I waited for a draw or two until I told him.”

For a short period of time he was deputy sheriff of Lavaca County but soon returned to the farm.

In about 1906 he moved to Wilson County along with his father. I can remember when the last load of household goods were hauled to Hallettsville for it was on that load that all the family rode into Hallettsville. Due to much wet weather, the ruts were hub deep in many places. The three or four box cars were soon loaded with corn, livestock, farm implements and household goods and then it was time for the San Antonio and Aransas passenger train to take us into a strange land.

We settled on a farm about three miles west of Floresville and lived there for about one year, then moved into town where my father and his brother, Edwin, were engaged in the dray business for one or two years. After selling out of the dray business, my father and family moved to my grandfather’s farm about two miles west of Floresville on the San Antonio River where a small house was erected. After living in this house for a number of years, a larger house was erected where he lived until he passed away on January 19th 1962. In his passing his family suffered a loss that words cannot describe.

My father loved his home and family and very few nights were ever spent away from home during his entire married life of sixty-four years.

My mother was the daughter of James Newton Anderson and Keron Woodward of Lavaca County, Texas, her grandfather being Richard Jordan Anderson who came to Texas at an early date from Georgia. My mother still resides on the farm where she lived about fifty years, and being one of the sweetest and best mothers anyone could have. She was born 12-28-1877 in Lavaca County Texas. A niece, who lost her mother at the age of two years was taken into this home here she was reared. They loved her as if she were their own. The niece being Mrs. Ruth Nell (nee Anderson) McBride.^[1002] 1043. Benjamin Billups's second letter; Metz, John Wesley Hardin: Dark Angel of Texas, 159–208.

I assume that he is, since his birth date matches, since the last listing we have of William in Jesse's family is in 1870, and since Bell Co., Tex., was home to several members of the Smith family. The L. representing Lawson in William's name depends on his being the father of Dolores Lola (see her death certificate).

On 4 Dec. 1883, “Johnny” Smith killed his brother-in-law, J. J. Hamlin, at Valentine, Cherry Co., Nebr. He turned himself in and was judged to have acted in self-defense—at the time anyway. Here’s a local newspaper account of the event:

Johnny Smith and Friends Perforate the Hide of Hamlin with 16 Bullet Holes

News reached O’Neill Wednesday of the killing of one Hamlin at Valentine, on Tuesday, and the following are the particulars as near as we can get them:

Johnny Smith, formerly a partner of Jo. Hall in the saloon business at this place, and another cow-boy named Hamlin, married daughters of Mr. Thos. McDonald, one of the most respected farmers of Center precinct, living a half mile north of O’Neill. Bad blood has existed between them for some time, owing, we are told, to the fact that Hamlin has been in the habit of whipping his wife, to which Smith objected through a feeling of humanity. Hamlin objected to the interference of Smith. On Monday last the two men were in O'Neill, and took the afternoon train for Valentine. On the up trip Hamlin attacked Smith, who at the time was sitting in a seat with his wife and had a baby in his arms. The trainmen interfered and murder was prevented at this time. It seems that the next morning Smith, with two or three friends, started on a hunt for Hamlin. He was found and chased out on the prairie, all being mounted on ponies. The race was kept up for a mile or more, and much shooting was done before Hamlin fell from the horse. When the body of Hamlin was brought in it was found to contain sixteen bullet holes. The coroner empanelled a jury, who returned a verdict to the effect that Smith and party killed Hamlin in self-defense (?) [sic].¹⁰⁶⁰

In 1885 J. Smith, 29, a ranchman born in Texas of a father born in Texas and a mother in Ireland, resided in Valentine, Cherry Co., Nebr., with his wife, Lucy, 20, born in New York of a father born in New York and a mother in Ireland, and with his sons, Leland, 3, and Jesse, 1, both born in Nebraska, and one servant.¹⁰⁶¹

In July 1886 John H. Smith, alias John H. Morrell, was shot to death in the state of Sonora, Mexico, near Nogales, Ariz. Terr. He was on the run from indictment in Nebraska for the killing of his brother-in-law, as the following news items makes clear:

Nogales, A.T., July 27.—George H. Miles, a gambler residing here, came in from the Plancha de Plata mine and stated that he had shot J. H. Smith, alias J. H. Morrell, at that place. Miles' story is that he went to the vicinity of Plancha de Plata mine to examine a prospect he was interested in. On arriving at the cabin he saw a man standing at the door with a handkerchief over the lower part of his face who informed him he was suffering with the toothache. Riding closer he recognized Morrell, who had threatened his life. Smith, or Morrell, stepped in the cabin, procured a gun and commenced firing. The first shot struck the horse, wounding him in the jaw. Miles returned the fire, wounding Smith fatally. The ball struck him in the stomach and passed clear through. The affray was the outgrowth of the arrest of Smith by Dr. Purdy and James Blades, deputy U.S. Marshal, about six weeks since, charged with murder committed some three years ago in Nebraska. There being no jail here Morrell was confined in the International Hotel and during the temporary absence of the guards he escaped into Mexico, vowing vengeance against Miles, who he claimed had given the information which led to his arrest. Dr. Ross, who left last night, returned to-day and states that Smith died at 7 o'clock, before his arrival. Smith's ante-mortem statement says: "I was lying in the cabin on a bed, suffering with toothache, I heard a horse coming and stepped to the door and opened it, when I was immediately shot by Miles, not a word having passed between us, Miles turned his horse and fled down the cañon. I got a gun, fired three shots at him." The body of Smith was brought here and buried this afternoon and Miles left town at an early hour this morning for parts unknown. The officials here have made no efforts to capture him.^[1062]

The following version is from a Nebraska newspaper:

Smith, the Slayer of Hamlin, Assassinated in Arizona

Chadron (Neb.) special to the Omaha Bee: Information has been received here that John H. Smith, alias John H. Morrell, was shot and killed a few days ago near the Planchas de Plata mine, in Sonora, eighteen miles southwest of Nogales, Arizona, by George Miles, alias Bailey. Smith was under indictment at Valentine, together with several other men, for the killing of Hamilton [sic] a stock inspector, in 1883. Smith, who was the ringleader, and the other parties, with one exception, all fled the country immediately upon learning of the indictment. About the 8th of July last, Smith, who had been traced to Arizona, was arrested at Nogales, but soon escaped from his guards, the information being received in Omaha just as the sheriff from Valentine reached there with the intention of proceeding to Arizona and bringing him back for trial. John Pierce and young Danielson, of Chadron, indicted with Smith, are still at large. Carter, who was sheriff at Valentine, and who was also indicted, is still at Valentine . . .

Smith carried on the trade of tobacconist at Nogales under the assumed name of Morrell. After his escape from his guards in the hotel, where he had been placed under arrest, to await the coming of the Valentine sheriff, he crossed the line into Sonora. Miles, the man who killed him, says he was going to look at some mines and stopped at a cabin, when he met face to face with Morrell, who had said he would kill him on sight, and the shooting began.

Smith in his ante-mortem statement said that Miles came to the cabin while he was taking a siesta and commenced shooting at him. Miles was unhurt, but the horse he rode was shot in the jaw. The body of Smith was brought into the Mexican side of the city and an inquiry held. The Mexican authorities held Miles for murder. The body of Smith after the inquest was turned over to his American friends and buried.^[1063]

Phineas's first wife, Sarah, died in the summer of 1881 near Mineral Wells, Palo Pinto Co., Tex.^[1088]

In 1900 Phineas W. Hudman, 52, and his wife of 16 years, Cordelia J., 42, resided in Coke Co., Tex., next door to the family of his son (by his first wife), John B. Hudman, 26, including another son (also of his first wife), Elma W., 21. Cordelia J. was born May 1858 in Texas, her father native to Mississippi, and her mother to Alabama. Phineas W. was born Jan. 1848 in Texas, his father native to Alabama, his mother to Tennessee. With them were the eight surviving children of nine born to Cordelia: daughters, Bessie E. 14, born July 1885, and Mary E., 13, born Nov. 1886, son, Phineas, 12, born Feb. 1888, daughter, Sophronia M., 10, born Nov. 1889, son, Jesse P., 7, born Oct. 1892, daughter, Hattie P., 5, born Sept. 1894, and sons, Henry P., 4, born Mar. 1896, and Robert F., 2, born Feb. 1892, all eight born in Texas.^[1089]

In 1910 Phineas W. Hudman, 61, a farmer born in Texas of a father born in Alabama and a mother in Tennessee, resided in Bronte, Coke Co., Tex., with his second wife, of 26 years, Cordelia J., 50, her first marriage, born in Texas of a father born in Texas and a mother in Alabama. She had had 11 children, of whom 10 survived. Five of them resided in the household: daughter, Hattie F., 15, and sons, Henry P., 13, Robert F., 12, Floyd C., 10, and "Loyd" C., 10, all five born in Texas. Also in the household was "son" "Benjamin" T., 91 [94 crossed over with 91], a widower born in Alabama of Alabama natives, clearly Phineas's father, Benjamin Turner Hudman.^[1090]

ALEXANDER SMITH OF BUNCOMBE CO., N.C.

In 1910 Elijah F. Smith, 48, a farmer born in Texas of a father born in Mississippi and a mother in Alabama, resided in Jack Co., Tex., with his wife of 24 years, "Fannie" E., 44, born in Georgia of Georgia natives. She had had eight children, with seven surviving and six residing in the household: son, Arthur A., 20, daughter, Della M., 17, sons, Frank E., 12, and Jesse F., 10, and Samuel R., 7, and daughter, Jane J., 5, all six born in Texas.^[1115] Daughter Jane appears to be an error in name and gender. She fits the slot for son, Ewell.

In 1920 Elijah F. Smith, 57, a farmer born in Texas of a father born in Mississippi and a mother in Alabama, resided in Jack Co., Tex., with his wife, "Fannie" E., 53, born in Georgia of Georgia natives, and with his son, Sam R., 17, and son, "Luell," 15, both born in Texas.^[1116] We shall deduce that Luell is actually Ewell, and that daughter Jane of the 1910 census should be son Ewell.

In 1930 "Annie" Smith, 63, a widow born in Georgia of Georgia natives, resided in Graham, Young Co., Tex., with her son, Floyd "F.," 30, born in Texas, and with two boarders. She was 20 at her first marriage.^[1117]

In 1940 "E. F." Smith, 73, a widow born in Georgia, resided in Graham, Young Co., Tex., with her son, "Floy Jessie," 40, born in Texas. They had resided in the same house in 1935.^[1118]

Richard Morris apparently married several times, with Cynthia perhaps the one he was married to at death, but she was not Fanny's mother, according to the 1870 census. Nor was Caroline of the 1880 census her mother (she is listed as Francis Morris here). Nor was Mary of the 1860 census her mother.

homa City; 20 grandchildren, 35 great grandchildren and one great-great grandchild.

Mr. and Mrs. Cox moved in a covered wagon from Burnet county, Texas, to what was then Indian Territory, in May 1894, settling at Grady, in what is now Jefferson county. Later they moved to Washita county and then to other points in Oklahoma, locating in Oklahoma City about ten years ago.

Mrs. Cox was converted a great many years ago and united with the Christian church and by precept and example proclaimed her faith in her Saviour. Born of pioneer parents who braved the dangers and hardships of founding the state of Texas, reared amidst the alarms of Indian raids on the frontier, the Civil war and the reconstruction period, coming to Oklahoma in early days, she was truly a "Pioneer." A devoted wife and mother, friend and counselor, her life was of the highest type of Christian womanhood. She was loved and honored by all who knew her and it was a privilege to be her friend. During the months of her illness she was never heard to complain and bore her suffering with true Christian fortitude.

Funeral services were held Friday morning, May 8, 10 o'clock in Perrine Funeral Chapel, Oklahoma City, with Rev. R. D. Cook, pastor of Agnew Avenue Baptist church, conducting. Burial was in Stroud cemetery by the side of a son, Richard, with Rev. B. E. Newton, Christian minister, conducting graveside services. [Followed by a poem.]^[1321] on 10 July 1863. The first of September 1863, he was captured again and remained in Federal Prison at Claysville, Alabama until the end of the Civil War in 1864. Claysville is north of Guntersville and he must have stayed in this area as he met and married Sarah Ann Couch from Marshall County, near Guntersville. They married in the spring of 1869. She was of Irish and Scotch descent and had red hair. They lived in Alabama until their first child, Thomas Hiram was 7 years old. They moved to Medina County, Texas which is near Devine in 1877 and settled three miles north of Devine, Texas on the Pecan Creek. They lived there until their deaths. Phelix had the contract for the dirt work, building the dumps and cuts for the Inter-National Great Northern Railroad from San Antonio to Laredo, Texas. Sarah Ann dies after the birth of her 7th child, Little Sarah Ann. She died 7 November 1886. Phelix later married Tisha Car Dart. Her husband had died and left her with two boys. Spence Dart and Frank Dart. They had 3 children of their own. May, Lee and Arthur. Phelix lived near Devine until his death on 17 Mar 1933 at the age of 94 years. Tisha died in 1936. Phelix and both his wives are buried at Devine Cemetary, Texas. To the union of Phelix and Sarah Ann were born 7 children.^[1392]

The following is also from Find a Grave, attributed to “a paper typed by William Allen Roberson [Felix’s grandson] (rendered here in his words and spelling)”:

“Phelix Webster Roberson born in Polk Co, Tennisee. Served in the Southern Armie against the North in sivel war. A groop of men met in Noxville, Tenn, organized D, Tenn. Regiment. In John Hanner Co, elected J. C. Vohn Col, Reece Lieutenant Col, Wash Morgan as Major. As our state had not seceded, we went to Lynchburg VA and sworn into service. Then we went to Manasses Junction then to Wenchister there we ordered into a Brigade composed of third Tenn, 10 and 13 Va, 1st Marland Regement. Then we were called the Tenn, Bloody Third. They never lossed a battle. He went in as Corpal and then to Captain of his Co.” Phelix was one of 15 children born to Hiram Roberson and Nancy Crawford. ALEXANDER SMITH OF BUNCOMBE CO., N.C.

From an obituary for Mart [unfortunately, this is a paraphrase, I believe, so some of the full names might have been interpolated]:

Martin Oliver Smith, a native of Central Texas, was the son of John Milam Smith and Senna [sic] V. Hallmark. He married Emma Salena Booth on 18 Ar 1907 at Lake Abilene, in Tuscola, Taylor County, TX.

The Smiths lived in Callahan and Taylor Counties until 1929, when they moved to Scurry County. At the time of his death, Mart was 65. He died at his home in Snyder following an illness of almost two years. . . . Burial was to be in Snyder Cemetery.

[The following was paraphrased from the obit.] Survivors were: his widow; three sons, Marvin and Earl Smith, both of Snyder, and Hoyt Smith of Crockett; two brothers, R. T. Booth of Snyder and Arthur Smith of Houston; four sisters, Mrs. Annie Van Dyke; Mrs. Cora McWilliams and Mrs. Myrtle Allen, all of Wingate; and Mrs. Noama Pierce of Sweetwater, and eight grandchildren.^[1926]

From an obituary for Emma [unfortunately, this is a paraphrase I believe so some of the full names might have been interpolated]:

Emma Salena (Booth) Smith was the daughter of Ananias Jackson Booth, Jr. and Salena Ann Elizabeth Atkins. Emma was born 10 Oct 1888 in Dike, Hopkins County, TX.

On 18 April 1907, Emma married Martin Oliver Smith in Lake Abilene, Tyler [sic] County, Texas. . . .

Survivors include three sons Marvin and Earle [sic], both of Snyder, and Hoyt of Houston; nine grandchildren and 13 great grandchildren.^[1927]

ALEXANDER SMITH OF BUNCOMBE CO., N.C.

NELIUS MEYER, who was born 26 Feb. 1907 (marriage license), Washington, son of John C. and Nora C. (Rachstrow) Meyer. She married (2) in 1932 (see remembrance below) GEORGE ELMER SNIDER, who was born 7 or 8 Apr. 1909, Bellingham, Whatcom Co., Wash.,^[2119] son of John William and Nannie Insor (Baslee) Snider, and died Apr. 1983, last residence Pasco, Franklin Co., Wash.^[2120]

Snider, 30, a car washer in the motor livery business born in Washington, resided in Pasadena, Los Angeles Co., Calif., with his wife, Velma L., 31, born in New Mexico, and his sons, Jack, 11, James, 8, Conrad, 5, and daughters, Maureen, 4, Velma J., 3, and Kathleen, 1, all six born in California.^[2122]

A remembrance on Find a Grave by one of Velma’s sons:

Velma Louise Smith started life without a given name. Her birth certificate reads, “No Name Female Smith.” Her parents had decided she should choose her own name (at least that is what she told me). She was my mother, Velma Louise Smith Snider, daughter of Mary Elizabeth Virginia Smith (nee Renfro) and Samuel Oscar Smith. She was born in Silver City, Grant County, New Mexico on August 24, 1907. She passed away July 19, 1972 at the age of 64 years and 10 months.

In 1907, New Mexico was only a territory of the USA. She came into a household with 4 other children, her parents, and her grandmother.

2121. U.S. census, 1930, Pasadena Twp., Los Angeles Co., Calif., ED 1263, r. 47, p. 116, sh. 4A-B, dw. 92, fam. 109.

Strangely though, she never mentioned her grandmother to me. At the time of her birth, her father was working as a miner.

Mom considered herself an agnostic, but she favored her children to make their own choice. Seeking a better life, she left Douglas, AZ and moved to the Los Angeles area in the mid to late 1920's. Living in Pasadena in 1927, she met Ernst Cornelius Meyer, and they were married in 1928.

From 1928 to 1932 she was married to Cornelius Ernst Meyer and gave birth to two boys, Cornelius (Jack) Carl Meyer (born 24 Feb 1929) and James Melvin Meyer (born 15 May 1932). Shortly after the birth of her second son, she filed for divorce for irreconcilable differences. Sometime in 1932, she was united in marriage to George Elmer Snider, and to that union was born six children. The last two were twins in January 1946.

Those surviving at the time of her death were her husband George Elmer Snider: sons and daughters - Jack C Meyer of Indio, CA, James M. Meyer of Lawrence, KS, Conrad Snider of Beaumont, CA, Mrs. Maureen Rodman, of Beaumont, CA, Mrs. Velma J Cahill of Bridgeport, WA, Mrs. Kathleen Rosenfeld of Anaheim, CA, George Elvin Snider of West Covina, CA and John M Snider of San Diego, CA - George and John were twins born in 1946 on the China Lake NOTS, CA. Velma was survived also by two brothers, Jesse Harvey Smith in Beeler, KS and Samuel Oscar Smith Jr. in San Diego, CA and two sisters, Nanny M Gallagher of Oxnard, CA and Virginia (Dixie) Brown of Big Pine, CA. At that time she had 12 grandsons and 9 granddaughters.

Jack and Jim - were in Korea in 1950-51. Jack was with the US Army as an armored tank driver and tech. Jim was in the US Navy on the battleship Missouri. Conrad Schneider* - there is a story there - went into Korea in 1952 as peace was being formulated. Conrad was in the USAF as a computer technician and operator. Conrad spent 20 years in the USAF. John Snider, the youngest son, didn't enter the USN until 1964 and ended up on ships off the shore of Viet Nam. His last duty in Viet Nam had him aboard a patrol boat going up and down the Mekong Delta. John made a career in the Navy for 20 years. George, the oldest of the twins was 4F due to being born blind in one eye.

Although never in the military, the young George Snider became a water scientist, designing and selling water treatment equipment to industry and the military. He traveled nearly the world teaching the basics of ultra pure water for nuclear power plants, human injection, and computer chips. He also designed water treatment equipment for steam injection in oil fields and water purification for drinking aboard Navy vessels and sailboats using reverse osmosis.

Life was not easy for Velma, but she always made the most of what they had. The family sometimes did not have quite enough to eat, but there was always something on the table at each meal. She was not a chef, but the meals she did make were healthful and filling. She did more than try to keep the family healthy. She made sure we all knew we were loved.

For herself, she loved going to the movies, especially drive-in theaters. She would watch just about anything. Then there was Erle Stanley Gardner and Perry Mason. She read nearly every Perry Mason novel written. Mom loved the Perry Mason novels. At one point Dad built her a large bookcase to hold all of her books. I was even surprised that she loved Star Trek and was as upset as I was when the series was ended.

Whenever one of her children had a problem, she was ready to go and help anyway she could. In 1964, Conrad's lung collapsed. Mom and I headed to Lincoln Nebraska Air Force Base to help Conrad's wife and four children. She and I went by bus, as Mom told me there was no way she was going to get on an airplane. Yet in 1971, when her daughter, Bunny, needed help with a dying husband in Washington, she hopped on a plane and went to her aid. Her kids were her life.

She is laid to rest in the Coachella Valley Public Cemetery, Coachella, Riverside County, CA

*Conrad's Name-the doctor celebrating his 100th baby delivery got drunk, and when he made out the birth certificate he spelled Conrad's last name as Schneider. Mother didn't make a big deal out of it, and all through school Conrad was a Snider. However, when Conrad joined the Air Force, he was forced to use "Schneider" on his birth certificate.^[2123]

From a descendant of Phineas (father) and his first wife, Sarah:

The Phineas Hudman . . . is the child of Phineas and Cordelia Hudman (his second wife), and I have his name as Phineas Wilburn Hudman. He was born February 1888. I have some “family” notes that my mother told: They never called him Phineas; he was always known as Wilburn. He married Elizabeth “Lizzie” Hubbard and lived on a farm in Bronte (Runnels County, Texas). They later moved to Palo Pinto County and farmed near S. V. Hudman (my grandfather). Later they moved to Las Cruces, New Mexico and then on to Yarnell, Yavapai County, Arizona. Wilburn had a gas station and Lizzie (his wife), Dona (Sophronia M. Hudman, his sister), and Bessie (sister) had a cafe and motel. I show that he had 3 children.^[2138]

As reported on 16 Oct. 1959, he was principal of Van Nuys (Calif.) Junior High School. The article also mentioned Aileen and their daughters.^[2240]

He was the first principal of Hale Charter Academy, Woodland Hills, Calif., and named it.^[2241] From the 11 Nov. 1985 The New Yorker, in an article about Bill Irwin:

At George Ellery Hale Junior High School, in Woodland Hills, California, Bill began to blossom as a public performer, playing the Elvis Presley role in the musical “Bye Bye Birdie.” As part of the school’s theatre program, the teachers would often act, and in any faculty show the principal, Jotty Falvo, would invariably make an appearance walking on his hands. With a hand-walking principal as a model, perhaps it was inevitable that Bill would go into clowning.^[2242]

I only know that 4 of the 6 living children were already out of the nest. Granma & my dad & aunt Maudie Mae all moved to Las Cruces. I don’t know how she managed to do that or how she worked, but they were there long enuf for my dad to become fluent in Spanish. She then took them & moved to Long Beach California during the war. She was @ Camp Cooke. I’m guessing she was one of the Rosie the Riveter gals . . . not sure of that. I have been so blessed to end up with an autograph book that friends @ Camp Cooke wrote in to her [see Illustrations]. The earliest date in it is March 3, 1943. My dad had to have left sometime between 1943 & 1944. I was born Jan 1945. The things people wrote abt her were so sweet. Just including this information in case u didn’t know. She & aunt Maudie Mae (changed her name to Betty Jo). Rode a bus back to Las Cruces & she married granpa Ray. I think they knew each other when they all lived in the mts. After ur bio-granma passed away, somehow granma & Ray got involved, I believe through the mail. Btw . . . the latest writing in the autograph book is June 1945. Somewhat edited notes on life of Martha Ceta Smith used for obit info.

June 6, 1930 - March 18, 2018

Martha Ceta Smith the only child of Lorene and Forrest Smith was born in Houston, Texas, June 6, 1930, where her father was in the oil business. She grew up in the River Oaks neighborhood in Houston, and attended The Kincaid School. While in high school the family relocated back to the Greenfield, Illinois area due to her father’s declining health. She graduated from Greenfield High School May 28, 1948, and attended Blackburn College in Carlinville, Illinois.

February 26, 1954 she married Clarence V. Beck Jr., co-owner/operator of the Little Dog Coal mine of Gillespie, Illinois and resided on Point Pleasant Farm of Fayette, Illinois. (This is the farm where R.E.L. Smith and his wife L. Andrews Smith lived and children were born). While operating the farm she had three daughters, Katherine April 8, 1956, Constance April 19, 1958, and Claudia April 26, 1959.

She had numerous business interests over the years and resided in Mexico City D.F., Mexico; Laredo, Texas; Greenfield, IL, etc. After the tornado in Greenfield in 1983 she relocated to St. Louis with her mother for several years as her caregiver. In retirement she made her home in various locations in Missouri and Georgia. Most recently she resided in Owensville, MO with her informal foster grandson Mike and his wife Debbie Lear.

She had an interest in arts and crafts all her life and did crewel, ceramics, jewelry making, crafted wooden puzzles and many other hobbies.

Houston, Texas, stating that Martha Ceta Smith was born 7 June 1930, that Forrest was born 26 May 1897, Lorene was born 28 Nov. 1899, and that they were married 3 Mar. 1923, Greenfield, Ill. 2533. The information about Clarence V. Beck Jr. is from a webpage created by Nancy Vickers Beck about Clarence and the Little Dog Mine, https://m.gillespieil.com/gillespie/bio_beck.html, accessed 15 June 2020, in which she refers to “My father, Clarence V. Beck Jr.”

ALEXANDER SMITH OF BUNCOMBE CO., N.C.

She had a keen interest in Gospel music and was associated with the Lester's performing group as an ardent fan and occasional publicist.

Preceded in death by her daughter Claudia Beck Shaughnessy.

Survived (briefly, by about 2 weeks) by her stepdaughter Nancy V. Beck of Altamonte Springs, Florida.

Survived by her daughters Katherine Beck-Korst (husband Rick Korst) of Western Springs, Illinois, and Constance Beck (husband Terry Manchester), of Los Gatos, California, son-in-law Steve Shaughnessy of Springfield, Illinois, and grandchildren Katie and Chloe Korst, Charles and Margaret Manchester, and Connor Shaughnessy.

ALEXANDER SMITH OF BUNCOMBE CO., N.C.

Mr. Smith served in the Army Air Force during WW II. He worked for U.S. Potash Co. until 1976 when he moved to Page, Ariz. and was employed at the Salt River Project.

In 1987 he retired and returned to Carlsbad.

Hobbies he enjoyed included hunting, fishing and entertaining people with his steel and standard guitar.

He was a member of Bethel Baptist Church.

Survivors include his wife Voyzie, Carlsbad; one son, Jeff E. Smith, Hobbs, N.M.; six daughters, Nancy Hatley, Carlsbad, Gail Hamilton, Carlsbad, Linda Henderson, Rogers, Ark., Bonnie Christiansen, Rock Springs, Wyo., Terri Jones, Delta, Utah, and LaJune Maxwell, Springdale, Ark.

He is also survived by one brother, Sam Smith, Carlsbad; two sisters, Fontie Richards and Norma Lee Wright, both of Garland, Texas; 17 grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Denton Funeral Home is in charge of funeral arrangements.^[2632]

Children (in obituary order):

- 1259 i JEFF E.⁷ SMITH, born 1 Sept. 1945, resident Hobbs and Carlsbad, N.M., in 1993 and 1995.^[2633] However, his birth precedes James's marriage to Voyzie by about a year. Note that his birthdate conflicts with Nancy's below. Conclusion: Jeff's mother was someone other than Voyzie, but Jeff was raised by Voyzie.

An obituary for Betty:

Betty Bills of Kerrville passed away December 13, 2021 at the grand age of 91. For those of you who had the pleasure of meeting her, you know what a creative, strong, and vibrant person she was.

Born to Thomas and Della Butler on March 27, 1930 in Graham Texas, she grew up on the family farm in Young County. In 1948, she married Jack Bills and, for their honeymoon, the young couple rode the bus back to Texas Tech. Following graduation, they lived in the West Texas oil patch and welcomed children Sharon and Richard. In 1954, the young family began the international adventure of a lifetime with a move to San Tomé, Venezuela with Gulf Oil. Six years later the youngest, Kathryn, was born.

For over 30 years, Betty created her family home in international locales . . . Venezuela, Bolivia, Kuwait, and Zaire. In 1984, she and Jack retired to Kerrville.

Betty was the consummate hostess and entertained often. Cocktail parties for visiting dignitaries, Supper Club, bridge parties, Christmas Eve open houses. The more the merrier! She loved to cook and learned to prepare global specialties . . . arepas, paella, salteñas, taboulli, hummus, and pili-pili. These were often featured at her parties and continue as standard fare at family gatherings. Her favorite season was Christmas when her dessert tables were laden with candies, cookies and her beloved fruitcake.

She was a storyteller and her home was the book. She was a fearless adventurer exploring local markets where she collected treasures for her shelves. Her eye for fascinating things was impeccable. When you visited, she would take you on a tour of the world. “These jars are from Africa. These weavings are from Bolivia. You can’t find Persian carvings like this anymore! I found them in a little market and bought the whole set!”

2775. Find a Grave, gravestone photograph, “Jack Autry Bills | US Navy | World War II | Nov 22 1926 Jan 23 2011.”

Each item held a memory of where she bought it, the artist who made it or the home where she had lived.

She always had an artistic project or ten, she was working on. Her home was filled with her own handiwork – Kuwaiti chests, quilts of African fabric, cards, weavings, ornaments made from gourds from her garden, pins from old buttons, rugs . . . each adding to the rich texture of her home's story.

She and Jack were members of First United Methodist Church where Betty served on the Bereavement Committee and with Lenten Lunches, and attended Women's Workshop. They faithfully attended the 21st Century Class. Betty also volunteered at Hill Country High School where she taught art projects to the students. She had been a member of Riverhill Women, Schreiner Ladies, the Kerrville Quilt Guild and the Hill Country Arts Foundation.

She kept in touch with friends from all over the world. She sent handmade cards for every occasion and her address book was one of her most precious treasures. Most anywhere she went she would run into someone she knew. From a Safari lodge in the middle of Africa, the Miami airport or the HEB in Kerrville, she would look up and say, "I know her. I'm going over to say hello!"

Betty sounded like bangles jingling. She always wore them. She was elegant and always took care to dress for the occasion. She was the matriarch of our family. She loved Jack, her family and her friends. She left the world exactly as she lived it – on her own terms and surrounded by loving family. We will miss her deeply.

Betty was the last surviving member of her immediate family. She was preceded in death by husband Jack, sister Mary and spouse Red, brother Robert and spouse Kathryn and brothers Clinton and James Harold.

Survivors include Children; Bruce and Sharon Curry, Richard and Nancy Bills, Jon and Kathryn Albright, Grandchildren; Eddie and Rebecca Lewis, David and Karen Curry, Sarah Curry, Nathan and Nicole Bills, Rachel Albright, Madeline Albright Great grandchildren; Isabella Lewis, Zack Curry, Dylan Daniels, Taylor Daniels, Emersyn Daniels, Katharine Bills, Austin Bills.

Bernice graduated from Petersburg High School. In 1936, she moved to Cloudcroft, Otero Co., N.M. to work and assist a sister who was expecting a baby. She met Lawrence there.

Lawrence graduated from Cloudcroft High School. He worked for the U.S. Forest Service and moved up the ranks until he was a Forest Ranger charged with determining the cause of forest fires and the extent of damage. He also farmed the family farm and ranch on Miller Flats near Mayhill. During World War II, he used German prisoners of war as farm labor.

In 1940 Lawrence Smith, 24, a farm operator born in New Mexico, resided in Mayhill, Otero Co., N.M., with his wife, Bernice, 23, born in Texas, and his son, Lawrence, 1, born in New Mexico. In 1935 Lawrence had resided in rural Otero Co., N.M., and Bernice in rural Hale Co., N.M.^[2830]

In 1947 Lawrence and Bernice moved to Fabens, El Paso Co., Tex. There Lawrence began a long career as parts manager for the International Harvester Farm Equipment company. He worked for large dealers in Fabens, Artesia, Eddy Co., Tex., and Lubbock, Lubbock Co., Tex., where he retired in 1985.

ried 3 July 1945, at the parsonage of the First Baptist Church, Las Cruces, Doña Ana Co., N.M., CLARENCE WILLIAM COLEMAN, who was born 1 Dec. 1924, Creighton, Cass Co., Mo., son of William and Lois (Kimball) Coleman, died 22 Oct. 1974, Las Cruces, buried Masonic Cem., Las Cruces. Bill's father died before he graduated from high school, and his mother Lois remarried, about 1954, to Charles Masonbrink.

Margaret grew up with her siblings in various places in or near Mayhill, New Mexico. At five years of age, she rode behind her brother Lawrence on horse "Old Blue" to school in Mayhill from their home on Miller Flats. Her first grade teacher was Elizabeth Raley, a cousin of her father. A year later her parents moved the family to the "Bell Place" on James Canyon. Then they moved 1 June 1928 to Mayhill itself. She attended high school in Cloudcroft, Otero Co., N.M., graduating in 1936. She and her brother Alvy went to New Mexico A&M college in Las Cruces,^[2831] both graduating in 1942.

Bill (Clarence to his family) grew up in Garden City, Cass Co., Mo., and graduated from high school there. He enlisted right out of high school and was stationed at Skagway, Alaska, transferring to New Mexico A&M when it was chosen to be one of five colleges hosting the Army Specialized Training Program (ASTP). Originally, 222 colleges trained 140,000 soldiers deemed to be "officer material" and the "cream of the crop" for ASTP. Manpower needs of the war, however, caused this program to be cut back drastically to just five schools. Bill was a trainer of ASTP students, perhaps to serve in a medical capacity. Margaret met Bill at church. After marriage, he was stationed at Tulane University in New Orleans, Louisiana, so they moved there for about nine months and lived in the French Quarter. He was a corporal at marriage and was a sergeant by the end of the war. He was discharged 1 Apr. 1946, when they returned to Las Cruces.

Bill began school at New Mexico A&M in the summer of 1946, with his sister-in-law Lucy, graduating in 1950 at Christmas time, then proceeded to earn a Masters of Science in Education in 1953. Meanwhile he taught 1950-5 at Old Mesilla (next to Las Cruces) elementary school. In 1955 he moved to Central elementary school in Las Cruces and was its principal until his death.

Margaret worked at a New Mexico A&M biology laboratory for one year after graduating in 1942. Then she taught for a year 1944-45 in Mesilla Park (also adjacent to Las Cruces), living in a household consisting of her younger sister Lucy, her sister-in-law Edith and Edith's two children, Alvy ("Jerry" to the family) and Rita. In 1946, after returning from New Orleans, she started teaching again at Mesilla Park elementary school and did so until 1953 when her son Larry was born. She taught one year 1955, half days, at Booker T. Washington elementary school in Las Cruces the first year after it was integrated, dismayed that the texts used in that school were of 1914 vintage. When her second son Gary was about one year old, she again began teaching 1960, this time at Carl Conlee elementary school in Las Cruces. She taught there until retirement in 1983. She taught first, second, and fourth grades during her teaching career. Margaret is currently (2004) living with her son Gary and his family in Las Cruces.

She was placed, 31 Oct. 1924, Tularosa, Otero Co., N.M., in the foster care of Daniel Harry and Dorcas Elizabeth (Cooper) McGuire, after the death of her mother.^[2833] Edith died about one month after Alvy, on 21 Apr. 2015, Clovis. Per their requests they were cremated, and there was no burial service. A celebration of the two of them was held 13 June 2015, Clovis, and their ashes were placed in the cemetery plot occupied by their daughter, Rita, in Lawn Haven Memorial Gardens, Clovis.

Alvy and Edith both attended New Mexico A&M (now New Mexico State University). At the time all males were required to be in the ROTC (Rural Officer Training Corps) for two years. This training, if pursued for an additional two years led to a commission as a second lieutenant upon graduation. Alvy, class of 1942, took the additional two years and the commission. Pearl Harbor was attacked 7 Dec. 1941, but his class was allowed to graduate, with graduation moved up about a month to 8 May 1942.^[2834]

On 9 May 1942 he reported as a second lieutenant to Fort Bliss, El Paso, Tex., and was sent to Camp Wolters, Mineral Wells, Palo Pinto Co., Tex., a few days later. He took a leave to marry Edith on 24 June in her sister's home in Truscott, Tex., and they proceeded to live in Weatherford, Parker Co., Tex., near Camp Wolters. Six months at Camp Wolters were followed with a 3-month course in the Platoon and Company Commander School, Fort Benning, Columbus, Ga. During reassignment to Camp Wolters (during which time their first child was born), he was promoted to first lieutenant. From Dec. 1943 to Feb. 1944 he was again in Fort Benning, at Battalion Commander and Staff School, with Edith and their first child Alvy (III) living in Columbus. The next three months Alvy was stationed at Fort Leonard Wood, Missouri, living with his wife and son about 40 miles away in Lebanon, Laclede Co., Mo. He had been appointed Liaison Officer to the 303rd Regiment, 97th Infantry Division, which had been moved there in February. He and Edith unsuccessfully attempted to get to his mother's funeral in New Mexico via train during this time, in June.

The 97th Division was ordered July 1944 to San Luis Obispo, California for amphibious training in preparation for the Pacific war, including training at Camp Cooke, Sept. 1944, and Camp Callan in southern California. Edith and her son lived at various times in Cambria, Cayucos, and San Luis Obispo, Calif., all in San Luis Obispo Co. But the threat of the Germans at the Battle of the Bulge changed everything. The 97th was ordered instead to Europe via Camp Kilmer, New Jersey, arriving there 13 Feb. 1945, then put on a ship departing 19 Feb. to France. Edith and her son returned to Las Cruces, N.M., to live with Alvy's sisters, Margaret and Lucy, for the duration of the war. Alvy was appointed Finance Officer of the ship and carried $100,000 in cash in case they could not land in France. They landed, however, in Le Havre, France on 1 Mar. and proceeded to Camp Lucky Strike.

While in Europe, Alvy's division was assigned to the First Army, Gen. Hodges commanding, and to the Third Army, Gen. Patton commanding, at various times. His division moved through France, Belgium, Holland, and on to Aachen, Germany, on 28 Mar. 1945, then to Neuss, west across the Rhine River from Düsseldorf. Then they moved south, up the Rhine, through captured territory and Cologne to the Remagen bridgehead, about three days after its capture by the Americans. The regimental commander appointed him company commander of Company C to replace Capt. Tolocka who had been shot. They crossed the Rhine on a pontoon bridge built to replace the Remagen bridge blown up by the Germans, then fought for seventeen straight days north, down the Rhine, eventually capturing Düsseldorf, 16 Apr. During this time they had crossed the Sieg and entered Siegburg, 9 Apr., capturing it. Just afterwards, Lt. Smith's company was ordered to be motorized infantry support for an armored brigade for a few days of fearful shelling, then sent back to the 97th Division.

ALEXANDER SMITH OF BUNCOMBE CO., N.C.

From the Düsseldorf area, they attacked east up the Ruhr valley and into Czechoslovakia. During the period before entering Czechoslovakia, Alvy was promoted to captain. Also during this period he had a chance encounter with Gen. George Patton. Alvy's division took Cheb on 26 Apr. 1945, the first major city in that country to be liberated.^[2835] When they were about 100 miles into Czechoslovakia, near Pilsen, the Germans surrendered 8 May 1945. After about a week there, they went to Prague when the Russians gave the country back to President Beneš. Somewhere in here Alvy participated in the liberation of a Nazi concentration camp, but the event was so horrible that he still cannot talk about it, other than to acknowledge that it happened. This camp was probably Flossenbürg, in Germany just inside the border with Czechoslovakia, near Cheb, a camp known to have been liberated 23 Apr. 1945 by the 90th and 97th Divisions (but see below).^[2836] See Figure 24.

I believe the 90th did the actual liberation on 23 Apr. 1945, and that the 97th came through immediately afterwards, perhaps even the same day, and definitely before the capture of Cheb on 26 Apr. 1945, according to Dad's recollection. However, there are photographs on a 90th Division website showing the 97th Division soldiers in "Flossenburg, 30 April 45, shortly after the camp had been overrun by the 97th Infantry Division." Another caption there states, "SS guards attempted to march the workers beyond the reach of advancing American columns, and shot down all those unable to keep up the pace, like those [bodies] under examination by infantrymen of the 97th Infantry Division, 1 May."²⁸³⁷ These dates are not consistent with Dad's memory of liberating the camp before entry into Czechoslovakia and his being 100 miles into Czechoslovakia on 8 May 1945 when the Germans surrendered. In other words he Thompson was Division chaplain of the 97th. Rev. Dietrich Bonhoeffer, Admiral Wilhelm Canaris, and others were hanged here 9 Apr. 1945 for an assassination attempt on Hitler. 15,000 prisoners were evacuated on 20 Apr. 1945 in a death march. Only 2,000 were left alive in the camp at its liberation a few days later.

(and presumably his division) could not have been in Germany (at Flossenbürg) between 26 April and 8 May 1945. A 97th Division website chronology states only that “April ?, 1945 Flossenburg concentration camp discovered.”

Four divisions, including the 97th, were then ordered to the Pacific for the expected invasion of Japan, to land just south of Yokohama. They moved by troop train from Regensburg to Le Havre, sailed to New York and up the Hudson River to Camp Shanks, New York, and then given 20 days leave, during which Alvy got to meet his second child Rita, discovered that his father had remarried, and that his sister Margaret was about to get married. He returned by train to Fort Bragg, North Carolina for a 6-week training course, condensed to five days, then trained back to Fort Lewis, Tacoma, Wash., and shipped out of Seattle. His division’s orders were to proceed to Cebu, the Philippines, reload on attack transports and attack Japan, but during the 37-day cruise, the atom bombs were dropped, 6 and 9 Aug. 1945. They sailed instead to Tacloban, Leyte, the Philippines, then to Japan via Tinian and Saipan, in the Marshall Islands, and Iwo Jima, docking finally near the battleship USS Missouri where the surrender had been signed several weeks earlier, 2 Sept. 1945.^[2838]

During the occupation of Japan, Alvy was with the first troops into Kumagaya Airbase about 90 miles northwest of Tokyo and then went to Atsugi, about 20 miles southwest of Tokyo, where he and a large group of men lunched with Gen. Douglas MacArthur. He departed from Yokohama to Vancouver Barracks in Portland, Ore., via the Aleutian Islands, was released from duty in Dec. 1945, and finally separated into inactive duty in Feb. 1946. He was promoted to major in the Army Reserves and was thereafter a major in the Honorary Reserves. He was awarded the Bronze Star for bravery in the European theater and proudly wore the Combat Infantryman’s Badge.

2838. The 97th Infantry Division in WWII, Summary 1943–1946, states that the Japanese surrendered while the 97th was still in Seattle, waiting to embark. Alvy Smith (my father) responds that if that were true then he and his troops were not informed, specifically of the atom bombs, until at sea. Another version on the same website supports Dad’s version exactly.

ALEXANDER SMITH OF BUNCOMBE CO., N.C.

Back in Las Cruces, Alvy and Edith were legally made in loco parentis for Alvy's sister Lucy until she turned 18. On 1 Apr. 1946, they moved to Clovis, Curry Co., N.M., where Alvy joined El Rancho Milling Company, a manufacturer of livestock feeds, where he served as sales manager for 16 years, then president and general manager for five years, until resigning 15 July 1967. He ran for and was elected a member of the Clovis School Board for two terms, serving for eight years, beginning about 1958. Edith joined the Clovis National Bank when her youngest child Lynn reached the sixth grade in school, about 1959. She resigned also in 1967.

Both Alvy and Edith returned to school. Edith had not finished her undergraduate degree at New Mexico A&M (New Mexico State) before marriage so she entered Eastern New Mexico University in Portales, N.M., and completed her Bachelor of Arts in History in Sept. 1968 to qualify for her teacher's certificate. She taught 1968-1985 in the Yucca Junior High School of Clovis, retiring in 1985. Alvy taught biology at Clovis High School for three years, 1967-1970. He got a Masters of Science in School Administration in May 1970 by attending night school and summer school at ENMU and the summer of 1970 at the University of Maryland. In the fall of 1970, he became an administrator at Clovis High School, as director of education for one year and then as assistant principal until his retirement in 1985.

They moved to Las Cruces, N.M., in 1997 where they resided until 2012, in the same town with Alvy's sisters, Margaret and Lucy, and nephews, Gary Coleman and Ted Gray. They moved to Clovis, N.M., where they now (2014) reside, in the same town with their daughter, Lynn.

From an obituary for Alvy:

Alvy Ray Smith, 94, a longtime resident of Clovis passed away on March 13, 2015. He first came to Clovis in 1946 and raised a family of three children here. He was first employed in the management of El Rancho Milling Company, a cattle feed manufacturing company here, and then served prominently in the Clovis school system for many years.

Alvy was born on June 8, 1920, in Mayhill, NM the son of Alvy Ray Smith who was born in Cloudcroft, and Sina Maudie McKindrey who was born in Texas. He grew up in Mayhill and attended high school in Cloudcroft. Alvy received the bachelor of science degree in Range Management from New Mexico State University (then A&M) in Las Cruces. From its ROTC program, he also received a commission as a second lieutenant in the US Army shortly after Pearl Harbor.

Despite Alvy's tight association with New Mexico, his paternal heritage was Texian: his great-great-grandfather, James M. Smith fought in the Battle of San Jacinto and was thus a founding citizen of the Republic of Texas. His great-grandfather Jesse Richard Smith was also a Texian. Alvy's maternal heritage was Irish from the part now known as Northern Ireland. His great uncle James Gililand was accused, along with Oliver Lee, of the infamous murders of Judge Albert Fountain and his young son in early New Mexico Territory, but both were found not guilty. The unsolved murders continue to rankle southern families to this day.

Before departure for World War II service, Alvy married Edith Hortense Sanders of Tularosa on June 24, 1942 in Texas near where he was stationed. After the war, they moved to Clovis and remained there for most of their married life, except for 15 years in Las Cruces after their retirement. They returned to Clovis, in 2012.

Alvy's first service in World War II was in Europe in the 97th Infantry Division, where he attained the rank of Captain and was awarded the Bronze Star for heroism. Although he was never able to talk about it, he helped liberate a Nazi concentration camp, Flossenburg, in Germany in 1945. At the defeat of Germany, he was then sent to the Pacific theatre to begin the invasion of Japan. He was enroute aboard a ship in the Philippines when the atomic bombs and surrender were announced, thus surely saving his life. He was instead part of the occupying forces of Japan. After the War he was promoted to Major.

Alvy received a Master's degree in School Administration from Eastern New Mexico University. He served on the Clovis School Board for many years, Several as President. Alvy taught biology at Clovis High School for three years, then was Vice Principal for 17 years.

Alvy joins in death his daughter, Rita Louise Echols, buried in Clovis and a son-in-law Doug Lockwood. He is survived by his wife, sisters Margaret Coleman and Lucy Gray, daughter Valerie Lynn Aucutt (Bobby) of Clovis, his son Alvy Ray Smith III, "Jerry" (Alison) of Berkeley, California, five grandchildren and six great grandchildren.

ALEXANDER SMITH OF BUNCOMBE CO., N.C.

Alvy and Edith were longtime members of Central Baptist Church of Clovis. They joined the charter members before they even had a building.^[2839]

From an obituary for Edith:

Edith Smith, 93, a longtime resident of Clovis, passed away at Retirement Ranch on April 21, 2015. She came to Clovis in 1946 and raised a family of three children. She was a bank teller for many years and then a school teacher for even more in her long career.

She was born Edith Hortense Sanders on August 23, 1921, in Tularosa, daughter of Jefferson Jackson Sanders, born in Australia, and Hazel Ada Sifleet, born in Ohio. Edith lost her mother at age two and was raised in Tularosa by foster parents, Dan and Doppie McGuire.

Edith's father Jeff was the son of an American gold prospector in Australia and an English immigrant to that country, explaining the hundreds of Edith's relatives in Australia. Jeff famously played poker for three days with Oliver Lee, Albert Bacon Fountain, George Curry (namesake of this county), and Sheriff Pat Garrett. This was just days before the infamous Fountain murders in early New Mexico Territory for which Lee was accused. Garrett sought to arrest him, and Col. Fall defended him at trial. In Yankee contrast, her mother's family formally traces its roots to immigrants fleeing France in the late 1600s, because they were Protestants, to colonial Connecticut and New Jersey, where several of her male ancestors fought in the French and Indian War and the Revolutionary War.

Shortly after Pearl Harbor, Edith married Alvy Ray Smith of Mayhill on June 24, 1942, in Texas near where he was stationed before departure for World War II service. After the war, they moved to Clovis where they lived most of their married life together, except for about 15 years in Las Cruces after their retirement. They returned to Clovis in 2012.

Edith received her higher education at McMurray University in Abilene, TX, New Mexico State University, and Eastern New Mexico University. She worked for 13 years at Clovis National Bank. She then taught English, literature, speech, and history—especially New Mexico

ALEXANDER SMITH OF BUNCOMBE CO., N.C.

George was an artist and art teacher. He was a descendant of a ranching family on his father's side and a Christian Church missionary family on his mother's. After service in World War I, George's father, Bernie, homesteaded a ranch in the Estancia Valley of Torrance Co., N.M. There he met and married Martha, a graduate of New Mexico Normal School in Las Vegas, San Miguel Co., N.M. They sold the ranch in 1938 and moved into Albuquerque, Bernalillo Co., N.M. George graduated from high school in Lockhart, Caldwell Co., Tex. He earned the B.A. degree at New Mexico A&M College (now New Mexico State University [NMSU]), Las Cruces, Doña Ana Co., in 1951 and the M.A. in Creative Painting in 1956. Between these, in 1952, he studied fine art in New York City under a Ford Foundation Fellowship. After completing his studies, George taught art and other subjects in Las Cruces for 11 years. He and Lucy moved their family to Spring Valley, San Diego Co., California for 26 years, and then returned to Las Cruces in 1992.

Lucy was 15 years old when her mother died, so she was raised by her sister, Margaret, and her sister-in-law, Edith Smith. She graduated from Las Cruces Union High School and attended New Mexico A&M College [NMSU]. She worked for seven years at the Physical Sciences Laboratory of NMSU, assisting in early rocket research at nearby White Sands Missile Range. In California she became a banker, retiring in 1989 as assistant vice president of operations of a bank there. She and George were active in St. James' Episcopal Church in Las Cruces.

George came to the marriage with a son, George Lewis Gray, born 20 Aug. 1945, Lockhart, Caldwell Co., Tex., from a marriage, Mar. 1945, Del Rio, Val Verde Co., Tex., to Agnes Craighead, divorced June 1947, Albuquerque.

George's son, George, married 18 Mar. 1965, Newport, Newport Co., Rhode Island, Glenda Ross, with whom he had one son, Gary George Gray, born 3 May 1971, San Diego, San Diego Co., California, who married about 1990, Torrance, Los Angeles Co., California, Beverly Gamo, and had a child, Zachary George Gray, born 7 July 1992, Torrance.

ALEXANDER SMITH OF BUNCOMBE CO., N.C.

May 1988, Toronto, Ontario, Canada, married 20 Aug. 2016, near Campbellford, Ontario, Canada,^[2956] Doria Bess Kramer-Zamcheck, born 18 Feb. 1987, Boston, Mass.^[2957]

Alison obtain her doctorate in philosophy (D.Phil.) from Oxford and is a professor of psychology and philosophy at the University of California at Berkeley. She has published four books—most recently The Philosophical Baby and The Gardener and the Carpenter—and hundreds of scientific papers. She is a Fellow of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences.^[2958]

Alvy was born during World War II, so spent the first two years of life moving around the U.S. as his father was restationed: Weatherford, Tex.; Columbus, Ga.; Lebanon, Mo.; Cayucas, Cambria, and San Luis Obispo, Calif.; and Las Cruces, N.M. At the end of the war in 1945, he moved with his parents to Clovis, Curry Co., N.M., where he was raised through graduation from Clovis High School in 1961. He was known as “Jerry” to distinguish him from his father and grandfather. He then attended New Mexico State University in Las Cruces, Doña Ana Co., N.M., until graduation in 1965, and Stanford University, Palo Alto, Santa Clara Co., Calif., until graduation with a Ph.D. in computer science in Jan. 1970.

Sandra was raised in Shaker Heights, Cuyahoga Co., Ohio, a suburb of Cleveland, and attended Ohio State University in Columbus, Ohio. She also attended the Universidad de las Americas in Mexico City, Mexico, for a semester, and then lived in or near Quito, Ecuador, and Cali, Columbia, for several years. She is a Registered Nurse, having worked on the oncology ward of Virginia Mason Hospital, Seattle, among other places. She served on the board of Bastyr University, Seattle.

Alvy’s first job out of Stanford was as Assistant, then Associate, Professor at New York University, in New York City, Sept. 1969 to Sept. 1973, teaching computer science. He then moved to Berkeley, Calif.,

2956. I (Alvy) attended the ceremony on the Gopnik farm near Campbellford. The legal marriage was in a town near Campbellford.

and taught for a brief time at the University of California there. He joined the Xerox Palo Alto Research Center (PARC) in 1974, working there for several months, then joined the New York Institute of Technology (NYIT), Old Westbury, Long Island, Nassau Co., N.Y., pioneering computer graphics during the period 1975–1979. He worked briefly in 1979 at the Jet Propulsion Laboratory (JPL) of California Institute of Technology, Pasadena, Calif., then joined George Lucas’s Lucasfilm Ltd. in Marin Co., Calif., to head the computer graphics group there, 1980–1986, the first director of computer graphics at Lucasfilm.

He married Sandra, known as “Zu,” during this time. They lived in Fairfax, Marin Co., Calif. On 3 Feb. 1986 he and his longtime colleague Ed Catmull started the company Pixar as a spinoff from Lucasfilm, with Steve Jobs as financier, Steve being the cofounder of Apple Computer Corp. This company, now known as Pixar Animation Studios, made the first completely computer-generated motion picture, Toy Story, with artistic direction by John Lasseter, whom Alvy was instrumental in hiring. Alvy and Zu’s second son Jesse was born about the same time as Pixar was created.

Alvy left Pixar in late 1991 to start a second company Altamira Software Corporation that built a computer graphics product for personal computers, a company that was purchased by Microsoft Corporation in 1994. He moved to Seattle, King Co., Wash., and worked at Microsoft for five years as their first Graphics Fellow. He resigned from Microsoft in 1999 to devote himself to the new artform of digital photography, to scholarly genealogy (such as this book), and to computer history.

He has published many technical computer graphics papers, and has two scholarly genealogy books in print, both award winning, and numerous learned journal articles on various aspects of genealogy, including the use of DNA. He has also published over a dozen scholarly genealogical books and papers online at his website <alvyray.com>.

He was made a Member of the National Academy of Engineering in 2006, a Fellow of the American Society of Genealogists in 2010, a Fellow of the American Association for the Advancement of Science in 2014. He holds many awards, including two technical Academy Awards from

Krystle's Ancestry

Krystle has an unusual story. She was in eleven foster homes as a child and never knew her father. She has set out to use DNA to learn about her birth parents. Early indications are that her mother was Denise Davis, born 16 Aug. 1959, and her father was Lorenzo Olmos, born 10 Aug. 1959, El Paso Co., Tex.,^[3010] probably in Fabens, El Paso Co., Tex., homebase of the Olmos clan, son of Anita Lopez. If the indications are correct, then Lorenzo sired Krystle while both attended El Monte High School, El Monte, Los Angeles Co., Calif.^[3011]

In conversation with Jesse and Krystle on 2 May 2020, I picked up these other tidbits: Denise had a twin Dean Davis. Arlina Olmos Bretz, a “half-daughter,” has cousin Estella who lived with Lorenzo Perez, an Olmos half-sibling. Krystle has a sister Christina of the same father. He is apparently Lorenzo Olmos. (Krystle describes Arlina as her tia and sister of Lorenzo.)

What makes this particularly interesting is that Jesse's great uncle (my uncle) Lawrence⁶ Smith lived in Fabens, Tex. He sold parts for International Harvester farm equipment there for several years in the 1940s and 1950s. My cousin, Lawrence's son, Lawrence⁷ Smith, went to school in Fabens although he finally graduated high school in Lubbock, Tex.

What also makes it interesting is that Lorenzo is part Apache, perhaps Mescalero Apache. My father grew up in the Sacramento Mountains of southern New Mexico, home of the Mescalero Apache Reservation. (Lorenzo is 56% Native American according to a 23andme autosomal DNA test, as would be expected if he had one Native-American parent.)

For convenience, the child which Krystle brought to the marriage:

Obituary for Jim:

James (Jim) Edward Whitley, a resident of New Braunfels, Texas passed away early Tuesday morning, October 5, 2021 at Brooke Army Medical Center in San Antonio at the age of 92. Jim was born on December 7, 1928 in Kingsbury, Texas to the late Vernon Edward Whitley and Letha Senora Appling Whitley. Survivors include his loving wife, Gloria Whitley; brother Victor Whitley; son James E Whitley, Jr (Janet Whitley); daughter, Janet K Lacy (Bob Lacy); son Jonathon W Whitley (Shelly Whitley); seven grandchildren, seven great-grandchildren and two great-great grandchildren. Jim enlisted in the United States Air Force in August 1946 and served through May, 1949. He trained to be an aircraft mechanic and inspector. Jim worked on B-17 Flying Fortress and B-29 Superfortress bombers. The majority of his time, however, was Crew Chief on the Mitchell B-25 bomber. In 1948, Jim was assigned to the Berlin Airlift as crew chief of a C-47 Skytrain and later served as part of the occupational forces in Germany. While in Germany, Jim also played football (lineman) for the U.S. Armed Forces and his team won the championship his final year. Jim received the Army of Occupation Medal and the World War II Victory Medal. Jim was reactivated to the Air Force in August 1950 through August 1951 with the 14th Air Force during the Korean War. In November, 1950, Jim was promoted to Staff Sergeant (E6). Jim was a former member of the Commemorative Air Force- Central Wing in San Marcos, Texas and home of the B-25 “Yellow Rose”. He was called “The Boss” by many of his friends there.

Following Jim’s service in the Air Force, he went to work at Celanese Chemical Refinery in Bishop, Texas and retired in 1978. Jim then went to work with various South Texas oilfield companies where he built a stellar reputation for sales and service. Jim was an avid camper, hunter and fisherman and spent most of that time on the King Ranch and in the mountains of Colorado. His happiest moments came when spending quality time with Gloria and his children and grandchildren. In 1998, Jim and Gloria moved to New Braunfels, Texas and established wonderful relationships with neighbors, other close relatives and their church family. He was affectionately known as “Papa” by his family. He loved Country and Western music and was an amazing dancer. Jim was also a former member of the Masonic Lodge in Kingsville, Texas. Memorial services at First United Methodist Church of New Braunfels followed by Masonic burial at Restland Cemetery in Bishop, Texas will be held at a later date.^[3024]

Guy Faussett, a Knightstown mortician who helped police agencies throughout the state search for criminals, set his bloodhounds on the trail of a man sought in the slayings of two troopers near North Vernon in this photo [of Guy with a bloodhound and an armed trooper, not shown here] from Oct. 1, 1957. More than 250 armed policemen covered the woods in one of Indiana's largest manhunts. After the dogs got on his trail, it wasn't long before the suspect, Victor Wayne Whitley, 26, walked down a hill with his hand in the air and surrendered. His companion, Ralph Walker Taylor, 36, was fatally shot at a roadblock near Vernon. The two had conducted a bloody crime spree that began near Clinton, Mich., and ended in Indiana. Whitley received a life sentence, but his sentence was eventually reduced. ALEXANDER SMITH OF BUNCOMBE CO., N.C.

I enlisted in the United States Air Force in San Antonio, Texas, in January 1952 after working as an electrician's helper in Luling, Caldwell Co., Texas, where my mother and her husband, Lee Ellington Hanks resided. After initial technical training as a jet engine mechanic at USAF military technical schools in Amarillo, Texas, and Rantoul, Illinois, my first assignment was at Carswell AFB, Ft. Worth, Texas, Strategic Air Command's 11th Bomb Wing, 98th Bomb Sqdn (H), with B-36 Bombers.

From there, I was transferred in 1953 to Loring AFB, Limestone, Aroostook Co., Maine, near the Canadian border and not too distant from Edmundston, New Brunswick, Canada, where I married Rena Jeannine Plourde 19 April 1954. In 1956, the 42nd Bomb Wing (H), SAC, transitioned from the B-36 Peacemaker to the all jet B-52 Stratofortress Bomber. With the USAF policy of dispersal of bomber aircraft units, I was reassigned to Bergstrom AFB, Austin, Texas, in 1958. By 1960 the USAF was deploying IRBMs (Intermediate Range Ballistic Missiles) overseas and I was selected for Jupiter operational training as a missile propulsion systems technician at (Werner von Braun's "playground") Redstone Arsenal, Huntsville, Alabama, for assignment in 1961 to a NATO unit at Cigli AB, Turkey, near the port of Izmir. (Thor IRBMs were deployed to England and Italy.) With the successful conclusion to the "Cuban Missile Crisis" by President John F. Kennedy, my unit was closed down, after which most of the personnel were assigned to the 10th ADS, Program 437, (Air Defense Command) at Vandenberg AFB, California.

In 1967, I was transferred to the USAF Rocket Propulsion Lab at Edwards AFB, California. While there, I volunteered for service in Vietnam, and was selected for retraining into the munitions maintenance and supply field which was short of non-commissioned officers for overseas assignments. After technical training at Lowry AFB, Denver, Colorado, and because of the U.S. Navy's "Pueblo Incident" with North Korea, I was assigned to Itazuke AFB, Yamada Ammo Annex, near Kokura, Kitakyushu, Japan, in 1968.

Back in the U.S. in 1969 and after an ADC assignment at England AFB, Louisiana, I received orders in 1970 transferring me for a tour of duty at Bien Hoa Air Base near Saigon, South Vietnam. The most exciting moment of that tour was bumping my head rolling out of my bunk at the onset of a Viet Cong rocket attack at 5:30 a.m. one morning, notwithstanding my elation at being informed of my selection by PACAF for promotion to the rank of Chief Master Sergeant, or taking R&R in Honolulu, Hawaii, with Rena meeting me there at Christmas time! Not even receiving the Bronze Star for Meritorious Service in Vietnam could make me feel better than that! Little did I know at that time that U.S. Forces Commanding Officer, Gen. William Wetmoreland, was a distant cousin on my mother's side of the family tree.

After the Vietnam tour and a year at Eglin AFB, Ft Walton Beach, Florida, I had an accompanied tour of duty at RAF Welford, near Newbury, Berkshire, England, from 1972 to 1975. While there, one weekend gave me the opportunity to play a round of golf at the Old Course at St. Andrews, Scotland, with a buddy, an English friend and my Squadron Commander. My and Rena's two eldest daughters, Catherine and Sheri (both born during my Maine posting), graduated from the American Dependents' London Central High School at High Wycombe near London during our time there. Our youngest daughter, Rachelle, born at Edwards AFB, California, was just beginning at a village school in Chaddlesworth, Berkshire, near RAF Welford.

Returning to the United States in December 1975 for an assignment at Carswell AFB (my first permanent base of assignment in 1952), it would be my last, primarily because I was soon notified of another unaccompanied remote tour overseas to Southeast Asia which I had no desire to do. My only other option was to retire from the USAF which I did on 31 December 1976. Over the years since 1961, I had attended night classes taking college courses after initially successfully taking the College Equivalency Exams. Upon retirement, and making our home in New Braunfels, Texas, I entered regular classes at Southwest Texas State University, San Marcos, majoring in History, minor in Political Science, ending up with a Bachelor's Degree in Education (Summa Cum Laude), and a Teacher's Certificate.

I began teaching at Smithson Valley High School, Comal Independent School District, in 1979, regularly for four years, then as a substitute until 1993, the year I finally "retired". After 1984, if I did not have a school assignment, I would be off to county courthouses all over Texas "climbing the family tree" with brother Chester, or "Bubba," as we called him. That genealogical endeavor has resulted in six informal family mugbooks (privately printed) from 1986 to present date, one of which, Family Ties – The Parchman Family (1993), could not have been completed without the collaboration of Dr. L. Gerald Parchman, of Trenton, N.J. Genealogy has been a most interesting hobby -from Texas to Maine and currently in Lakewood, Colorado, where Rena and I are enjoying the company of our three daughters in the sunset of our lives.^[3042]

[Explanatory Notes:

“The Neches Saline trading post, northwest of Nacogdoches, was operated by Captain Robert W Smith and Colonel Richard Sparks. The salt deposits in the area around the trading post at the Neches had for many years attracted the Indians, making it a logical site for a mercantile establishment. Smith and Sparks operated their post, land claimed by the Cherokee tribe, on the eastern bank of the Neches River. Neches Saline was near the midway point between Nacogdoches and the "threeforks of the Trinity River" area.”

<home.inu.net/sadie/richardsparks.htm>

“Henderson County was organized on August 4, 1846....The county was formed from parts of Nacogdoches and Houston counties....In 1848 the legislature formed Van Zandt and Kaufman counties out of Henderson County and reduced it to its present size.”

D. BENJAMIN BILLUPS'S FIRST LETTER

Posting by Sherry Thompson, 4 July 2001, to The Gililand/Smith Family forum on <MyFamily.com>:

To my Smith Cousins,

Last night at 3:00 a.m. when I couldn't sleep because I knew I had more information on Jesse R. Smith I went crazy tearing through my packed boxes. I was looking for a letter that my uncle Benjamin Billups wrote to me in 1969. I found it. He had been doing research on Jesse Smith for 8 years. Jesse was his great grandfather. He died in 1978 and I know that he had quite a lot of information. I am sad to say it is lost to me but this might help you in our search. I am going to copy this to you word for word. Here Goes!

Jesse Richard Smith was born in 1820 in Alabama, of parents, both of whom were born in North Carolina. Family legend says he was in Texas prior to the War Of Independence; that he was the oldest boy in the wagon trains fleeing across the Trinity ahead of the Mexican Army under Santa Ana; that he was later a bridge guard.

Jesse R. Smith served from May 18, 1846, to Oct. 2, 1846 in Capt. Herbert's Co., 1st Regiment, Texas Mounted Rifles (Hay's Texas Rangers) in the Mexican War, mustering out at Monterey, Mexico. On 15 Feb. 1849, he married Elizabeth M. Harrison at Brenham, Washington Co., Texas. Family legend says he was an Indian fighter, either as a member of the Texas Rangers or one of the frontier units which existed in Texas. He was wounded (the manner is not clear) in the hip in one such encounter, crippled, and walked with a cane the last years of his life.

He was living in Atascosa Co. in 1860, lived some portion of his life in San Aba [sic] Co., and in 1880 was living in Runnels Co., a rancher. In 1884, when his wife died, he was in Abilene, Texas. About 1890 he with his sons and their families, moved to New Mexico, settling in the Cloudcroft area of Otero Co., New Mexico. He died in 1905.

Children of Jesse R. Smith and Elizabeth Mary Harrison were :

1. Mary Elizabeth (Mollie) born 1 Jan. 1850 probably Washington Co., married Frank Goodsell.

ALEXANDER SMITH OF BUNCOMBE CO., N.C.

2. William L., born 27 Nov. 1852. Disappeared after an encounter with James Wesley Hardin, about 1880.

3. Samuel O., born 11 Apr. 1856. Died Douglas, AZ.

4. Cordelia Josephine, born 12 May 1858, married Phineas Watkins Hudman.

5. Sophrona Parilee, born 23 Mar. 1860, at Pleasantown, Atascosa Co., Texas, married Benjamin Monroe Hudman, on 8 April 1888 at Lookout, Lincoln Co., New Mexico. Died, Pasadena, Ca. 1935.

1. Ernest - died in infancy.

2. Jesse Earl Hudman - married Elizabeth Scott, died 1964.

3. Emmett Eddy Hudman, died Pasadena, Ca., 1936, married Ophelia Maples.

4. Minnie Lois Hudman - born 26 May 1894 at Cloudcroft, N.M. (Otero Co.) married Edward Young Billups at Alamogordo, Otero Co., N.M. She died 31 May 1972. Edward Y. Billups born 18 Nov. 1874 and died 4 Apr. 1950. They later lived at 1018 Hawaii Ave. Alamogordo, N.M. (This is my grandparents.)

5. Ollie Josephine Hudman, married Robert Zenker. Living 1969, Mt. Shasta, Oregon.

6. Mary Ethal Hudman- born 24 Oct. 1897, married Oscar F. Burns, living 1969, in Phoenix, AZ.

7. Benjamin Vernon Hudman- married Ruby Scott, died 1961.

8. Frederick Vaughn Hudman married Mary Lou Allen. Living 1969, in Laytonville, Ca.

6. Elijah F. Smith was born 24 Mar. 1862.

7. Benjamin Benton Smith, born 22 Sept. 1867 in Texas, married a daughter of Jim Gilliland, one of the principals of the Lincoln Co. War in New Mexico, settled near Cliff, N.M. rancher. Children: Ray, died Las Cruces, N.M., in 1964; Benjamin B., living 1966 in Globe, AZ.

8. Jesse R. Smith, born 11 Sept. 1867, twin of Benjamin B.

9. Two brothers James and John, died or disappeared before the current record [at this point I have lost the rest of the page.]

He does have a census sheet from Atascosa Co., 1860 and Runnels Co., 1880. The same that has already been posted. Hope this helps you guys. I am really glad you let me be a part of your site. Thanks, Sherry Thompson

William Berry "Camel Back" Smith – Mary Ann Ashmore, Allied Families and Descendants.

By E. F. Smith³⁰⁹⁰

I do hope that this contribution on the life of William Berry "Camel Back" Smith and his family and descendants, at least, in a small way will be interesting to many, especially to those interested in this family and to genealogist[s] in the future.

I wish to thank those that helped in my endeavor, without the help of others this task would have been impossible.

For a number of years I have collected these records, writing letters and doing some traveling. It has not been easy and I might say, "rather expensive and time consuming." Many letters have been written and in some instances there were no reply, due to wrong addresses and indifference of the party addressed. However, I have collected many records of the descendants, as well as information on our early day Texas ancestors. Very few of the records have been documented, although I hope they will prove beneficial to any one or genealogist who might have occasion to use them.

I am sorry I did not start collecting these records at an early age while there was an opportunity to gain first-hand information. However as the time is running late, I will endeavor to put into printed form the records I do have for future generations that might be interested.

I have been unable to trace the ancestors prior to Wm. Berry Smith and wife but it is hoped some one in the future will be able to do this and write a better history of this Smith family.

This book will be divided into eleven sections, thus:

3090. Transcription by me from a photocopy of the original obtained 22 June 2010 from a .pdf stored on <Ancestry.com> with Public Member family tree for William Berry Smith. Only the introduction to the book and Section 4, on William Berry Smith Jr., were included in the online file.

Explanation by Ken Whitley

You might be wondering about those who signed the deed. "M. L. Nolen" is James' daughter, Mary L. who married (1) Martin Whitley, brother to Elisha Whitley who m. Emily A. Smith. Martin was killed in Apr 1864 at the Battle of Jenkins Ferry in Ark., after which Mary married Frank Nolen. "S. A. Whitley" is Sarah Amanda (Day) Whitley, James' granddaughter. Sarah's mother, Margaret, married Larkin Day in 1840 and died in 1843 in childbirth with Sarah. Sarah Amanda married Thomas Jefferson Whitley (my GGgrandfather) who was a first cousin to Martin and Elisha. "J. R. Smith" is, of course, Jesse Richard, who lived in Pleasanton, Atascosa County, at the time of this deed, while the others all lived near each other not far from James' farm on the Medina River at LaCoste, Texas. "B. F. Smith" is Benjamin Franklin Smith, a Civil War veteran who lived in San Antonio but after his death was buried in the Texas State Cemetery in Austin, Texas. "John Smith" is John C. Smith, not much of whom is known about. "W. L. Smith" is William L. Smith. "Sarah Luckie" is Sarah Smith who married William P. "Bill" Luckie. "James M. Smith, Jr." was buried in Brummett Cemetery next to Sarah Amanda and Jefferson Whitley. James Jr. had at least two children I've never been able to trace. Emily A. did not sign the deed perhaps because she and Elisha did not live near the others. I believe she was a daughter of James M. Smith, however, because of the long association going back to Walker County between the Whitley and Smith families. Some descendants of William Berry Smith, who I believe was a brother to James M. Smith, insist that Emily A. was not a daughter of William Berry. Until proven otherwise, I will keep Emily A. in the James M. Smith family. I am not a professional genealogist so what I do is very informal. Hope this is of some help to you.^[3092]

APPENDIXES

G. 1836 PETITION TO CONVENTION OF TEXAS

The following transcription is based on a photocopy of the original document—a petition by a set of Texas immigrants to the Convention of Texas on 20 Feb. 1836^[3093]—sent to me by Gwen (Smith) McJunkins, along with a transcription of it, and a set of “Explanatory Notes” by Dr. Malcolm D. McLean, Professor of History and Spanish at the University of Texas at Arlington.^[3094] My transcription was greatly aided by the work Gwen had already done and by the transcription apparently done by Dr. McLean.

Your Memorialists would represent unto your honorable body that they have immigrated from the United States since the Province of Texas has become involved in war with the Government of Mexico. they arrived here with the full knowledge of the difficulties incident to all wars particularly to a civil war – Your Petitioners came with the determination of assisting the Government of their adoption to the full extent of their ~~adoption~~ [interlined “powers”] in prosecuting the war to a successfull [sic] issue both in defending the Country from Indian depredation and Mexican invasion –

Your Petitioners would further represent to the Hon convention that they came to this Country with the view of settling themselves and their families permanantly [sic] in Texas as colonist [sic] in Robertsons Colony – They came by the express invitations and solicitations of Sterling C. Robertson the Empresario of said colony who promised them lands under the Colonization Laws of Cohuilia [sic] and Texas which promises he has been unable to fulfill, one reason of this failure your Petitioners attribute [sic] to the closing of the Land Offices before they arrived in his Colony. This measure of the representatives of the People has laid your Petitioners under many inconveniencies and ~~one~~ [interlined “placed them in a situation”] which they never contimplated [sic] and greatly regreted [sic]. After the many great privations and hopes which they endured in ~~settling~~ [interlined “[coming (to)]”] the Country - your Petitioners are placed in a situation foreign from their expectations and in direct opposition [sic] to some of the inducements held out to bring them to this Country.

Your Petitioners would further represent that great confusion prevails ~~prevails~~ in the Land office in this Colony - which your petitioners are unable to unravel [sic] in as much as all the Deeds are written in a Language wholly unknow [sic] to your Petitioners - But they are informed and believe that a great deal of the most valuable Land of the Colony is held in the name of fictitious individuals or in the name of persons who if they ever were are not now settlers in the Colony - And that ~~all~~ other valuable portions of the Country are covered by fraudulent eleven leagues [interlined “and other large”] claims, all of which your petitioners pray may be examined strictly into -

Your Petitioners are further of Opinion that if the contract of the Empresario is taken by the Government [sic] that the Government should present the same inducements to settlers that was held out by the Contract of Sterling C Robertson with the Government of Cohuilia and Texas. For your petitioners believe that until the population of the Colony is greatly increased beyond its present numbers they will be unable to sustain themselves against the incursions of the hostile tribes of Indians in their immediate neighbourhood - They believe that settlers are more needed at this time than at any former period and that the Colony stand more in need of ~~Land~~ [interlined “men”] than Land ~~at this time~~.

Your Petitioners are still further of opinion that a Registers office should be established in the Colony separate [sic] and independent of the other offices and that all persons holding deeds to Land be compelled to come forward [interlined “[and] have things registered”] in a limited space of time in the English Language. And that the Deeds of actual settlers have precedence of all others - And that the Surveyor General be compelled to make out a map of all the deeded land in the Colony and exhibit the said map to all who may wish to examine it - From all of which grivances [sic] your petitioners pray for reliif [sic] as in duty bound will ever pray &c New Nashville Feb 20th 1836.

Filed November 28, 1848. O. L. Holmes clerk county court Nacogdoches county"

We each acknowledge due service of copy of the within citation [announcing a November Term 1850 court meeting to settle William's estate, from Henry Ashmore, its administrator]. Paschal Ashmore - Spencer Ashmore Jane Clark

...

3101. The estate papers were sent to me as a digital scan, accompanied by a digital scan of what appears to me to be a careful transcription of portions of the papers, by Christine Smith, 9 Jan. 2011, who in turn credits Mary Walthall for them.

ALEXANDER SMITH OF BUNCOMBE CO., N.C.

The State of Texas

County of Nacogdoches

I swear that I have served true Copies of the within citation by presenting one to each these persons To wit. Moses L Parker, Emily Philips, and Warren Philips her husband, Mary Ann Law, and Richard Law her husband Jane Howard, and Samuel Howard her husband, Sarah Ann Parker, Hannah H. Parker, Jackson Parker, Elisabeth Parker & Francis Parker, this the 8th day of October 1850 L W. Maby.

on said 27 January 1850, an affidavit was filed in said office in terms as follow To wit:

“The State of Texas

County of Nacogdoches

I swear that John Ashmore and the heirs of Mary Smith who formerly resided in Washington County Texas, have removed from said county to parts to me unknown, it has been stated to me that they had started to little river and are probably without this state or if within it, they are in such Position that process cannot reach them by the usual means. The said John Ashmore & Mary Smith were children of William Ashmore deceased. Henry Ashmore”

Sworn and subscribed to before me this 27th day of January A.D. 1851.
O. L. Holmes, clerk county court Nacogdoches County

[In the margin of the transcription of this portion appears this note in handwriting, presumably the transcriber’s: “Little River Bell County is over 200 miles from Nacogdoches.”]^{3102]}

Henry N. Ashmore admr of W^m Ashmore deceased

...

3102. But in the 1850 census Mary Ann (Ashmore) Smith’s minor children were in Lavaca County, which is not near Bell County, but is about the same distance removed from Nacogdoches. Mary herself was probably already deceased, and she did have some children located in Bell County.

APPENDIXES

now not known, as also Guardian ad litem to represent the minor heirs of Mary Smith & of Elisabeth Parker in this Partition." A Writ for Partition was issued accordingly to said Commissioners, but was not returned to said office. This matter was then continued at the Febr, March, April, May, June, July, August, September, October, November and December's Terms 1851 of said County, and at the Janr: Term, 1852 of said County a citation was ordered for said administrator to account, it was issued accordingly on the 2^d Febr: 1852 and returned on the 23^d February 1852 "Executed", and on the 23^d Febr: 1852, an Entry was made in the minutes of said county in Terms as follows to wit: N^o 24 on Settlement [Quethit?]: Ordered by the court that John Conner, John Herring, Richard Ethridge, Enos Bone & Thomas J. Conner, are hereby appointed commissioners to Partition the Estate of William Ashmore deceased, among the Heirs thereof (in Lieu of the commissioners heretofore appointed for that Purposes) & that a Writ of Partition do issue to them accordingly, returnable, to next Term. Such Partition to be made according to the decree therefor made at the January Term 1851 of this Court, and on the 29th March 1852, a Writ was returned to said office

M. FISHER FAMILY MEMOIR

Transcribed from a 2-page typewritten document, digital photocopies online on <Ancestry.com> in the Gallery of the family tree published there by Morris Fisher:

Charles William Fisher - Written by Hazel Fisher McCune

Charles William (known as Will) was born in 1881 (estimate). He came West with rest, I suppose, in the late 90's. Bob Vance says Dad met Mother (Maude Vance) when she was helping cook for a railroad gang. Bob Vance, who was much older than Maude, came west before she was born and worked [sic] on all the railroad bridges north and east of here. Maude Vance was born in 1888 (estimate) in Ontario. As a girl, she went to a Methodist Church on Dundas Street in Woodstock. She lived at 205 Park Row and later at 93 Oxford. She came west with her folks in 1899 or 1900. They settled on a farm west of Stavely. Her father was Bob Vance. On the same farm lived her brother Bob, and his wife Ina. Their children were Pearl, Mable, Mae, Jessie, Nelson, Hazel and Robert. They all moved to Harrison, B.C. when it opened up and are now in various parts of B.C. Ina was still living and very old not long ago. (This was written years ago.)

In 1910, Uncle and Aunty (Till and Mae Fisher) took one section at Sedalia, 20 miles south of Consort. Husband and wife each got a ¼ section of homestead land and ¼ of Script. You had to live on each holding for 6 months. I can remember moving from one shack to another on Uncle's. All our stuff was piled on the ground and Murden was going through it. He couldn't or wouldn't talk. Uncle was trying to stop him. Aunty said he was hungry and was looking for the cookie tin. That was the last move. Uncle built a better house than most had. It was was [sic] frame about 14 by 16 with 2 bedrooms upstairs. There was a lean-to kitchen all along one side. Then he got one of the old Edison phonographs with big horn. They had several dances that winter. Murden and I used to lie on the floor and hang our heads over to watch. Sometimes we got caught because we always giggled when we saw Aunty dance with other than Uncle.

Uncle took a herd of cattle up with him. When he discovered he had left the Chinook belt and would have to feed many months of the year, he started a meat ring. He butchered one each week and peddled it all over the place. He got to know everyone well. In 1914 they moved to Coronation and lived there till 1925. Then we went to Calgary and in 1928 we moved to Vulcan.

Dad (Will Fisher) took land at Sedalia at the same time getting [sic] a $\frac{1}{4}$ section. He and Mother lived there the winter of 1910-1911. In the spring when brother Bob was due, Mother went back to Vance's. Bob was born and she seemed O.K. for awhile. Dad was back at the place living with Uncle some and getting his place built up. Then one day when he went to town there was word that Mother would not live so he left. I don't know whether he saw her or not. After the funeral, which was about the last week of April, he bought a team and light wagon and started across 200 miles prairie with Murden $1\frac{1}{2}$ years and me around $2\frac{1}{2}$. His horses were too lively and ran away not far from Vulcan. It happened near a bank. Murden was wrapped up and just rolled down the bank but I flew out on some stones and was hurt. One eye was bruised and they thought I would lose it. The Hanson's who had known the Fishers in North Dakota were nearby. They gathered us up and kept us a week and traded Dad out of those horses. Minnie remembers babysitting us. Well, he got to Uncle's and Aunty took us in. She had written to him to bring th[e] 2 of us. It was 80 miles to town in those days. Dad went to Provost for a load of lumber to finish his barn[.] On the way home he tied the horses' heads to the wagon and laid down on ground. Someone came by and found him after he was dead. Since he did not know Dad he took a letter out of Dad's pocket, left him lying and went to Uncle. I think he was a stranger as he did not know Uncle either. When he gave the letter to Uncle, Uncle found it was one he had written to Dad. They did not perform an autopsy. It was suggested but everyone concerned felt too badly and, I suppose were too busy also. He had at times had attacks and Uncle wondered about appendicitus. I think the wagon trip had aggravated whatever it was.

We moved to Coronation with Uncle Till in 1914. We went for brother Bob in 1916. Vance's hated to let him go but were so old and Grandma had cancer and died soon after we took Bob. Granddad came to Coronation once to see us but mostly to see Bob just before he died at 84 years. Dad died about the end of May. They said it was about a month after he moved us up north.

Since Bob never lived at Sedalia, and by the time he joined us at Coronation, people had quit asking why we always said "Uncle." I guess Bob didn't hear this as often as I did.

Note by Marjorie Fisher: I sent for Bob's parents death certificate and got the following:

Will Fisher b. 1881, d. June 21, 1911. Age 30 years.

Maude Fisher b. 1889, d. April 18, 1911. Age 22 years.

ALEXANDER SMITH OF BUNCOMBE CO., N.C.

William Crawford Family Bible. Family Bible record of “William Thomas Crawford, Sr. and Sarah Smith,” transcribed by Christine Smith online at <Ancestry.com>, with this note: “The above record was found in the old Bible which had belonged to Mary Ann “Polly” (Crawford) Smith (No. 15326). I have it now. Old “Aunt Polly” had evidently given it to her niece Dorah Ann (Crawford) Neal, my late mother-in-law’s mother. Then my late husband, Glen David Climer (Minnie and Jake Climer’s only child) got it. One of his children, perhaps the oldest daughter will get it. [signed] Jewel M. Climer.” [This genealogy is mangled, however. See details in the text at Sarah Ann⁴ Crawford (₅₀John³ Crawford, Sarah², Alexander¹). Jewel Climer indeed was married to Glen David Climer. He was the only child of Minnie (Neal) and Tobe Climer, however. Minnie was daughter of Sarah Ann (Crawford) Neal, not Dorah Ann. And Sarah Ann Crawford was daughter of John Crawford, brother of Mary Ann “Polly” (Crawford) Smith. That is, she was indeed Polly’s niece.

William Crawford Family Bible, version 2. A digital image of two pages, supplied online at <Ancestry.com>, with this note: “From Minnie Neal Climer’s Bible Records. She copied them (xeroxed) and gave them to me when I visited her in her home over several visits in early 1980s. PeggyWeyel.” The online version has this additional note: “I copied my copy to and inked over the writing co [sic] it could be more easily read.” These two ages are in the Illustrations.
